

BARTLETT HOPING TO BE BACK SOON

Former Oregon Student Writes
Saying Armistice Pleased
Soldiers at Front.

That the old Oregon men are looking forward to the time when they may return to the good old U. S. A. and especially to Oregon, is shown in a letter received this week by Ned Fowler from Bartlett, former Oregon football player and a member of the Beta Theta Beta fraternity.

The letter, which was under the head of "Somewhere in Belgium," was dated the day after the signing of the armistice and conveys some of the first information that has been received on the campus, as to the attitude of the men on the front to the close of the war. Bartlett is a member of the Marine corps and was one of the men who made Mare Island famous in the football world last year. "Monty" Monteith is Bartlett's bunk mate. Monteith was a member of the Oregon team of 1916, together with Bartlett and they both played on the Mare Island eleven last year.

Extracts from the letter follow:

"You can bet we are glad there is an armistice signed. I think I can safely say that every U. S. soldier in France is glad of it. We were in action three times; the last time we were following the doughboys who could not find the Germans. Cessation of hostilities ended the chase.

I hear a good old U. S. band playing an old piece they played at college. Does it sound good? Well, I guess so! This has been some experience for us boys, but I know we have all changed. You can see how some of us have aged when we come back."

SOCIETY

Every day emphasizes more and more the military aspect of the Oregon campus so soon to be entirely released from army bondage. S. A. T. C. uniforms have been arriving during the week making the appearance of men in civilian clothes a curiosity on the campus while men in khaki and blue sport about in all of fits and misfits. Dances now are strikingly attractive affairs with their first and last semblance of war time regalia. The opening of the new Y. M. C. A. hut yesterday afternoon was of a decided military nature and the dance for which the men of the Naval unit were hosts last night savored in every detail of navy life.

Much entertainment this week has centered around Miss Louise Fitch, national president of Delta Delta Delta who came to Eugene Monday to be the house guest of Miss Mary Perkins. Miss Fitch spent last winter in France doing active Y. M. C. A. work there. Thursday afternoon members of Delta Delta Delta entertained with a delightful tea honoring their national president and Wednesday evening Gamma Phi Beta asked dinner guests to meet Miss Fitch. She is spending this week-end in Corvallis as the guest of the Delta Delta Delta chapter there.

Unique in every detail was the dance for which the men of the naval reserve were hosts last night at the Osburn hotel honoring their commanding officer, Ensign William C. Heppenheimer. Decorations suggesting navy life were effectively used in the tea room where the "Chow Dance" or refreshments were served. Informality marked the entire evening. Clever programs designed by Max Wilkins were given out by a committee in charge, which was composed of George Van Waters, Harold F. Connolly, Max M. Wilkins, Leith F. Abbott, Abe Rosenberg and Donald Van Boskirk. Patrons and patronesses for the affair were President and Mrs. P. L. Campbell, Colonel and Mrs. W. H. C. Bowen and Dean and Mrs. John Straub. The guest list follows:

Attending the affair were Elizabeth Hadley, Margaret Kubli, Louise Shehan, Margaret Phelps, Kathleen Forrester, Barbara Shepard, Kathleen Kem, Adah McMurphy, Patricia Ball, Eve Hutchison, Agnes Driscoll, Marjorie Delzell, Lucile McCorkle, Betty Epping, Anne Shea, Ila Nichols, Vivian Hopson, Letha Driscoll, Bernice Craig, Mary Ann Dunham, Nell Warwick, Lois Macy, Pearl Craine, Audrey Roberts, Frances Tait, Ruth Nash, Dorothy Lowry, Norma Medley, Clara Calkins, Myrtle Ross, Alice Evans, Emma Garbade, Iris Blewett, Vernice Robbins, Reba Macklin, Elvira Thurlow, Lois Barnett, Helen de-Buy, Ensign William Heppenheimer, Donald VonBoskirk, Walter Bauman, Harold Connelly, Arthur Ritter, J. W. Mott, Max Wilkins, A. P. McDonald, Julian Leslie, Abe Rosenberg, M. R. Hempey, Don Oxman, George Van Waters, Silas Starr, John Tuerke, A. B. Harding, Paul Hamilton, Martin Siebel, Manford Englehart, Lieth Abbott, W. E. Burren, W. R. Burren, C. C. Newton, P. O'Rourke, John Brock, Lyle Bain, Kenneth Moore, C. Mortimer Brown, Walter Schade, Barney Kropp, George Mayo, Olive Humphrey, K. A. McGilvary, John Houston, Fred Lorenze, Luckey Bonney, Sanford Gehr, Chester Adams, Bernard Montgomery, Adrian Yancey, Rollin Woodruff, Boyd Hayes, W. J. Hempey, Helen Anderson.

