

THIRD O. T. C. ENDS TODAY; MEMBERS GET CERTIFICATES

Contents of Sealed Documents Unknown; Colonel Leader Reviews Men.

LEADERS IN ATHLETICS DECIDED BY CONTESTS

Company A Wins Tug-of-War; D Best at Bombing, and E With Bayonet.

The third Oregon State Officers' Training Camp ended this noon when the members got their sealed certificates, the contents of which were not to be disclosed until the men reach their own place of residence.

The certificates were given out immediately after the parade and drill, which took place this morning out on the drill grounds. The parade preceded the review, which started at 9:35. Major James A. McKinnon had charge of the review. Colonel John Leader, commandant of the camp, and President P. L. Campbell talked to the men for a short time.

Machine Gunners Exhibit.

The Machine Gun Exhibit yesterday should be called a success inasmuch as 1,250 shells were shot. Headquarters ordered them to leave a few shells for the next camp, and 2,000 were left intact for the fourth camp. Captain H. T. Haas had charge of the exhibit, which was held out on the old rifle range, three miles south of the city.

The tug-of-war pulled off yesterday afternoon between Company A and Machine Gun Company was one of the most exciting stunts yet. Company A again got the best of their old rivals when they pulled the Machine Gun Company.

Bombing Competition Held.

Other events of the afternoon were the bombing competition, drilling, bayonet, guard mounting competitions. Company D won the bombing competition and Company E the bayonet competition. The judges decided that Louis Mills was the best bayonet fighter in any of the three camps. Elliott Corbett of the first camp ranks as second best bayonet fighter of the three camps.

Commanders Receive Gifts.

Several of the companies have presented their company commanders with beautiful gifts. Company B presented Lt. Jacob Kamm with a watch, Company C gave Lt. H. G. Chickering a revolver, Captain C. T. Haas received a silver cigarette case from the Machine Gun company, and Company D gave Lt. Edward Graham an automatic revolver. The men had no company rules last night and most of them spent the time in some hilarious form of freedom. Serenades were the prevailing mode of entertainment.

JOE TOMINAGA IN FRANCE

Former Student of Architecture Writes To A. H. Lawrence.

J. K. Tominaga, Japanese student who was graduated in architecture in 1916, is in France, with Company L, 59th Pioneer's Infantry. A. E. F. Tominaga had difficulty in getting into the service on account of being a Japanese subject, but was later taken in the draft.

He writes to A. H. Lawrence, dean of the School of Architecture, from his station about fifty miles from the front, saying he is very deeply impressed with the spirit of the French people.

He was with McKim, Mead and White, architects, of New York, before entering the service. His work has been unexcelled in the school, says Miss Camilla Leach, librarian of the School of Architecture.

JENKINS SOON TO GO OVER

Oran Jenkins, ex-119, will leave for France soon, was the word received by Dean A. H. Lawrence, of the School of Architecture, in a letter from Jenkins, who is now stationed at Camp Trevis, San Antonio, Texas. Jenkins is now a first lieutenant in the 52nd machine gun battery. He was majoring in Architecture before going to Camp Lewis last spring. He is a member of Sigma Chi fraternity.

H. G. Chickering, Lieutenant of Company A, Is Courtmartialed

Commander Sentenced to Discharge With Ignominy, Life Imprisonment and to Be Shot at Sunrise; Then Presented With Colt Revolver for Service.

Late last evening in the down town Y. M. C. A. barracks, the place where Company A airs their woolen blankets, Lt. H. G. Chickering, in command of Company A, was court martialed and kept under heavy guard. Later the prisoner was sentenced to discharge with ignominy, imprisonment for life and to be shot at sunrise.

The order for arrest was given out from the Oregon State Officers' Training Camp headquarters to the members of Company A Lt. Chickering was given the general charge of "conduct unbecoming an officer and a gentleman" and was immediately placed in confinement under armed guard.

Many Charges Laid.

