

SOPHOMORES PLAN HOP FOR JANUARY

Date not Fixed; Committee Appointed to Complete Arrangements.

The sophomore hop will be given on January 17 or 18, it was decided at a meeting of the sophomore class yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock in Villard Hall.

On which of the two dates the dance will be given depends entirely upon which night the Eugene army can be obtained. By a large majority the votes were cast for an informal affair. This dance has always in past years started off the school year, but owing to the unsettled conditions this year it was decided that it was best to call it off, but things returning to their normal basis, the dance will start the ball rolling next term.

The following committees were appointed, with Nish Chapman as a general chairman, to whom the chairmen of the special committees will report:

Patrons and Patronesses—Nell Warwick, chairman, Madeline Slotboom and Harris Ellsworth.

Music—Carl Weigel, chairman, Helen Manning and Wayne Laird.

Hall and Decorations—Richard Martin, chairman, Rollin Woodruff, Sam Lehman, Dwight Phillips, Ada McMurphy, Lucile Caswell and Marian Gilstrap.

Programs—Gladys Hollingsworth, chairman, Donald Feenaughty and Dow Wilson.

Furniture and Punch—Julian Leslie, chairman, Willard Hollenbeck, Francis Jacobberger, Theodora Stoppenbach, Evelyn Grebe and Margaret Jones.

Features—Leith Abbott, chairman, B. Wetherbee and Mary Packwood.

Heartly support of the Oregon drive was urged by Herald White, president of the student body, in a brief talk made at the beginning of the meeting. "I want to see the sophomores come through with a hundred per cent efficiency," he said.

Eddie Durno, president of the class, also presented to the class the necessity of concerted action in the Oregon drive. The following committee was appointed to canvass the sophomores' subscriptions during the drive beginning Wednesday: As president of the class, Eddie Durno will act as chairman of this committee. The others are: Howard Kelly, Harris Ellsworth, Lyle Bryson, Kathleen Forrester, Johnny Cable, Odine Mickleson, Dorothy Wootton and Kate Chatburn.

JUNIOR OFFICERS SCARCE

Era Godfrey Presides in Absence of Two Executives.

At the junior class meeting yesterday afternoon in Villard hall the one remaining officer of the group elected last spring, Era Godfrey, secretary, presided. Both the president, Harry Jamieson, and the vice-president, Gladys Smith, may return to school next term and no more officers will be elected until that time. Miss Godfrey will be in charge until then.

Jack Dundore explained the Oregon situation to the members of the class and urged signing up for subscriptions. It will probably not be a strictly junior class publication this year as before, but the juniors will be mainly responsible for its success.

A class committee of Margaret Mansfield, Marjorie Kay, Herman Lind and Elmo Madden were appointed to solicit subscriptions from the members of their class and to meet with the other class committees for directing the campaign.

TERM MAY OPEN JAN. 10

Faculty Voting on Vacation and Other Details Today.

Four recommendations by the schedule and registration committees of the University faculty are being voted upon today by ballots sent into the president's office. Following are the suggestions on which the vote is being taken:

(1) That Tuesday, December 17, the day before examinations, be used for the registration for next term of the students now on the campus;

(2) That Saturday, January 4, be used for registration of students not registered hitherto, and of new students.

(3) That freshman English examinations be held Friday as previously announced.

(4) That classes be resumed Monday, January 6.

Present rules of the faculty require registration of old students before the end of the current term, which cannot be done without the setting apart of Tuesday as above suggested.

CAMPUS ACTIVITIES

With examinations only a week off and Christmas vacation closely following, campus life has taken on a seriousness characteristic alone, of examination week itself. Everything is done with added enthusiasm and efficiency, not only class work but the few informal entertainments which the faculty has permitted the students to crowd into the free hours this week. S. A. T. C. men are planning company dances for next week-end. Company A entertaining Saturday night in the men's gymnasium and Company B Friday night in the same place. Tonight many University folk are attending the concert at the First Methodist church where the University school of music is presenting Miss Eleanor Lee, contralto. Christmas tree parties for the little poor children of Eugene will be given during the week by different campus groups who claim that much of their time is taken visiting the toy departments and the various Santa Claus about town.

