

GOthic STYLE IS LECTURE SUBJECT

Medieval Builders' Esthetic Taste Based on Religion, Says Prof. Schreff.

Gothic architecture and the ideals of the times which developed the style were discussed by Professor Alfred H. Schreff in a lecture Tuesday afternoon before Mrs. Mabel Holmes Parsons' class in Literature of National Idealism, in the studio of the architecture building. Professor Schreff illustrated his lecture with original photographs of Gothic cathedrals.

To the fact that men of the twelfth and thirteenth centuries worked with a spirit of religious enthusiasm, Professor Schreff attributes the wonderful esthetic taste which is so well worked out in the architecture of their time. "Our age," said he, "is entirely too sophisticated. We have lost the child-like simplicity which fostered the art of the later middle ages. Art was a part of the life of those people and to work toward its perfection was their highest aim."

The present war, according to Professor Schreff, will do a great deal toward revitalizing modern art which has lost, through the materialism of the age, its finer spiritual qualities. He believes that our men will return from France with a broader appreciation of life, and the art is necessarily a part of it. "Just as the Crusaders in the middle ages returned from the East with renewed interest in art and architecture," he said, "so will our men come home from Europe with a deeper love of art in every form."

Professor Schreff has a large collection of interesting photographs valued at approximately $1,500. He will lecture to the class again on the subject of medieval architecture.

R. C. CLARK TELLS OF PUBLICITY WORK

Public Information Committee Widens Popular Support of War.

Professor R. C. Clark, instructor in History, in his address on the work of the Committee on Public Information, before a meeting of the Round Table Club, which was held at the Hotel Osburn on Tuesday evening, said, in summing up the work of the committee, that "it has done its work well and effectively and deserves a large measure of credit for accuring American people to the support of the war."

Professor Clark was a research assistant in the committee's Division of Civic and Educational committee from May until October of the present year, and had opportunity while in Washington, D. C., to become acquainted with the activities of the committee.

In his address, Prof. Clark said: "The Committee on Public Information is one of ten new departments established for the period of the war, and was created by order of President Wilson, in April, 1917. It is made up of the secretaries of War, State, and Navy, the chairman, George Creel, was appointed by the president.

$2,500,000 Spent in Year.

Congress has only recognized it by making appropriations for its support this year. The president furnished money for its support out of his special $100,000,000 fund during the first year. The committee spent $2,500,000 the first year of the war and will spend an equal amount this year.

The committee was organized for the purpose of making the people of the United States acquainted with the causes of the war, to inform foreign peoples of the ideals and institutions of the United States, and to act as a clearing house for news of the work of the various executive departments.

Besides the agents of its domestic propaganda, there has been a special Foreign Education Division to carry on propaganda abroad through secret agents in the enemy country and other agents in allied countries.

Chairman Advisory Censor

Practically all government news has been given to the press through the committee and sent out by it in the form of releases to all newspapers. Its chairman has acted in an advisory capacity to the newspapers as a censor.

The Foreign Division is responsible for getting President Wilson's ideas before German and Austrian peoples, distributing his messages from airplanes, etc. It secured the documents that revealed the fact that the Bolshevik leaders, Lenin and Trotsky, have all the time been German agents."

RED CROSS WANTS ALMACK

John C. Almack, director of the extension division, received an offer from Omer Foiser, director of the northwest division of the American Red Cross, of a position as director of military relief of the Red Cross at Cleveland, Ohio. Mr. Almack said this morning that he would not consider the offer as "Cleveland is too far from the northwest."

MESSAGE IS GIVEN TO PAN HELLENIC

Mrs. Anna L. Tannehill, Head of Pi Beta Phi, Visits University.

The message of National Pan-Hellenic to college fraternity women was given by Mrs. Anna L. Tannehill, national grand president of Pi Beta Phi, who is spending the week in Eugene, before a special meeting of the local Pan-Hellenic board, yesterday afternoon in Professor Howe's room in Villard Hall.

