

POLICY OF ECONOMY WILL BE CONTINUED

Payment of Outstanding Bills Compels Retrenchment by Student Body.

The policy of economy in student body finances must continue this term, decided the executive committee at its meeting yesterday afternoon.

"We must retrench now," said Dean Walker. "The students thought that it would not be necessary this term, since the war is over, but the payment of all outstanding bills encroached on the spring budget and we must continue to economize."

"Every activity must be cut down somewhat, but none will be curtailed," he explained. The organizations have been following the policy of fewer trips, which must be continued.

According to the present state of student body finances, it will be impossible also to grant trophies, such as sweaters, letters and pins, to participants in the various student body activities.

"The sacrifice of these trophies is for the general good," said Dean Walker. "It is not the idea of the executive committee to rob the students of these things and we do not want anyone to feel that." The boys will get their letters next year when the student finances will undoubtedly permit it.

ARTHUR FAGUY-COTE PRESENTS STUDENTS

Martha Tinker, Melba Williams, Ada McMurphy Score in Song Recital.

That Oregon numbers among its students three talented women was demonstrated last evening when Martha Tinker, mezzo-soprano, Melba Williams, dramatic soprano and Adah McMurphy, lyric soprano, pupils of Arthur FAGUY-COTE, head of the vocal department in the University School of Music, appeared in recital in the Auditorium of the Y. M. C. A. hut.

Miss Tinker's first number was an aria in French, "Adieu Forests" from Tchaikowsky. This was perhaps her strongest selection. The wide range and difficult passages were executed remarkably well. She also sang "The Maids of Cadiz," by Delibes; "The Nile" and "Spring Reverie," both by Xavier Leroux. All three songs were well received by the audience.

Of Miss Williams' songs perhaps the peculiar swing of the soft, slow "Hindu Slumber Song" by Harriet Ware was best suited to her voice. The arai "Love and Music" from "Tosca" by Puccini gave her an opportunity to use her wide range of tones. Her other numbers were "Come Out, Mr. Sunshine" by Paul Bliss and "Your Kiss" by Fay Foster, both of them pleasing.

Miss McMurphy's little French song, "L'Ete" by Chaminade was her best selection and though the range was wide, Miss McMurphy sang with excellent tone. The aria "One Fine Day," from "Madam Butterfly" by Puccini was also well executed. Her other songs were "Like a Rosebud" by Frank LaForge and "Before My Window" by Rachmaninoff.

The recital is the first of several to be given by students of Mr. Cote during the year. When the next concert will be given has not been announced.

H. H. POWERS TO RETURN

Historian and Art Critic will Teach in Next Summer School.

Professor H. H. Powers, of Newton, Massachusetts historian, lecturer and art critic, will teach during the next University summer school according to a letter just received from him by Dr. H. D. Sheldon, dean of the school of education. Professor Powers lectured at the last summer session, dividing the time, giving the first three weeks to the University here and the last to the summer school session at Portland.

Professor Powers has just finished writing a book on the "Relation Between America and England" which is being published by MacMillan company. Although he is better known as a lecturer, he has written articles and books on art criticism, some of which are "Mornings

With Masters in Art" and "The Message of Greek Art."

Professor Powers was for several years of the faculty of Stanford University and later at Cornell University. He resigned his position at Cornell in 1902 and has devoted much of his time since then to the Bureau of University Travel, of which he is president.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL SCHEDULE CHANGED

Winners of Interclass Games to Meet Feb. 3; Freshman Team Picked.

The women's basketball schedule has been shifted, due to the meeting of the Woman's League next Tuesday evening.

The schedule, as modified, will be: Thursday, January 16, seniors versus juniors; sophomores versus freshmen. Thursday, January 23, seniors versus sophomores; juniors versus freshmen. Tuesday, January 28, seniors versus freshmen and juniors versus sophomores.

On Thursday, January 30, the two winners and the two losers of the interclass games will play. On the Tuesday following, February 3, the final game will be played.

Miss Gladys Gorman, coach, said that she hoped to have a game with the faculty five and a team of girls from Hendricks Hall.

The members of the freshman basketball team were chosen by Miss Gorman Wednesday evening after their practice. The personnel follows: jumping center, Echo Baldersee; side-center, Maurine Elrod; forwards, Grace Taggart, Dorothy Reed; guards, Mildred VanNuys, Ruth Flegal.

'FOD' MAISON WEDS WILL NOT PLAY BALL

Former University Baseball Man Arrives in Eugene With Newly Wedded Wife.

Lieutenant Harold "Fod" Maison, recently discharged from the aerial service, will not return to the University to play baseball this spring, it was learned when he and his bride, formerly Miss Zoe Cornett, a freshman at the University last year, arrived in Eugene Thursday. They were married in Portland Wednesday and will likely leave for California soon, where Lieutenant Maison has been offered a position.

Lieutenant Maison, a junior at the University last year and third baseman on the Oregon baseball nine, left school last spring to join the service, and has been flying for many months. He was discharged from an aviation camp near Detroit, Mich.

