Frosh Trembling; Terrible Warnings In Glaring Evidence

Posters, "Beware Ye Frosh," captioned in glaring red letters and with the warning of a red skull and crossbones appeared on posts, billboards, telephone poles and other convenient places last night and the freshmen who had enjoyed a life of college ease and pleasure awoke to the fact that the sophomores did not fully appreciate their scholastic virtues. Of course the sophomores did it, but who of the sophomores is a secret, which not only the freshmen, but also the city authorities would like to know, for when they saw the decorations on the city's property they called up the student officers and ordered the signs down. It is against the city ordinance to post bills except in certain specified places, they said, and last night no discretion was used.

The freshmen would gladly take them down, but they are afraid, for does not the poster say "Death Awaits Ye Who Do Not: Fear the Evil eye who flies at night and the demons that flirt in the dark."

Warnings state that the mill race, bath tubs and oaken planks await those that do not swear obedience to the instructions to refrain from resting on the senior bench, smoking on the campus, stepping on the Oregon seal in front of Villard, and rambling at night after nine o'clock.

PH. D. DEGREE INTRODUCED

English Universities to Put Work on United States Basis.

The fact that English educational institutions are attempting to put their work on a basis with that of this country is brought to mind by a circular letter received recently by A. R. Tiffany, registrar at the University, from the University of Bristol, England, which states that that institution will grant a doctor of philosophy degree, which until now has never been obtainable in any English school.

This decision was made at a meeting of the court of the University of Bristol held November 15, 1918. At this time the following ordinances were issued:

"There shall be a degree of Doctor of Philosophy to be denoted by the letters Ph.D.

"Candidature for the degree of Doctor of Philosophy shall be open to any graduate of or person who is qualified for a degree in a University in the United Kingdom or any other University approved by Senate for this purpose who has satisfied Senate of his fitness to enter on the course he proposes to pursue."

"The qualification for the degree shall be the pursuance of research in the University during not less than two years followed by the presentation of a dissertation embodying the results of a research carried out by the candidate and the approval of such dissertation by the examiners of the University in the subject concerned."

"Provided that by permission of Senate a period not exceeding one year of research elsewhere than in the University may for the purpose of candidature for the degree be regarded as equivalent to the same period of research in the University."

It provided also that by permission of Senate the second year of research may be taken intermittently over a period of two calendar years."

TRIPS PLANNED FOR BAND

Women's Organization Doing Well, Says Conductor Perfect.

The prospects for the woman's band are very bright this year, according to Albert Perfect, conductor.

"As a whole," said Mr. Perfect, "the woman's band is better this year than last. This is due to the fact that last year the work had to start from the very beginning as it was new to everyone. Now we have several trained players and we will be able to progress rapidly; in fact, the thing which is holding back its work is the difficulty in setting dates for practice.

Trips have been planned for the near future to adjacent towns, and expenses have been guaranteed. However, the committees of these towns have hesitated to close contracts for concerts with the band before the influenza situation has become normal again.

The band will play at the colonial fete to be given in Guild hall on February 22.

SOPHOMORES BEAT FROSH IN SQUAREST OF SQUARE MIXES

Yearlings Almost Win Biggest Point Winner; Final Score
62 1-2 to 32 1-2

By the score of 62½ to 32½, the sophomores triumphed over the freshmen in the annual interclass mix staged today on Kincaid field. The mix was won only after the sophomores had annexed the flag rush, the big event of the mix. Class spirit received its chance this afternoon, after the mix, usually held the first of the year, finally was held. The S. A. T. C. bad weather and the inability of the juniors to get a good date for the mix resulted in it being postponed from early in the year.

Unique programs were issued those who attended. "This is a square mix," was emphasized in these, and quotations from the judges, Bill Hayward, Shy Huntington and Dean Walker, were used to prove it. Hayward read the testimonials, and the mix was square.

Clever stunts were staged by each class. The frosh buried O. A. C. basketball hopes, while the sophs depicted the rushing of Ima Bare, by various men dressed as girls who represented the various sororities.

The events won by each side were: Attendance and singing contest, won by freshmen, 5 points.

Noise contest for men, won by freshmen, 5 points.

Class stunts, point divided, each side receiving 7½ points.

Sand bag scrap, won by sophs, 20 points.

Tie-up, won by frosh, 15 points.

Flag rush, won by sophs, 35 points.

