GRIDIRON NEWS BRIGHTENS WITH SATURDAY'S GAME

Fourteen Players to Get California Trip Must Fight For Chance.

MANY CANDIDATES OUT FOR LINE POSITIONS

Second String Men Show Up Very Well at Daily Practice.

With the influenza on the wane and interest renewed in football since the announcement of the California game things are beginning to move on the gridiron. There are now about forty or fifty men out and several others have suits which will be called in soon if not used.

From now on it is fight and flight to the finish from all of the candidates that are out a team will be picked to journey to the southland to meet the California crew. Owing to the war conditions it will be impossible to take a flock of players south and so if a candidate has any class at all this is the time for him to show it. "Bill" Hayward has said that probably about 14 men will be all that will be taken to San Francisco and from this it looks as though there should be about two line subs and one extra backfield man.

Class Will Tell.

These fourteen players to journey into the land of Andy Smith and the Golden Bear will be the ones who show the most class in the Multnomah game next Saturday and the two contests with O. A. C. Several changes will probably be made in the personnel of the first team that played the second string men last Saturday.

With "Nish" Chapman, Brandenburg, and Blake back in harness to fight it out with the two Jacobbergers, Howard and Watson for the four backfield positions there should be a great battle on the field every night. Durno, Tuerck and Manerud must also be taken into consideration in the backfield argument. "Skeet" showed up well in Saturday's game as did Johnny Tuerck and Eddie Durno. If some of the present first team men go to sleep or forget to get into the fight one of the last mentioned three is liable to swing aboard a south bound B. P. bound for the sunny south.

Army Out for Line.

On the line there is almost a regiment of candidates. At the end positions Wilson and Hanser are proving to be in a class with the two flank guardians of the team of 1916, Mitchell and Tegart. Johnny Brock, who reported again last night after a week of sickness, Dunsford, Sunderleaf and a few others must also be considered in the game and Wilson and Hanser are going to have plenty of opposition.

There are more candidates for guard positions than there are cooties in a trench. Mautz, O'Rourke, McArthur, Sharp, Dresser, and Gilbert are a few who answer "present" every night for practice. When this gang get fighting for the two positions there are going to be some good prospects for the morticians.

Dr. Straub Does His Bit; Chips in for Emerald in Crisis

Dean John Straub, because he feels that The Emerald is most important this year and at the same time in greater need of financial support, has paid his subscription to The Emerald although he is not ordinarily supposed to do so.

With the former editors and managers of The Emerald who are to receive the paper for life is Dean Straub because of his service to the University since 1876 and The Emerald since it has been founded. Dr. Dean Straub believes The Emerald should live and his money for the first time has been accepted.

Can't Live Happily Without Emerald, Says Claire Gazley

If you are reading The Emerald over someone's shoulder you can be fair in supporting The Emerald by sending the paper home or to someone off the campus and they appreciate it.

Witness a letter from Claire Gazley, junior in the University last year and prominent in dramatics, who is now attending the U. of C. at Berkeley. After telling Lyle Bryson, circulation manager, that a check was enclosed, she says:

"Please forward back numbers for this term. I simply must have news of the hard old campus. Although I'm trying hard to be a loyal Californian and the University is wonderful, my heart is still in Oregon."

JOHN H. CREECH IS DEAD

John H. Creech, 23 years old, of Springfield, a sophomore in the University, died yesterday afternoon at 5:15 at the Phi Delta Theta infirmary, of pneumonia, following an attack of influenza. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. John S. Creech, of Aberdeen, Washington, were at his bedside at the time of his death.

Mr. Creech was taken to the infirmary October 18. Pneumonia developed Saturday, but his condition had not been considered dangerous. He was not a member of the Students' Army Training Corps or the Oregon state officers' training camp. The body was taken to Springfield last night and will be shipped to Aberdeen, where the funeral services will be held. Mr. Creech leaves a sister, Mrs. Jim Evans, of Springfield, with whom he had been living while attending the University.

S. M. MILLER TAKES EXAMS

Freshman Recommended for West Point Appointment.

