

193 STUDENTS FROM OTHER INSTITUTIONS REGISTER AT OREGON

22 From O. A. C. Among Those Coming to University for Work

20 STATES REPRESENTED

Same Tendency to Mobility Seen in Figures Issued at Eugene and Corvallis

One hundred and ninety-three students from other institutions of higher learning have transferred to the University of Oregon this fall. Reports from the Oregon Agricultural college, at Corvallis, report that the same tendency to move about during the college course has been noticed there, 114 coming to that institution from other places. The Agricultural college reports enrolling 22 former University students, the same number exactly representing the number of former Aggies enrolled here this fall.

Of the total of 193 transfers received by the University and the 114 reported as received by the Agricultural college, the sources are as follows:

University of Washington to University of Oregon, 20; to O. A. C., 7; Oregon State normal to University, 32; to O. A. C., 6; Willamette University to University of Oregon, 5; to O. A. C., 6; Pacific college to University, 1; to O. A. C., 5; Pomona college to University, 1; to O. A. C., 5.

By a coincidence, each of the two big state institutions is receiving advanced students from exactly 29 states and territories; the institutions of origin numbering 51 in the case of the University of Oregon and 47 in the case of the O.A.C.

Besides the institutions mentioned above, the advanced students transferring to the University of Oregon come from the following: Reed college, 20; McMinnville college, 11; Albany college, 8; Pacific university, 7; Washington State college, 5; University of California, 5; Stanford, 3; University of Minnesota, 3; Washington State normal, 3; Cheney normal, 3; Los Angeles normal, 3; University of Colorado, 2; University of Idaho, 2; University of South Dakota, 2; San Jose normal, 2; St. Mary's, 2; University of Montana, 2; with one each from Whitman, University of Musical "Burglars" Wake Girls With Song at 1 A. M.

During the wee small hours of the night and early this morning several girls' fraternities were treated to a most informal serenade by the sophomore men in their rounds, while pasting warnings for the "spineless frosh." At one house the young women were aroused from their peaceful slumbers by a creaking of the front door, and the next instant someone was playing "Mighty Oregon" wildly on the house piano and men's voices were booming out the beloved song.

When the girls reached the scene of the disturbance the intruders had disappeared, leaving no sign except an unlocked door.

This morning the campus is a-buzz with interest in the latest mystery—"How did the "burglars" get in?"

LANDSBURY HEADS FORUM

Dean to Complete Establishment of High School Teaching

Dr. John J. Landsbury went to Portland Friday to complete the establishment of the so-called Open Forum, the purpose of which is to standardize the teaching of violin, piano and voice among the high schools of the state, giving credit towards graduation in these subjects. A series of round table discussions is to be held at the Forum in Portland as a first attempt towards standardization.

The University of Oregon is sponsor for this movement for standardizing the teaching of these subjects in the state and Dr. Landsbury will have charge of this work in addition to his present classes.

HENDRICKS ADDS UNITS

One Hundred and Eighty Girls Register With Miss Gertrude Talbot

With 180 girls registered under Hendricks Hall a record has been reached which was never equaled in the history of a woman's dormitory on the University campus.

Every available foot of space has been utilized in Mary Spiller and Hendricks as well as the fifth unit on Gnyx street, and the sixth on Thirteenth and Hillyard streets. The former is under the chaperonage of Miss Urith Dailey, while the latter has Miss Fowler as chaperon.

INTER CLASS MIX WON BY SECOND YEAR MEN WITH BIG MAJORITY

Sophomores Amass 77½ Points While Freshman Annex But 32½

FRESHMEN FIGHT HARD

Senior Cops Led by Slim Crandall Guarantee Squares Mix in History

The sophomore class won the inter-class mix today by the score of 77½ to 32½.

The points were divided as follows: Attendance and singing contest—Freshmen, 5 points. Yell contest—Freshmen, 5 points. Stunts—Sophomores, 15 points. Tie-up—Sophomores, 7½ points; freshmen, 7½ points. Decorations—Freshmen, 10 points. Cane rush—Sophomores, 10 points. Flag rush—Sophomores, 35 points. Sandbag contest—Sophomores, 5 points; freshmen, 5 points.

