

CAMPUS DEBATERS BUSY FOR CONTEST TWO WEEKS AWAY

Judges Chosen; Large Amount of Reference Material Compiled.

GIRLS TO ARGUE FIRST; PLACES NOT YET FIXED

Teams Already Picked; Men Not Yet Separated into Negative or Affirmative.

With only two weeks more time, the judges chosen, and large quantities of reference material compiled at the library, the campus debaters are firing up for the second series of doughnut debates.

The judges which have been chosen by the six women's houses competing include the following: Hendricks Hall—Oregon Club debate, R. C. Clark, H. C. Howe and Dean Straub; Gamma Phi Beta—Alpha Phi debate, Carl Ontank, E. W. Allen and D. W. Morton; Pi Beta Phi—Gamma Phi Beta debate, J. H. Gilbert, George Turnbull and W. F. G. Thacher; Kappa Kappa Gamma—Hendricks Hall debate, A. R. Tiffany, H. A. Clark and J. J. Landsbury; Oregon Club—Pi Beta Phi debate, Miss Perkins, F. G. G. Schmidt and Miss Gladys Gorman; Alpha Phi—Kappa Kappa Gamma debate, Dean Walker, Miss Harriet Thomson and E. S. Bates.

It is probable that the men's teams will choose the same judges and inasmuch as the women are going to debate first as they did before, these judges will serve for the men's debate in whatever hall their respective women's teams debated. As yet the places for the debates have not been announced, although Helen Brenton, head of the women's debate league, says that at formerly they will be in six of the largest assembly halls on the campus.

The women's houses have already chosen their affirmative and negative teams which are to compete as follows:

Pi Beta Phi affirmative, Laura Rand and Pearl Craine, versus Gamma Phi Beta, negative which has not been selected as yet.

Gamma Phi Beta affirmative which has not been selected versus Alpha Phi negative, Laura Canning and Elizabeth Hadley.

Kappa Kappa Gamma, affirmative, Mary Evans and Norma Medler versus Hendricks Hall, negative, Ethel Wakefield and Alys Sutton.

Alpha Phi, affirmative, Gwladys Bowen and Dorothy Reed versus Kappa Kappa Gamma, negative, Mary Ellen Bailey and Mildred Apperson.

Hendricks Hall, affirmative, Wanda Daggett and Elaine Cooper versus Oregon Club, negative, Helen Flint and Jessie Todd.

Oregon Club affirmative, Marie Ridings and Grace Knopp versus Pi Beta Phi, negative, Alice Thurston and Clara Calkins.

Although the men's teams have been chosen they have not been separated into affirmative and negative sides. This will probably be done at an early date.

BILL PASSED IN HOUSE

$235,000 Appropriation for University Now Before Senate.

The appropriation bill providing for $235,000 for the University passed the house yesterday without a dissenting vote. The senate will take action very soon on the bill.

Of the $235,000, $135,000 is for maintenance in addition to that provided by the millage tax, and $100,000 is for the new women's building.

Herbert Gordon, formerly of Eugene, who is chairman of the committee on ways and means, explained that the appropriation for the women's building is to match funds raised by private subscription and as fast as sums of $25,000 are raised, the secretary of state is instructed to issue a warrant for a like amount from the appropriation.

Seniors Now Twirl Lip Adornment with Accomplished Hands

"Ah-ha! The villain twirled his mustache and dashed up the steps of the library."

Now let it be said that the villain is a member of the senior class and as all seniors are supposed to be very busy it was quite in order for him to dash madly up the marble front of the state-ly edifice known as the library.

At the top of the library steps the villain stopped and turned around and cast his eagle eye over the assembled multitude. Again he twirled his mustache. Well, why shouldn't he twirl his mustache? Is he not Skinney Newton, and has he not one of the best soap strainers that any member of the senior class can boast?

As he turned around he almost fell over Donald Smythe, who also has a crop of alfalfa just above his food trap. Coming across the campus, the villain entered Friendly hall, where he met Hap Eckerson with his facial decoration of near red. All three of these mentioned above are going strong in the race for honors along mustache lines.

The contest is supposed to run until the next senior class meeting, at which time the members who cannot show more or less of a mustache will be given an opportunity to dip in the briny deep. Now, the seniors were supposed to meet yesterday, but for some reason did not, and the members of the class who are leading the race are of the opinion that someone is framing on them in order that they shall have to wear their foliage all year.