Slater Marcellus Miller, 18 years old, of Roseburg, Oregon, was today recommended by President P. L. Campbell to Senator Chamberlain as a candidate for the U. S. military academy at West Point. Mr. Miller was chosen from 25 in competitive examination yesterday afternoon at the University. If the recommendation is accepted, Mr. Miller will leave for West Point at once.

The alternates chosen were John A. Gamble, 18 years, son of John Gamble, of Portland, and Marwin Beverly Woolfolk, 18 years, son of William B. Woolfolk, of Oregon City.

LOSS OF EMERALD WOULD BE DISASTER TO OREGON SPIRIT, SAYS HARRY CRAIN

TO THE EDITOR:

Loss of the Emerald to the University, through failure of the student body to afford it the support necessary for its continuance throughout the year, would be one of the most disastrous things which could occur in connection with the University at this time. With campus life and campus tradition disrupted as it is by the changes incident to the military work being carried on this year, there is every reason why the Emerald should be maintained. It alone can perpetuate and keep alive the "Old Spirit of Oregon," without which, when normal conditions return, the University cannot hope to sustain the characteristics which have made it the "one school for us"

YELL LEADER TO BE PICKED WEDNESDAY FOLLOWING TRYOUT

Amount of Noise Candidates Draw from Rooters Will Decide Victor.

Final yell leader tryouts will be held at University yell practice on Kincaid field Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock. "Nick" Carter, Johnnie Gamble, Lyle McCroskey, R. Waggoner, C. A. Phipps, "Jiggs" Leslie and Johnnie Houston, all of whom were in the tryouts at Saturday's game, will compete.

The support of the student body, the amount of noise the candidates can get out of the rooters, will determine who will be this year's yell king. Following the tryouts tomorrow Don Orput, former yell leader, will make his recommendation to the student council according to the authorization given him at the last meeting of the council.

Orput Wants Women On Rooters Side.

Orput has asked that more support to the football men this year be given from the women of the University, and in order that they can be directed in singing Oregon songs by the Varsity yell leaders he has suggested that the women sit on the same side of the field with the boys hereafter.

It is not my idea that the women should get too boisterous this year just because it is up to them to support the team more than in previous years," said Orput, "but they can improve in showing in a more demonstrative way the loyal support they have given lemon-yellow teams in the past. It is my idea that with the women assisting side by side with the men in the Oregon songs and applause, and with the men going good behind a good yell leader, the team can feel the old Oregon fight behind them this year as well as any other."

The showing made at yell practice Saturday afternoon at the game between the two Oregon squads was disappointing. Forty-six supporters in grand stand and bleachers was the showing offered by the 450 women of the University.

Loyal Women Supporters Listed.

Are your friends among the loyal ones? Here they are: Caroline Cannon, Helen Buckley, Marion Holcomb, Margaret Phelps, Lucile Evans, Mae Ballack, Margaret Thompson, Lyle Bryson, Anna Mae Bronaugh, Marian Coffey, Donna Spencer, Charlie Fenton, Anne Shea, Mary Hogard, Barbara Sheppard, Gladys Smith, Jeannette Moss, Mary Irving, Alice Evans, Emma Garbade, Virginia Peterson, Marjorie Kay, Helen Houghton, Vivian Hopson, Vernice Robbins, Bula Smith, Iris Bryant, Reta Hough, Hazel Rankin, Jennie Yoder, Mabel Rankin, Laura Rand, Elsie Lawrence, Helen Loughary, Pauline Coad, Betty Epping, Ruth Nash, Vivian Chandler, Reta Macklin, Dorothy Lowry, Madeline Slotboom, Mildred Huntley, Florence Riddle, Marjorie Edsell, Dorris Churchill.

KATZ DELAYED BY ILLNESS

Associates Are Examining Applicants for Officers' School.

Alma D. Katz, representing the National Military Camps Association, who was to have been at the University today to examine applicants for Central Officers' Training Schools, has been ill with influenza in Portland, but will be able to come to Eugene today. The other members of his party, J. A. Cranston and E. B. MacNaughton and their aides, are in Eugene to help conduct examinations. The applicants of the Oregon State Officers' Training Camp were given their physical examinations last week by Captain George Wilson, army surgeon.