The specific charges against Lt. Chickering were:

1. Pvt. Huddleson charges that defendant has been derelict in his duty inasmuch as he has failed to make a soldier of Pvt. Cuddleson.
2. Sgt. Lee charges that defendant has made an absolute failure of making a guide of said Sgt. Lee and has allowed him to be in the wrong place at the wrong time in every company movement and has also failed to see that he was in bed every night at taps.
3. Pvt. Barber charges that the defendant has not prevented him from saluting when he has a gun in his left hand.
4. Pvt. Vaughn charges that the defendant has allowed Sgt. Lee to handle company funds without making an accounting.

5. Pvt. Sampson charges that he has been allowed by defendant to change his application to various training camps with the changes of the weather.

6. Pvt. Henry charges that the defendant has discouraged him from applying for a commission inasmuch as he now has application in only the following branches of service: Heavy artillery, light artillery, infantry, machine gun, quartermaster, tanks and kitchen police.

7. Sgt. Rickie charges that on October 20th, defendant allowed him to dismiss the company without spraying their throats.

Visited Sick Men Often.

8. All men who have been sick or in the hospital now present or absent, charge that he has failed to visit them more than six times a day.

9. The entire company charges that they have not been cussed as much as they deserve.

10. The entire company charge him with having produced the best drilled company in the camp and with the least number of hours of drill and with material having the largest stomachs and the softest muscles of any in the camp.

Presented With Revolver.

After the trial was over and the sentence of discharge with ignominy, imprisonment for life and shooting at sunrise, the members of Company C presented Lt. Chickering with a beautiful Colt's revolver in appreciation for the great service and courtesy he has shown them during the camp.

NO RECORDS ARE SENT

Influenza Causes Musical Organizations to Cancel Programs.

Owing to the influenza epidemic, the musical organizations of the state have been obliged to cancel their programmes. For this reason, the Oregon Music Teachers' Association, which has been sending Victrola records throughout the state with the co-operation of the extension department of the University school of music have stopped sending the records. This was started last year and small communities throughout the state appreciated the help of the association in bringing music to them to aid in their meetings.

Dr. John Landsbury, dean of the school of music, hopes to get many new records distributed throughout the state as soon as the ban on meetings is lifted.

WILL STUDY CAMP SINGING

Dr. Landsbury to Attend Conference on Conducting Song Fests.

Dr. John J. Landsbury, dean of the school of music, will represent the University at the conference in Portland November 14 and 15, to discuss means of conducting song singing among the men of the Students' Army Training Corps units throughout the state. The conference is being held at the suggestion of the committee on training camp activities, one of the divisions of the committee on education and special training. Representatives will formulate plans for organizing the work and will demonstrate methods of conducting singing with large groups of men.

The conference will be held at Reed College. Following the request of the training camp activities committee, practical demonstrations by groups of students at the college will be given.

Men of Company B Have Fling; Find Out They're in Army Now

Company B is repenting at leisure. Every man in the company knows now, if never before, that he is serving the army of the United States and subject to military discipline.

No passes beyond campus boundaries until Monday morning (which means no dates), and lights out at nine o'clock for Company B until further orders, says the edict issued from S. A. T. C. headquarters yesterday as a consequence of a too hilarious party Thursday night on the third floor of Friendly hall. Moreover, the third floor residents are confined to barracks until Monday. No glimpse of the football game will be theirs, no chance to spend all Saturday evening until ten o'clock boning in the library.

Of course, say the sophomores, the freshmen were receiving Thursday night only what was coming to them. What matter if they did hit rather hard sometimes? But now, the sophs don't think it is all quite so funny, for they are confined, too.

All might have been well if the revelers could have controlled their enjoyment, but as the entertainment progressed, louder and louder grew their demands for luckless Frosh to "sing and dance," and louder and louder their condemnations of their victims' efforts. All this, they soon discovered, is quite contrary to military discipline.

Meanwhile, Company A gloats in its virtue. Never, they say, would they have been caught in such unseemly conduct. Now, probably, they never will.

COMPANY A DEFEATS MACHINE GUNNERS

Eddie O'Connell's 30 Huskies Out-Fox Opponents in Tug of War.