There is also a rumor, deep and dark, that some members of the class have Bolsheviked on the order of things and have shaved. Chuck Comfort, it is said, is one who is guilty of this breach, and neither "Bearcap" Grey nor "Cape" Spangler has shown any sign of life on the upper lip, and some are vain enough to say that they are shaving daily in order to impress the students with their youth.

$500,000 TO BE SPENT ON NEW BUILDINGS

Need for Science Quarters and Auditorium may be Met by Board.

The sum of $500,000 to be spent in new buildings on the University of Oregon campus is one of the provisions of the bill passed by the state senate yesterday, February 21, providing for the expenditure of $3,000,000 of the $5,000,000 reconstruction bond issue, which is to be submitted to the people for their approval at the next general election, June 3, $500,000 was also given to the Oregon Agricultural College.

"On account of the rate at which the enrollment of the University is increasing the most pressing need is for a new class room building," said Karl Ontank, secretary to the president. "There are plans in construction for a number of new buildings, many more than $500,000 will build. There is an urgent need for a new Science building as well as for a new auditorium. No definite plans have been made as to which building we shall have first or where it shall be on the campus."

The joint committee on ways and means of the house of representatives appropriated the sum of $235,000 for the University, $100,000 of which will go to the Woman's building, providing that the students by large subscriptions raise an equal amount. If they fail to do this an amount equal to the one they raise will be given in lump sums of $25,000, according to Mr. Ontank. The $135,000 will go for maintenance purposes and for current expenses.

MISS HAIR IN NEW YORK

Miss Mozelle Hair, secretary of the University extension division, left Eugene the first of the week, on a leave of absence, for New York, where she will study social secretarial work under the Y. W. C. A. Miss Hair expects to be gone about two months, when she will return and resume her position with the extension division. No one will be appointed to fill her place during her absence.

THREE STUDENTS WIN ADMISSION TO SCIENCE CLUB

Ada Hall, Clyde Mason and George Taylor Recognized For Scholarship.

Ada Hall, '18, and two seniors in the science department, Clyde W. Mason and George W. Taylor, have just been elected to honorary membership in the Science club of the University in pursuance of a new policy agreed upon at a recent meeting of the club. Hereafter not only faculty members but also interested students of science will be eligible to honorary membership in the organization.

The new plan is to elect each year a limited number of students, usually graduates or seniors, who have shown high scholarship and who are interested in scientific research. "This election is a recognition of high degree," said Dr. E. L. Packard, secretary of the organization, "since it means the fullest appreciation of the science faculty for the scholarship and achievements of the students."

Miss Hall Publishes Works.

Miss Hall graduated from the University last year and is now on the campus as a candidate for a master's degree. She has already published several papers on scientific subjects and is now investigating the regeneration of the nerve cord in earth worms. Mason is a senior in the science department and assistant in chemistry. He was given entire charge of the chemistry classes last summer during the absence of Professor O. F. Stafford. Taylor is a senior in the physics department.

The Science club of the University was organized in 1914 by members of the science faculty with the purpose of stimulating research among its members. A public meeting is held on the third Tuesday night in each month of the school year at which some member of the science faculty presents a research paper on a topic in which he is particularly interested or some prominent scientist, out side of the University, is invited to speak.

Based on Scholarship.

During the past year qualifications for student membership in the club were not clearly defined, elections being based upon recommendations of members of the various departments. According to the new plan student honor memberships are based upon scholarship and real or prospective scientific achievement.

Y. M. C. CABINET TO ENLARGE

Plans Being Made for Representation of Various Houses for Bible Study.

Plans for enlarging the Y. M. C. A. cabinet for the purpose of representing the various houses and dormitory on the campus for the Bible discussion classes and plans for election of officers for the coming year were made at the meeting of the Y. M. C. A. cabinet Thursday evening in the Hut.

A new constitution was adopted principally for the purpose of enlarging the cabinet. In other respects the constitution is like the old one with a few revisions.

Elections will be held within the next two weeks, according to Warren Gilbert, cabinet secretary. A nominating committee has been appointed with Elmo Madden, chairman and Lyle Bain, Harris Ellsworth and Sprague Carter, assistants.

DOUGHNUT HANDBALL ON

Winners are Oregon Club, Fijis, Kappa Sigs and Delta Taus.

Doughnut handball got under way this week with the Oregon club winning the first game from the Delta Tau Delta team on Tuesday. The Oregon club won two straight sets. On Wednesday the Fijis beat the Kappa Sigs 2 to 1. The Kappa Sigs came back on Friday and took two straight sets from the Sigma Chis.