Members of Kwama, sophomore honorary society were hostesses Saturday afternoon for a delightful and informal tea in the Bungalow rooms in honor of the freshman women. The rooms were artistically decorated with autumn leaves and the afternoon was spent in Indian fashion around the fireplace. The affair was in the nature of a get-acquainted party. A brief musical program was given by members of the entertainment committee of which Theodora Stoppenbach was chairman and tea was served later in the afternoon by the hostess, Dean Louise Ehrmann was an additional guest.

Mrs. Anna L. Beck, of the School of Music, Lieutenant Willis and Lieutenant Radcliff were dinner guests Sunday at the Pi Phi house.

Miss Kathleen Kem, of Cottage Grove, was a week-end guest of Pi Phi, and will remain until the middle of the week.

Sunday evening supper guests at the Pi Phi house were Miss Patty French and Miss Helen Whitaker.

Miss Maurant, a member of the University of Washington chapter of Delta Delta Delta, arrived in Eugene last night for an extended visit at the Tri Delta house.

Miss Nell Warwick, a member of Pi Phi, will leave for her home in Marshfield in a few days, returning to the University next term.

Colonel and Mrs. W. H. C. Bowen, Gladys Bowen and Mrs. Bancroft, former housemother at Mary Spiller hall, were Sunday dinner guests of Hendricks hall.

Lela Cushman, '18, from Brownsville, and Allyn Johnson from Portland are visiting at the Delta Gamma house this week.

Caroline Wright of O. A. C., was the RETURNS AFTER 33 YEARS.

After 33 years, Miss Anna A. Coffin, a Seattle school teacher, is beginning her work at the University again through the University extension division, with the intention of obtaining her degree. She entered the University in 1885, but after two years at the University, found it necessary for her to discontinue her college work.

According to her letter to the extension division after leaving the University in 1885 she took a position as teacher in a country school at Dutch Flats, near Hood River. Four years later she went to Franklin, Wash., a mining town, where she taught till 1891.

Miss Coffin is enrolled in short story political history in the extension division.

Miss Coffin says in her letter that she wanted to have her degree from Oregon because it was there where she began her college work.

week-end guest of Lee Fortmiller at Hendricks hall.

Lena Peymbrock of Salem visited with Moreita Howard at Hendricks hall Saturday.

Kappa Kappa Gamma freshman girls and Mrs. A. N. Wright, housemother, were dinner guests of M. S. J. S. Stanton, at her home at 1429 Columbia street, Saturday evening.

Frances and Beulah Cardwell entertained a small group of University girls this afternoon with an informal afternoon at their apartment rooms on Mill street. The guests were Dorothy Dunway, Dorothy Cox, Virginia Smith, Dorothy Sanford, Helen Manning and Louise Clausen.

NEW ARCHITECTURE AND ART WORK GIVEN

Structural Option and Design, Science Drawing and Normal Course Offered

Among the new courses being offered by the school of architecture, next term, is structural option and design, announced Dean T. F. Lawrence, of the school of architecture yesterday. In addition to these the school of architecture is preparing with the school of commerce a course in management and salesmanship, intended for men going to the manufacturing or selling of building material.

"Structural option is intended for students entering structural engineering and those entering the contracting field, while structural design will tend to attract those students interested in the engineering phrase of architecture," said Dean Lawrence.

A class in drawing for science students will begin next term under Clayton Baldwin, assistant instructor in design of the school of architecture. "The course will especially benefit pre-medics and students of geology, botany," said Mr. Baldwin. This is a one-hour course, teaching the use of drawing instruments and lettering; also freehand drawing in pencil and pen and ink of scientific objects.

"A course of special interest to girls is one offered by a new member of the faculty, Miss Helen Rhodes, which trains girls for art teachers," said Dean Lawrence.

Other courses to be started next term are surveying, elementary mechanics, graphic statics and architectural design elements. More advanced subjects will be arranged for any students who have the proper preparation. Courses in home decoration, costume, free-hand drawing, water colors, design and history of architecture will be given as usual.

EMERALD ASKS FOR NEW ADDRESSES

Change of address cards for the Emerald will be located in a box just to the right of the library door on Wednesday. Owing to the fact that many S. A. T. C. men are leaving the school it is anticipated that there will be a large number of changes just at this time, and there will be plenty of cards for everyone. They may be filled out and dropped back in the box. The cards will be there for some time and any changes of address should be left there and not at the Emerald office hereafter. Be sure to make the address plain, urges Lyle Bryson, circulation manager.
