

FAGUY - COTE BEST OF MEN MILLINERS

Wins Prize for Hat Dressing at Faculty Party; Other Features Interesting.

Arthur FAGUY-COTE, of the School of Music, is the most artistic milliner among the men of the faculty, and G. E. FINNERTY, of the School of Music, poorest of the trimmers, according to the judges in a contest which was one of the features of the faculty reunion, held in the Y. M. C. A. hut last night. The faculty wives were much amused by the performances of their spouses with needle and thread. Mr. Cote received a miniature wrist-watch as his prize, and Mr. Finnerty a tin goldfish. Mrs. E. W. Hope received some sort of a prize as the poorest pencil artist among the women present, and Mrs. John Leader and Mrs. D. Walter Morton were judged the most skillful. They drew straws for a valuable prize, and Mrs. Leader won.

New Members Make Speeches.

But there were only a few of the diversions of an evening which drew out more than one hundred of the faculty men and women and their families. Chronologically, the affair began with a basket lunch, which, in the minds of some of those present, perhaps, outranked the other features in interest also. Then came a few addresses from new members of the faculty, with Dean John Straub acting as chairman for the orators and Dean Eric W. Allen giving them an enthusiastic kick-off in a welcoming speech. Those who responded were Professor S. B. Warner, of the School of Law; Professor W. E. Milne, of the mathematics department; George Hopkins, of the School of Music, and G. E. Finnerty, of the School of Education. Edgar B. Van Osdel, the new secretary of the Y. M. C. A., and wears his hair like Bill Vance, his predecessor, also made a few felicitous remarks reflecting his pleasure at coming to Oregon.

Cote Puts On "Camille."

A histrionic surprise came when Mr. Cote, auburn-haired, with flowing white costume, baby-blue beribboned, put over the last act of "Camille" a la Sarah Bernhardt. Even those who could not keep up with his rapid-firing outpouring of the Romance tongue lost little of the spirit of the rendering, and when "Camille" fell full length to the stage, in the "throes of death" there were few who would concede that either Bernhardt or Julian Eltinge had anything on the Oregon man. Mr. Cote's performance was preceded by an explanation of the act, by Mrs. Anna Landsbury Beck. Musical features were contributed by Miss Eleanor Lee, contralto, who sang two solos, and Mr. Robert Louis Barron, violinist, who also played two numbers. George Hopkins was accompanist for both soloists, who were received with enthusiasm.

CLINIC SET FOR FEB. 25

Dr. Charles R. McClure, of Portland, to Give Inspections.

Dr. Charles R. McClure, an orthopedic surgeon of Portland, is going to hold a clinic from 2 to 5 p. m. in the corrective room of the gymnasium next Tuesday, February 25, for the benefit of the class studying the theory and practice of corrective gymnastics. This clinic is open to anyone in the University, town, or surrounding country. Miss Mabel Cummings, who is making appointments for Dr. McClure, announced.

Dr. McClure, who is a practicing surgeon of Portland as well as an instructor in orthopedy in the University of Oregon medical school, will make examination of any cases brought to him, will explain the particular deformity to the class and give advice for treatment. Dr. McClure is a specialist in diseases of the bones, especially deformities, crippling disorders and local paralyses, and it is a great opportunity for the class who are studying in theory and practice of corrective gymnastics to see and hear his diagnosis.

Dr. McClure's consultation is free to everyone, and anyone wishing to talk with him should make appointments with Miss Cummings in her office in the women's gymnasium.

DATE OF COURT CHANGED

Hearings in Law Library Set for Tuesday Evening.

The moot court formerly held on Thursday evenings at 7:30 o'clock in the law library has been permanently changed to Tuesday evenings at the same hour, it was announced by E. W. Hope, dean of the law school, yesterday.

The change became effective today with the case of Courtney vs. Saratoga Regatta Assn. Lyle McCroskey will appear for the plaintiff and Gordon Wells for the defendant.

Walter J. Matson is to be clerk of the court, while the case will be tried before C. J. Hope. The facts upon which the case is based are as follows:

On the first of March, 1895, the defendants published the following advertisement: "Saratoga Regatta, September 1st, 1895. Amateur Champion Race. Open to any four-oared boat. Course four miles. First Prize $750. Entries to be made on or before August 15th." The plaintiff, induced by this announcement, immediately after the publication, organized a club, bought a boat and went into training for the race. In June the defendants decided not to give the advertised prize unless at least five boats entered, and in case there should be fewer than five entries, to substitute a prize of $500. This decision was not communicated to anybody. Three boats were entered, the plaintiff's and two others. On the day of the race these boats had taken position at the starting line when the starter announced that on account of the small number of competitors the prize would be $500 instead of $750. The plaintiff thereupon refused to row and sued the defendants for breach of contract.