Members of Chi Omega are entertaining this evening with an informal dance in their chapter house, which has been attractively decorated with Christmas ornaments. Patrons and patronesses will be Mr. and Mrs. Snodgrass, Mrs. L. Moore, Miss Julia Burgess, Dean Louise Ehrmann, and Miss Julia Powell. The guest list includes: Lucile McClung and Lenore Blaesing, of Portland, Ned Fowler, Nish Chapman, Jack Dundore, Roscoe Hemenway, Morris Mann, Bill Bolger, Arthur Ritter, Sam Lehman, Charles Bluet, Mr. Haynes, Phil Owens, Jeff Harbke, Harold Connelly, Roy Moores, Lyle Bain, George Black, Roger Plumber, Eddie Durno, Francis Jacobberger, Herman Lind, Vincent Jacobberger, and Lieutenant Walter Krupke.

The opening of the new Y. M. C. A. hut on the campus yesterday was attended ed by nearly everyone on the campus and many townspeople, at the house-warming and reception from 3 to 5.

The hut was very attractive in its decorations of gay autumn leaves, plants and hanging baskets. The new clean, unstained walls were good backgrounds for bright cretonne draperies and davenport and deep chairs were grouped at one end of the large room around the big fireplace where a bright fire burned. At the other end of the room is a stage for the stunts which will be put on at the hut.

The receiving line represented the faculty, students and board of regents, as well as the local Y. M. C. A. representatives. In line were President and Mrs. Campbell, Dean and Mrs. John Straub, Dean Louise Ehrmann, Miss Gertrude Talbot, Mrs. Edna Datson, Mrs. W. H. C. Bowen, Mrs. A. C. Dixon, Miss Tirza Dinsdale, Mr. and Mrs. William F. Vance, Essie Maguire, Herald White and Mellie Parker. The Y. W. C. A. cabinet acted as hostesses. Punch and wafers were served by a group of girls from a decorated corner of the hall. A musical program was given by Miss Eleanor Lee, and Kate Chatburn.

The hut is a one-story building with a large main room which may be used for an auditorium and smaller rooms which will house the association office and reading rooms. The Y. M. C. A. owns a piano and has been given a large army enclosed Edison phonograph by David L. Stearns, of Portland.

Members of Gamma Phi Beta are entertaining this evening in their chapter house with an informal dancing party. The Christmas idea will be carried out in the decorations. Included in the guest list are: Nora Manerud, Jennie Parelus, Helma Imholtz, Alvin Holmaes and Jean Amesbury, Bernard Montgomery, Luckey Bonney, Chaffee Newton, Skeet Manerud, Henry Foster, Ensign W. C. Heppenheimer, Lieutenant C. G. Willis, Herald White, Eugene Boylen, Bill Cummings, Mearle Blake, Paul Downard, Lyle McCroskey, Richard Martin, Al Jensen, Herbert Darbey, Bill Holmes, George Donst, Elston Ireland, Ray Lawrence, Nelson Dezendorf, Walcott Burren, Jack Holden and Wayne Acres.

Kappa Kappa Gamma is holding initiation this afternoon for Brownell and Janet Fraser and Lela Marsh.

Dean Louise Ehrmann entertained a small group of University folk with an informal dance at the Country Club Friday night. Red geraniums arranged in window boxes bordered the hall and were artistically grouped in one corner where punch was served. Guests of the evening were: Beatrice Weatherby, Gladys Hollingsworth, Neil Reidt, Ella Dews, Dorothy Egel, Theodora Stoppenbach, Philena King, Gladys Bowen, Pauline Porteous, Frances Frater, Helen Peterson, Herald White, Jack Dundore, Lieutenant F. Spratlen, Lieutenant R. H. Portridge, Don Portwood, Clyde Mason, Tracy Byers, Irwin Smith, Dwight Willson, Charles Comfort and Wayne Laird.