The Officers' Training camp held a military meet yesterday on Kincaid field as one of the closing features of the present camp. The first event staged was a tug-of-war between the Machine Gun company and Company A, which was won by the thirty huskies of the latter. Eddie O'Connell, acting as coach for the winners, outfoxed the Machine Gun crew when, after having his men get the jump on their opponents and getting a few inches of the rope, he had them hold it until the other side had worn themselves out and then he gave the order for his proteges to pull, and they hauled the Machine Gun team all over the place.

Company D Throws Best.

In the hand grenade throwing for accuracy, Company D took first place, with a total of 31 points. Companies A and E were tied for second place with nine points each. Company D had several of its members toss the bomb within the five-foot circle from a distance of 30 yards.

In individual drill competition, C. T. Helling, of Portland, won first place. He was the only man left on the field out of 20 after several minutes of fast orders in the manual of arms. Major James A. McKinnon was in charge of this drill as well as the bayonet drill.

In the bayonet work, L. H. Mill and Dean H. Vincent, both of Portland, led the field of 20 entries and were given an extra five minutes of work, after which Mills was declared winner. This was the most hotly-contested event of the day and the men of the camp, who lined the field, shouted encouragement to their favorite regardless of the order issued by Major McKinnon that no remarks should be made by the spectators.

Vincent Ate too Much—Alibi.

Members of Dean H. Vincent's company have prepared an alibi for the prominent Portland real estate dealer and claim that the company commander is to blame for Vincent's loss of the bayonet drill. Vincent has been on K. P. for three weeks and the company claims that he has been allowed to eat too much. This, they claim, is the reason that Vincent was beaten by Mills and not that he was really outclassed.

RELIGIOUS WORKS IN LIBRARY

Miss Corabel Bien, reference librarian, has prepared a list of reference books for use by mission study classes in the churches of the city. A mimeograph list of books on religion in the University library has also been prepared for the use of ministers. Copies of these lists may be obtained by applying at the library.

HERALD WHITE NEW HEAD OF STUDENT BODY AT OREGON

Spangler Called by Navy to Report at Once; Madden, Vice President.

M'CROSKEY, YELL LEADER, RECOMMENDED BY ORPUT

Council Upholds Health Committee Ban on Home-Coming Day.

Herald White was elected president of the Associated Students of the University to fill the unexpired term of Paul Spangler at a special meeting of the student council this morning.

White's election leaves vacant his seat in the student council which will be filled by appointment. He will continue as student manager of football.

In the election of White, Oregon has her third student body president during the first month of the college year. When Dwight Wilson, elected president by the student body last spring, found it impossible to return, Charles Comfort was elected to fill the vacancy. Under pressure of his duties as a captain in the Oregon State Officers' Training Corps he resigned twelve days later. Spangler was then elected president by the student council serving until today.

Spangler Ordered Away.

The compelling reason for Spangler's resignation is that he has received orders from naval authorities at Bremerton to report for study at the University school of medicine at Portland. He expects to leave tonight to begin his work there Monday. Previous to his accepting the presidency he had received permission from the naval reserve authorities to complete his work at the University for the A. B. degree but this was changed when the pre-medie training was shortened to one year's work.

To fill a vacancy existing in the vice-presidency since the promotion of Spangler from this position to that of president, Elmo Madden, a junior and member of the student council, was elected.

In considering the action in regard to the filling of this vacancy, the suggestion was made that precedent be broken and the place given to a competent woman because of the fact that all eligible men of the student body were in the S. A. T. C. and likely to be called away from the University within three months at the outside. This led to the nomination of Helen McDonald by Ella Dews.

McCroskey Yell Leader.

Lyle McCroskey was voted yell leader following the report of Jack Dundore, chairman of the committee appointed to conduct tryouts, that this was the recommendation of Don Orput. Orput, former yell leader who was made a member of the committee on tryouts by the council, recommended that "Nick" Carter be made assistant as a result of the tryouts. The choice of his assistant will be left to McCroskey, however, by a vote of the council.

The council went on record upholding the health board in not promoting the annual Homecoming Day which would be next Saturday on the occasion of the Oregon-O. A. C. game were it not for the influenza epidemic. An under-class mix and other features for the campus will be arranged at the approval of the health board, the extent of these arrangements depending upon the health conditions next week.