APPROPRIATION FOR U. OF O. TRAINING CAMP MEETS BLOW

Salem, Ore., Feb. 18.—The act providing for compulsory military training in the high schools of the state was unfavorably reported by the ways and means committee today, but was saved from defeat in the senate by a motion which sent it to the judiciary committee. Senator Smith of Josephine, chairman of the senate ways and means committee, said his committee did not pass on the merits of the bill, but only on the question of granting an appropriation of $20,000 for establishing an officers' training camp at the University of Oregon. The committee was opposed to granting the appropriation.

The house today passed the anti-patent pavement bill without debate and without a single negative vote. The house has devoted all the rest of its time today to consideration of the $10,000,000 highway bonding bill.

The measure is being read and discussed, section by section.

Salem, Ore., Feb. 18.—Charges of attempted bribery, alleged to have been made by the Warren Construction company to a member of the house; hot words and attempted fights, marked the consideration of the road bonding bill by members of the house today.

Scheubel started the fireworks, following a heated speech by Bean of Eugene. The latter charged that the purpose of the Scheubel amendment was to tie the hands of the highway commission, resulting in only cheap pavement.

CAMPUS ACTIVITIES

Miss Brenda Francklyn, the distinguished visitor on the campus last week in the interest of the French War Orphan relief work, will be guest of the students again this week. She will be entertained at dinner by several of the fraternities during her stay.

The Freshmen are certainly royal entertainers. Last Saturday night at the Glee they were hosts and hostesses at one of the prettiest dances of the year. The guests numbered about six hundred and fifty which is by far the largest crowd that has attended a dance on the campus this year.

This week's society is more or less on the wane until the end of the week when the ladies and gentlemen of a hundred years ago will hold sway at the Colonial assembly in Johnson and Hendricks halls. The plans for this fete are almost entirely completed and it is expected that it will be one of the most effective as well as the most unique affair of the year.

Mr. J. O. Elrod was a dinner guest at the Alpha Phi house Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Coffey from Portland spent the week-end in Eugene with their daughter, Marion Coffey. Mr. Coffey is a representative in the legislature.

Dorothy Manville spent the week-end at her home in Portland.

Nelson Dezendorf and Stephen Smith spent the week-end in Portland.

Dinner guests of Alpha Tau Omega last Sunday were: Patricia Ball, Helen Nelson, Adah McMurphy, Helen Woodcock, Tora Mortensen, Ila Nichols, Lois Macy, Emma Garbade, Anna May Chipping, and Mr. and Mrs. Karl Onthank.

Jay Gore, who is en route to his home in Medford after having been discharged from the service at Camp Lewis, is a guest of his fraternity brothers at the Beta house. Gore will enter college in April.

The pledges and newly initiated members of Delta Delta Delta were charming hostesses at a tea given for the freshmen women of the University. Mrs. James Gilbert and Mrs. A. R. Sweetser presided at the tea table. Flowers were about the rooms and on the tea table. The hostesses of this delightful tea were Tora Anne Mortensen, Lucile Parsons, Blanche Warren, Patricia Ball, Josephine Osterhout, Dorothy Graham and Marianna Dunham.

Sigma Chi entertained Edna Dipple, Marjorie Edsall, Louise Pullman, Margaret Jones, Ruth Nash, Louise Clausen, Alys Sutton and Mrs. Cox at dinner last Sunday.

M. F. Corrigan, of McMinnville, is visiting his daughter, Clara Corrigan.

Sprague Carter and Walter Cofoid were luncheon guests of Kappa Sigma Monday.

Dean and Mrs. Walter Morton, Dr.

and Mrs. E. S. Conklin, Merle Margason and Jay Gore were dinner guests Sunday of Beta Theta Pi.

Don Byrd, of Portland, M. F. Corrigan, of McMinnville, and Elsie Mae Gordon, of the Ellison-White Chautauqua Company, were Sunday dinner guests of Kappa Kappa Gamma.

Dinner guests of Delta Gamma last Sunday were Lee Hubert, Walter Nicol, Douglas Mullarky and Graham Smith.

George Weller, a Kappa Sigma from O. A. C., and Charles Hayter, also of O. A. C., were week-end guests of Kappa Sigma.

President Campbell was a special delegate appointed by Governor Withycombe. Professors Young and DeCou, and Colonel Bowen and Colonel Leader were appointed by President Campbell as special representatives of the University to attend the meeting of the League.
