

REDMOND ATHLETE WINS MEET ALONE; SMASHES RECORDS

Arthur Tuck Wins Seven First Places: Steps 100 Yards in Ten Flat

HURLS JAVELIN 175 FEET

Discus Mark Set at 123 Feet 10 Inches

—Jefferson High Is Second in Meet

(BY ALEXANDER G. BROWN)

Arthur Tuck, the only representative of the Redmond High School, entered in the state championship track and field meet here last Saturday won the meet for his school. This is the first time in the history of the state that the meet has been captured by one man. Tuck is one of the most exceptional athletes who has come out of the bushes in recent years and with a few years training under such a coach as "Bill" Hayward he can be expected to be entered in the next Olympic games.

Hayward considers Tuck one of the best natural athletes he has ever seen in one of the state meets. The Redmond athlete just naturally ran and jumped here Saturday. There was no form or sign of great training, but his natural ability placed him above the coached athletes who competed against him.

Entered in the meet Saturday was a notable array of high school talent. There can be no question as to its being a success and it was handled in a very businesslike manner by "Bill" Hayward who has established a reputation for handling the state meets without controversy. The coaches who were interviewed after the meet all expressed themselves as very glad to see the state meet reestablished and all marveled at the Redmond "Jack-rabbit chaser," as they called Arthur Tuck.

How Tuck Took Meet Getting back to the subject of Tuck, he captured just 38 points for his school, which was just 4 points better than the entire Jefferson High School team of Portland was able to do. Tuck took first in seven events and second in one. He was competing against a field of 120 entries and his work is considered most exceptional. Tuck placed first in the 100-yard dash, covering this in 10 seconds flat, which is a new interscholastic record. Coulter of Jefferson ran a good second in this race and covered the distance in 10:1.5.

In the shot-put he was first with a heave of 45 feet 4 inches. In the high hurdles he again led the field, doing the distance in 16:3.5. In the high jump he defeated Gassoway, of Hood River, who placed second, clearing the bar at 5 feet 8 inches.

Tuck broke the state record for the discus with a throw of 123 feet 10 inches and for the javelin, which he hurled 174 feet 10 inches. This mark smothered the old interscholastic record of 144 feet, which was held by "Dubs" Mulkey, established while he was attending the Monmouth High School. The seventh first claimed by this eastern Oregon phenomenon was in the 220-yard dash, which he covered in 23:3.5 seconds. The one second that he captured was in the broad jump with a mark of a little better than 18 feet, which was made in the qualifying round.

Mile Run Great Contest One of the best races of the afternoon was the mile run, which was won by Peake of Franklin, although Wright, of Jefferson, was first to cross the line. Wright was disqualified for crowding Peake out of his lane. Had Jefferson been allowed the five points for this event they would have taken the meet.

The awards for the meet were presented by Governor Ben Olcott at the Junior Prom at the Armory Saturday evening. Tuck left the platform looking like a Christmas tree, bent under the weight of three cups and eight

Two Archerettes Hit Target; Win Accuracy Prizes

"Great rewards await those who aim rightly at the target; unto them shall be given great things."

The above quotation was taken from Proverbs 23, 19, or at least, so Pat O'Rourke says, and he ought to know. At any rate, it is true.

Monday afternoon, the 5 o'clock archery class was busy as usual, winging away at the round shaped barn side they use as a target. Arrow after arrow flew on its true way, to land somewhere near the circular shaped pasteboard, which seemed to bear a "charmed life."

Just as the class was about to give up in discouragement, an old gentleman came up from behind, skipping briskly to avoid the falling arrows. What drew him to the spot is unknown, but it is supposed that it was natural curiosity. The white-haired spectator stood watching, for a few moments. It seemed perfectly safe. No one hit the mark. He deliberated, and then made an announcement. He offered a box of candy to the girl who first hit the target. It didn't have to be a bull's eye. Merely hitting the target would be enough.

Stimulated with the hope of the candy, the arrows flew thick and fast. Suddenly, the class gasped. True enough, someone had hit the target. Was not the arrow sticking into it, bold as life? They stood and eyed it in amazement for a second. Then they gasped again. For another arrow circled through the air, and landed on the edge of the target.

The gentleman was game, and a few minutes later the class was enjoying a feast royal. For he had bought two boxes of candy, one for each arrow. The class is going out with renewed hope these days, for some one may hit the target again. Who knows?

WASHINGTON TEAM ALL DARK HORSES

No Dope Available on Track Men Oregon Must Meet Next Saturday

Next Saturday Kincaid Field will again be the scene of a dual track meet, when the University of Washington athletes come to meet "Bill" Hayward's proteges.

Very little is known concerning the strength of the Washington team. Coach Charles W. Vanderveer, of the northern institution generally turns out a strong team, however, and Hayward is expecting a close contest.

No "casualties" have resulted so far from last Saturday's meet, and it is probable that all the men who performed on the field then for the lemon yellow, will be out in harness again next Saturday. So little is known of the strength of the Seattle men that the men who make up the track team are fearing that they may have an exceptional team to buck up against, and are putting a great deal of effort into their work.

