

PEACE WILL RELIEVE TEACHER SHORTAGE

Requirements to Become Normal in Near Future, Opinion of Dr. Sheldon.

The teacher shortage which resulted this fall, from the fact that so many teachers are engaged in different branches of war service, will be relieved now that the war is over is the opinion of Dr. H. D. Sheldon, dean of the school of education. Many of the teachers will now return to their former vocation.

Owing to the great shortage this fall the Oregon State Department of Public Instruction was forced to lower the requirements for teachers and to send out appeals throughout the state to former teachers for help during the shortage. In this way Dr. Sheldon said, most of the positions have been filled. Only an occasional exception of a school in some remote district or where the salary is lower than is usually paid.

High school positions, which were vacant at the beginning of the school year, have eventually been filled. However, Dr. Sheldon said, in some high schools it was necessary to discontinue, for this year, teaching of sciences and commerce, as it was impossible to get the teachers as these subjects are usually taught by men.

Dr. Sheldon is of the opinion that by next fall the Department of Public Instruction will again raise the standards for teachers, thereby barring out many who are teaching this year. The lowering of the requirements has not resulted entirely in securing poorer teachers this year, Dr. Sheldon said, but in many instances better teachers have been obtained as many who had retired have returned to their old field.

DESIGN CLASS BUSY ON CHRISTMAS CARDS

Mill Race and Villard Hall Will Be Subjects of Students' Work.

The class in design under Miss Helen Rhodes will spend the time between Thanksgiving and Christmas in making Christmas cards. These will be sold and the funds raised given to the American Committee for Devastated France.

These cards will be designed by the class almost entirely although some designs from outsiders may be used, announced Miss Rhodes.

The design is first made and then cut out of linoleum which is used in place of the copper plate usually used in printing. They are printed on a ringer press which will be done by the class itself, using of design in this way is interesting owing to the fact that it can be worked into commercial channels. "There will be symbolic designs of the mill race and Villard hall, especially appropriate for the alumni and former students of the University. Your personal friends would enjoy them, too," said Miss Rhodes.

"The American committee for Devastated France has been doing some wonderful work in the ruined villages of France for some time," said Miss Rhodes. Miss Anne Morgan of New York is head of the committee. Many wealthy women of New York have been very active in pushing the work of the committee forward and have given very generously of their time and money. The work being done is mainly that of reconstruction. So the design class feels that they will be a worthy object forever.

The sale will be held shortly before Christmas. "It is hoped that the college people won't buy cards until they have seen ours," said Miss Rhodes.

INSTITUTE TO BE HELD.

Plans for a two-day community institute to be held at Estacada, Oregon, during December, are being worked out by the University extension division. Instructors from the school of education are to be the speakers. Members of the school of music will probably also assist with the entertainment.

FEW DAYS OF DELAY ON Y. M. HUT LIKELY

Program Set for Thursday to Be Put Off If Doors Do Not Arrive.

The Y. M. C. A. hut may be held up a few days, it was announced by William F. Vance, University Y. M. C. A. secretary, yesterday. The carpenters are having considerable difficulty in getting doors for the new hut.

It was originally planned to have the first program in the hut on Thanksgiving evening, but owing to the delay in getting the doors the event may have to be postponed. If however, the carpenters succeed in getting the doors the program will come off as scheduled on Thursday evening.

Mr. Vance upon being asked if there would be any sort of dedication of the new building, said: "Yes, we will dedicate it by having one whooping good time. We may not have our furniture from headquarters, but we will use what we have." Up to this time Mr. Vance has had no information as to when the furniture will arrive. He informed headquarters of the Western Division of the Y. M. C. A. at San Francisco, that the hut would be open ready for occupancy on November 28, but has not received any reply as yet.

At present the carpenters are ceiling the downstairs. Little remains to be done with the exception of putting in the windows and laying the floor. A part of the windows will probably go in tomorrow, Mr. Vance stated.

"Our only drawback now is the doors, but providing everything goes along smoothly there is a possibility that we may be in on Thanksgiving." The heat will be furnished by the University heating plant.

PRE-NURSING COURSE WILL BE CONTINUED

Students to Be Trained Here to Release Others for Duty Overseas.

Inadequacy in the supply of trained nurses in the United States is the basis of an appeal from the surgeon-general of the United States to the University department of physical education for women for the continuance of the three months' course in pre-nursing, given here this term. "It is quite possible we will not send students overseas, as had the war continued, we proposed doing," stated a letter received this week, but the present plan is to train supply nurses who will release trained nurses to be sent across.

