

OLD TRADITIONS ARE TO BE RENEWED WITH NEW TERM

Military Discipline to Continue Only to Decemehr 21 for S. A. T. C.

NAVAL UNIT MEN TO GET INACTIVE DUTY STATUS

Members All to Have Uniforms; May Keep Them Four Months After Discharge

Demobilization of the Students' Army Training Corps by the end of this term will bring a return to normal college life beginning with the new term in January. Living in fraternity houses will be resumed, and all the old Oregon traditions re-established.

Until December 21, however, military discipline for the men of the S. A. T. C. will continue as usual. Much of the time of the men will be taken up with the making out of the discharge papers, which is a complicated process, according to Colonel Bowen, commanding officer, who says it is harder to get a man out of the service than to enroll him. They will start making out the papers tomorrow morning.

May Be Released.

Members of the naval unit who desire to be placed on inactive duty status may be released by naval district commanders. Colonel Bowen announced this morning, on receipt of telegraphic instruction from S. A. T. C. headquarters at Helena, Montana. The men who desire release will probably be granted it by December 21, Colonel Bowen said, although he has as yet received no definite word.

"Instructions will be issued later as to the disposition to be made of men desiring to remain on active duty," read the telegram. The men may remain here to do regular college work or they may be sent to Bremerton or other plans may be made for them, Colonel Bowen said. Discharged By Christmas.

The men of the regular S. A. T. C. will be discharged as nearly as possible on the same date, Colonel Bowen said this morning, probably about December 20, just before the Christmas holidays which begin the following day. A few men will be discharged at once, beginning tomorrow. These will be largely older men who apply for immediate discharge because they wish to return to business life. They are principally men with families, who entered the S. A. T. C. for the military training only and do not wish further academic work. Men who desire to return to the University next term to take regular college work will be the last to be discharged.

To Return Tomorrow

Lieutenant R. S. Zimmerman, assistant personnel officer, is expected to return from Helena, Montana, tomorrow with full instructions for the details of the discharge of the men. Lieutenant Zimmerman has been attending the school on discharge paper work.

An army surgeon, assigned to the unit here, by the war department for examining men to be discharged, will report Wednesday for duty. He will work in co-operation with the army contract surgeons.

Men of the corps will receive their pay up to the time of their discharge. They will not, however, be paid for the period from October 1 to 14, the date of their formal induction. Colonel Bowen said this morning on receipt of orders from Major Patten, Helena, Montana. Colonel Bowen had asked that the men, who were enrolled in the corps October 1, but who had not been formally inducted, be paid for this period, but the request could not be granted.

Barracks Revert to School.

The barracks which have housed 200 men of Company A, will revert to the University. No definite plans have as yet been made for the use of the building, although it may be moved onto the campus and used for offices.

All the men will be issued their uniforms, which they will be allowed to retain for four months after discharge. At the end of this time, they must be turned over to the depot quartermaster at Fort Mason, San Francisco.

S. A. T. C. Uniforms Attract Portland; Privates' Salutes

Uniformed men of the S. A. T. C. because of the serge uniforms worn by many of them and the similarity of the officers' hat cords to theirs, drew many salutes while in Portland for Thanksgiving vacation. Their likeness to officers was noticed on the campus from the first but Thanksgiving gave the first opportunity for verification on any large scale—and Christmas perhaps will give the last because of the mustering out of S. A. T. C. men.

Syd Robinson, private of Portland, walked down Washington street Thanksgiving Day wearing S. A. T. C. hat cord, overcoat, serge uniform, wrapped puttees. Three soldiers saluted. Robinson turned to a private from Vancouver Barracks, who was standing on a corner, to ask:

"Say, do I look like an officer?"

The Spruce Production unit who had not saluted did so hurriedly.

"Pardon me, sir! I didn't see your hat cord. I am very sorry. It won't happen again I am sure, sir!"

COMMERCE FACULTY MEN COMING BACK

Morton Wires for Hopkins and Jeremiah; Place for Harold Young.

An effort is being made by the school of commerce to hasten the return of men of the faculty in service, according to D. Walter Morton, dean of the school. The announcing of courses to be given next term will depend largely on how many and how soon these men can get back.

The school has hopes of the immediate return of First Lieutenant Allen C. Hopkins, instructor in commerce 1916-17, and Second Lieutenant C. C. Jeremiah, who had charge of the ordnance courses last year. Sergeant F. Harold Young, who has been accepted by the board of regents as an instructor in the school of commerce, is also much wanted by Dean Morton. Sergeant Young is a graduate of the school of commerce, class of 1916. He is a son of Prof. F. G. Young, dean of the graduate school.