EMERALD ENLARGES STAFF

Five New Reporters Appointed After Short Tryout.

Five reporters appointed today are announced in this issue of The Emerald as new members of the staff. They are Frances Cardwell, Dorothy Cox, Pierce Cummings, Lewis Niven and Velma Rupert. Reporters are selected by the editors after a probation period of at least one month.

Nearly twenty students are at present working on The Emerald as reporters, but only eight of them so far have been chosen as members of the staff. Promptness in turning in copy is considered in the appointment to the staff as well as faithfulness and the ability to handle assignments accurately.

OREGON SCORES 13-0 DURING FIRST HALF

Foundation Team Behind With Small Yardage to Their Credit.

FINAL SCORE:
Oregon ..... 13
Foundation ..... 0

Playing a tearing, smashing game of football, the Oregon team met the Foundation Ship Builders this afternoon on Kincaid field. During the early stage of the game Oregon tore its way through the Ship Builders' defense for gains. In the first part of the first quarter they ran the ball up to the 20-yard line where they lost it on a fumble. They came back after this miss and pushed Coach Dewey's team down the field with straight line backs. Passes netted no gains early in the contest.

Webster made yardage for the Foundation crew late in the first period. This was the first time Foundation made yardage. The period ended with the ball in Foundation's possession in the middle of the field.

Playing Watson, V. Jacobberger, Blake and himself, F. Jacobberger took his crew down the field and a nice pass, F. Jacobberger to Wilson, put the ball over for the goal for the first score of the game. V. Jacobberger kicked goal. Score: Oregon 7, Foundation 0.

The two teams battled back and forth with most of the playing in the Foundation territory. Both lines held well and piled up the efforts of both teams. Oregon lost the ball on the Foundation's 15-yard line and the play returned to the center of the field on a 35-yard punt by Horton. F. Jacobberger and Wilson pulled another 25-yard forward pass. Oregon continued to work the ball down the field and V. Jacobberger carried the ball over from the 1-yard line on a straight line buck. V. Jacobberger missed goal. Score: Oregon 13, Foundation 0.

EXTENSION WORK IN MONTANA

The Extension Division yesterday received a request from Miss Ethel Henry, of Creston, Montana, for suggestions and literature to aid her in starting community center work there. This is the first request that the extension division has received from Montana.

VOLUNTEER DAY SET FOR WAR WORK FUND

November 8 For Voluntary Pledges to Campaign; All Aid Asked.

Friday, November 8, is to be known as Volunteer Day in the United War Work campaign on the campus. On this day ballot boxes will be placed in Friendly hall, Hendricks hall, the Administration building, Y. W. Bungalow, and perhaps Villard or Deady.

Everyone who knows by that date how much he can give is urged by the committee in charge to write his pledge and drop it in one of these boxes. This will greatly facilitate the canvassing later. Each one who pledges will be given a tag to render him immune from further solicitation during the week of the drive.

Every Student Listed.

Every student is to be placed in a card catalogue, upon which the amount he promises to give, is written. This will make it possible to check up accurately on the money.

Each student and faculty member who does not pledge on Volunteer Day will be solicited individually sometime during the following week. The work of organizing the students into groups, and assigning canvassers for each group is in charge of Dr. W. E. Vance, Herald White and Paul Spangler for the men, and Miss Dorothy Collier, Miss Essie Maguire and Miss Helen Brenton for the women.

On Wednesday, November 13, Dr. Rhinehart, of Mills College, will address the student assembly, if the influenza ban is raised by then, in the interests of the War Work drive.

S. A. T. C. Men to Help.

The men of the S. A. T. C. and O. T. C. will be given opportunity to help in the campaign on the campus, according to a telegram from San Francisco, which states that a representative of the campaign will present to the personnel of the army the need of the work. The telegram also asks that every facility be afforded the United War Work committee for the prosecution of this campaign.

PROFESSOR PRESCOTT BETTER.

Professor Robert L. Prescott is recuperating from influenza and will not be able to hold his classes for another week or two.