The weather has kept up its shiny streak, and indications are that it will continue bright. The variations in the weather make a great deal of difference in the work done on the track.

At the University of Washington, interest in track is not very large, according to several former students. There the crew is the big sport, with baseball and other sports coming before track. It is not thought that Washington has been in any meets so far this year, and even "Bill" Hayward has been unable to get any dope on their progress.

Only twelve men will be allowed to compete for each team.

NOTICE

All women taking physical education must sign up for their physical examinations at the women's gym as soon as possible. These are the spring examinations, and every woman must make her appointment on the sheet provided on the bulletin board.

BISHOP SUMNER'S ADDRESS WILL BE ON COOPERATION

Prominent Churchman Coming Wednesday; J. Stitt Wilson At Next Assembly

The Right Reverend Walter T. Sumner, bishop of the Episcopal diocese of Oregon will address the student body during assembly now Wednesday, May 14, on "Personal, Social and Economic Cooperation," according to Karl Onthank, secretary to President Campbell.

Bishop Sumner will reach Eugene Wednesday morning and will leave Wednesday afternoon. It was expected that he would be able to make his visit a longer one. He was to speak at the Eugene high school but had to cancel this engagement.

For a number of years Bishop Sumner has taken an active interest in the University and he counts many friends among the students as well as the faculty. His reputation as one of the strongest speakers on the Pacific Coast is well known, according to Mr. Onthank, and his address Wednesday should be well worth hearing.

Plans for assemblies for the rest of the year have been completed, said Mr. Onthank. J. Stitt Wilson, internationally famous as an exponent of Christian democracy and social reform, former mayor of Berkeley, California, now traveling as an international lecturer under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A., will deliver the second address in his series of three lectures on "Constructive Christian Democracy," at assembly May 21. The first of these lectures will be given at vespers Sunday, May 18, and the last at the Y. M. hut.

The assembly hour on May 28 will be devoted to class meetings, and June 4 will be used for a business meeting of the student body.

GIRL IS CHEMISTRY GRAD Rieta Hough, '19, Will Attend Portland Medical School

Rieta Hough, '19, is the first girl in the history of the University to graduate from the chemistry department, who has taken all of her chemistry work here. Other girls who have majored in the subject have come from other colleges and have taken only a part of their work here.

Miss Hough entered in 1914 from Carlton College, Missouri. During the year 1917-1918 she was in Portland as laboratory assistant to a child specialist, and in the summer she worked in Dr. Matson's tuberculosis laboratory.

At present she is instructor in freshman laboratory periods and also in the organic laboratories. At the completion of her work here, Miss Hough will go to the University of Oregon Medical school in Portland, where she will remain for two years. Later she expects to attend an eastern college.

VOTE TOMORROW

The campus is in a whirl of politics and we must keep it clean and carry on the election tomorrow in a manner which will be a credit to the University.

Oregon has never countenanced, and will never stand for dirty politics. Trading of votes and promises of solid voting are considered disgraceful. Furthermore the would-be supporters of a candidate who try that method are doing so without the sanction or consent of a single one of the candidates whose names appear on the ballot and they are very seriously injuring the chance of electing their candidate.

It has been rumored by unscrupulous campus gossips that there is an impending shakeup in the personnel of the athletic department depending on the outcome of the student elections. THE EMERALD WISHES TO STATE THAT THIS IS ABSOLUTELY WITHOUT FOUNDATION AND THAT INTERVIEWS WITH THE MEN CONCERNED ARE ALL DEFINITE IN STATING THAT THEY ARE ENTIRELY OUTSIDE THE REALM OF STUDENT POLITICS.

Every Oregon student should vote tomorrow and he should cast his ballot for the candidates who in his opinion are most deserving and most capable of service. He should be unbiased by fraternal affiliation and personal prejudice.

All the candidates up are capable and strong and the best interests of the University will be upheld no matter what may be the outcome of tomorrow's election.

'PIONEER' ERECTED ON CAMPUS SITE; CANVAS-COVERED

Statue Put Up Under Direction of Mr. Proctor, Unveiling Set for May 22

The "Pioneer," the first statue to claim a place on the University campus, was erected yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock under the direction of A. Phinister Proctor, the sculptor. The statue faces south, which, according to Mr. Proctor, is the ideal way, since the face must have the most light. He expressed himself as being very much pleased with the site chosen for the figure.

Plans for the formal dedication of the "Pioneers" on Thursday, May 22, at 2:30, are well under way. R. A. Booth, pioneer of Oregon, will give a short address in behalf of the pioneers who were the inspiration for the dedication. Mr. Proctor and J. N. Teal of Portland will also give short speeches. No arrangements have been made for the response, but it will be given by one of the regents of the University, according to Karl Onthank, secretary to the President. Some one will be chosen later to unveil the statue, he said. The University orchestra will play several selections during the ceremony.

Wife Great Inspiration

Mrs. Proctor is visiting in Eugene with her husband during the erection and dedication of the "Pioneer." She is the mother of seven children, and her husband declares that she has been a great inspiration and help to him during his career as a sculptor. He takes the whole family out in the wilds with him in the summer where they have had some really thrilling adventures together.

