

SENIOR BASKETEERS CHAMPIONS, 16 TO 9

Girls Win Over Freshman Team; $116.25 Raised for New Women's Building.

By a score of 16 to 9, the senior women's basketball team won the interclass championship from the freshmen and incidentally the Hayward cup when these two teams met in the men's gymnasium Thursday night. In addition to winning the game, the contest netted $116.25, toward the $500 pledge of the physical education majors for the new women's building to be placed on the campus.

This is the fourth successive year that the seniors have won the cup. Maud Lombard and Hazel Rankin, forwards, have played at these positions on their team during their last year in high school as well as the four years in college. Their excellent team work has shown up during all the interclass games. The freshmen played an excellent game also but were handicapped in that their guards were not matched in height with their opponents. In almost every position the freshmen players were shorter than the senior players. Dorothy Reed, freshman forward, scored all the points for her team. She played well but her basket shooting was not so sure as in the interclass game.

Attendance Is Large.

A large number of University and townspeople attended the contest. An important feature of the game was the rooting of the respective sides. Both freshmen and senior sympathizers chose places on the side lines from where they proceeded to urge the contestants. The supporters of the freshmen team far exceeded the number of senior enthusiasts. Between halves, both seniors and freshmen serpenitined at the request of a small group of men in the balcony. When these men called for "Mighty Oregon" they received it in full force. Original yells led by the co-eds was another feature.

The members of the senior team haven't decided what they will do with the cup after they get it, their final action resting upon a decision of the Women's Athletic association. They may have their names engraved on it and then place it up again to be known as the cup of 1919.

Lineup For Game.

The lineup for the game follows: Maud Lombard G. F. Dorothy Reed 9 Hazel Rankin 10. F. Florence Casey Claire Warner. J. C. Echo Baldaree Virginia Hales. S. C. Maurine Elrod Lela Marsh. G. Ruth Flegal Marian Coffey. G. Mildred VanNuy's Irma Laird and Harriet Garrett subs for Marsh and Coffey. Caroline Cannon, sub for Florence Casey.

EVERYBODY TAKES PHYSICAL EXERCISE

Students and Faculty Engage in Swimming, Boxing and Wrestling.

Intramural athletics are now on in full swing and even the professors are entering into the spirit and have organized a gymnasium class, which holds forth in the gym every Thursday night. The work in regular gymnasium classes, boxing, wrestling and swimming, which is required of every Freshman and Sophomore student, is now fully organized and the classes are being held every day.

Dean H. Walker, graduate manager of the University, is the power behind the throne in the intra-mural work and has adopted the motto: "Athletics for everyone and everyone for athletics." The Doughnut basketball league, which is just the first of Doughnut activities, has been going fine this season and the championship game, which will probably be played next week, should be a hummer.

At present there are three teams tied for the lead in League "A." They are the Delta Tau Delta, Sigma Chi and Phi Gamma Delta. In League "B" the Kappa Sigs are enthroned in first place. There is some talk of charging admission to the championship game, the proceeds of which will go toward the women's building.

As soon as the finals of the Doughnut basketball league have been played, and the cups placed over the fireplace of some house on the campus, Doughnut handball will be in order.

Class work in athletics are being conducted by Dean Walker, "Shy" Huntington and "Bill" Hayward. "Bill" will be issuing first call for track men soon and then will come the great events of every spring on the Oregon campus, the big track meet of the year.

Dean Walker is enthusiastic by the showing of the men who are out for the various lines of athletic endeavor and declares that at last he has what he has always wished for, compulsory athletics for all underclassmen.

ALUMNI MAGAZINE NAMED 'OLD OREGON'

If Successful, Publication will be Quarterly; Staff Selected.

To keep alumni members in touch with their alma mater the University will publish next week, as an experiment, a magazine called "Old Oregon," which will contain news of interest to students from the class of 1878 to date. The paper will be put out by the class in newspaper editing under Dean Eric W. Allen, who claims that if the first edition proves a success the publication will be established as a University quarterly.