Lieutenant Hopkins is with the 91st division in France. Dean Morton has wired the Secretary of War, trying to get in touch with him. Lieutenant Jeremiah is at a government arsenal at Raritan, New Jersey. He has been wired by the school. Sergeant F. Harold Young is in Tours, France, with the ordnance department. Immediate action is being taken to get in touch with these men, so that all possible speed will be used in getting the instructors back, said Dean Morton.

TURNER NEIL, '18, IS DEAD

Pneumonia Causes Death of Former Oregon Student in France.

Word was received on the campus yesterday of the death in France of Turner Neil, ex-member of the class of 1918 at the University. Death was due to pneumonia. Neil went across with the ambulance unit from Camp Lewis the first of the year. He was in college two years, having entered in 1914 and was prominent in student body activities. He was a member of the Sigma Chi fraternity.

He is survived by his mother, Mrs. George Roberts Neil, of Portland, and by his sister, Marian Neil Giger, a graduate of the University in the class of 1918.

DELIVERY PLAN COMPLETE

Emerald's Usual Distribution to Townspeople Will Continue.

Emerald subscribers not connected with the University will receive their papers by delivery three times a week as usual. The change to a central distribution on Tuesdays and Thursdays, which was announced last week, will affect only students and faculty members living in town and the men in the barracks.

The number of persons included in this class of townspeople is comparatively small, thus making it possible to maintain an efficient route. Practically all of the "kicks" have come from students living in town, and the new system was adopted in order to give them better satisfaction.

STUDENT LOYALTY WILL DETERMINE FATE OF OREGANA

Year Book Will Be Published if Made Self-Supporting; Campaign Soon.

The students may have an Oregona if they can make the publication a self-supporting proposition by getting enough subscriptions to make it so. Such was the decision reached at the meeting of the executive council last Wednesday. That the Oregona could not be published without as much loss to the student body, as was incurred last year was the conclusion reached some time ago. At that time it was decided not to have the Oregona this year. Upon the signing of the armistice, the students especially wanted to get back to normal times and could hardly give up the idea of not having the year book.

Faculty Pledge to Subscribe
Pros and cons were discussed and it was decided to have an Oregona if it can be made a self supporting publication. Every student will have to subscribe, the faculty have already pledged a 200 per cent subscription and the alumni are always to be counted on, so at the present time the Oregona proposition is up to the students alone.

The students will have an opportunity to show their loyalty probably some time before the Christmas holidays. Some form of a campaign, much like the late Emerald campaign, will be put on and every student will be given a chance to subscribe. One suggestion made was that the campaign be staged by classes, each class trying for the high honor of getting 100 or 200 per cent subscribed. Plans and details will be worked out for the campaign at the executive council meeting Wednesday.

The number of subscriptions needed before the Oregona can be announced as a sure thing is not quite definite at the present time, but will probably be near 800.

New Editor Will Be Elected.

The editor, Elise Fitzmaurice, elected last year, did not return to school this fall and the business manager elected, Curtiss Peterson, has been a lieutenant in the S. A. T. C. at the University of Washington, but expects to return by the first of next term or possibly the last of this, so a new manager will not need to be elected. There are several possible editors flying around the campus, and should the campaign for subscriptions be successful, the new editor will be elected by the student council before the end of this term.

But the Oregona can not be a sure thing until the students have pledged their subscriptions and until there are enough subscriptions to make the year book a self supporting publication.

GIRL BASKETEERS ACTIVE

One Extra Practice to Be Held Early Tuesday at 5 O'Clock.

One extra practice a week for girls' basketball began yesterday at 5 o'clock and will be continued every week for all classes at that hour. This makes a total of three practices a week, the other two coming on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons.

Basketball practices are exciting much interest among the women on the campus, according to Grace Rugg, head of basketball. An average of about 12 girls for each class appear each practice night. Plans for interclass games have not yet been made, but it is hoped that teams may be worked up immediately after Thanksgiving and the games played off before the end of the first term.

THREE BACK FROM CAMP

Hollis Johnston, Stephen Mathieu and Louis Dunsmuir Discharged.