At one time while motoring through eastern Oregon the machine became unmanageable and the family was carried down the mountain side, with no thought of ever living through the adventure, but they landed safely, Mr. Proctor said.

"The one great joy of my husband's work," declared Mrs. Proctor, "is that he does his small models out of doors in the summer and then takes the large models from them in the winter at home. In this way the family gets a great deal of outdoor camp life, which we all love."

Carried Statue on Mule

In speaking of her husband's work on the "Pioneer," Mrs. Proctor told how they had to carry the small statue from the camp on the back of a mule since the roads were impassable for the machine. The model, J. C. Cravens, also accompanied them to California at this time to pose for the large statue, and while he was in the south he was married in the Proctor home to a charming southern girl. The man had a fine personality, as well as physical

Sorority Garbless; Fraternity Eatless; Mystery Has Key

A sorority without clothes, and a fraternity without breakfast, are the sad results of the last night of Junior Week-end. The sorority went without clothes because of necessity, and the fraternity did without its morning meal for the same reason, and the reason is directly traced to the Kappa Key. It is not insinuated that the guests of the two houses departed with the clothes and the breakfast, for such is not the case.

Late Sunday night when the members of a certain sorority wended their weary ways homeward after kissing the last guest or the last caller goodbye, they found to their consternation that some of the freshmen had locked the doors to all the closets and had thrown the keys away. Third degree methods failing, one of the sisters sent out an S. O. S. appeal to the usual place, and before long a skeleton key from one of the fraternities was delivered at the door.

The key did not unlock the closet as quickly as was desired so a hammer and chisel were employed to speed it up. The hammer and chisel stood the strain, but the key did not. Half of it said good bye to the lock suddenly, while the other half courageously stayed in the lock. The result was consternation, and the efforts were given up. The next morning the sisters drew lots as to who should use the available clothes and go to classes, and who should stay in bed.

The saddest part, though is yet to come. The skeleton key borrowed from the fraternity house, was the key to the provisional closet.

SENIORS ATTENTION

Orders for caps and gown must be turned in at once to the University Pharmacy or to Henry English, if the seniors wish caps and gowns for commencement. Caps and gowns are rented for $2.50 covering a period of three days. Commencement invitations should also be ordered now as soon as possible. The invitations will cost eight cents each. Turn in your order to Henry English.

CANDIDATES FOR STUDENT OFFICES GIVE PLATFORMS

Statements Tell What Each One Hopes To Do If He Is Elected

ALL FOR GREATER OREGON

Some Specific in Promises; Polls Will Open Wednesday From 10 A. M. to 2 P. M.

From 10 until 2 in Villard hall is the time and place for the student body elections on Wednesday, according to Ned Fowler who is general official for the election. He has appointed a group of assistant officials who will serve as judges and clerks serving four at a time.

These officials are Essie Maguire, Georgine Geisler, Ella Dews, Helen McDonald, Lay Carlisle, Morris Morgan, Carl Nelson, Lindsay McArthur, Henry English, Charles Comfort, Tracy Byers, Lloyd Tegart and John Masterson.

The voting will be done in Villard hall in the hall on the first floor. There will be two ballot boxes and students in charge of each one during the hours the polls are open.

In preparation for the student polling of votes the various candidates have been very busy issuing their platforms and expressing the ideas they intend to carry out if they are elected to office. A statement from all the candidates in the field follows:

Nominees for President

Stan Anderson—If I am elected to the office of president of the associated students of the University of Oregon, I will do my utmost to bring the old standards and traditions back to what they were before the war, and will look after the interests of the student body and the University to the best of my ability. I am behind "Bill" Hayward as every Oregon booster should be.

Herman—I will work for a broader and more expansive Oregon, if elected president of the associated students. Oregon can never broaden nor expand properly without "Bill" Hayward.

For Vice-President

Lindsay McArthur—If entrusted by the associated students to the office of vice-president of the Student Body. I will endeavor to discharge the duties of the office in a sane, business like manner, looking forward to the best interests of those whom I am serving.

L. L. Carter, Jr.—If elected to the vice-presidency it will be my policy to work out rather than to discuss plans for the betterment of the University. Although I am running on the prohibition ticket I must admit that my sympathies are with equal suffrage.

For Secretary

Era Godfrey—I will help, as secretary to make a greater Oregon by furthering democracy, good fellowship and women's activities.

Marjorie Kay—For the awakening of the old Oregon spirit of pre-war days and the promotion of all forms of student activities, as secretary.

Adah McMurphy—I'll work for a mightier Oregon if elected secretary, and do all in my power to keep up the spirit and morale of the University.

For Senior Women

Margaret Mansfield—To work out all campus problems, which results will bring the best upon Oregon and Oregon students.

Dorothy Duniway—A straightforward expression through the medium of student council of true student body opinion, preservation of Oregon traditions, and working for a larger student body in 1920.

Adelaide Lake—If I am elected to the office of senior woman on the student council, I will endeavor to do the expedient thing in all circumstances arising, always keeping in mind the best interests of Oregon.

Evlyn Smith—If I am elected, I will stand for those things which are
