

CALIFORNIA DEFEATS OREGON

TELEGRAMS SHOW FOOTBALL TEAM OLD SPIRIT LIVES

Many Organizations Send Word to Oregon Warriors Before Big Game.

FROSH ENJOY HONORABLE POSTS AS PORTER'S AIDES

Men in Good Spirits and Condition for Grand Fight Today.

Oregon students, in order to show the football team that they are behind them for the big game, are sending telegrams south today and last night.

Company A is also showing its spirit by sending the team a message full of the old fight. Lieutenant C. G. Willis is leading the Company "A" bunch in their support of the Oregon team.

Men Enjoy Time.

The Oregon team had a good time on their way south. Those of the bunch who were fortunate enough to be Sophomores or upper classmen had everything arranged so that the Freshmen would have no chance to be idle during the journey.

The team seemed to be in good spirits; the men are in good condition and should put up one grand fight this afternoon.

Old Men Back.

Going back slightly into the past, there are several old Oregon football men who are in our neighborhood this week-end. On the Marine team, which plays in Portland today, are "Bill" Steers, who was probably the individual star of the Oregon team of 1917, and Jake Risley, center on Oregon's team of 1916.

Contests Lined Up.

With the game this Saturday the Oregon team has a fine line of contests for the next few weeks. Next Saturday the team plays the University of Washington in Seattle and O. A. C. is hankering for a contest on the following week-end.

JOURNALISTIC BOOKS LISTED

The library is preparing a mimeographed list of books on journalism and journalists. The list includes books of interest to men and women interested in journalism and printing.

Gobs Now Exalted Above Fellow Men; Uniforms Have Come

The Gobs are jubilant; they are feeling superior, too. For their uniforms came yesterday and they wore them to the dance and smiled condescendingly on their soldier brothers in civilian clothes.

People to port and starboard of the good ship Galleon yesterday morning wondered what had broken loose when they heard wild shouts and noticed the gobs dancing joyously about three boxes, which all were trying to push and pull up the gangplank.

They didn't try not to show their joy. They shouted and sang and soon every girl on the campus knew that fifty "live" sailors were on our campus—to stay.

Altogether, the Gobs consider yesterday a most satisfactory time and last night a real triumph.

OREGANA UP TO VOTE OF STUDENT COUNCIL

Year Book Given Up Because of War May Yet Appear This Year.

The Oregana, college year book, may yet be a reality this year, according to Ella Dews, vice-president of the student body and member of the executive committee.

At a previous meeting it was decided by the executive committee that existing conditions caused by the war prevented the student body from even considering the putting out of an annual.

The executive committee, composed of Herald White, Helen McDonald, Jack Dundore, Willard Hollenbeck and Charles Huntington, ex-officio member, will meet Wednesday in the office of L. J. Johnson in Johnson hall, and at this time the Oregana question will be considered.

In case it is decided to publish the year book as usual, it will be much smaller and much less elaborate than previously.

There will probably be no meeting of the student council next Wednesday due to the Thanksgiving vacation, although no definite announcement can be made since Herald White, president, is now in California with the football team.

JOURNALISTS MAKE GOOD

Former Students at University Busy on Portland Papers.

Dean Eric W. Allen, head of the school of journalism, returned to the campus this morning after a three days trip to Portland where he spent most of his time visiting the newspaper offices.

In the office of the Oregonian he met three Oregon students, former majors in the journalism department now working on the Oregon staff, Echo June Zahl, '17, is doing straight reporting work and at present has the court house run. She told Mr. Allen that she enjoyed her work very much.

Mr. Allen reports that the Telegram is doing fine work. In the "Letters from a Journal Man Abroad," by Fred Lockley the Journal's foreign correspondent, more than 1,000 items appeared during the last year about the school of journalism students at the University of Oregon.

STUDENTS TO HELP MAKE VICTORY SING ENJOYABLE EVENT

Vocal Program in Armory to Be Preceded by Joint Band Concert.

The University of Oregon student body is urged to do its bit in making the big Victory Song Festival which is to be held at the Eugene armory Sunday afternoon beginning at three o'clock, a success. This song festival is a small part, Eugene's part and the University of Oregon's part, in the nationwide celebration of victory to take place during the next week.

A band concert by the combined University and municipal bands is to be given at three o'clock and at three-thirty the song festival, led by Howard E. Pratt, musical director for the northwestern division of the Y. M. C. A., who for the past week has been instilling the song spirit into the S. A. T. C. men in particular, and the student body in general, will begin.

The men of the University are to march to the armory in a body. It is not compulsory for them to attend because Mr. Pratt said he does not want anybody at the song fest who does not want to be there. Seats are to be reserved for the student body in a central place so that Mr. Pratt will be able to put on some of the song stunts which he has been practicing with the men on the campus during the past week.

It has been suggested by Dorothy Flegel, president of the women's league, that the women of the University plan to go to the song fest in a body too, according to Karl Onthank, secretary to President Campbell, it is going to be hard to reserve seats for them otherwise.

The girls of Hendricks hall will leave their residence at two-thirty and go down Alder street in a group to Thirteenth. Here they will be joined by the girls from the Gamma Phi Beta, Kappa Kappa Gamma, Delta Gamma, and Tri Delta houses. The girls will then go to Eleventh where the Pi Beta Phi's will join them.

Miss Flegel especially requests that the girls do not break up into groups of two or three as they are expected to enter the armory in a body. The girls are to proceed in a body which will not be in the form of a serpentine.

