

COMMITTEES NAMED TO HANDLE PLANS FOR HOMECOMING, NOV. 15

Luncheon, Dances and Games to Claim Attention of Visiting Alumni

Plans for Homecoming on November 15 are progressing rapidly under the leadership of Miss Charlie Fenton, alumni secretary, and Herald White, chairman of the committee. A meeting of the committee in charge of the affair will be held in Professor Gilbert's room this evening to make still further arrangements.

The various houses on the campus are being asked to submit to Miss Fenton the names and addresses of all their alumni and are also asked to give personal invitations as far as they are able to the old Oregon students.

The alumni associations in the towns in Oregon will be asked to take charge of the advertising for their particular district. Mrs. Lawrence T. Harris, chairman of the alumni council, will arrive at the University on Friday to work out plans for the associations.

Cars to Accommodate Victors.
Lyle McCroskey and Harris Ellsworth are in charge of the advertising and are arranging for the printing of posters and tags which can be stamped on the backs of letters. This plan of using stickers for letters was one which Lamar Tooze, one time student body president, had planned on adopting.

The committee is planning on obtaining all the machines available and designating them in such a manner that the alumni will feel free to haul them and be taken where they wish to go. Anyone having a car is asked to communicate with some member of the committee. In the welcome parade special cars will carry Dean Straub and prominent members of the alumni.

Student Co-operation Asked.
Plans to the dance on Saturday night not yet have been completed but in all probability the armory will be used. A luncheon in charge of the woman's league with Louise Davis as chairman will be held on Saturday noon in the men's gymnasium. If the men's indoor gym is filled with cars for the alumni the luncheon will be held in the outside gym.

The committee is asking for the hearty co-operation of every student in the University to make this the greatest Homecoming Oregon has ever had.

PHYSICAL EXAMS TAKEN

MANY FRESHMAN GIRLS DO GYMNASIUM WORK

Tennis, Canoeing and Archery Prove Popular With Sophomores and Majors.

Freshman women are now undergoing the much dreaded physical examinations required before regular gymnasium work may be taken. Because of the unusually large number to be examined this fall no regular class work can be started before at least three weeks of the new semester have passed.

Examinations are being held daily from 8 to 11 o'clock in the morning and from 1:30 to 4:30 in the afternoon. The time is divided into periods, one girl scheduled for every 20 minutes during these hours. The physical examinations are conducted by Miss Harriet Thomson, Miss Catherine Winslow and Miss Emma Waterman, while the medical examinations are conducted by Miss Mabel Cummings. Dr. E. H. Sawyer is acting as consulting physician for all defective constitutions.

The advanced aesthetic dancing class under the instruction of Miss Winslow is to be found regularly in the gymnasium on Tuesday and Thursday mornings. The first few attempts at some rather difficult balancing steps were found dangerous to the equilibrium, and as great a trial on the muscles as some of the terms of dancing technique were on the brains of those individuals who were filling the pages of their notebooks with peculiar twirls and twists.

Advanced gymnasium work is well under way. Although the freshmen can take no outdoor sport this semester, there are plenty of ambitious sophomores and gym majors to be seen about the campus with tennis racquets, canoe paddles or bows and arrows in hand. The hockey teams have not been much in evidence as yet but they expect to be heard of later.

CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS

HORACE FOULKES PRESIDENT OF MEN IN ARCHITECTURE

Exhibits Obtained From American Federation of Arts to be Shown This Fall

Horace Foulkes, a senior in the department of architecture, was elected president of the Architectural club at the first meeting of this organization held yesterday afternoon in the lecture hall in the Architectural building. The other officers chosen were Luther Jensen, vice-president; Lyle Bartholomew, secretary, and L. J. Ellis, treasurer.

Twenty-seven students attended the gathering of the club yesterday, marking the largest attendance in the history of the organization. The freshmen in the department were given an idea of the aims toward which they should work, and in addition were told of the traditions which they would be required to assist in upholding.

In the discussion of plans for the coming year, Dean E. F. Lawrence announced that he had secured a number of architectural exhibits to be shown here beginning November 1. The displays are being sent from the American Federation of Arts, with headquarters in Washington, D. C., and include eight different sets.