A suitable cover for the magazine is being considered by the members of the class in print shop laboratory, who are endeavoring to make originality the keynote. Clever cuts of campus scenery and articles written by alumni members are already in the hands of the editor and if nothing interferes the paper will go to press early next week.

The staff which was selected from the class in newspaper editing is made up of Helen McDonald, editor-in-chief; Adelaide Lake, managing editor; Douglas Mullarky and Elizabeth Aumiller, advertising managers and Tracy Byers, copy reader. Miss Charlie Fenton, alumni secretary, will be in charge of the news gathering.

Former students who have paid their alumni dues will receive the paper as no special fee will be charged for "Old Oregon." All staff members are putting forth a special effort to make the paper a success and thus establish it as a regular college quarterly.

COLLEGE LAWYERS HOLD MOOT COURT

M. K. Holland and Gordon Wells Divide Honors in Barber Damage Suit.

The first Moot court of the University School of Law convened at 7:30 Thursday evening in the law library. S. B. Warner, professor of law, was chief justice, and Ben C. Ivey, clerk of the court for the session.

M. K. Holland, counsel for the complainant, Barber Smith, suing the Biltmore Hotel company, and Gordon Wells, for the defendant company, divided honors, Holland winning on the merit of argument, and Wells on his points of law. As a result it is not known whether Smith will recover for the loss of his business when the hotel company ejected him and tore down the building they had rented to him.

Before tearing down the building, the complaint alleged, the defendant company installed a rival barber on each side of Smith's stand, and the two cut the price of haircuts to 10 cents and shaves to 5 cents—all as a part of a conspiracy to ruin Smith's business.

Warm Contests Develop.

The case brought up several warm contests. Holland was frequently questioned and cross-questioned by the chief justice, and challenged by members of the law class. He was prepared in most instances, however, to carry his point, and while he had the more difficult side of the case to handle, he was yet always ready with an answer.

Several times his authority for a point of law was questioned. In one instance, when he gave the name of his authority for a legal point he was asked, "Did this man write for the Saturday Evening Post?"

"He did not," replied the counsel emphatically.

Another time when quoting a law professor he was asked by the chief justice: "Is a professor of law any authority on law?"

"Yes, sir," with extra emphasis. Gordon Wells, counsel for the defendant, met with little opposition.

Secret Vote Taken.

A secret vote was taken on the merits of argument, Holland winning with a majority of 9 to 7, while Wells carried his point 10 to 5 on the merit of law.

Each member of the class presented the reason for his vote on the legal side of the case.

A moot court will be held every Thursday night at 7:30 according to an announcement made by Professor Warner, and anyone who is interested is welcome to visit the session.

WEST POINT EXAM TO BE HELD MONDAY

Men from All Parts of Oregon Send in Applications to Participate.

Examinations for appointment to West Point will begin Monday, Feb. 3 at 9 o'clock and will extend through the three hours of the morning and from 1 to 4 in the afternoon.

The examinations will cover history, algebra, plane geometry, arithmetic, English grammar, composition and literature, together with a physical examination.

Five written applications have been received so far by Karl Onthank, secretary to President Campbell. The men applying are: Ralph R. Tudor of Sutherlin; William Biddle, of Milwaukie; Henry Dalrymple, of Portland; George Riddle of Grants Pass; and Reginald Allen Baddesman, of Corvallis.

It is expected that at the last moment there may be more applications, for notices have been distributed among all the high schools of the state with regard to the examination.

Candidates for appointment must be between the ages of 17 and 22, not less than 5 feet 4 inches in height and able to pass the mental and physical examination. The candidate chosen by the committee will be recommended to Senator Hawley for appointment to West Point.

The examination committee will be the same that had charge of the Annapolis examinations. The members are Professor E. E. DeCon, chairman, head of the mathematics department; Colonel W. H. C. Bowen, professor of military science and tactics; Eric W. Allen, dean of the School of Journalism; E. H. McAllister, professor of mechanics; and W. P. Boynton, head of the physics department.

