

WASHINGTON STATE WINS BY 36-35 SCORE

Score at End of Game Tied; Visitors Won by Foul Penalty.

DURNO AND LIND HIGH POINT MEN FOR VARSITY

Melvor and Hollman Toss 12 Points Each for Aggies.

The Washington State College basketball team won the second game of the series from the Oregon five on the local floor last night by the close score of 36 to 35, after a five minute overtime period had been played. The game itself ended with the count 34 to 34 and in the overtime, which was allowed, Oregon scored only one point during the extra session while Washington State gathered two.

The game was a fight from beginning to end, and Eddie Durno was again the high point man of the day, getting 19 points to his credit, 12 on field baskets and 7 on converted fouls. For the visitors Melvor and Hollman both turned in 12 on their card. Herm Lind, at center for Oregon, played an exceptionally clever game and scored 8 points during the encounter.

Many Fouls Called on Oregon

Referee George A. Anderson, of Portland, called fourteen personal fouls against members of the Oregon team and five on Washington State.

Durno was unable to trail his man down the floor, even when he was dribbling the ball, without having the referee calling him for tripping. Durno is so small that he has to guard his man closely in order to do any good.

The audience, perhaps, the largest basketball crowd at Oregon in years, was loud in its disapproval of referee George A. Anderson's work, which was considered unfair in regard to the calling of several personal fouls which lost the game for Oregon in the added period.

In the last minute of play, in the regular game, Oregon was leading 34 to 32 when Anderson called the fourth personal foul on Durno. This automatically gave W. S. C. one point and a free shot, which they failed to make. In the last minute of the overtime period Oregon was again in the lead 35 to 34 when the fourth personal foul was called on Brandon. W. S. C. this time converted their free shot, which with one point awarded on the fourth personal foul, gave them the game by the score of 36 to 35.

Tennis Seesaw Throughout

The count during the game seesawed back and forth with first one team going into the lead and then the other. In the last half the play was especially fast and it was during this period that the Oregon team suffered personal fouls, which the referee could not see. Every move that was at all questionable on the part of Oregon men was called.

The W. S. C. team left after the game for O. A. C., where they will clash with the Orange and Black quintet this weekend.

The line-up:
W. S. C. (36) Oregon (35)
Melvor (12).....F. Durno (19)
Hockey (8).....F. Jacobberger (2)
Rollen (12).....C. Lind (8)
Kotula (2).....G. Chapman (4)
Gurgess.....G. Brandon (2)
(Washington State College awarded one point each on fourth personal foul on Durno and Brandon.)
Referee: George A. Anderson of Portland.

DEBATE DATA SEGREGATED

Revolving Stand in Library Contains All Material On Subject.

To meet the great demand for information upon the coming debate subjects, a new section has been formed in the library which contains all the latest book and periodicals relating to the subjects under debate, also briefs and books of instruction concerning the construction of arguments.

This section is upon a revolving stand just behind the circulation desk in the stack room. Debate literature can be taken out for but one night.

Barbers' Inharmony Over 5-Cent Shave Basis of Court Case

The fate of 10-cent haircuts and 5-cent shaves will be decided tonight in the case of Barber Smith vs. Biltmore Hotel company, the trial of which will be heard in court at 7:30.

The status of the case is as follows: The Biltmore Hotel company bought the entire block of land and buildings, on the east side of Willamette street between Ninth and Tenth for its hotel. Smith is the lessee of a barber shop in one of the buildings that the hotel company has bought. His lease has still five years to run. The hotel company offered Smith a better shop in a building across the street free from rent if he would move. Smith has been in his present location for twenty years and for sentimental reasons declines to move. To force him to do so, so the company can put up its new building, the hotel company employed two expert barbers, whom it installed in a shop on either side of Smith's. These barbers charge ten cents for a haircut and five cents for a shave. They got all Smith's patrons away from him. Unable to pay his rent, he was ejected. The hotel company then closed the two barbershops and tore down the building. Smith is now suing the hotel company for ruining his business.

To those who object that there has never been a place in Eugene where you could get a ten-cent haircut and a five-cent shave, and that no hotel owned by the Biltmore Hotel company is located in Eugene, it may be explained that the case is to be heard in the Moot Court in the law library, where Marvin K. Holland will appear for the plaintiff and Gordon Wells for the defendant. S. B. Warner, professor of law, will act as Chief Justice, and Ben C. Ivey as clerk of the court.

The length of the arguments will be 20 minutes, 30 minutes and 10 minutes, with time out for questions not to exceed 15 minutes. All regular law students must attend and others are cordially invited. The law students will vote on the verdict.