The assembly next Wednesday was to be used as a celebration for song week but this Festival Sunday, according to Karl Onthank, will take its place. At some time during the sing President Campbell will speak. Further arrangements for the assembly next Wednesday have not as yet been made.

LIBRARY FUND EXHAUSTED

No Further Addition of Books or Periodicals This Year.

The University library fund has run out, and no more books, newspapers, or periodicals can be added to the library until next January when the new budget for the various departments of the University is issued, unless they are absolutely essential to the needs of the student, it is explained by M. H. Douglass, University librarian.

With the weight of military expenses draining the University pocketbook, the library is obliged to curtail the expense of further equipment this year. The library has already spent $7,000 out of the $10,000 which would have been its appropriation under normal conditions.

According to the ruling of the regents, no department can pay this year's bills out of next year's appropriation. No deficiency expenditures are allowed, consequently there will not be any big additions in the library until after Christmas.

Students to Receive Emeralds at Library; Days of Kicks to End

Everyone rejoice! The days when you didn't get your Emerald, no matter how hard you kicked, are over. So says the circulation department. Tuesday's and Thursday's paper will be distributed hereafter from the checking station in the basement of the library from 8:30 to 10 in the evening and from 9 to 10 on the morning following publication, it is announced.

A man will be detailed from each barracks to get the papers after 9 o'clock in the evening. They will be distributed from there in the same way that they are now. Students living in town may get their Emerald either in the evening or in the morning, whichever is the most convenient for them.

The system of delivering the Emeralds has been adopted by the managing department of the paper in the hope that it will give better satisfaction to those who have not been receiving their paper regularly. There have been a great many complaints from students who should get the Emerald and never do.

Everyone will be treated alike now, and everyone will have the paper which he should have three times a week. This plan is carried out in other universities with great success and after the first few times it is expected that the plan will work correspondingly well here.

DEADLY MUSHROOM FOUND ON CAMPUS

No Positive Rule to Determine Good From Bad, Says A. R. Sweetser.

One of the deadly varieties of mushrooms was found on the campus this week and for a while was exhibited in the library. This variety had a distinct cup at the base of the stem and the top was tinged with red and yellow and was covered with scales.

Besides analyzing specimens for people in Eugene Professor A. R. Sweetser is receiving every day in his historical laboratory specimens of mushrooms for analysis from various parts of the state. At this time of the year when the mushrooms are very plentiful, many persons are sending doubtful samples to be analyzed in the laboratories.

When the specimen is received it is photographed and its history is traced in order to determine whether it is poisonous or not. Professor Sweetser says there is no rule by which one may distinguish between the edible and poisonous mushrooms. The only way is to learn to know each one. But, he says, as a rule the mushrooms which have cups at the base of the stem are to be avoided.

The Extension Division of the University published a bulletin describing the various forms of mushrooms distinguishing between the poisonous and edible ones. Copies of the leaflet may be obtained by applying to the Extension Division.

KEITH LESLIE ON CAMPUS

Former Football Man Assitant on Co-Quille Selective Board.

Keith ("Brick") Leslie, a sophomore in the University and a member of the football team a year ago, is on the campus this week-end with his brother "Biggs" Leslie at the Sigma Chi house.

Although able to play two years of football, Leslie was unable to get into the army because of a weak heart until last summer when he was taken at Vancouver Barracks and later sent to his home in Coquille as an assistant on the selective service board under army pay. Because the work of the board is practically completed, he expects to be released from the army soon and may return to the University for the spring quarter.

HEAVIER TEAM GETS 6-0 SCORE ON SOGGY FIELD

Southerners Make Only Touchdown During First Period After Which Lemmon-Yellow Holds for Three Scoreless Periods

Berkeley, Cal., Nov. 23.—On a muddy field and between downpours of rain, the California Varsity eleven this afternoon defeated Oregon's team six to nothing in a gruelling battle.

After the first period when California's superior weight told on the northerners, Oregon held against the best assaults of the Bears and frequently made some big gains.

F. Jacobberger, Oregon's quarterback, was easily the star of the game. Twice in succession he took the ball around California's end for 25-yard gains.

Strong sentiment that the Oregon team should be given the same kind of reception upon their return as if they had won the game with California this afternoon was shown when the final returns were received at the assemblage of students in Willard hall.

Following is the report of the game play by play as carried by the United Press and printed in the Eugene Guard this afternoon:

First Quarter

Spratt made three yards through left tackle. Spratt made one yard through center. Spratt made four yards through center. California seems to be directing her hardest plays against O'Rourke who is the star man in Oregon's line. He has been laid out twice during the game and may be weak. Hewitt replaced Wilson at left for California. Hooper made two yards through center. With 10 yards to go on the last down Hooper smashed through center and barely made it. Hooper made one more yard through center. California penalized five yards for offside.

Spratt made about four yards around Oregon's right end. Spratt made four yards through O'Rourke. Mautz caught Watson with the ball behind California's line. California has the ball on Oregon's 15-yard line, and started a place kick as the quarter ended.

Score end third quarter: California 6; Oregon 0.

Wilson went back in California's line-up, Hewitt taking the bench.

Fourth Quarter.

Instead of completing the place kick they started, California tried a fake forward pass but Spratt was caught for a loss of five yards and Oregon got the ball. F. Jacobberger made 15 yards around California's right end. Oregon fumbled a fake kick and Callison recovered it for a five-yard gain.

F. Jacobberger made 25 yards around California's left end. At one time it looked as though he had a clear field before