OFFICERS OF R.O.T.C. APPOINTED AT DRILL

Four Captains, Three First and Four Second Lieutenants From Upperclassmen.

Temporary officers for the reserve officers' training corps were appointed Wednesday afternoon at drill hour. Lieutenant A. I. Garrett, assistant to Colonel W. H. C. Bowen, gave the names of the following upperclassmen, who were chosen: Captains, Charles Comfort, of Stockton, Cal.; Sprague Carter, of Portland; Dwight Parr of Woodburn, and Richard Avison of Salem.

First lieutenants are Lyle McCroskey, of Bellingham, Wash.; Dow Wilson, of Rufus, and Herald White of Cottage Grove. Second lieutenants are Charles Hulbert from Albany, Flint Johns of Vancouver, Wash., Leslie Carter of Portland and Harold Grey of Medford.

The R. O. T. C., which was established at the beginning of the winter term and requires three hours of drill a week of all underclassmen has interested a number of the upperclassmen, with whom the military work is optional.

Men to Receive Uniforms.

Colonel W. H. C. Bowen, who was commandant of the S. A. T. C. last term, is professor of military science and tactics in the new organization, with Lieutenant A. I. Garrett as his assistant.

Next week the men will be measured for uniforms, which they will be required to wear at drill. Uniforms and equipment will be provided by the government according to a statement made yesterday by Lieutenant Garrett. He also said that 300 copies of military reference books were placed in the library this week for the use of military department.

R. O. T. C. to Meet Legislators.

"The entire R. O. T. C. organization will meet the state legislators at the train Saturday," announced Lieutenant Garrett.

Men who satisfactorily complete the required amount of military work while in college will be open for commissions in the United States Reserve after six weeks intensive training at an officers' training camp, as announced by President Campbell when the R. O. T. C. was established.

PLANNING CLUB ORGANIZED

F. G. Young Receives Appointment To Executive Committee.

An Oregon Conference on City Planning has been organized with Mayor George L. Baker, of Portland, as president. This action is the result of a committee appointed at the Commonwealth Conference over a year ago, according to Dean E. F. Lawrence of the School of Architecture.

"The University is recognized," said Dean Lawrence, "by the appointment of F. G. Young, professor of sociology, on the executive committee."

It is planned to have an annual conference on city planning, held in connection with the Commonwealth Conference.

The preliminary meeting approved resolutions indorsing the pending legislation dealing with the right of the cities of Oregon to create city planning conferences and otherwise facilitating community planning.

OREGON MAN DISLIKES MUD

Robert Oberteuffer Bold Leader, But French Weather "Gets" Him.

Captain Robert H. Oberteuffer, who was in college in '16, writes that he cannot stand France very much in the way of weather. "Mud seems to predominate and now the winter rains are adding to the joys of doing Dough-boy drill every day. We had plenty of fun while the fuss was on but, as is natural, we all want to get home now."

Aubrey H. Bond writes that Oberteuffer led his company well in the fighting before the outer defenses of Metz. Captain Oberteuffer's address is Company A, 5th Engineers, A. P. O., 793, Am. E. F. He is stationed at Bouillonville, France.

CLUB TO HOLD BANQUET

Architectural Organization Reorganizes—Officers Elected.

The School of Architecture has reorganized its Architectural Club with 20 members. The first jury day and banquet will be held on February 12.

The following officers were elected: Glenn Stanton, president; Horace Foulkes, vice-president; Hollis Johnston, secretary and A. M. Combs, treasurer.

It has not been decided yet where the banquet will be held, announces Hollis Johnston.

INSTALLS NEW STEINWAY

This week saw the installation in the School of Music of the University of still another large size Steinway Grand Piano. It is a fact that with the present staff, curriculum and instruments our Music Department today stands second to none in the west.
