

STAFF OF OREGANA CHOSEN, TO START WORKING AT ONCE

Elmo Madden Associate Editor; Curtiss Peterson Business Manager.

CAMPUS SKETCHES TO BE MADE A HISTORY OUTLINE

Other Features Are Deep Secrets, Meeting to be Held Immediately.

Elmo Madden has been chosen as associate editor of this year's Oregonia by the newly elected editor, Adelaide Lake.

One of the new features of this year's book will be a series of sketches of events and happenings at the University, bordering on a sort of history.

Staff Includes Many. The administration department will be under the direction of Lay Carlisle.

The other members of the staff as announced by the editor are Helen Manning and Harry Jamieson, fraternities; Dorothy Dunaway and Frances Cardwell, classes; Lindsay McArthur and Ned Fowler, Oregon Spirit; Shad Martin, military; Leith Abbott, features; Tracy Byers, dramatics; Lyle Bryson and Verna Rupert, activities; Abe Rosenberg, forensic; Marian Gilstrap, music.

The department of arts and a few more are still to be supplied and several assistants will be appointed to help department editors.

Meeting to be Held Soon. Owing to the lateness, the entire staff is working under difficulties, says Miss Lake, but plans are under way and will be in shape as soon as possible.

Curtiss Peterson, who has recently returned to the campus, after being discharged from the personnel of the S. A. T. C. at the University of Washington, is manager of the Oregonia. Jack Dundore will work with him as circulation manager.

OREGON MAN WINS HONOR

Benjamin Dorris Receives Belgian Croix de Guerre.

Lieutenant Benjamin F. Dorris, of Eugene, one of 150 men to receive the Belgian croix de guerre on December 17, is a graduate of the University in the class of '15. He is the only University of Oregon man to be mentioned in this list.

Lieutenant Dorris, who was in Company F, 362nd infantry, led Company H into action on November 2, when the captain was wounded. He has been recommended for promotion. He received his commission as first lieutenant just before sailing last July.

Dorris was president of his class in his senior year, was business manager of the Oregonia, the junior annual, and was a member of Phi Gamma Delta fraternity, Friars and Torch and Shield.

Oregon Cold Snap Balmy for Student from Icy Montana

Oregon has at least one student who felt warm during the recent unusual frigid spell in the Willamette valley. Rox Reynolds arrived in the midst of the cold blast.

Thursday night he was walking down Thirteenth street with a faculty man who had his overcoat rolled up around his ears.

"Pretty warm over here, isn't it?" Reynolds inquired.

"Yes, rather warm in the summer. Last year it went up to ninety-eight, I remember." This reminiscence through teeth that threatened to chatter.

"Oh, I didn't mean in the summer, I mean now," was the reply.

It might be explained here that Reynolds, who is a journalism student, hails from Missoula, Mont., and that it was 15 degrees below zero when he left there a few days ago.

At that time Oregon students were complaining of cold feet with the thermometer away up around twenty-five above the zero mark.

WOMEN ATHLETES TO HOLD ELECTION

Swimming Rally Will Also Be Held at Meeting On Tuesday.

Election of advisory board members of the Women's Athletic association will be held at a meeting of the association next Tuesday evening at five o'clock in Guild hall. Those nominated are: Senior member, Virginia Hale; junior member, Elizabeth Peterson; sophomore member, Loeta Rogers; and freshman member, Helen Clarke. Ella Dews, temporary swimming head is nominated to fill that office regularly and Evelyn Smith and Mary Mathis is nominated for treasurer.

This meeting will be a basketball and swimming rally and announcements for these two sports for the year will be made. Regular interclass basketball games will be begun Thursday afternoon January 16, according to Miss Gladys Gorman, coach.

At a meeting of the executive board of the Athletic association Thursday afternoon, it was decided to recommend to the association that the ruling requiring fifteen points in athletics before an applicant could become a member of the association be suspended for this term. The ruling requiring an average of "M" will be retained, however.

Miss Catharine Winslow, instructor of swimming, announced that regular class and interclass meets will probably begin the first of March. At present only the regular half-hour classes for any woman registered in the University are being held. The swimming pool is open from 1:40 to 5 p. m. every afternoon.

ORE. MAN ON SUB-CHASER

Carl Knudson, in Command of Vessel, Writes President Campbell.