Cane clasp, won by frosh, 15 points.

GIRLS TO PICK SWIMMERS

Freshmen and Juniors will Select Team for Interclass Meet.

Teams for women's interclass swimming meets will be chosen for the freshmen and junior classes when representatives from these two classes will hold a meet within their own ranks in the pool at the men's gymnasium, Tuesday evening, at 7:30. Each girl entering the meet is required to enter at least two events and may enter more if she desires.

Miss Catharine Winslow, swimming instructor, urges more girls to turn out for swimming. A large number of events of the meets are strokes for form which enable the swimmer to perfect her swimming art. Swimming is not only a sport, but is a useful accomplishment for anyone to acquire, and Miss Winslow hopes that every girl in the University will make use of the opportunity which is given to her while in college.

The freshmen girls who have signified their intention of entering the meet Tuesday night are: Caroline Cannon, Phoebe Gage, Emma Garbade, Lucille Elrod, Helen Nelson, Dorothy Reed, Florence Casey, Margaret Smith and Alta Kelly.

TENNIS PRACTICE STARTS

Strong Contenders Out for Varsity; Doughnut Teams to be Formed.

Tennis practice will start in earnest in a few days, Dean Walker said today. A little practice has been held but the inclement weather has hindered steady work. There will be two small tennis courts in addition to the men's gymnasium that can be used as soon as the work on this building is finished but this will only be used during the rainy weather.

Varsity practice also will get under way with many strong contenders for the teams, as three men of last year's team are back in college, Graham Smith, Forest Watson, Mort Brown.

These men all wield the racket to advantage and with several other men such as George Beggs and Carter Branden who won the interfraternity championship last year, the outlook for a strong combination is bright.

Doughnut teams will be organized and a spirited contest should be held for the cup that is given each year to the winning house.

Council Frowns on Frosh Wearers of Green Cap with Full Uniforms

Use of Verdant Millinery with Army Dress Put on Same
Plane as Failure to Wear First Year Head-Gear—Penalty the Same

The same fate which has awaited the University's wearers of the unique green millinery since time immemorial, awaits those freshmen who wear this verdant green headgear while in other respects wearing full United States uniform.

The student council believes this wearing of a green cap with full uniform is typical of a frosh trick, that none other than a freshman would be so thoughtless. Brought before the attention of the council at the last meeting through criticism by upperclassmen and by townspeople, the council expressed the sentiment that measures to discourage the practice should be adopted at once, although the practice among the first year men has been dying out rapidly as many of them have taken it upon themselves to do away with the objectionable practice.

Early in January the council voted with the approval of Colonel W. H. C. Bowen that green caps should not be worn by men in full uniform. A narrow strip of green ribbon on the coat pocket was designated as the class distinction for recognition by other members of the class and by sophomores and upperclassmen. At this time it was the expression of the members of the council that the uniform should not be worn in full without the regulation hat with the hat cord. This provision was made in order that there should be no resemblance between the freshman's army hat and the senior class sombrero.

Through the entire discussion of the council over the practice there was a sentiment expressed against it which akin to that borne in the sophomore pre-mix posters which appeared on the campus this morning. "Let them beware," said one representative of the council.

SHEEHY GETS TASTE OF STRENUOUS LIFE

Enlisted as Flyer, Jailed for Slacker, Has Pneumonia;
Writes About It.

Jimmy Sheehy in a letter to Emma Wootton Hall writing in answer to a questionnaire as to his whereabouts for publication in the alumni magazine says, "I hope to be back in Heaven's own land" in April and truly I long for a re-enjoyment of these hazy days at Oregon."

"My career in enlistment with Uncle Sam," he writes, "reads as the exploits of Jesse James or better entitled 'the youth who wanted to fight but was cheated by fate.'"

Entered in Service.

"My short record is essentially one of 'lasts.' After months of pleading on my part my folks decided that the air service was as good a branch as any for me to die in.

"I was the last applicant to be examined at the Portland office, was enlisted in the evening they closed their doors, spent the night in the city jail for inability to produce my registration card and branded for a slacker for ten hours or more.

"Entered the School of Military Aeronautics at Berkeley on July 29 and toiled and moiled, learning everything from courtesy to officers to making fine adjustments on the Hispano-Suiza motor.

"A week before my scheduled graduation from the school old man pneumonia set his fangs in my lungs and I had a wonderful 'rest' of some 106 days.