The Delta Tau team broke into the win column Friday when they beat the Betas in two sets. The handball league was somewhat slow getting started but the two leagues should finish playing this month.

UNIVERSITY PUTS ON QUAINT GARB FOR FETE TONIGHT

Tableaux Rehearsal Brings this Feature to Prominent Place.

With the arrival of Washington's birthday came the transformation of the campus into a quaint colonial picture. Old Windsor chairs, mahogany tables, colonial davenport, Turkish rugs, candlesticks, and huge bowls of old fashioned laurestine bedek the reception rooms, making them look as if they surely must belong to some eighteenth century mansion. On the stage of the Y. M. C. A. but is a gilded picture frame draped with a curtain of old blue to form the setting for the tableaux, which are copies of old English masterpieces portrayed by a group of University maids.

The costumes for the tableaux were sent from Portland and Seattle. Mrs. John Leader was very charming at the rehearsal in a lovely rose and black costume as Ann Chesterfield, a Gainsborough copy. Patty French as the Parson's Daughter, was also very picturesque with her powdered hair and curls.

Prominent among the guests from Portland are Miss Frances Gill and Miss Adele Dyatt who give a part of the assembly program. Miss Gill is giving a group of Italian and French musical numbers and she is assisted by Miss Dyatt at the piano. Her program is as follows:

- Italian group:
 - MinuetBocherine
 - PassepiedGrillet
- French group:
 - SonataSemaille
 - In a BoatDebussy
 - Little ShepherdDebussy
 - RevelryDebussy

Miss Gill is also giving readings from her published book called "The Little Days."

The tickets for the assembly have sold well according to Mellie Parker, business manager, but no estimate has been made yet as to the number sold.

ALUMNI PROUD OF OREGON

Louise Bailey Stam Writes of Need of Physical Training in South.

In a letter to Miss Mabel Cummings, head of the physical training department for women, Mrs. Louise Bailey Stam, '18, who is with her husband, Lieutenant H. Bently Stam, in Augusta, Georgia, says that she is mighty proud of the physical training department at the University and also glad to be a graduate of the school.

Mrs. Stam says that the south seems to be totally lacking along physical training lines. The children there are pale looking and stooped, she writes. It makes one want to get a hold of them. They are not even compelled to attend school, and one could see boys and girls on the streets during school time who should be in school. The cotton mills there employ children over 12 years of age in their factories.

Mrs. Stam says that when she meets graduates from Smith, Sargent and other schools she realizes what a complete course is offered to physical education majors in the University, considering the size and equipment of the school.

FACULTY MEN WILL MEET

Athletics to Be Considered Monday; New Gym to Be Visited.

Athletics for the faculty will be considered at a special meeting of the faculty men in Dean Straub's room at 4 o'clock Monday afternoon. Immediately after the meeting those present will make a survey of the new faculty gymnasium. Preliminary arrangements for faculty use of the new facilities are in the hands of a committee made up of Dr. W. D. Smith, Dr. J. H. Gilbert, Prof. S. B. Warner, Prof. W. F. G. Thacher and Prof. H. C. Howe.

Villianous Burglar Turns Rescuer and Saves Four Ladies

What are locked doors to a burglar? They are as nothing—this was most admirably disclosed by the little episode which took place in the basement of Johnson hall the other night at a late hour.

Three would-be actors had assembled in the gray room in the basement to rehearse for a one-act skit. With them they had taken two kind souls who had agreed to serve as audience and critic in one. Out of this congenial party of five, but one was a man. He took the villainous role of the burglar of the play.

The rehearsal had gone well, the audience started to leave, when lo! they found the doors were locked.

Slowly the cold truth dawned upon them. The diligent night watchman had been on his rounds.

Visions of a chilly night in the hall loomed before their minds.

"They groped their way back through long passages and dark halls to the room they had started from.

Heavens! it was locked. They pounded loudly, but only the hollow echo of their efforts reverberated mockingly at them.

Hurriedly they gained the top of the stairs again and this time a door slowly opened and friend burglar stepped out of the room leading to the stage.

He had crawled up a ladder through the stage trap door instead of following the rest of the cast.

The four ladies jumped promptly, not to say courageously from a window and were free at last.