The following is an extract from a letter received by President P. L. Campbell from Carl Knudson, who attended the University in 1916 and 1917. Mr. Knudson is a member of Phi Gamma Delta. The letter is written from Submarine Chaser 185 Naval Proving Grounds, Neill, Virginia.

"I have been through an officers' material school at Norfolk and have been commissioned an ensign. Since then I have been on patrol duty on the Atlantic coast. With the close of the war we were sent to this place and are doing survey for testing naval guns.

"Being in command of this chaser makes it impossible for me to get a discharge at present, but I hope to get one in time to permit me to return to college next fall. I am anxious to be with you again.

"I am wishing Oregon the greatest prosperity and success the coming year."

G. M. RUCH AT STANFORD.

Giles M. Ruch, formerly science instructor in the University high school, who enlisted in the service as a psychologist at Camp Kearny, is now taking graduate work in education at Stanford University, Palo Alto, California.

OREGON JOURNAL MEN TO ADDRESS NEXT ASSEMBLY

Fred Lockley Back From Front Will Speak On "Over There" and "Over Here."

Fred Lockley, who returned to Portland and his position on the editorial staff of the Oregon Journal November 8, 1918, from service as Y. M. C. A. secretary in France, will address the student body at assembly next Wednesday. Mr. Lockley will speak on "Over There and Over Here."

While in Europe he sent sketches of his travels and work in France which were printed daily in the Oregon Journal under the head "The Journal Man Abroad," familiar to all readers of that paper.

On November 18 the Journal issued a special edition of the paper known as "The Fred Lockley Edition." In this number, copies of which were circulated at a banquet given in his honor on his return, one of the features was an article assembling every comment Lockley had made on the French women in his "Journal Man Abroad" columns.

Mr. Lockley, according to Eric W. Allen, dean of the School of Journalism, is a fine man and very interesting. His address, said Dean Allen, will undoubtedly be good.

Among his fellow workers he is known affectionately as "Fred."

In the near future, Mrs. Alexander Thompson, representative in the state legislature from Hood River and Wasco county, will speak at assembly. Mrs. Thompson is the only woman representative in the legislature. It is not known yet what the subject of her address will be.

FIFTY OUT FOR GLEE CLUB

Final Decision of Men Songsters Not Yet Made After Third Try-out.

In the two tryouts for the Men's Glee club nearly fifty men tried but as yet no final decision has been made. A third tryout was held Friday evening, and those still in the running were: Beharow Doust, Johnson, Farris, Osborne, Feenaughty, Gilbert, Armentrout, Still, Huggins, Stearns, Lyans, Matthien, Howard and Brown.

Mr. Evans, director of the glee club, says that with such good material to pick from there should be an exceptionally bright future in store for the club. This he attributes to the increased registration and also the return of some of the old members who have been released from military duties. They are: Peterson, White, Smith, Leslie, Spangler, Grey, and Morrison.

Mr. Evans believes the club should be qualified to take a trip in the spring. Just when or where will be decided later on.

OLD TRACK MAN TO RETURN

Don Belding, ex-'18, to Be Back in College by January 21.

Don Belding, ex-'18, who has been with a telegraphy squadron in France for several months, telegraphed A. R. Tiffany, University registrar, from Camp Merritt, that he expected to be mustered out at Camp Dodge, Iowa, within the next week or two and that he would be back in Eugene by January 21 to resume his last year of college work.

Belding made a name for himself in the University as a track man, and according to the 1917 Oregonian was Bill Hayward's best shot in the mile run. He led the Oregon cross-country team in its race with the Aggies in the fall of 1916.

TWO NEW CLASSES TO BEGIN

Two new extension classes, under the auspices of the University extension division, will begin the second week in February at Roseburg and Springfield. C. A. Gregory, professor of education, will have charge of the course in "Educational Measurements" at Roseburg, and Dr. B. W. DeBusk, professor of secondary education, will conduct a class of "Child Study and Welfare Problems" at Springfield. Both courses will continue to be two-month courses, meeting once a week. University credit will be given.

DOUGHNUT LEAGUE FOR DEBATE MAY SOON BE FORMED

Women's Fraternities as Well as Men's to Take Up Forensics.

