The breakfast for senior girls will be given on Saturday morning, May 17, at the home of Mrs. P. L. Campbell. All senior girls will be escorted by underclass girls, and all underclass girls and juniors will be in charge of serving the breakfast. This affair will be the last one given by the underclass girls in honor of the seniors, and this year especially it will be one of the most important events among the women.

Mrs. G. W. Phelps who has been visiting her daughter, Margaret, at the Kappa Alpha Theta house for the past week, returned to her home in Pendleton Wednesday morning.

Junior Week-end is starting today with the canoe fete tonight and dances at most of the woman's fraternity houses afterward. Socially, this week-end is the most prominent one of the college year, and students devote their best efforts toward making it successful. Already guests are gathered on the campus.

Imogene Letcher was the house guest of Geraldine Pilkington at the Theta house the first of this week.

Stan Anderson and Harris Ellsworth were Wednesday evening dinner guests of Hendricks Hall.

The Misses Prudence and Jane Talbot, of Portland, are spending a week with their aunt, Miss Gertrude Talbot at Hendricks Hall.

Mary Moore and Miss Elinor Allen of Ashland, members of their high school debating team, are guests of Hendricks Hall.

At a prettily appointed dinner at the Gamma Phi Beta house Tuesday night, Bula Smith announced her engagement to Herold White, while at te same time Mr. White was announcing the engagement to his fraternity brothers at the Beta Theta Pi house. Although several of Miss Smith's friends suspected the engagement, there was nothing to tell the news until little Miss Nellie Petelle came into the dining room carrying a large brown basket filled with dainty old-fashioned corsage bouquets. After each girl had been given the flowers, Mrs. Hamilton Weir, Gamma Phi Beta chaperone, told them they might read the inclosed announcement. Miss Smith and Mr. White are members of the junior class and Mr. White has been very active in Student Body affairs this year, being president of the Student Body.

Chi Omega guests for Junior week-end are Jane McLeod, Hallie Smith, Arline Cameron, Joyce Ball, Lucille McClung, Helen Cattron, Beatrice Reno, Gloria Collinson, and Mrs. Doris Plummer Barnes.

Miss Lotta Holloper has as week-end guests at Hendriks Hall her mother and small brother, John.

EUGENE STUDENTS ATTENTION
There is need for places for 60 of Oregon's Junior Week-end guests to stay over the week-end. These men will all be high school men who will be in Eugene as guests of the University and places for them to stay must be had. All students living outside of fraternity houses and dormitories are asked to aid in looking after the entertainment of these men, in any way possible. If you can give a visitor half of your bed or all of it and you sleep on the front room lounge, or if you can aid in any other way, phone Dean Walker immediately or as soon as possible.

CAMPUS OFFICES FAIL TO ATTRACT MANY ASPIRANTS

For Senior Women

For the two senior women on the student council Dorothy Duniway, and Margaret Mansfield were nominated. Miss Duniway is present news editor of the Emerald and campus correspondent for the Oregonian. She has also been a member of the Emerald staff both the other two years of college. Miss Mansfield is now vice-president of the junior class and has been manager of the girls' glee club on their tour this fall.

Nominees for the three senior men places on the council were Elmo Madden, Chester Adams, Curtiss Peterson and Harry Jamison. Madden is associate editor of this year's Oregana and is the newly elected president of the campus Y. M. C. A. Adams and Peterson are both well known on the campus, Peterson being manager of this year's Oregana. He was also lieutenant in the S. A. T. C. at the University of Washington during the summer and fall. Jamison is president of the junior class and class chairman of Junior Week-end.

For the two places on the council for junior men four men have been nominated. Johnny Houston, yell leader, a member of the band and orchestra, member of the varsity baseball team and a member of "What Happened to Jones" east, is well known on the campus. He is also an honor student. Eddie Durno is a member of the varsity basketball, football and baseball teams. Alexander Brown is sport correspondent for the Oregonian, and sport writer for the Emerald. He is a member of Sigma Delta Chi. George Beggs is prominent in campus tennis.

