

EXTENSION SESSION IN PORTLAND BEGINS

Second Term Opened Monday; Larger Registration Expected.

The second term of the Portland branch of the University extension division started this week. Registration began Monday and will continue till the first of March, when classes will begin.

A much larger registration is expected this term. Because of the influenza situation last term it was difficult for the classes to keep together, and several of the registrants dropped their work.

The schedule of studies is about the same as offered last term. Two art courses offered by Miss Esther Wuest, art instructor, Composition and Description and Free Hand Drawing, and an education course, Childhood and Education, by Dr. H. D. Sheldon, dean of the school of education, will not continue.

New courses offered this term, are Nineteenth Century French Literature, and American Statesmen, by Dr. E. S. Bates, professor of rhetoric and American literature. Dr. B. W. DeBusk, professor of secondary education, will give two of the new courses this term, Hygiene of Learning and Child Welfare Problems.

more will have the privilege of naming one of the memorial tablets on the building either for himself or for some one dear to the giver. Smaller gifts will be tabulated in panels of artistic lettering, which will be a part of the decorative scheme. Those up to the present, who will name tablets on the building are President and Mrs. P. L. Campbell in memory of Mary Crafton Campbell, Portland association of collegiate alumnae, Eugene Fortnightly Club, Eugene association of collegiate alumnae, Eugene Oregon alumnae, Portland Pan-Hellenic society, Oregon congress of mothers and parent teacher association, Mrs. C. A. Dolph, in memory of C. A. Dolph, Mrs. Phoebe Hearst, of California, Daughters of the American Revolution, Mary Hendricks Chambers, Eugene (graduation gift), Mrs. S. H. Friendly and family of Eugene, in memory of the late S. H. Friendly, Carl Washburne, George McMorran and the Women's League also pledged $500. There is in addition, an anonymous pledge for this amount from a resident of Eugene.

As the women's league is one of the largest and most important of the federated clubs in the state, the Oregon Federation of Women's clubs has rallied to the support of these young women and has appointed a committee of seven women, headed by Mrs. Roy T. Bishop of Pendleton, to collect money for the fund.

COLLEADER DEFENDS FLAG

Succeeds in Having Stars and Stripes Lowered at Night in Hillsboro.

Lieutenant-Colonel John Leader, of the Royal Irish Rifles, is not a citizen of the United States, but just the same it always riles him to see anything that looks like disrespect for the flag of this country. Recently, while on a trip in connection with military affairs, he had an opportunity to do some missionary work for the flag at Hillsboro. The Independent of that place describes the Colonel's activities as follows:

Colonel John Leader, of the U. of O. military department, who visited Hillsboro last week, was a guest of L. M. Hoyt, who attended officers' second school under the direction of the colonel. When going to Mr. Hoyt's home he noted the condition of the flag on the court house and commented on it somewhat caustically. Contrary to regulations the flag has been permitted to remain continuously on the staff day and night and has been whipped by the winter winds into a remnant.

OREGON WOMAN A RADICAL

Louise Bryant Called Before Senate Propaganda Probers.

An Oregon graduate, Louise Bryant, class of 1908 and a well-known leader in the literary set in Portland, is the wife of John Reed, ex-Portland, who was employed in the propaganda department of the Bolshevik government.

Miss Bryant, as she is known, was a participant in the women's party demonstrations in Washington, including the attempt to burn President Wilson in effigy before the White House.

Since her return from Russia recently, where she went as correspondent for the Philadelphia Public Ledger, she has given all her time to magazine work and to radical propaganda.

Recently she has lectured in Washington and other eastern cities on "The Truth About Russia." The lecture, according to press reports, is an attempted defense of Bolshevism.

When questioned before the senate propaganda investigation committee in Washington Thursday, Miss Bryant said she had credentials from the Metropolitan Magazine, The Philadelphia Ledger, Seven Arts and Every Week when she went to Russia.

WOMEN'S BUILDING WILL PROFIT $125 BY COLONIAL PARTY

Leader and a group of University maids. The costumes came from Portland and Seattle. As the lights were flashed on each living picture many murmurs of admiration were overheard from the spectators and each tableau brought a round of applause. Those appearing in the tableaux were Mrs. Leader, Emma Wootton Hall, Josephine Connors, Pearl Craine, Irva Smith, Helen McAllister, Phebe Gage, Iris Blewett, Mildred Garland, Irene Stewart, Alys Sutton, Patty French, Genevieve Dicky and Dorothy Stine.

Dances Given by Class.
The minuet, exquisitely sedate, was danced gracefully by Maud Lombard, Melba Williams, Virginia Hales, Marion Coffey, Luceil Morrow and Lella Marsh, all members of the advanced dancing class under the direction of Miss Catharine Winslow. The girls were charming in their gayly colored colonial gowns.

The gavotte danced by Luceil Morrow and Vida McKinney, who manipulated their large fans gracefully throughout the dance was exquisitely done and inspired a burst of applause as did also the Pas De Deux danced by Virginia Hales, Marion Coffey, Lella Marsh and Luceil Morrow.

The songs sung by Miss Eleanor Lee, instructor of voice, Melba Williams, Mildred Blaker, Marion Gilstrap and Beulah Keagy, and the women's glee club, as well as the poems read by Miss Frances Gill, of Portland, all contributed to the success of the program.

Women's Band Play.

At Hendricks Hall the visitors were whirled into another environment. There, during the latter part of the evening many of the younger University set and several of the faculty members tripped gaily to the strains of modern dance music furnished by the women's band under the direction of Albert Perfect. Dressed in white, the young women made an attractive picture in a corner of the big drawing room.

EXAMS TO BEGIN MARCH 19

Spring Vacation to Start March 22; New Term on March 31.

March 19, 20, and 21, are the days set for examinations according to the announcement of A. R. Tiffany, registrar. The spring vacation will begin on March 22 and continue until March 30. The students in residence will probably register before the end of the term. With only four weeks between now and examinations many windows that have been dark will begin to glimmer with the light of the midnight oil as the students "crum" their examinations.