WANT INTER-COMPANY FOOTBALL

Company A has issued a challenge to Company B of the S. A. T. C. to a game of football, date to be arranged. All men who are out for practice under Coach Huntington will be barred.

Get your receipt early tomorrow.

Student Council Members All Working Hard to Save Emerald

Emphasis Placed on Necessity That Every One Support Paper — Cooperation Considered Test of Loyalty to Oregon.

Aroused over the prospect of losing for Oregon its chief factor in perpetuating the University life and Oregon Spirit through the forced suspension of The Emerald because of lack of subscription support, every member of the student council has become identified with the campaign to save The Emerald.

Every member will take an active part in making known to the new students that The Emerald is the paper of the Associated Students and not run by nor for any individual or group. Enthusiasm and loyalty for The Emerald as the biggest thing in the University life and faith in the Oregon Spirit to put the paper on a safe basis were expressed in statements issued this morning by Paul Spangler, president of the student body; Ella Deews, vice-president, and members of the student council.

PAUL SPANGLER: "The Oregon Emerald is the organ of the student body and as such, it must have the whole-hearted support of the students. It is the sole means of getting the campus issues and activities before the students and no student is an Oregon man or woman until he gets behind The Emerald. The Emerald is always behind the issues which are best for the University and unselfishly devotes its columns for a 'Greater Oregon.' The Emerald is one of the chief instillers of the Oregon Spirit the Oregon fight for which we are known all over the country. I am sure that every person on the campus wants to be a real Oregon student and share in the glory of the college. The greatest step toward this end is to subscribe for The Emerald. Every Oregon student a subscriber."

ELLA DEWS: "Every loyal Oregon student should subscribe for The Emerald and do all they can to support it. Since it will be the only official publication, it will be the only means by which we can keep in touch with all the student activities of the campus and with the main announcements of the faculty, which are of vital importance to everyone. Oregon Spirit is embodied in The Emerald and by reading it all new students may use this means of backing this spirit."

HERALD WHITE: "We are going to give every Oregon student the opportunity to do his bit in making the biggest instrument of the Oregon spirit."

Y. W. HOSTESS HOUSE HANGS IN BALANCE

Decision Rests With War Work Council; Financial Aid Is Expected.

Whether the University of Oregon is to have a hostess house or not awaits the decision of the Y. W. C. A. war work council, according to an announcement made yesterday by Miss Dorothy Collier, acting general secretary of the association. Miss Alice Brown, Northwest student secretary, is making an attempt to obtain all necessary information for the local association and at the same time is finding whether financial aid would be possible.

It is thought by Miss Collier that any necessary financial aid would be gladly given, as the rule is that such help should be given associations maintaining a hostess house in encampments of more than 600 men.

A new member would be added to the Y. W. C. A. cabinet if the hostess house plan is carried out, and her duties would be those of an active member of the general hostess house committee.

Townswomen to Head Committee. An interested towns woman would be chosen as chairman of the hostess house committee, and other women from town as well as the members of the advisory board would be asked to give aid to the

The Emerald, safe for a year, in order that it will not be forced to discontinue publication."

HAROLD GREY: "In The Emerald lives the life, the spirit, and the interests of our school. What could be of more value to the real Oregon student?"

ESSIE MAGUIRE: "The Emerald is the center of campus activities and the agent through which they are all carried out. It has always maintained the Oregon spirit and all that Oregon holds highest. It is and always has been under the best of management and affords the best channel for Oregon ideals to reach the new students."

DOUGLAS MULLARKY: "The campus is in danger of losing The Emerald before the year is over. Think of what the Oregon campus would be without a paper and remember that The Emerald is self-supporting and must get its support from the students. Then be one of the 400."

TRACY BYERS: "It would be the greatest calamity possible not to have The Emerald. It is an organ that needs support. This is an important year in student activities, in fact the crisis, and without The Emerald we cannot get the old spirit."