For Junior Women

Nominees for the junior women on the council are Grace Rugg who is a member of the executive committee of the women's athletic association and is active in basketball, and Ella Rowlings, a prominent worker of the Y. W. C. A. cabinet, and president of Tre-Nu. For the office of sophomore on the council, Raymond Lawrence and Carl Newberry were nominated. Lawrence has been a member of the Emerald staff as a reporter all year.

For members of the athletic council only two men were announced as candidates for the three offices. They are Dow Wilson and Hank Foster. Wilson is active in baseball and in football and Foster is a well known track man.

For Oregana Places

Stella Sullivan and Helen Manning are the candidates for the next editor of the Oregana. Miss Sullivan is a sophomore, a major in journalism and has been a member of the Emerald staff during her two years in school. Miss Manning is also a sophomore and has been on the Emerald her two years in school being the only freshman woman on the reporting staff to win an Emerald "O" last year. She edited the fraternity section of the Oregana this year.

For manager of the Oregana Harris Ellsworth is the only candidate. Ellsworth is the business manager of the Emerald and edited the publication department in the Oregana.

MISS LEE'S VOICE CHARMS AUDIENCE

Mr. Evans' Accompaniments and Solos Add Delight to Recital

Miss Eleanor Lee, contralto and instructor in the University school of music, never sang with more charm and assurance than she did at her recital last night before a well representative audience of University and townspeople at the First Methodist church. Due to Miss Lee's gracious manner, a delightful, friendly atmosphere was created throughout the audience and the accompaniments by John Stark Evans, of the school of music, inspired confidence and ease. Mr. Evans also favored the audience with a group of piano solos.

Contrast and variety of selections were evident in Miss Lee's program, which opened with two interesting groups of French songs. The audience was unusually enthusiastic for a Eugene group and demanded encores to which Miss Lee willingly responded with Psyche by Paladhe and the popular Boat Song by Harriet Ware. The latter was accompanied by the organ and the voice tones of the organ blended pleasingly with Miss Lee's deep contralto. Two groups of English songs each containing four numbers completed the program.

Three piano numbers by Mr. Evans were popular with the audience. His solos were all played with a distinctiveness and finish that gave brilliancy and dash to his presentation.

Five University girls ushered at the recital. They were: Helen Watts, Jane Murphy, Margaret Fell, Audrey Roberts and Helen Manning.

CORDS COME FOR R. O. T. C. HATS

R. O. T. C. cadets desiring to adorn their khaki hats with a bright new cord will have the opportunity to do so as 205 of the military trimmings were received at headquarters Tuesday. Lieutenant E. L. Cook, quartermaster announced yesterday.

of Journalism, as he looked through the book.

A special feature of the book is the military section which includes a complete "In Memoriam" list with pictures and an account of the University's part in the world war. The Seniors especially can be proud of their section and the Junior snapshots do all the Junior week-end hosts justice. Wilbur Hulm added much to the book by his clever cartooning.

The Oregana staff includes Adelaide Lake, editor-in-chief; Curtiss A. Peterson, manager; Elmo Madden, assistant editor; Forest Watson, assistant manager; Lay Carlisle, administration; Dorothy Duniway, Frances Cardwell, classes; Alexander Brown, Mortimer Brown, athletics; Ned Fowler, Lindsay McArthur, Oregon spirit; Leith Abbott, Pierce Cummings, bunk; Helen Brenton, Herman Lind, organizations; Harris Ellsworth, publications; Shad Martin, Warren Gilbert, military; Lyle Bryson, Velma Rupert, women's activities; Wilbur Hulm, cartoonist; Helen Manning, Harry Jamieson, fraternities; Abe Rosenberg, forensics; Tracy Byers, dramatics; Marion Gilstrap, music.