Need we speak of our dramatic burglar in terms of "our hero"? We think he received enough praise at the time, for had he gone out the gray room door with the others—it was locked on the outside—they would have spent the night in Johnson hall with the scholastic records and geology rocks.

WOMEN'S LEAGUE PLANS APRIL FROLIC

Committee Named for Event; Final Arrangements Made For Colonial Assembly.

Finishing touches were put on the plans for the colonial assembly and a committee to begin work on the arrangements for April Frolic was appointed at the meeting of Women's League yesterday at 5 o'clock in Villard Hall.

Dean Ehrman talked enthusiastically on the tableaux and plays to be given this evening and encouraged the co-operation and attendance of every member of Women's League at the assembly. Gladys Hollingsworth emphasized the courtesies that the women should pay to their guests for the occasion; and Mellie Parker, chairman of the finance committee, took up the business end of the assembly in her report and urged that the sub-committees have all their tickets sold before the assembly.

The April Frolic committee which was appointed by Harriett Garrett, vice president of the league and manager of the coming event, is as follows: Helen McDonald, chairman, Marion Coffey, Vivian Chandler, Helen Brenton, Mary Irving, Alice Thurston, Mabel Weller.

The frolic has been definitely scheduled for the twelfth of April according to Nell Reidt, who made arrangements with Dean Ehrmann for having that date released by several of the fraternities, that had planned social engagements for that evening.

A report was made by Frances Elizabeth Baker, chairman of the sponsor-ship dance which was given in the men's gymnasium last month. The amount cleared by the women at this time was a little over eleven dollars and this was voted toward representing the league in the Oregon.

OREGON FIVE WINS TWICE FROM W.S.C., THEN BEATS IDAHO

Scores 38 to 28 and 43 to 21 at Pullman and 27 to 26 at Moscow.

OREGON NOW HEADS LIST OF NORTHWEST TEAMS

Games With Aggies Next Week Will Decide Title of State.

After having defeated the Washington State College basketball team in the first game of the series at Pullman, Wednesday evening, by the score of 38 to 28, the Oregon five came back strong in the second game Thursday evening and came out with the long end of a 43 to 27 score. The two victories scored over Washington almost makes the local five the champions of the Northwest section of the Pacific coast conference.

Not satisfied with the victory over the Washington Staters, the Oregon team stepped over into Idaho and took a game from the State University last night by the score of 27 to 26. The Idaho team is one of the best in the Northwest and has been contending that they were the real champions of the Northwest. Oregon won the game at Moscow by two points as a result of the personal fouls called on members of the Idaho team.

Oregon has been going a million during the week on the road, and if they can keep up the good work it will be certain for the rest of the contenders for the championships. Without taking all of the joy out of life it might be said that if the Aggies trim the two games here next week-end the Washington State College will have the championship.

Durno Makes 63 Points

In the second game Durno scored 35 points, which gave him a total of 63 points for the series with W. S. C. As Oregon's total points scored were only 81, Eddie had the lion's share of the festivity. The Oregon team outplayed the Washington Staters in both games and while a great deal of credit must be given to Durno, the whole team worked well and got away nicely.

Oregon is now at the top of the list in the Northwest, having won seven games and lost three. Second rung in the ladder is held by W. S. C. with six wins and four defeats. If the Aggies are able to win both of the contests here the championship will go to Washington. The O. A. C. team is going to bend every effort to score a win or two over the varsity this week-end, as they would rather beat Oregon in basketball than eat. The Corvallis team is a strong aggregation and they may be able to put it over Oregon. One thing is certain, and that is that the Corvallis men will bend every effort to do so and will put up two of the strongest games that the local fans have had a chance to witness in some time.

Winners to Play California

If Oregon is able to dispose of the two contests with the Aggies the way they ought to go they will be in line for a jaunt to the sunny shores of California, where they will clash with the winners of the California state championship for the championship of the Pacific coast.

The varsity will return to the campus Sunday evening and will have a week of good practice before the final two games of the conference. There is only one thing that may beat the local team, and that is cockiness. The team has been going good, but if they let it go to their heads it is certain for the chances for the championship. The games with O. A. C. are not going to be any pink tea affairs and the varsity will have to get down and dig.

ADVISER'S MEETING CALLED

A meeting of lower-division advisers has been called for next Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock in Dean Straub's room. The group system and any suggested amendments to it will be up for consideration, and a full attendance is desired by the faculty. The result of the consideration given will be reported back to the faculty at its regular meeting a week from next Wednesday.