It was thought at the University that Maison, who performs well on the diamond, would be a member of this spring's nine, and his marriage came as a complete surprise to his friends.

DR. W. D. SMITH HONORED

Elected Fellow of Geological Society; Writes for Mazamas.

Professor Warren D. Smith, head of the department of zoology, has an article on "The Geology and Geography of the Wallowa Mountains," in the Mazama magazine for December, 1918. He has just been elected a Fellow in the American Geographical Society.

The editor of the Journal of Geology (Chicago) has asked him and Dr. E. L. Packard to prepare a summary of the Geology of Oregon for early publication. He has also been asked by the chairman of the National Research Council to submit proposals and suggestions on Geology courses in engineering courses in American Universities.

Dr. Smith has also been asked to go to France as educational director in the "Khaki University." He has been invited to give two lectures before the Mazamas.

PROFESSOR CROCKATT RETURNS

Peter C. Crockatt, professor of economics, is due back at the University next Friday, from Camp Lewis.

Professor Crockatt left two weeks ago for the camp, where he has been lecturing to the soldiers on civics and economics, under the supervision of the Y. M. C. A.

CAMPUS ACTIVITIES

With the postponement of the sophomore dance, the main event on the University social calendar has been removed and in consequence the festivities for the next week at least hold no outstanding feature. Small dinner parties and social gatherings of a very informal nature are scheduled for this week-end, however, and during the week several campus organizations have held social meetings. Much interest has been evinced by faculty members and University students in the recital last night, at the Y. M. C. A. Hut in which three of Professor Arthur FAGUY-COTE's pupils appeared. The doughnut basketball series has come in for its share of the week's popularity.

Beatrice Porteous, Ronald Cameron, Grace Hummerstrom and Marjorie Kay were Wednesday evening dinner guests of Delta Gamma.

A delightful social meeting of the campus Y. W. C. A. was held yesterday afternoon in the Bungalow rooms. A brief musical program and an interesting talk by Mrs. William Moll Case on "The Part Music Plays in Worship," comprised the program. Later in the afternoon refreshments were served.

Mrs. Alfred H. Schroff and Margaret Biddle were guests of Kappa Kappa Gamma at tea Sunday evening.

Alpha Phi entertained their patrons and patronesses at a dinner on Tuesday night. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Alton Hampton, Dean and Mrs. John Strath, Miss Mary Perkins and Mrs. M. H. Parsons.

Lucile McCorkle has been called to her home in Portland, due to the serious illness of her mother.

Pi Beta Phi are entertaining at dinner this evening for Miss Beulah Cardwell and Miss Frances Cardwell.

Friday evening dinner guests of Pi Beta Phi will be Evelyn Smith, Mrs. Katherine Johnson and Lorna Meissner.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Maison, Lieutenant William Snyder and Nish Chapman will be Friday evening dinner guests of Chi Omega.

Theta Sigma Phi, women's national journalistic fraternity, entertained a group of faculty members and University women with an opening meeting at the Alpha Phi house yesterday evening, meeting with a brief talk. Professor Helen Brenton who presided, opened the George Turnbull, instructor in the school of journalism, told the group of the opening for women in straight journalism and Mrs. Mabel Holmes Parsons outlined the field of newspaper criticism.

Much appreciation was expressed when Miss Celia Hager, assistant in the psychology department of the University, read a play entitled "The Storm" which she wrote last year while a student in the University. The play has been accepted by the Little Theater in San Francisco. Later Professor W. F. G. Thatcher spoke on the short story of field and Mrs. Emma Wootton Hall told the group of the aims of Theta Sigma Phi. After the program refreshments were served by the hostess.

Hostesses for the evening were: Helen Brenton, Elizabeth Amuller, Erna Zimmerman, Bess Colman, Dorothy Dunway and Adelaide Lake. The guest list included: Mrs. Mable Holmes Parsons, Mrs. Eric W. Allen, Professor and Mrs. W. F. G. Thatcher, Professor George Turnbull, Lyle Bryson, Frances Stiles, Miriam Holcomb, Margaret Thompson, Mary Ellen Bailey, Dorothy Reed, Nadine Bohlander, Frances Blurock, Helen

BAND HAS 33 MEMBERS

Officers of Organization to be Chosen Wednesday.

The men's band has the prospect for the best important and most successful season in all its history, according to Professor Albert R. Perfect, director of the band. There are now thirty-three men in the band but there are still a few vacancies. The most pressing need is for men who play the alto horn.

The band, which met informally for its first meeting last night, will meet next Wednesday evening at 7:30 in Villard hall, when officers for the year will be chosen. Professor Perfect asks that all men interested see him in the school of music building.

Among the old men back are Morris Morgan, Frank Moore, Norman Byrne, Lloyd Tegart and Carter Brandon. Byrne, who plays the clarinet, was with the Marines in Peking, China. He played in the Marine band there. He was given the opportunity of an appointment at Annapolis, but preferred to return to the University.