Among the exhibits are Carol Beckwith's copies of famous masters, 45 oil paintings by American artists, 108 water color paintings which were shown at the 1919 Rotary exhibition, a display of pictures, prints and sculpture which will interest children, and an exhibition of industrial designs, including wall paper and designs for silver and jewelry.

A particularly interesting display will be that of the arts and crafts of foreign-born citizens of the United States showing their conceptions of various material placed before them. An exhibition of the work of the leading pictorial photographers will also be sent to show the advance made in this line of work.

DOUGHNUT DEBATE IS AGAIN AT HAND

First Meeting of Inter-Fraternity Forensic Council Set for Friday—Work Outlined.

Preliminary arrangements for intramural debate will be made at the first meeting of the inter-fraternity Forensic Council this year to be held at 4 o'clock Friday afternoon, October 10, in Professor Prescott's room in Johnson hall. A meeting of the inter-sorority Forensic council will be held sometime in the early part of the week. So far the Phi Delta Theta, Sigma Chi and the Owl Club have not sent in the names of their coaches, but it is expected that this will be done before the meeting of the council Friday. Mr. Prescott says that he has a list of coaches for the houses and clubs who have not as yet sent in the name of their representative.

Those chosen to coach the men's houses in the Doughnut League are Beta Theta Pi, Dr. Robbins; Alpha Tau Omega, Peter Crockett; Delta Tau Delta, Carlton Spencer; Kappa Sigma, Victor Morris; Phi Gamma Delta, Dr. Gilbert; Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Dr. Smith; Friendly Hall, Carlton Savage; and the Oregon Club, Kenneth Armstrong. Pi Beta Phi have declared their intention of coming in, but they have not yet notified Professor Prescott in regard to their manager.

So far, the women's houses have sent in the following list of coaches: Alpha Phi, Miss Perkins; Delta Gamma, Miss Burgess; Hendricks Hall, Walter Myers; the Oregon Club, George Turnbull, and Gamma Phi Beta, Julia Burgess.

The duties of the inter-fraternity and the inter-sorority Forensic councils will be to decide on some fifteen subjects for debate which Professor Prescott has been preparing, work out a systematic schedule for the debating series, elect judges and arrange other details.

Tracy Byers Editor in Idaho.
M. H. Douglas, librarian of the University today received an interesting letter from Tracy Byers, of the June, '19, class. Mr. Byers is now living at Idaho Falls, Idaho, 100 miles from Yellowstone Park. He is news editor of the "Daily Post," a paper about the size of the Eugene Guard, but having a staff half the size, so he finds himself pretty busy. He is enjoying both the work and the location very much.

KINCAID FIELD REPLACED BY FINE NEW GRIDIRON, FIFTEENTH AND BEACH

Grandstand to be Finished for Annual Battle With O. A. C.

The knell of the old athletic field at Thirteenth and Kincaid seems to have rung at last with the new field at Fifteenth and Beach streets rapidly nearing completion. The first game to take place on Oregon's new gridiron will be the contest between the University and the Agricultural college to be held November 15.

The memories surrounding the old field will always remain dear to the old students as it was on this field that the University teams first brought athletic fame to the Lemon and Yellow.

Kincaid field was first used about 1904, and since that time has been the scene of many exciting struggles. Many times when the dope sheet had Oregon chalked for absolute defeat the tables were turned. One of these times was in the year that O. A. C. defeated Michigan and came to Eugene expecting an easy victory, but returned home beaten. Again, two years ago, California was beaten, and there are any number of similar incidents. These recollections will keep the memory of old Kincaid alive.

The new football field is one of the finest in the country. There was a slight depression in the spot which was selected as a site for the field. This depression was filled with gravel. Drainage pipes were placed at intervals of ten feet. The gravel was then covered with 12 inches of loam, which was seeded in order that a sod might form. Now the field is finished and the grandstand nearing completion. The cost of the field was approximately $10,000, and the cost of the stand about the same. The field will be paid for by the University and the stand by the student body. The student body will be reimbursed from the money taken in as gate receipts. The grandstand will seat 4000 and the bleachers 2500. The field will not open until November 15 as the grandstands are not yet finished, but it will be ready in time for the annual battle with the Aggies at that date.

GLEE CLUB TRYOUT ON

Old Members Must Compete With New Men This Year.