RALPH HOEBER WINS IN ORATORY TRYOUT

To Represent Oregon; Norris Jones and Ralph Holzman Also Compete.

Ralph C. Hoerber, a sophomore from Portland, won a unanimous decision over Norris R. Jones and Ralph Holzman in the oratorical tryouts held Wednesday afternoon. Mr. Hoerber will represent the University in the annual intercollegiate oratorical contest to be held at the University Friday, March 14.

Mr. Hoerber's subject was "Bolshevism," which he treated in a masterful way, showing the danger of its spread to the United States. Mr. Hoerber in his oration appealed for immediate action on the part of every American citizen to stamp out this "snake in the grass."

Norris R. Jones, a Junior and the second speaker, chose as his subject, "The Conservation of our Greatest National Resources, the physical, mental and moral character of Young America." Mr. Jones treated his subject in a manner which pleased the judges both from the standpoint of insight into his subject matter and of delivery and presence.

Ralph Holzman, a sophomore, was the third speaker. He also chose the subject of "Bolshevism," making an appeal for a "new industrial system" as the preventive of the spread of Bolshevism to this country. Mr. Holzman treated his subject very well, in the opinion of the judges, but lacked the finish of the winner.

Mr. Hoerber attended and graduated from Lincoln High School of Portland in 1916 and represented that school in inter-scholastic debate in 1915 and 1916. He also studied oratory at Reed College, Portland, in 1918. Mr. Hoerber is particularly qualified for oratory not only by his keen insight into affairs but because of his excellent speaking voice, presence and poise.

Professor Robert W. Prescott, Professor Peter C. Crockatt and Walter Myers acted as judges.

ESSENCE OF GREAT WESTERN OUTDOORS SPIRIT OF LECTURE

Students of University Hear Frank Branch Riley at Assembly.

Frank Branch Riley, Portland lawyer and a Mazama, thanked Dean Straub for his "extravagant kick-off which was even better than we had agreed upon" termed himself "hopelessly demented on Oregon scenery" and assisted by Homer Rogers, "mountaineer, wholesale grocer, and hotel owner," gave the students of the University a most unique entertainment at Wednesday's assembly in Villard hall.

Mr. Riley is traveling under the auspices of the Northwest Tourist association made up of the legislatures of the Province of British Columbia, Washington and Oregon. He claims not to be a speaker and remarked that he always hesitates at turning off the lights to show his pictures for fear the audience will slip out. "It is embarrassing to turn the light on and find a house of empty chairs."

The Tourists' association sent Mr. Riley east to show the people that there is scenery in the west. The collection of slides used was very exceptional and one of rare beauty and value.

Must See Mount Hood.

Mr. Riley believes that one isn't a good American until he has seen Mt. Hood; until he has ceased resisting the impulse to go west. "The thought of the first white man and white woman westward, old unrest made man cross the ocean, ever going toward the scarlet empire of the west, until he drove the prairie schooner into the sunset."

The way the pioneer climbed one mountain after another until he finally came down into the little valley of the Willamette was described by Mr. Riley.

"The people of the east need your spirit, the first question heard in New England," said Mr. Riley, "is, 'What do you know?' In the south it was 'What is your pedigree?' The family trees still flourish although they do need spraying. The people of Chicago say, 'How much have you got?' We of the west ask, 'What can you do?'"

How to Fill Empire.

The question to be answered now, according to Mr. Riley is, "What can be

OREGANA NEEDS ARTISTS

Those Having Cartooning Ability Asked to Hand in Samples.

There is an eminent need for cartoonists and artists for the Oregana, according to Leith Abbott, feature editor, who has issued a call for contributions from the campus pen and pencil wielders who desire to try out for a position on the art staff of the book. Mr. Abbott desires anyone who has cartooning ability even to the slightest degree to hand in a sample of their work to him before Monday. The artists can choose their own subjects for these contributions, selecting something as far as possible, that would be Oregana material. Appointments to the art staff of the book will be made by Editor Adelaide Lake after the contributions have been judged.

The art staff will consist of at least two people and will be enlarged if sufficient good material warrants such a move. The staff is open to men and women alike. Art contributions can be handed to Leith Abbott personally or left at the Journalism annex.

PLEDGES TO BE COLLECTED

Two From Each House and Oregon Club to Aid in Work.