The students thus highly trained will under the present plan be kept in America to do work in military and civil hospitals. "Both war and recent epidemic have forcefully presented the inadequacy of our supply of trained nurses," says the letter, "and they have not less clearly demonstrated the important part skilled nursing now plays in the care and cure of the sick and injured and in the prevention of disease."

The call for trained nurses in the reconstruction field is very great, according to reports, and the response of American nurses will make it necessary for highly educated women to respond to the needs in their own country. The surgeon general, M. W. Woods, declares himself confident that people so prepared will find no difficulty in obtaining immediate assignment either in a military or a civil school.

The plan of the University department of physical education is to comply with the request made upon it and continue the pre-nursing work given here. An effort will be made through communication with the national secretary in charge of recruiting work for all universities to secure recruits from outside the University to take these elementary courses. Unless a sufficient number of women apply for the course, according to Miss Mabel Cummings, head of the department of physical education, no attempt will be made to continue with the elementary subjects.

S. A. T. C. WILL HAVE STUDY SUPERVISION

Instructors of Various Departments to Have Charge of Rooms.

In accordance with a request from the war department, supervised study hours are to be extended to the academic work of the S. A. T. C. men as well as to the military courses. A list of all the free hours of the men and the courses they are taking are now in the president's office and the study hours will be started at once.

Up until this time the military instructors have been responsible for the supervised study. The men have been under the discipline and roll call of a non-commissioned officer who is responsible for their attendance. The new plan is to leave these duties to the military instructors but arrange for study rooms for the men in the various courses with an instructor in that course or department to be present to help with any questions the men may have. This will be especially true in connection with the courses in trigonometry, topography, business law, physics, war aims and science courses.

SONG FEST THURSDAY BIG

A regulation Y. M. C. A. song fest was held Thursday evening in Villard hall under the direction of Howard E. Pratt, director of the Y. M. C. A. music of the western division. Mr. Pratt has been at the University for the last few days installing a little pep into the boys during drill.

The opening number of the song fest was "America" and following one after the other were the old and new songs of the past and present wars. Miss Beulah Keagy and Miss Jessie McCord were the soloists for the evening, with Miss Patty French at the piano. Mr. Faguy-Cote sang the Marsellaise.

The words of the songs were flashed on the screen thus enabling everyone to sing. Mr. Pratt said that he had visited many other institutions but the singing at the University of Oregon was the best.

The audience was unusually "peppy" and sang one song after the other with great zest. Several numbers were whistled and hummed.

RECOGNITION SERVICE HELD

Nearly sixty of the two hundred new members of the Y. W. C. A. for this year were guests at a recognition service in the Bungalow Thursday afternoon. The candle service was used as the ceremony for recognition as the new members stood in a large circle.

Mrs. Boudinot Seely, of Portland, addressed the girls on the subject of "The Road Ahead." She gave a comprehensive series of pictures of conditions in China, India, Japan and Africa, and spoke of the vital opportunity of the college woman of today.

She is to visit the colleges of Oregon, Washington and Idaho in the interests of the Christian Association.

Special music for the meeting on Thursday was furnished by Esther Banks and Lucile Elrod. Essie Maguire, president, led the meeting, and the social committee served tea at the close.

Because the next meeting day falls on Thanksgiving day, no meeting of the association will be held next week, according to Miss Tirza Dinsdale, general secretary.

TRE NUS TO MEET SUNDAY

The Tre Nu club, an organization of self-supporting girls in the University, will meet tomorrow afternoon at the Y. W. C. A. bungalow between the hours of three and five. Joy Judkins of the University of Oregon, and E. Lee Smith of the University of Washington naval unit, are to sing. Miss Dinsdale, Y. W. C. A. secretary, will speak on business opportunities of college women, and of some of the requisites of business life which a college woman should get while in school. Tea will be served during the afternoon to the girls and their guests. Patronesses for the occasion will be Dean Ehrmann, Miss Dinsdale, Mrs. A. R. Sweetser and Mrs. Eric Allen.

SUNDAY RECITAL PUT OFF

The recital to be given by Miss Cole of the educational department of the Columbia Graphophone company scheduled for Sunday afternoon in Guild hall, has been postponed according to Dr. John Landsbury, dean of the school of music. "A patriotic concert was planned without my knowledge for Sunday afternoon and for this reason we are yielding the date," said Dr. Landsbury. He wishes all students to watch for the subsequent date which will be announced in the Emerald.

George Van Waters is spending the week-end in Portland.
