

RECITAL AUDIENCE OVERFLOWS HALL

Mr. Cote and Mr. Barron Delight with Vocal and Violin Selections.

Guild Hall Proved incapable of accommodating the throngs of University and towns people who attended the joint recital of Robert Louis Barron, violinist, and Arthur Faguy-Cote, baritone, Sunday afternoon. The program was comparatively short, and many who could not secure seats were content with standing room in the corridor and stairways of Johnson Hall.

All the selections of the afternoon were classical and many of them were well known favorites. Mr. Barron especially presented familiar numbers, such as the Minuet in "G" by Beethoven and the Hungarian Dance No. 5 by Brahms. Mr. Faguy-Cote favored the audience with only three songs and two brief encores, which sharply whetted the artistic taste of his hearers.

"Ah, Moon of My Delight" (Persian Garden), by Liza Lehmann was presented by Mr. Faguy-Cote with delightful variation of voice. Especially marked in this number were the harmonic tones which Mr. Cote took with an ease and clearness that completely captivated his audience. "Philosophy," by David Emmell and "Nothin' But Love" by Carrie Jacobs-Bond were his encores.

The program follows:
Concerto No. 4 in D Major.....Mozart
Allegro
Andante Cantabile
Rondeau

Mr. Barron.
(a) Romance (from Ariadne 1798).....Mehul
(b) Quand la Flamme de l'Amour-Bizet
Mr. Faguy-Cote.

(a) Walther's Prize Song.....Wagner-Wilhelmj
(b) Minuet in "G".....Beethoven-Barron
(c) Moment Musical.....Schubert-Kreisler
(d) Hungarian Dance No. 5.....Brahms-Joachim

Mr. Barron.
Ah! Moon of My Delight (Persian Garden).....Liza Lehmann
Mr. Faguy-Cote.

Ciaccona.....Vitali
Mr. Faguy-Cote.
Mrs. Faguy-Cote at the piano for Mr. Faguy-Cote.
Mr. George Hopkins at the piano for Mr. Barron.

JUNIOR COMMITTEE PLANNING PICNIC

Forced to Abandon Lottery Dance Idea; No Obtainable Date.

The juniors brought up the question of having the junior picnic in place of the lottery dance which had been under consideration at the class meeting held in Professor Howe's room in Villard Hall, Wednesday, because a date for the dance could not be obtained. Harry Jamieson, class president, appointed a committee with Merl Margason, chairman; Bula Smith, Jeannette Moss and Lyle McCroskey to look into the matter and arrange for a definite time and program.

A committee to look into junior weekend was also appointed by Jamieson. Lindsay McArthur was appointed chairman of the committee. The other members are: Jack Dundore, Mildred Garland and Marjorie Kay.

Jamieson made the announcement that many of the members had not paid their class dues and that this must be done at once in order that the junior treasury may be replenished.

An announcement was made by Dorothy Dunway that about 12 juniors had not had their pictures taken for the Oregon so far and she urged the members of the class to watch The Emerald for announcements when the next time pictures will be taken.

President Campbell spoke to the members of the class urging them, as upperclassmen, to keep up the good regular work which has been done by the majority of students this past term.

FRESHMEN HEAR DEANS

Dean Ehrmann and Dean Straub spoke to the members of the freshmen class at the class meeting yesterday morning in Villard hall. Dean Ehrmann commended the freshmen girls for the way in which they stood behind her in helping make the colonial assembly the success it was.

"The boys on the campus are not tipping their hats as they should," said Dean Ehrmann. She said that she wished that they would return to their old habit of performing this little courtesy to the girls. She also spoke of the habit the students have of saying "hello" to the faculty members when meeting them. Dean Straub corroborated this and added that several members of the faculty objected to being thus addressed.

MEETING AT HUT SUNDAY

Dr. Ream, Prominent Methodist Church Official, to Speak at 2:30.

Dr. G. Franklin Ream, head of the life service department of the great Centenary movement in the Methodist church, will speak to the University students at the Y. M. C. A. hut, Sunday afternoon at 2:30.

Dr. Ream was at one time religious secretary of the board of education of the Methodist church. He is a member of a party of six men from New York and Philadelphia, who are speaking to all the students of the universities and colleges in the United States.

There will be two services held in Eugene Sunday. Dr. Ream will speak at the Methodist church in the morning and at the University in the afternoon.

Negative Team Wins with Decision of 5 to 1.