HELEN McDONALD: "The Emerald is the one means of keeping in touch with the college activities, and any student who wants to get the Oregon spirit should be a subscriber and a reader. This year of all years, The Emerald needs your financial support and it is up to every student to push and send this campaign 'over the top.'"

LYLE McCROSKEY: "The Associated Students of the University of Oregon can only come out even this year, through a program of strictest economy. The Emerald must be self-supporting and this means every Oregon student a subscriber."

ELMO MADDEN: "The Emerald is half the University, without it no one would know what has happened or what is going to happen. It is the only sure, widespread means of advertising any student activity. It is the one sure source of Oregon news for the boys in service scattered over the world that is sure and authentic. By all means we should have The Emerald with every student a subscriber."

Y. M. HUT STARTED ON OREGON CAMPUS

Auditorium to Have Seating Capacity 300; Will Install Movie Apparatus.

The University will have a two-story, regulation Y. M. C. A. hut, fifty by ninety feet, containing an auditorium, game room, reading room, social room, showers and bath rooms, in thirty days. This was decided at a meeting in President Campbell's office Saturday at 1:30 p. m. The hut was staked out yesterday between the Library and the Oregon Building on Thirteenth street.

The auditorium will have a seating capacity of 300, equipped with a stage and movie apparatus.

The game room, reading room and social room will be so arranged that they can be thrown into the auditorium when necessary, increasing its seating capacity.

PRESIDENT CAMPBELL WANTS ALL OREGON TO BACK EMERALD IN ITS FIGHT TO LIVE

TO THE EDITOR:

A student does not get the best of college life without coming into intimate contact with all the student activities.

EMERALD DRIVE WILL START WITH GLOWING OUTLOOK

Bulletin Board and Booth in Front of Library to Be Headquarters.

EVERY LOYAL OREGONIAN EXPECTED TO BE TAGGED

Working Committees Larger; Faculty Members Are in Sympathy.

While no assurance for the success of the drive for 400 new subscribers and the future of The Emerald can be given until the work of actually taking the subscriptions begins tomorrow morning, enthusiasm for the work of saving The Emerald shown by sophomores, juniors and seniors indicates that every old student will wear the "I have subscribed" card.

With the same enthusiasm the old students of the University have organized the campaign so that every new student will have the chance of aiding the University and the paper through his or her support. Final arrangements for the details of the canvass to begin early tomorrow morning will be completed at a meeting of the fifty-five members of The Emerald subscription committee in the journalism annex at 6:30 this evening.

Faculty Behind Emerald.

The manner in which the faculty of the University values The Emerald as a part of the University was manifested today by statements issued by President Campbell, Dean D. Walter Morton, and by the support assured by numerous others.

Dean Morton started the ball rolling in the class room campaign this morning with an enthusiastic appeal that the students get behind The Emerald that it not be forced to quit. After telling of the value of The Emerald on the campus and its further service to the University and Oregon Spirit in keeping the alumni in touch with the student activities, Dean Morton pointed out the sacrifices being made by the staff to put

TEN MEN TO FORT MONROE

May Be Eligible for Coast Civilians' Artillery School.

The University will send ten more coast artillery officer candidates to Fort Monroe, Virginia, by November 9, Colonel W. H. C. Bowen announced yesterday upon receipt of a telegram from the Committee on Education and Special Training in Washington, D. C. The telegram applied only to men of the S. A. T. C., but Colonel Bowen has wired asking if civilians are eligible.

NAVAL OFFICER ARRIVES

Ensign Heppenheimer, Fresh From Overseas, to Command Unit.

The University has been assigned a naval officer to have charge of the work of the men in the naval unit. Ensign William C. Heppenheimer, who has just returned from a year's overseas duty, arrived in Eugene last night and today started his duties as commanding officer of the naval men. Ensign Heppenheimer will assist in instructing the men. Announcements of changes in the courses for naval unit men will be made soon. Mr. Heppenheimer is a Harvard student.

His best way to keep informed and build up University enthusiasm is through the Emerald. Every student on the campus should be a subscriber.