A clever Christmas dance is being given this evening at the Eugene Country Club, for the members of Delta Gamma by Mrs. C. C. Page and Miss Amy Dunn. A Santa Claus laden with unique toys is to be a feature of the evening and tinsel and fur boughs will form the decorations. Guests are: Mrs. M. S. Chatfield, Walter Shade, Mr. Hamilton, Fred Test, Bryan Neet, Sgt. Major Anderson, Clyde Humphrey, Arlan Yancey, Roscoe Roberts, Wilbur Hulin, Arthur Cockrum, Don Portwood, Ray Hempey, Walter Hempey, Ralph Walters, Bill Groat, William Bowman, Sanford Gehr, Ray Myers, Prince Callison, William Walker, Leo O'Rourke, Warren Kays, Ed Lindsey, Douglas Mullarky, Louis Bailey, Harris Ellsworth, Donald Dalglish and Bill Purdy.

Louena Waters and Jen Laughlin, of Portland, are week-end guests of Alpha Phi.

Caroline Cannon is spending the week-end in Albany.

Lois Pixley was a dinner guest of Pi Phi Friday night.

Brilliant orange shaded, greens and yellow streamers form the background for a delightful dancing party this evening for which the members of Alpha Phi are hostesses in their chapter house. Simple refreshments will be served later in the evening. The patrons and patronesses are: Dean and Mrs. John Straub, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. G. Thacher, Miss Mary Perkins, Mrs. Barker and Dean Louise Ehrmann. The guest list includes: Lieutenant and Mrs. Edmund Register, Lieutenants C. G. Willis, A. B. Barney, R. S. Zimmerman, E. Radcliff, Frank Spratlin Jr., R. H. Partridge, Ensign W. C. Heppenheimer, Hugh Thompson, Chuck Comfort, Don Von Boskirk, Chuck Huggins, Sidney Tewksbury, Virgil Cameron, Dan Patterson, Dow Willson, Jim Smith, Nick Carter, Jim O'Donnell, Jerry Backstrand, George Van Waters, Kelly Branstetter, Jack Dundore, Forest Littlefield, Allard Heitkemper.

MISS LEE TO GIVE RECITAL
Miss Eleanor Lee, instructor in voice of the school of music faculty, will give her first public recital in Eugene Tuesday evening, December 10, at the First Methodist church. The public is invited.

TO GIVE CHILDREN CHEER

Triple A Girls Making Christmas Gifts for Eugene's Needy.

Triple A, an organization of freshmen women on the campus, is busily at work preparing a number of Christmas packages to be distributed as Christmas gifts by Mrs. Ady, Eugene's police matron, among the city's needy children. The packages are for the most part to consist of scrap books, pink tartalet Christmas stockings full of candy and other Christmas goodies and warm flannellette petticoats.

Three committees have been appointed by Helen Clarke, president of the organization, to superintend the work. These committees will confer with Miss Clarke at a special meeting to be held Saturday at 1 o'clock at Hendrick's hall. A tax of ten cents per member was decided on by the girls at the second meeting of Triple A held last Tuesday at 5 o'clock at the Kappa Alpha Theta house. This tax was made to cover all expenses made in preparing the Christmas packages.

"This is the first concrete evidence," said Dean Louise Ehrmann, "of the Christmas spirit on the campus, but who can doubt that Oregon will more than ever feel the meaning of this deep Christmas-tide and realize that it is more blessed to give than to receive."

The committees appointed by Miss Clarke are as follows:

Scrap book committee: Emma Garbade, chairman; Phebe Gage, Mary McArthur, Patty French, and Margaret Russell.

Stocking Committee: Helen Carson, chairman; Wanda Daggett, Glen Frank, Eleanor Colman, Vivian Hobson, and Ruby Carlson.

Sewing Committee: Betty Epping, chairman; Elizabeth McHaly; Esther Dennis; Siana Wouri; Ann Shea; Gladys Farrell and Laura Rand.