The negative team, composed of Frances Stiles and Inga Winter, won a decision of five to one over the affirmative team, made up of Ruth Cowan and Ruth Nash, on the question, "Resolved, that compulsory old age insurance should be established in the United States," at the meeting of the Forum last evening in Johnson hall.

It was generally agreed that the negative speakers had an advantage over their opponents in that the judges were prejudiced young women who boldly flaunted no fear of old age.

Marie Badura and Alice Thurston were appointed to assist Harriet Garrett in arranging programs for the future meetings. The next program is to be a topical discussion on matters pertaining to the league of nations. The topics are to be drawn by lottery at the beginning of the meeting.

New members taken into the organization last night were: Ruth Griffin, Winifred Hopson, Ruth Nash and Mabel Black.

ROSENBERG COMING BACK

Architecture Instructor will Show Sketches He made in France.

Louis C. Rosenberg, instructor in the University school of architecture two years ago, who has been with a camouflage unit attached to a company of engineers in France for the past six months arrived in Portland recently. He will visit the campus March 12 and bring with him a collection of his war sketches which will be put on exhibition in the studio of the architecture building.

"Mr. Rosenberg spent his free moments with a sketch pad," said Dean E. F. Lawrence who saw Mr. Rosenberg in Portland last week, "and his hurried impressions of life at the front are no less than remarkable. He intends to convert his sketches into etchings later."

The architecture club is planning a jury day for March 12 and Dean Lawrence has asked Mr. Rosenberg to act as one of the judges of the work. A clever entertainment is also being worked up by the school for this date.

ASSEMBLY HONORS LEADER

Colonel John Leader was elected Tuesday as honorary colonel of the state guard in recognition of his services in connection with the military work of the University of Oregon when final action was taken by the state senate. The house of representatives had previously passed the resolution. There was no opposition in either house.

Colonel Leader, who is a retired colonel of the British army and a veteran of the Somme fighting, where he was gassed and severely wounded, came to the University in January, 1917. He was made commandant of the University battalion, and acted as commandant of the summer training camps conducted at the University for the business men of the state last year.

CAMPUS ACTIVITIES

The seniors in the Department of Physical Education were hostesses Tuesday at a luncheon given at the Hotel Osburn in honor of Dr. Charles R. McClure, orthopedic surgeon of Portland. The girls entertaining were Mabel Laing, Melba Williams, Frances Elizabeth Baker, Ella Dews, Marion Coffey, Gretchen Colton, Emily Spulak, Sophia Hunter, Maud Lombard and Virginia Hales.

Guests at this luncheon were Dr. Charles McClure, guest of honor, and Dr. S. M. Kerron, Dr. G. S. Beardsley, Dr. C. W. Southworth, President and Mrs. P. L. Campbell, Gladys Conklin, health supervisor in the Eugene public schools, Miss Mabel Louise Cummings, Miss Harriet Thompson and Miss Gladys Gorman.

Saturday night after the Colonial Assembly members of Gamma Phi Beta were hostesses to a number of guests at a delightful supper party at the chapter house. The house was decorated in shades of lavender, carrying out the general season's colonial idea, and the guests were seated at small tables at supper.

Those enjoying Gamma Phi's hospitality were: Mrs. W. B. Boughton of Portland, Doris Dezendorf, Lenore Blasing, Frances Landsberry and Jennie Parelus, also of Portland, and Philena Bartlett of Astoria; and Walter Cofoid, Howard Staub, Charles Robertson, Charles Huggins, Vincent Jacobberger, Carl Newberry, John Holden, Sydney Haslip, Carl Nelson, Robert McNary, Lyle Bain, Charles Comfort, Wesley Shattuck, Nelson Dezendorf, Kenneth Comstock, Martin Parelus, Wyndham Buren, William Hollenbeck, Paul Farrington, Harold Gray, Wolcott Buren, Arthur Ritter, Glen Stanton, Walter Nichols, Richard Martin, Luckey Bonney, Phil Owens, William Smith, Merle Margason, Vern Dudley, Stanley Anderson, Lieutenant Duncan Nease and Arthur Woodcock.

Delta Gamma seniors entertained for the junior members of the chapter and their guests at a George Washington supper Sunday evening. The commemoration of Washington's birthday was carried out in the table decorations by red candle shades in the shape of cockade hats and tiny red candy hatchets marked the places for the guests. The juniors and their guests were Ruth Nash, Irene Rader, Reba Macklin, Rena Adam, Luceil Morrow, Beatrice Yorlan, Clementina Cameron, Mildred Aumiller, Era Godfrey, Leslie Schwing, Dwight Parr, Lloyd Tegart, Harry Jamieson, Wilbur Carl, Harold Newton, George Hopkins, Douglas Mullarky, Ray Hempy.