Three University of Oregon men returned to the campus yesterday from Camp Zachary Taylor, Louisville, Kentucky. They have been transferred to the S. A. T. C. unit here, and they say that nearly all of the 40 men who went with them to the officers' training camp last month have asked for discharges and expect to return to the University for regular college work in January. The men who were transferred are Hollis E. Johnston, Stephen W. Mathieu and Louis S. Dunsmuir, all of Portland.

DR. JOHN H. BOYD WILL BE SPEAKER AT NEXT ASSEMBLY

Powerful Portland Pastor, Authority on Germany, to Be Here.

Dr. John H. Boyd, pastor of the first Presbyterian church of Portland will address the student body at assembly Wednesday in Villard hall at 10 o'clock.

Dr. Boyd is a powerful speaker, says Karl Onthank, secretary to President Campbell, and many will remember the address he gave at the armory last year. During the war he has been serving the government in speaking for Liberty Loan drives and Red Cross work. He has also done a great deal of work in the army camps of the west.

Dr. Boyd is an authority on the German situation having studied abroad for a number of years. His insight into the German mind as shown in the speech delivered at the armory in Eugene last year and in the many coast cities is very keen. He will undoubtedly bring out these points in his address Wednesday as well as some of his opinions concerning the plans for reconstruction and other present day problems. The definite title of his address is not yet known.

Dr. Boyd has been pastor of the First Presbyterian church in Portland since 1911 and previous to that time held the pastorate in the first church of Detroit, first church of Evanston, Ill., the second church of Charlotte, North Carolina, the Laurendale church of Memphis, Tenn. He is a graduate of the Princeton Theological seminary, class of 1886, and was a student in philosophy under President McCosh.

FACULTY TO DISCUSS CHANGES IN POLICY

Two-Semester Plan, Military Drill, Requirements for Honors Are Subjects.

Means of making it as easy and simple as possible for men in the service to return to college and get back into the routine of University work will be a subject of discussion at the faculty meeting to be held at 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon in Guild hall.

At a special meeting held Monday afternoon a committee was appointed to take up this general subject, together with a number of others resulting from the change to peace conditions, with instructions to report at the next meeting. On this committee President Campbell named Dr. H. D. Sheldon, Dean Eric W. Allen, Dr. Warren D. Smith, Dr. J. F. Bovard, Dr. W. P. Boynton, Dr. R. C. Clark, Dean D. Walter Morton, and Professor H. C. Howe. The committee met immediately at the close of the special faculty meeting and outlined tentative plans which will be submitted tomorrow.

Among the other matters suggested for the consideration of the committee were the advisability of going back to the two-semester schedule, abandoning the three-term plan which was adopted to apply through the year in which the war should terminate; the elimination of the eleven-hour minimum for remaining in college; the suspension for the present term of the S-grade requirement for Honor students, and the faculty policy toward military education, now that the war is over.

Should the two-semester system be readopted, it will not go into effect until the opening of the 1919-1920 term. It was announced.

JOHN S. EVANS VISITS CAMPUS

John Stark Evans, formerly professor of music at the University, now second lieutenant in the 1st regiment, 13th division, stationed at Camp Lewis, was visiting on the campus last Saturday. Professor Evans expects to be released from the service soon and will return to his place at the University.

RECITAL DATE DECEMBER 5.

The recital which was to have been given by Miss Cole of the Columbia Graphophone company last Sunday afternoon will be given Thursday evening, December 5, in Guild hall. All students and their friends are invited.

Oregon on Road to an All-Jacobberger Team; No. 3 Coming

Bert Jacobberger is coming to Oregon. What! Another one?

Quite so. Another Jacobberger will be here next year. His name is Bert, they call him Babe, and he is a football player. Young Jacobberger, or Jake No. 3 as he will have to be called, is playing for Columbia University in Portland, where his brothers carved their names in the gridiron hall of fame.

In a game between the the Columbia University and James John high school in Portland last Friday young Jacobberger put up a fine exhibition. He is about the size of Vincent, about the same weight, if any, a little taller.

In the game last week Bert bucked the line in grand style. He gets his head down about even with his shoe laces and then starts on his way. And he usually gets there. He hit the James John line hard and often and did some kicking that would make big brother Francis take notice.

If there are any more Jacobbergers lying around they might come around next year, and they can have a family reunion on the squad. According to Portland sport writers Bert Jacobberger is one of the best bets in the interscholastic league.

LT. ROSWELL DOSCH PASSES IN PORTLAND

Dean Lawrence Pays Tribute to Gifted Sculptor's Memory.