Now Awaiting Orders.

"Was such a success in this man's army that they were loathe to set me free and as the rookie would say it's 'hard as hell' to get out of the army! Now I am awaiting orders from the western department that will send me to an army sanatorium in either New Mexico or Arizona. A fine life for a healthy Oregonian but I do need that left lung of mine that once threatened to rest on me for life."

In answer to one of the lines on the questionnaire which read, if married or engaged, please give name, Jimmy Sheehy made answer, "single but not by choice, have been jilted many times."

PROGRAM FOR JOURNAL CLUB

Miss Adah Hall, assistant in the zoology department, and Mrs. H. K. Maxham, a major in the department, will be two of the speakers at the meeting of the Journal club on Tuesday afternoon. Miss Hall will speak on "Flat Worms of the Mississippi Valley and Their Habits," and Mrs. Maxham will review a paper on researches in psychology. The club has a membership of twelve. On Tuesday the club will have as its guests the botany department.

BASKETBALL BULLETIN.

The University of Oregon freshmen defeated the Chemawa Indians this afternoon by the score of 72 to 16.

OREGON QUINTET DEFEATS U. OF W.; SCORE, 25 TO 19

Slow Game Livened Only Near End with Some New Men Substituted.

MANY WILD SHOTS MADE BUT FEW PERSONAL FOULS

Fowler Throws Two Baskets,
Durno One Despite Patched Condition.

The University of Oregon basketball five took the first game of the two series with the University of Washington on the local floor last night by the score of 25 to 19. The game was not very fast but was comparatively free from personal fouls. The first half, which ended with the count 17 to 9 in favor of the varsity, dragged a little and it was not until the last few minutes of play that the contest livened up and showed some signs of life.

Coach Hunt, of the Washington team, made two substitutions during the game in an effort to get some life into his crew. A number of wild shots were made from the floor last night and there were few shots registered that showed any great amount of skill.

Oregon Team All Score.

Dean H. Walker, coach of the varsity, presented a shifted line-up which seemed to get along nicely. Ned Fowler and Jake was shifted to guard, taking the place of Brandon, who was not in the line-up last night. Fowler got away nicely scoring two field baskets and playing a nice defensive game. Every member of the Oregon team scored at least once during the first period of the contest.

Eddie Durno appeared on the floor last night, a mass of bandages. Eddie has been suffering from an interesting group of boils and was padded up like a pillow last night. He was so handicapped that he was able to score only one field basket and convert 5 out of 7 fouls. Durno has been dubbed "shrapnel" by some of the local wits as he presented such a torn up appearance.

For the visitors from the city of hills and strikes, Smith and Cook got the gold medals. They both played some nice basketball but like the rest of the players were a little short on "pep." Talbot, who went in at forward for Sohns in the second half, played faster basketball than had been previously noted.

Better Fight Expected Tonight.

Jacobberger, at his new post of guard, played a good defensive game and with Nish Chapman did some nice guarding. Both teams played better ball on the defensive than they did on the offensive last night. The Washington quintet are a mighty clever crew of basketball players and there are two or three among them who are exceptionally big and heavy.

The Washington team should put up a better fight tonight as they will have a day in which to get over their jaunt on the train. The game tonight will start at 7 o'clock and will be followed by a Student body dance in the gymnasium.

The line-up:

Washington, 19. Oregon, 25.
Sohns 4, Talbot 2, F. . . . . Fowler 4
Smith, 5. . . . . F. . . . . Durno, 7

Y. M. SECRETARY NOT NAMED

The new Y. M. C. A. secretary, to take the place left vacant by William F. Vance who has gone to the College of Idaho, Caldwell, Idaho, probably will be announced Monday. Dr. A. E. Caswell, member of the Y. M. board, said this morning. Gale Seaman, Pacific coast secretary, is now in touch with two men in California. He telegraphed Dr. Caswell yesterday that he was investigating possibilities and that he thought he could announce the new secretary Monday.

WOMEN TO PLAY FOR FETE

Evelyn Smith, president of the Woman's Band, announced today that the music for all dancing at the colonial fete would be furnished by the woman's band. Ruth Anne Trezise has recently been appointed the new cornet soloist for the band.

HALLIE HART TEACHING

Hallie Hart, who completed her college course last term, is now teaching English in the high school at Enterprise, Oregon.