A program to make debate an all-around student activity was evolved at the meeting of a joint representation from the student and forensic councils yesterday at 6 o'clock in Johnson hall, and this will be put before the executive committee of the student body for final decision when it meets at 1 o'clock Monday afternoon.

The joint committee favored the organization of an inter-sorority and inter-fraternity doughnut debate league and appointed Helen Brenton and Herman Lind to head the women and men's organizations. These heads will, if the executive committee adopts the program, select a representative from each house, who will in turn be responsible for getting out a negative and an affirmative team from their group.

Girls Debate League New

Inter-sorority debate is a new movement which has never been taken up on the campus. The joint committee thought to encourage it and offer an incentive for its development by adopting a debate shield similar to that of the men. The committee points out that such a shield would only cost the student body about $20 and would be only a fairness to the victorious women who had gone out for debate.

As a final point of interest the joint committee suggests that the winning women's team compete with the winning men's team during an assembly hour. This could be done very readily as short speeches of about six minutes duration are favored by the committee in preference to longer ones which might be too drawn out for interest. The case of the Washington-Oregon debate is cited, in which each speaker had 20 minutes.

Schedule Committee Named

Herald White, who acted as chairman of the meeting, appointed Robert W. Prescott, professor of public speaking, and Abe Rosenberg, to work out a schedule and a subject for the doughnut debate league, to be presented with the general debate program on Monday to the executive committee. Several methods of scheduling as well as a variety of questions are now in consideration.

The joint committee also decided that interstate debates would have to be eliminated for the present on account of their expense and the inability of the student body to finance supporting activities. This does away with the possibilities of a triangular debate with the Universities of Washington and British Columbia.

O. A. C. Debate Favored

A debate with O. A. C. was heartily favored by the committee and the matter will be put up to the executive board. It is expected that the latter will sanction a debate with Oregon's old rivals regardless of the small deficit incurred by the trip.

The joint committee was composed of Herald White, chairman, Ella Dews, secretary, Robert W. Prescott, ex-officio member, and Ruth Graham, Marie Badura and Abe Rosenberg.

LIBRARY TO OPEN SUNDAYS

Will Continue War Measure as Peace Expediency Says Douglass.

The University library, according to M. H. Douglass, librarian, will remain open Saturday night from 6 to 10 and Sunday afternoons from 2 to 6, during the year. "We adopted this schedule last term," said Mr. Douglass, "as a war measure, and will now maintain it as a peace expediency."

Last year the library closed Saturday nights and Sundays and according to Mr. Douglass many students expressed their desire to use the library during this time. We will keep on with this new schedule, Mr. Douglass said today, "for at least another term. It is entirely up to the students."

ANNOUNCEMENT

Men who have not arranged their two hours physical education for this term may do so Monday at the gymnasium between the hours of 10 a. m. and 4 p. m.

The dread thing has happened. The military is back into its own again. No more are the under-classmen free citizens. Once again they are to be soldiers. Horrors!

Vague rumors that they were going to be made to drill again frightened the underclassmen during vacation, but they put it down as another war scare, and promptly forgot about it. Then one of the Portland papers printed an article saying that drill was to be one of the required subjects at the University by reason of the newly formed unit of the R. O. T. C. This made it more serious, but still they did not give up hope.

And then came the final blow. The Emerald came out with a story confirming the outrage. Yesterday posters prominently displayed on the campus instructed all under-classmen to report at the drill shed. With many groans and ill-fordings, they assembled, promptly at 3:30 to be greeted affectionately by Colonel Bowen and Lieutenant Garrett. Little time was lost in forming the men into two companies, and for the twentieth time, they learned how to fall in, to right face, about face, left face, right dress, etc.

It must not be thought, however, that the advantages of the R. O. T. C. are lost sight of by the men.

They are fully appreciated, but at the same time, three hours of drill a week, looms up as a frightful spectre before most of the sophomores and freshmen.

WRESTLING OUTLOOK POOR FOR THIS YEAR

Taylor, Grey, Simola, Rutherford Not to Participate.

The wrestling outlook is very poor this year and there is a possibility that this sport be dropped from the calendar, according to Dean Walker. There are three men back who were on last year's team—George Taylor, Harold Grey and Rudy Rutherford.