Roswell Dosch, assistant professor of modeling and drawing for three years at the University prior to his attending the officers' training camp at the Presidio, died in Portland, November 27, following a seven weeks' illness from Spanish influenza followed by pneumonia. The funeral was held Friday in the chapel of the Portland Crematorium.

Pupil of Bourdelle.

Mr. Dosch was born in Portland, January 16, 1889. He spent almost the whole of his life in that vicinity with the exception of the time he spent studying art in France, Italy and Germany. He was at one time a pupil of Bourdelle in Paris.

He is survived by his parents, Colonel and Mrs. H. E. Dosch of Hillsdale, Oregon, two sisters, Camille Dosch and Mrs. Margaret Josslyn; two brothers, Earnest E. Dosch and Arno Dosch who is a war correspondent in Europe for the New York World.

Several University people attended the funeral in Portland. They were: President and Mrs. P. L. Campbell, Arthur Faguy-Cote, Clayton Baldwin, Mrs. Mabel Holmes Parsons, Dean E. F. Lawrence, Dr. and Mrs. George Rebec and Mr. and Mrs. M. F. McClain.

"Mr. Dosch was recognized as without a peer among the sculptors of the northwest," states Dean Lawrence. "He had that indispensable of both artist and teacher, a fine enthusiasm. Through his recognized ability and the keen interest he took in his work he was able to inspire all those who were fortunate enough to come in contact with him. We of the school of architecture, and the University as a whole, are going to miss Roswell Dosch very much indeed."

Conceived Oregon Memorial.

His last sculptural conception was a monument to the Oregon men who offered themselves to their country's service in the war. During the summer he made a cast of the work but through an accident, it was broken. The monument was to have been placed on the campus as a tribute to Oregon men in the service.

Mr. Dosch was also a contributor of critical articles to the Studio, a leading paper for artists and art lovers.

Mr. Dosch attended the officers' training camp at the Presidio this summer where he received his commission as a second lieutenant and was assigned as a personnel officer at Reed college in Portland.

E. D. VOSPER IN SOUTH CAROLINA

Second Lieutenant Ernest D. Vosper, who was reported on his way to France, is still in Camp Jackson, South Carolina, according to word received by Mrs. Vosper. He says that there are about 250 other officers waiting at the camp. They do not know whether they will be sent across.

OREGON PREPARES CONFIDENTLY FOR MULTNOMAH GAME

Team in Good Shape for Effort to Retrieve Defeat of Early Season.

WASHINGTON VANQUISHED IN HARD FIGHT, 7 TO 0

Lemon-Yellow Warriors Look Circus-like in Misfit Uniforms.

With the end of the football season in sight Oregon is entering upon its last week of practice, unless additional games are scheduled by Graduate Manager "Shy" Huntington. On Saturday the team is slated to meet in Portland the Multnomah Amateur Athletic club, claimant of the Northwest title, although the contract has not been signed by the two teams.

Oregon looks like a probable winner in this clash with the club eleven, as the Portland men did not look like world beaters in the game with O. A. C. on Thanksgiving day. In the Turkey day contest the Aggies held the heavy Multnomah team to a 6 to 0 score, which was better than close followers of the game had expected. The way the Multnomah men were laid out in the game with Corvallis shows that they are not in the best of condition. They are, however, a good team and have a number of former college and Portland interscholastic league stars on their roster.

Layton With Multnomah

Among the well-known football stars who are playing for the club this season are: Jack Layton, guard, former Montana and Oregon man. Layton was unable to get into the S. A. T. C., and after the close of the O. T. C. here went to work in Portland and is playing on the Multnomah team during his spare moments. Another is Webster, former O. A. C. star, who is holding down one of the ends. There are a host of other men on the team who have seen service on various elevens in the northwest.

The Oregon team is in good condition to take on the Multnomah club eleven. The men came through the game in Seattle in fine condition and should, on a dry field, give the Multnomah team a great game. The Oregon backfield is about the class of the Northwest. Other teams have one or two good men, but there are few who can equal the two Jacobbergers, Blake and Brandenberg. If the Multnomah game is played on a dry field, Blake should get more of a chance to run with the ball. He is a good man handling a dry ball, and his weight should help him against the Multnomah line.

Exactly the same lineup has represented the Lemon Yellow during the last three games. Not only does this speak well for the men on the team but for "Bill" Hayward, trainer, and the condition that he has kept the men in. The team is eager to meet the Multnomah club eleven, and it is expected that "Shy" and Manager George Bertz, of Multnomah, will get together over the wire and stage the game.