A broader relationship between fraternities and more co-operation in Pan-Hellenic were emphasized by Mrs. Tannehill as the most important message of the national organization. Women's fraternities, according to her, should work together and remember that they are college organizations. "College first," said Mrs. Tannehill, "and fraternities afterwards."

A broader spirit of democracy was given by Mrs. Tannehill, as a means toward greater fraternity influence and the fraternity's larger power for good. She also discussed ideals in rushing and gave national Pan-Hellenic's interpretation of the term.

Mrs. Tannehill brought up the new laws made by national Pan-Hellenic in its last convention and explained their reason for existence. She spoke to the town Pan-Hellenic Monday afternoon. She will leave Friday for Corvallis, where she will visit the local chapter of Pi Beta Phi. From there she will go south, stopping at the various colleges en route where chapters of Pi Beta Phi are installed.

PLANS FOR RECITAL MADE BY ORCHESTRA

Work Done Under Direction of Robert Barron Shows Promising Results.

The University orchestra, under the direction of Robert L. Barron, professor of violin, is beginning to show promising results.

A recital is being planned which Mr. Barron says will probably be given December 15 at the Eugene theatre. Arthur Faguy-Cote and Miss Alberta Potter will be the soloists, and the repertoire to be presented is as follows: Overture to "Titus".....Mozart; Barytone Aria—"Even Bravest Hearts".....(Faust)-Gounod; Arthur Faguy-Cote. Unfinished Symphony.....Schubert; Romance for Violin and Piano, Svendsen; Alberta Potter; Songs with Piano..... Arthur Faguy-Cote.

(a) Peer Gynt Suite (one movement).....Grieg; (b) Norwegian Dance, No. 111.....Grieg

The orchestra is rehearsing regularly on Tuesdays and Thursdays, and this concert promises to be one of the most enjoyable musical events this year.

The personnel of the orchestra follows: First Violin—Albert Potter, Margaret Phelps, Ursula Pim, Stanley Wentz, Minnie Schwarzschild, Gwendolyn Lampshire, Lucille Thurber, Mary DeBar-Taylor, Margaret Biddle and Raymond Atkinson.

Second Violin—Ada McMurphy, Elsie Marsh, Gail Winchell, Edna Rice, Charles Runyon, Arthur Hendershott, Dwight Mitchell and Ralph Johnson.

Cello—Harry Devereaux, Kate Hayden and Cecil Adams.

Bass—Leonard Gross, Clarinet—Albert Parfett, Oboe—Mike Reach.

First Cornet—Lloyd E. Ballman and Reginald Pifer.

Second Cornet—S. D. Stephens.

Trombone: Raymond Marlett.

Saxophone—Dr. Miller.

Timpani—Richard Lyons.

Piano—Anora Potten.

SURPRISE SUPPER IS GIVEN

Y. W. Cabinet Celebrates Return of Miss Dinsdale.

A surprise supper to celebrate the return of Miss Trza Dinsdale, student secretary at the University, was given last night at the Bungalow by the members of the association cabinet. Miss Dinsdale has been Oregon student executive for the United War Work drive and this work has kept her off the campus since October 7.

With an opportunity to know exactly what every school in the state has done, as well as to understand its capacity for doing, Miss Dinsdale declares herself pleased with the University's success in the drive. "The University compares well with every school in Oregon," she said.

Miss Eleanor Holgate, a Northwest

secretary for the Y. W. C. A., and Miss Alice Brown, also a secretary, were student executives for the states of Washington and Idaho respectively. Miss Dinsdale bears the distinction of being the only student secretary chosen in the Northwest to be student executive. Miss Holgate and Miss Brown may visit the campus some time this year, it has been announced.