Tryouts for the men's glee club are still in progress, and announcement of the club members will probably not be made until the end of the week. About 30 new men are trying out as well as the old men who are back at college. Contrary to previous practices of the club, old members as well as new men are required to try out.

According to Professor Albert Lukken, who is in charge of the men's club this year, prospects are good for a fine club. He believes that some of the old men will have a hard time making the club this year since there is so much excellent material in the freshman class.

"OLD OREGON" OUT SOON

First Issue of Alumni Magazine Ready by End of Week.

"Old Oregon," the publication of the Alumni of the University of Oregon, containing many items of interest, not only to the alumni but also to the campus, will be out by the end of the week, according to Charlie Fenton, editor-in-chief of the magazine, and the alumni secretary.

This edition will contain among other things, interesting campus events, a letter of greeting from the president of the association, Homer D. Ansell, a "Who's Who" column dealing with the prominent alumni, some active football and athletic stories by Marion McClain, graduate manager, and an account of the old professors of the University by Joel Peary of the class of '79.

Davidson Called Home.
Roy L. Davidson was called to his home at Helix, Oregon, yesterday by the death of his sister from typhoid fever. When Davidson left for college his sister was on the road to recovery but a sudden relapse occurred from which she did not rally.

MULTNOMAH-OREGON GAME ON SATURDAY.

'16, are the other two possibilities. Ends will probably be Stan Anderson of the 1917 team and Martin Howard, who guarded the flank during the last season. In the backfield "Bill" Steers can be counted upon to guide the team from the quarterback berth. Steers played on the freshman team of 1916 and with the Varsity of 1917. He will also do the punting, in which department he excelled while on the Oregon team and also during the last year, which he spent for the Mare Island Marines under "Lone Star" Dietz.

Halves probably will be Vince Jacobberger, a member of the service team of last year, and Ed Strowbridge, who was with the frosh of '16. At fullback Hollis Huntington looks like the rock of Gibraltar. Holly has been "going good" in scrimmage and he still has the old knack of dodging tackles. After having made rivals sit up and take notice, or medicine, during the season of 1916 here, Huntington enlisted in the Marines and was one of the Oregon men who helped to make that team one of the greatest service eleven in the country in 1917.

While this lineup looks good and there are a number of old stars back there is still a great deal to be looked for. The spirit that has become rampant of late, that Oregon is the only team in the Northwest with prospects for the season is due for an awful fall. Captain "Brandy" Brandenberg is following the first team around with a lame shoulder and will not be able to feature Saturday and he does not expect that he will be able to get back into the lineup until after the game with Idaho.

When it comes to football talent the Multnomah club has assembled a team that is about the most formidable that has been arrayed under one tent in the Northwest for some time. The club is being coached by Philbrook, and Lloyd Tegart is guarding one of the ends. "Teg" will be playing against two of his former teammates when he appears here Saturday, as he was with Hollis Huntington and Ken Bartlett on the team of 1916. "Shy" Huntington and Bart Spellman, who are coaching the Varsity, were also on the team of that year.

Mike Block, one of the greatest fighting linemen that Portland ever turned out, is numbered among the offering of the club and another with a great reputation is Fred Rebbien. The Multnomah team is no aggregation of has-beens, and there is a chance, and a big one, that the clubmen may slip over a win on the Oregon team at this early stage of the season. The two teams will stage a return game in Portland in November.

The Multnomah fellows have been practicing for a month and as they have not played any games as yet it is impossible to get a line on their strength. The game Saturday will be the first chance to see both teams in action and substitutions will probably be many and frequent. Huntington, it is expected, will use nearly every man that has been turning out and from their work will pick his men for the training table.

The scrimmage this week has been hard and plentiful. The shifting of Art Berg to guard on the first team gives the line more speed as Berg is both big and fast. Mautz, whose place Berg took, will not be dropped, as he is a mighty valuable lineman and will probably make his letter during the season. It looks as though the line, at this point, was a weather proposition. If the day happens to be dry and the field fast, the team is stronger with Berg on the line. With a slow field, which is wet and muddy, the use of Mautz is expected. All that can be done at this stage of the game is to recite dope on the probable outcome. The time for some real line on the men will be after the game Saturday, which will follow the underclass mix, which will be called to order at 1 o'clock sharp.