Kappa Sigma fraternity has held initiation for the following men: Leo O'Rourke, Henry Koepke, Elston Ireland, Ralph Burgess, Francis Beller, David Baird, Eugene Boylen, Richard Sundeleaf, and Louis Dundore. Old Kappa Sigs back for initiation were Earl Bronaugh, Kenneth Robinson, Don Robinson, John Hunt, Earl Wilson and Del Stannard. After the ceremonies the initiates were the guests of honor at a banquet

BASEBALL GIRLS CALLED

Inter-House Contests Dependent on Turnout, Says Miss Gorman.

"Let's have more girls come out for baseball practice," is the cry of Miss Gladys Gorman, coach. Unless a larger number of girls turn out there will be no interfraternity contests, Miss Gorman has said. The girls must learn the rules of the game before any series of games is attempted and doing this calls for faithful practice at every opportunity and not an occasional dropping in to play for perhaps only one evening.

If a series of games is played, it will probably be among the Oregon club, the Alpha Phi and the Kappa Kappa Gamma. Each of these organizations is fairly well represented, and promises to furnish enough material for good teams. Alice Evans, Virginia Hales, Maud Lombard and Dorothy Reed, are all showing up well.

Miss Gorman feels that there is no reason, other than the lack of interest, why girls living so near the campus do not turn out and work for interfraternity games.

at the Chapter House. The fraternity colors, scarlet, green and white were used in the decorative scheme.

Florence Sherman spent a few hours in Eugene Saturday evening while on her way to Ashland where she will teach in the junior high school. Miss Sherman, who is a member of last year's graduating class, has been taking a nurse's course at Camp Lewis since last October. She is a member of Gamma Phi Beta sorority.

Jennie Parelus, ex-'21, spent last week end as a guest of her sorority sisters at the Gamma Phi house.

Dinner guests of Gamma Phi Beta Sunday were Richard Avison, Stan Anderson, Earl Wilson, Frances Beller, Eugene Boylen, Harold Staub, Nelson Dezendorf, Lieutenant Duncan Nease, Arthur Woodcock and Martin Parelus.

Hubert Fortmiller of Albany was a guest at the Sigma Chi house last weekend.

Earl Murphy, '17, of Portland, was on the campus Monday visiting his fraternity brothers at the Delta Tau Delta house and other friends.

Lois Cowgill of Oakland, Oregon, spent the week-end at the Pi Phi house.

Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Chambers, Mrs. George Gerlinger, Dean Louise Ehrmann, Mrs. Everett Ames, Mrs. S. H. McCollister, and Lois Cowgill were Sunday dinner guests of Pi Beta Phi.

WAR POETRY DISCUSSED

Members of Eutaxian Hear of Lives, Work of Service, Brooks, Royce.

The reading of war poetry and the discussion of the leading poets of the war were the topics given by members at the meeting of the Eutaxian literary society Tuesday evening in the Y. W. C. A. bungalow.

The lives of Alfred Noyes, Rupert Brooke, and Robert Service were given a brief review by Lois Laughlin.

Lucile Redmond read some of the works of Rupert Brooke and Robert Service. At the next meeting of the society, March 11, there will be poems of the war read by Lucile Redmond, Grace Hammerstrom and Ethel Waite.

Y. W. BANQUET MARCH 12

Attendance of Near 300 Girls at Hotel Osburn Expected.

The annual banquet of the Y. M. C. A. is to be held at the Hotel Osburn March 12. The Y. W. C. A. of the University now has 351 members and preparations are being made by the committee for an attendance of 300 girls. This banquet is always considered one of the events of the college year and at the banquet last year there was an attendance of 200, out of a membership considerably smaller than this year's. Mabel Weller is general chairman of the banquet and working under her as heads of the various committees are Beatrice Wetherbee, chairman of the invitation committee and Lillian Auld and Ella Rawlings, chairman of the decoration committee.

Waist Seam Suits

Are The Latest Styles for Spring

The most fashionable suits for spring are the new waist seam styles—they show the most advance and most authentic tendencies. You will find these new creations in our early showing. Special attention is directed to the Hart Schaffner and Marx suits, in the smart waist line and fancy pockets. We have them in the new browns, greens, blues and other desirable shades.

These suits are essentially young men's suits—that youthful appearance every careful dresser demands. They are absolutely "right" in style; the materials are of unquestionable quality; the tailoring is unsurpassed.