A final drive to collect the pledges made during the United war work campaign on the campus will begin Monday, February 3. The work for the boys will be done through the Friendship council which takes the place the Y. M. C. A. cabinet occupied in other years on the campus. Two representatives from each house on the campus and two from the Oregon club make up the council and these representatives will see the boys in the houses. The girls will be seen through the Y. W. C. A. A number of the pledges have not been paid as yet and it is hoped to clear this matter up by the end of the week.

STUDENTS PREPARE TO GIVE GLAD HAND TO LAWMAKERS

Undergraduates to Cooperate in Filling Afternoon With Interest.

General plans and arrangements of the student body for the entertainment of the members of the legislature who will visit the campus on Saturday are moving, under the direction of the student president, Herald White, assisted by a main committee of Ella Dews, Essie Maguire and Charles Comfort.

At a meeting of this committee on Monday afternoon with a committee from the faculty the entertainment for the visitors was briefly outlined, and further plans were to be completed at a meeting this afternoon at three o'clock in Dr. J. H. Gilbert's lecture room. The individual committees were to be appointed at that time.

The schedule for the visit as it now stands will be an afternoon brim full of interest for everyone, according to Herald White. At the train they will be met by the University battalion honor guard. At the noon luncheon in Hendricks Hall a feature will be selections by the University orchestra.

Students to Give Program

An all-student assembly will be held in Villard Hall at 2:30 at which time the visitors and the faculty will occupy a reserved section. An interesting program is being prepared for this occasion, the committee states, including music by the men's glee club and possibly by the girls' glee club.

After the assembly, which will last until about 4, the upperclassmen, friends and acquaintances of the legislators will meet them and act as guides in a tour of the campus. The visitors will leave on the 5:05 train in the evening.

The committee in charge is urging every student in the University to be on the campus Saturday afternoon and make the best possible showing for the University. The students of the college are what the lawmakers want to see, they say.

Every Student Wanted Here

"From one to five on Saturday afternoon we want every single Oregon student on the campus," said Herald White, president, today, "and we want the girls to make a special effort to be out, as we want them for guides. Everyone should be at the assembly and after that we want to see the library full of people and as many as possible in the laboratories working. Part of the time may drag for some of the students, but every one should be willing to make that sacrifice. Such a sacrifice will not be in any proportion to the benefits they will receive if we make the proper impression. There are absolutely no excuses for not turning out on that afternoon, and we want to see every student on the campus from 1 until 5.

5 APPLY FOR WEST POINT

May Be More Candidates as Notices are Sent Out to High Schools.

Five written applications have been made so far for the West Point examinations to be held Monday, February 3, according to the report from the president's office. The applicants are: Ralph R. Tudor, of Sutherlin; William Biddle, of Milwaukie; Henry Dalrymple, of Portland; George Riddle, of Grants Pass; and Reginald Allen Badesman, of Corvallis. At the last minute there may be more applications, according to a statement made at the president's office, as notices have been sent out to the high schools throughout the state.

Candidates for appointment must be between the ages of 17 and 22, not less than 5 feet 4 inches in height, and able to pass a physical and mental examination. Examinations will be given in history, algebra, plane geometry, arithmetic, English grammar, composition and literature. It has not been definitely decided when the physical examinations will be given.

The examination committee will be the same that had charge of the Annapolis examinations. The members are Professor E. E. DeCoun, chairman, of the mathematics department; Colonel W. H. C. Bowen, professor of military science and tactics; Eric W. Allen, dean of the School of Journalism; E. H. McAlister, professor of mechanics; and W. P. Boynton, head of the physics department.

Campus Is Speckled With Question Marks; What Is the Answer?

Mysterious posters have appeared on the campus overnight. What they are has puzzled the whole college. A large question mark, with the date February 14 beneath, are the only marks on the posters.

February 14 is St. Valentine's Day and is two weeks from this Friday. Evidently according to the posters, something big is to come off on that Friday, but what is it?

Is it a new war loan, or a drive for subscriptions to the new women's building, or a drive for the extermination of cats or the upbuilding of the R. O. T. C.? The posters give no hint. It may not be a drive at all. Can it be a dance? That is unlikely, for the Freshman Glee comes the following night. Then what is it?

It could hardly be the underclass mix, because this is held on Saturdays invariably. It must be something that takes place at night. But what is there, that can take place on the night of February 14? The college is waiting expectantly for further developments.

VARSITY QUINTET OFF FOR SEATTLE TODAY

Oregon Hoopers Appear to have Slight Edge Over U. of W. Team.

After having broken even with the Washington State College quintet in the series of two games here this week the University of Oregon basketball five will leave Eugene tonight for Seattle to take on the University of Washington team on Tuesday and Saturday evenings.