A cabinet meeting of the Y. W. C. A. will be held Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

SOCIETY

The largest social event of the week will be the student body informal to be held Friday night in the Eugene armory. Since this will be the first real college dance given by the students this term, the social committee in charge of the affair are predicting that it will be a real success. A floor committee has been appointed to see that every one dances and a clever feature is being planned by those in charge so that not a single minute of the evening will drag. Hendershott's orchestra will furnish the music. The committee plans to have programs.

The impromptu and informal student body dance last Saturday night in the men's gymnasium was undoubtedly the merriest gathering of college students held on the campus this year. Success on the O. A. C. gridiron was the motive for the affair. The University orchestra did its part to celebrate the day's victory. Dean Louise Ehrmann and Dean John Straub acted as chaperons for the affair.

Mrs. Anna Lytle Tannehill, of Lewiston, Idaho, national president of Pi Beta Phi fraternity, has been the inspiration for much entertaining since her arrival in Eugene Saturday night. Sunday a special session of Pan-Hellenic was held for Mrs. Tannehill, who for several years has represented Pi Beta Phi in national Pan-Hellenic, and Monday afternoon members of the local chapter entertained with a large reception in her honor. Kappa Alpha Theta gave a small dinner party Monday night honoring Mrs. Tannehill and Tuesday night Pi Beta Phi had dinner guests to meet their grand president.

Over 100 faculty and college women called Monday afternoon between 4 and 6 at the Pi Beta Phi house to meet Mrs. Tannehill. The rooms were artistically decked with greens and bowls of large chrysanthemums were placed about. Mrs. W. P. Fell poured tea. In the receiving line were: Mrs. Edna P. Datson, Mrs. S. W. Benson, Mrs. G. W. Tannehill, Dean Louise Ehrmann, Mellie Parker, Mrs. L. P. Habbis.

In honor of Mrs. Tannehill, Pi Beta Phi entertained with an informal dinner party Tuesday evening. Guests were President and Mrs. P. L. Campbell and Dean Louise Ehrmann.

Don Orput, '15, sergeant in the personnel department of the University S. A. T. C. returned to the campus yesterday after an absence of several weeks at his home in Portland.

Mrs. George Aker, of North Bend, is here this week visiting her husband, who is a member of the University S. A. T. C.

Mrs. Hamilton Weir and the girls of Gamma Phi Beta will be at home to their friends, at the chapter house, on the first and third Thursdays of each month from 2 until 5 o'clock.

Mrs. Mabel Holmes Parsons entertained with an informal afternoon yesterday for the members of her class in aesthetics. Additional guests were Mrs. Alfred H. Schreff, Mrs. Kirby Miller, Dorothy Miller and Isabella Garland.

Saturday night the Presbyterian students of the University will be entertained at dinner in the hall of the First Presbyterian church on Tenth and Pearl streets. More than one hundred students are expected to be present. The dinner is an annual affair.

Dean Louise Ehrmann and Mrs. Edna P. Datson were at home this afternoon from 3:30 to 5:30 to a small group of faculty and college women. The affair was given to honor Miss Gertrude Talbot and Mrs. Anna L. Tannehill.

Colonel John Leader and Mrs. Leader were dinner guests at Hendricks hall Tuesday night.

Wednesday noon Hendricks hall entertained us luncheon guests, Mrs. Tannehill, Mrs. Edna P. Datson, Miss Ella Dews and Major J. A. McKinnon and Mrs. McKinnon.

Tonight the members of Alpha Phi are entertaining at dinner, Mrs. Anne L. Tannehill, Dean Louise Ehrmann, Mrs. S. W. Benson and Ella Dews.

Major and Mrs. J. A. McKinnon left Wednesday for their home in Portland. Major McKinnon's work here is completed.

Mrs. Thomas Campbell Jr., will leave tomorrow for her home in Portland, where she will remain until after the Thanksgiving holidays.

Miss Isabella Garland, ex-'17, will spend the week-end with her sister, Mildred, at the Kappa Alpha Theta house.

Dean and Mrs. Straub were dinner guests at Hendricks hall Sunday.