Taylor was thrown from a horse while in the government service and his injuries will prevent him from entering. Rutherford has completed his college work and though this will eliminate him from actual participation he can assist "Shy" in conditioning the men.

Harold Grey, who is a senior, feels that he lost considerably in a scholastic way by being sent to Camp Taylor and wishes to spend as much time as possible on his studies. Arvo Simola is in France, and Dwight Wilson will not return to college this year.

Rollin Woodruff, who showed up well during his freshman year is the only man of any experience left in college. Lack of interest, and the intensity of the training are among the reasons why wrestling may be dropped. If, however, the sport is resumed, "Shy" Huntington will coach and matches will probably be scheduled with O. A. C. and the University of Washington.

NONE SEEK TO BE CADET

Annapolis Examinations to be Held Soon Incite Some Interest However.

Many inquiries but no direct applications have been received at the president's office for the Annapolis examinations to be conducted at the University January 17. Any young man between the ages of 16 and 20 years on April 1, 1919, who lives in the first congressional district of Oregon may enter this competitive examination for appointment to the U. S. naval academy. The appointment will be made by Congressman W. C. Hawley.

A principal and two alternates are to be recommended. The examinations, both mental and physical, are rigid, says Professor E. E. DeCou, who will be chairman of the examining board.

Applicants must pass examinations in punctuation, spelling, English grammar, geography, United States history, arithmetic algebra through quadratic equations, and plane geometry.

Appointments will probably be made in April. Sample examination questions and further details of information may be obtained from the president's office.

'STOP THIEF!' CHOSEN FOR ALL STUDENT PRODUCTION FEB. 8

Lively Comedy Full of Laughs to Call Forth Dramatic Talent On the Campus.

GIRL USHERS IN COSTUME ARE ADDITIONAL FEATURES

Tag Day for Financial Aid May Take Place With Ella Dews In Charge.

"Stop Thief" is the rollicking farce that has been chosen for the all student body play. So on Saturday night, February 8, all roads will lead to the Eugene theater, where for one night will be played the production upon which all hopes are banked to raise the student body from its debt of $2,000.

The co-operation of the entire campus with that of the dramatic department will be necessary. Already the music department has pledged itself and the orchestra pit will be occupied by Professor Barron and his 15 players. The School of Architecture has come forward and promises to help with scenic effects. The University press is ready to offer its services for posters.

Miss Banfield to Pick Cast

Charlotte Banfield, coach of the play, will choose the cast as soon as the books arrive from San Francisco. Her advanced class in dramatic interpretation will form the nucleus from which to draw the players, but it is probable that outside sources of dramatic ability will also be called upon.

An added feature of the evening will be the group of feminine ushers in costume. These girls will come one from each house on the campus and will be elected by the members of the individual house or hall. Just what these girls will represent is not divulged.

It is also rumored that an exclusive line party is to be given, the chaperones of the campus being those honored.

May Have Tag Day

Ella Dews, chairman of the entire event, and assisted by Essie Maguire and Ned Fowler, will probably instigate another tag day. The selling of tickets will thus take place largely on the campus by means of booths. These tags indicating seats bought will mean the usual flutter to which everyone has become so accustomed.

A royalty which is yet uncertain will probably have to be paid along with the rent of the play house. Costuming will probably not be an item, as modern clothes are called for. Prices are to be kept as low as possible, only high enough to insure the payment of the debt.

STUDENT OF '93 TO RETURN

Mrs. Lewis Who Entered the University Wants to Complete Course.

Twenty-five years ago, Mrs. Susan B. Lewis, of Dexter, who was then Susie Gibbs, registered at the University in the preparatory department. Mrs. Lewis is planning to return to the University this spring to complete the course which she could not finish so long ago.

She has written to the Extension Division asking information concerning correspondence work and also for a statement of her standing in the University today.

It was 1893 when she first entered. She completed two years of preparatory work and then attended the college a year and a half taking a scientific course. It is 1919 before she could continue her studies but now she wants to complete her course at Oregon.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Colonel John Leader will meet members of his class in military history and science Monday afternoon at two o'clock, in his office in the mens gymnasium. All men who are interested, whether they registered in the work or not, are asked to be present at that time, when definite arrangements for the course will be made.
