

COLLEGE CREDITS GIVEN FOR WORK IN ARMY CAMPS

Men Who Win Commission or Almost Do So to Get One Term.

OTHER CHANGES MADE IN FACULTY POLICIES

Grades for Present Quarter to Be Based on Quality, Not Quantity.

Men in the service who have attained a commission or have done two-thirds of the work required at the training camp for the attainment of a commission will receive credit for one term of work in the University.

It was decided also to credit the non-commissioned officers in the S. A. T. C. with college hours for the military routine work done under orders of their superiors, which have prevented their giving proper attention to their academic work.

It was decided that grades for this term should be granted on the quality of the student's work rather than the quantity.

The faculty members also concluded that no conditional grades would be given this term.

Dr. John F. Bovard, chairman of the student health committee, announced at faculty meeting that the daily health reports from all houses and students living outside of the University jurisdiction would be continued as formerly.

JOURNAL CARTOONIST DIES

Influenza Claims J. G. Seed, Well Known Artist of Portland

Emerald readers will remember the occasion on which the paper blossomed forth with a three-column cartoon on the first page, good-naturedly caricaturing Colonel Leader and officers and men of the Second Officers' Training Camp.

That cartoon, as noted at the time, October 19, was the work of J. G. (Jack) Seed, the smiling head of the art department of the Oregon Journal, and to those who were moved to laughter by its merry humor it will come as a shock to know that the hand which sketched it has been stilled by death.

INDOOR SPORTS TO BEGIN

Preliminary Work in Wrestling and Boxing Will Start Soon.

As soon as the S. A. T. C. is disbanded, wrestling will begin, Bill Hayward announced this afternoon.

Boxing will start right away. The work given at first will be the masked boxing to teach the men foot work and the ability to handle themselves to advantage.

Men at Camp Taylor Find Army Routine Is "Great Life, if--"

Men returning to the University from Camp Zachary Taylor are telling of severe discipline compared to which the S. A. T. C. is nothing, they say.

Witness the fact that they are back at the University which they describe as a comparative paradise. They're waiting now for the discharge of the S. A. T. C. and for the opportunity of entering the pearly gates with the new quarter when the campus life will be back on the old basis.

The first night in camp, according to the men who are back on the campus, a lot of clothes were thrown at them whether they fit or not.

The night before straw ticks were issued and the men were required to fill them with straw.

The men were required to get up shortly after 5 o'clock. At the end of the week, Sunday morning, it was announced that as a special favor work would not begin until 6:15.

One night the water was shut off between 9 and 9:30 o'clock, the only time for shaving or loafing during the day at Camp Taylor.

Shoes similar to those issued here were given out and if the lieutenants could not see their faces in them it is said to be probable that they would faint.

At Camp Taylor the life is universally declared to have been hard. Just one incident of "easy going" has been reported.

A lieutenant approached one man with a growth on his face.

"Ha, ha, ha! No shave," he said somewhat gleefully.

"Ha, ha, ha! No razor!" responded the private.

MISS FITCH TELLS OF Y. W. IN FRANCE

Saw Dean Fox at Tours; One Hundred-Fifty Women Attend Meeting.

Miss Louise Fitch, who has recently returned from France where she spent six months investigating the condition of the women workers of that country for the Y. W. C. A., spoke yesterday afternoon to one hundred fifty University women at the Y. W. Bungalow.

Miss Fitch appeared wearing the overseas uniform of the Y. W. C. A. and told of the work of the Christian Association in canteens, Hostess houses, women's hotels, etc.

"The buildings available for the use of the association," said Miss Fitch, bore shady reputations in the past and were as a rule dirty and unattractive until they were cleaned up and put to good use."

Miss Fitch saw Miss Fox, Oregon's dean of women on leave for overseas war work, and told of the difficult task she was accomplishing in taking charge of a large hostel for women in Tours, where it was necessary to not only plan the recreation of large numbers of homeless French women workers but to manage the household and plan the meals as well.

"One of the most interesting places in all France," said Miss Fitch, "is the Hotel Petrograd in Paris, operated by the Y. W. C. A. as the headquarters of all American women in France. There one meets most interesting women engaged in all sorts of war work and who have wonderful experiences to tell if you can drag it out of them."

OREGON WILL NOT PLAY FINAL GAME WITH MULTNOMAH

Dispute Over Date Results in Cancellation; Clubmen Claim Title.

The curtain has been drawn upon the 1918 football season of the University. The last of the formalities was undertaken yesterday when the team posed for pictures for the Oregana.

If the Multnomah game had been played this week and it would have settled the Northwest championship without a doubt. As it is, Oregon has a better claim than has the Club team.

EVA HANSEN WINS PLACE

Reconstruction Appointment Sends Junior to Boston.

Eva Hansen, a junior in the University, yesterday received a telegram from her brother in Marshfield notifying her that the letter with her appointment for reconstruction work for which she has been waiting for some time, had arrived.

"I am very sorry to leave the University," said Miss Hansen, "but I am looking forward to my work with a great deal of interest."

M'NARY TO FINISH COURSE

Member of Class of '19 at Oregon Will Remain at Zachary Taylor.

Bob McNary, ex-'19, now at Camp Zachary Taylor, Kentucky, will remain at the camp and finish his course, he says in a letter just received by Colonel W. H. C. Bowen.