The Oregon team showed to advantage in the first two conference games, and their playing was, taken as a whole, very good. In team work the Oregon five showed better than did the visitors. Dean Walker is getting fine results from his form of advancing the ball, by short, snappy passes that use all of the men on the floor. Its advantage over the long shot method was clearly shown in the first of the two games with the Washington Staters.

Lind's Work Surprises.

Eddie Durno and Francis Jacobberger proved to be a couple of good scorers and rang up a nice total of points for the Lemon Yellow. Herm Lind surprised the natives by his work at center and bids fair to be one of the sensations of the league. Brandon and Chapman handled themselves well at the guard positions and also broke into the scoring columns. Brandon allowed himself to get called on too many personal fouls.

After playing the two games in Seattle this week-end the varsity will play Washington five two return games on the local floor next Friday and Saturday evenings. The Washington State College team left this afternoon for Corvallis where they will meet the O. A. C. quintet this week-end.

Dope Looks Like Oregon.

The Washington State College team defeated the University of Washington five in two games before coming to Eugene and from comparative scores and interviews the dope looks to lean toward Oregon to beat the Seattle five. However, the varsity will have a hard fight this week and if able to beat the U. of W. on their floor, should have it much easier on the home court.

Y. W. C. A. AT HOME FEB. 6

Faculty and Town Women to be Guests; Program is Arranged.

An at-home for the friends of the Y. W. C. A. is being planned by the advisory board of the association, to be held on Thursday afternoon, February 6, at the Bungalow. About 150 invitations are being issued to subscribers to the association and friends who include both town people and faculty folk. A program is being arranged for the occasion—one phase of which is to be talks by the members of the cabinet for the purpose of describing the work the organization is doing.

Julian Eltinge was the dinner guest of the Beta Theta Pi's Wednesday evening.

ALL UNIVERSITY WILL PLAY HOST TO LEGISLATORS

75 Guests Expected on 12-25 O. E.; to be Met at Station by Home Guard.

ASSEMBLY TO BE HELD IN VILLARD HALL AT 2:30

Visitors to See Classes at Work in Laboratories and Library.

Students and faculty of the University will be hosts to the members of the state legislature who will visit the University Saturday afternoon to become more intimately acquainted with the students and the University in general. Karl W. Onthank secretary to President Campbell, urges the students to make the afternoon one full of interest to the University guests.

The visitors, about 75 in number are expected on the 12:25 Oregon Electric. Dean John Straub will meet the party at Junction City and they will be received at the station by an honor guard of the University men and a committee of faculty and students who will conduct them to the campus in machines furnished by the Chamber of Commerce. Here they will be presented with buttons bearing their names and home counties.

Luncheon will be served for them at 1:00 o'clock in Hendricks Hall.

Assembly to Follow

After luncheon, assembly will be held in Villard Hall at 2:30 where a reserved section will be arranged for the visitors and faculty. The students are urged to turn out in full force for this assembly, said Mr. Onthank, and fill the hall to capacity. It is expected that the assembly will not last much more than an hour.

The visitors will be shown about the campus after the assembly by student and faculty guides. The guests are to visit the laboratories, library and other departments of special interest to them and at this time are to meet the students and personal friends on the campus. They will leave Eugene on the 5:25 Oregon Electric.

In a special faculty bulletin issued Thursday the faculty has been requested to make arrangements in their departments in order to give an honest showing of the work the University is actually doing. Since the day will be Saturday the students and faculty have been especially requested to be on the campus from 2 to 4:30 at least.

It is particularly desired, according to the announcement of the reception committee, that the laboratories be open and busy with students occupied with their regular experiments for the current week except in instances where other

WOMEN'S BAND TO PLAY

First Appearance will be at Colonial Fete February 22

The first appearance of the women's band will be on February 22, when it will appear at the colonial fete to be held on that day in Guild hall. Special music is being prepared for the fete, part of which has been written by Prof. Albert Perfect, director of the band. Practice is held every Tuesday evening, and more regular attendance is expected, said Mr. Perfect, in order to make the work of the organization a success. A special practice will be held at 1 o'clock Saturday afternoon in Villard hall.

The organization is planning a concert to be given some time soon, but no details have not yet been arranged.

Physical Training Needed.

An increasing demand is being made for teachers in physical training, according to Dr. H. D. Sheldon, dean of the School of Education. This is due to the fact that so much attention is now being paid to the establishment of physical training in the high schools. As yet it has been impossible to obtain teachers for the positions.