Two-Day Drive for 800 Oregana Subscriptions Starts Wednesday

Classes to Have Charge of Campaign Under Supervision of General Campus Committee; Curtiss Peterson to Manage.

The campaign for 800 Oregana subscriptions will begin Wednesday morning, December 11 and will continue until Friday, December 13, when each team is expected to have gone over the top and it is hoped will have a 200 or 300 per cent subscription pledge.

The campaign will be carried on by classes, a committee from each class taking the subscriptions from their own class.

In the same way, the faculty and special students will be canvassed by committees appointed from their own organizations.

Each team or class committee will be responsible to a general campus committee of which Jack Dundore is chairman.

During the two days of the campaign, a bulletin board will be posted outside the library, on which each class will keep their up-to-date subscription percentage.

UPPER CLASS MEN TO PROMOTE OREGON

Effort to Be Made to Imbue Freshmen With Idea of College Values.

To the end that all men now in the University in the S. A. T. C. for their first taste of University life should be told something of what Oregon is and of what Oregon offers in normal times, a meeting of seniors, juniors and sophomores—all men who had seen the University under conditions similar to that upon which the campus will be with the new quarter—were called to a meeting in the office of Dean John Straub last night.

President Campbell emphasized the particular need of a good sound training at this time in order to meet the competition of the broadened men who are now returning from France.

Lieutenant "Bert" Lombard, former vice-president of the student body who has just returned to Eugene, made the point that if the government thought it worth while to pay the way of privates through college it was worth a thought on the part of the individual as to whether it was not worth his time to get that training to equip himself for life.

OPEN HOUSE TO BE HELD IN HUT FRIDAY

Musical Program Arranged; Stunt Show by Company A in Evening.

A grand opening for the Y. M. C. A. hut on the campus, is scheduled for Friday afternoon from three to five, at which time the new building will be the scene of a housewarming and reception of visitors.

The hut which is located between the library and Oregon hall has just been completed, and will be the center of rousing good times during the school year.

In the receiving line Friday will be President and Mrs. Campbell, Dean and Mrs. Straub, Mr. and Mrs. William F. Vance, Miss Tirza Dunsdale, Miss Louise Fitch, Mrs. George Gerlinger, Colonel and Mrs. W. H. C. Bowen, Colonel and Mrs. John Leader, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Dixon, Miss Gertrude Talbot, Herald White, Essie Maguire and Mollie Parker.

Every one connected with the University is expected to call some time during the afternoon.

On Friday evening Company A will entertain with a stunt show for the men of the campus only. Thus far the stunts have been kept a dark secret.

Mr. Vance expects that the Y. M. C. A. work will be continued throughout the school year and that he will remain here until June.

DEMOBILIZING IS DELAYED

Non-Arrival of Forms and Instructions Holds Up Discharges.

Demobilization of the Students' Army Training Corps, delayed through the non-arrival of forms and further instructions from the war department, will probably not start until next Monday.

The army surgeon, who was to have reported here December 2 to conduct the physical examinations of the men, has not come and no word has been received from him.

No plans for military training at the University next term have been formulated, Colonel Bowen said, but when congress has determined the policy for training in the United States, the University will decide on the nature of military training here in the future.

DEMOCRACY CALLS FOR INTELLIGENCE, DECLARES DR. BOYD

Danger in New-Found Freedom Outlined by Assembly Speaker.

NEW SYSTEM MUST TAKE INDIVIDUAL INTO ACCOUNT

Evils of Great Wealth and Great Poverty Must Be Changed.

Education as a necessary safeguard of democracy was stressed by Dr. John E. Boyd, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Portland, in an address before the University assembly, Wednesday morning.

After pointing out the great opportunity now before democracy as a result of the downfall of the last stronghold of entrenched autocracy in the world, Dr. Boyd adverted to the danger in democracy itself unless based on a high average of individual intelligence.

"With the overthrow of the power of the absolute individual as represented by Emperor Wilhelm of Germany, and all that such a power represented of menace to man, a new era begins," said Dr. Boyd.

"With the downfall of autocracy another form of government begins in the history of the old world. Democracy! But danger lurks also in democracy. An unintelligent, ignorant, ill-handled democracy will destroy, rather than help. I believe that every man and woman connected with the University should face the situation of conditions brought about in Germany by a misconception of what constitutes cultural education.

On urging a system which should take the individual into account, giving every man, woman and child the opportunity to make of himself that which God intended he should be, Dr. Boyd advocated not only a cultured education but a vocational one as well.

"A combination of the two, an education for life, an education that will take Christ into account, is the sort of education which should be the aim of all true friends of democracy," Dr. Boyd declared.

The students and faculty of the University arose as a body and took the food pledge requested by the national food administration, vowing to continue voluntary saving of foodstuffs in order that the starving millions of Europe might be fed.

The president called attention to the recurrence of influenza in Portland and other towns of the state, urging therefore that every one connected with the University continue vigilantly his precautions against the disease.

CLASS BUSY ON MEMORIAL

Designs Being Worked Out for Victory Monument.

The School of Architecture through its classes in architectural design is working out five solutions for the Lane County Victory Monument, at the request of Dr. Warren D. Smith, head of the geology department and a member of the committee.

These designs call for different treatment of the problem, but all are intended to be placed in connection with the park system to be worked out for Skinner's butte. Dean E. F. Lawrence of the school took the class down to contemplate sights for the monument, this morning.