The feature of the mix was the stunt given by the sophomores. An army of two dozen Bolsheviks, led by various commanders almost familiar to the campus, paraded about the field, acting for a movie company. Colonel Baird, Colonel Bowen, Lieutenant Cook and various other military men recently at Oregon all appeared in perfect caricature. "Fat" Cook, as he was called, turned the army over to the captain, whereupon the regulars turned upon Trotsky and Lenine, who appeared upon the field unexpectedly.

Fean Dox came to their rescue as a nurse, and helped the "Bulls" off the field.

An added attraction was featured when three sophs appeared in various articles of clothing, or no clothing at all, a barrel being used by Charles Lamb, and unmentionables by the rest of the crew, having bet their clothes on Oregon winning.

The freshmen also had an army for their stunt, a nigger crew who rolled two foot bones for amusement. The sophomores were awarded the points for having the best stunt.

Senior Cops in full battle array, led by Slim Crandall, policed the field. Their class yell, "Bevo, Bevo, We Drink Bevo," was an admonition to everyone that the mix to be staged would be the squarest mix ever.

Sophomores won the tug of war, literally carrying the freshmen off the field. Dean Straub served as freshman coach, although claiming his men numbering only 30 competed against 45 sophomores.

The cane rush was barely annexed by the sophomores, when the final count found 19 soph hands on the stick against 17 freshmen. This event was the rough-house feature of the mix, as 50 men from each side competed in the ear-biting struggle.

The flag rush, the deciding event of the mix, was won by the sophomores, they successfully holding the 25-foot pole surmounted by the colors of the class of '23 against the onrush of the frosh. Many times the frosh succeeded in getting a start up the pole, only to be hauled down by someone else. Dick Shim, diminutive sophomore, succeeded in holding his position halfway up the pole against freshman attacks for some time. George Walker also contributed a good deal toward the soph win by hauling down "Pink" Manerud several times, after the latter had a good start up the pole. Torn shirts, trousers and other unmentionables featured in this scrimmage.

Freshman girls had little trouble in winning the singing contest. They outnumbered the sophomore girls almost two to one. The frosh men also annexed the yell contest by the same method.

COMPETITION TO BE KEEN FOR UNIVERSITY HOMECOMING SLOGAN

Football Rally Friday Night Big Feature Says Parade Chief Morgan

BIG BONFIRE TO BLAZE

Campus Luncheon on Saturday in Men's Outdoor and Indoor Gymnasium.

The University must have a new slogan for the big O. A. C.-U. of O. game on Homecoming day, November 15. This slogan must be on the order of the famous "Fight 'em, Oregon" which did so much to help win over the University of California in 1917. A prize of $6 or three tickets to the game will be given for the best which is turned in either by a student or a resident of Eugene. Boxes in which to drop the slogans will be placed in the library and in the First National bank. That everyone should feel that it is his duty to hand in at least one is the opinion of the committee, of which Lindsay McArthur is the chairman.

The first big feature of Homecoming this year will be the rally which is to be held on Friday night. According to Morris Morgan, who is in charge, this is to be the biggest parade which has ever been given by the University. Everyone will have a definite part in this parade as well as the alumni, who will be there. After the parade there will be the freshman bonfire and speeches, will be made by Shy Huntington, Bill Hayward, Professor Howe and prominent alumni.

Soccer Game Unlikely
It had been planned by the committee to have a soccer game with O. A. C. on Saturday morning, but according to Shy Huntington this will be practically impossible owing to the fact that the special train from Corvallis will not arrive until the afternoon, and the alumni who arrive on the special train must be met by the students.

Saturday noon there will be the big campus luncheon which will be held in both the men's outdoor and indoor gym. This luncheon will be in charge of the Women's League with Louise Davis as the chairman.

The big event of the Homecoming will be the O. A. C.-Oregon game which will be played on the new athletic field. This game will be the first played on the new field. The grandstand and bleachers will hold 6500 people and will be one of the finest in the Pacific Northwest.

CRANDALL IS YELL KING

"Slim" Resumes Old Post—Knudson and Keeney Assistants

"Slim" Crandall, yell king in 1917-18, was selected as yell leader for '19-20 at a meeting of the student council held in Dr. Gilbert's room in the library at 7 o'clock last Thursday evening. "Slim" was not here last year but has returned to complete his law course. He served in the army, receiving his commission at Camp Taylor.

Carl Knudson and Claire Keeney were selected as assistants. Carl Knudson has been away from Oregon for two years during the war. Carl enlisted in the navy in December, 1917, at Portland, from where he was sent to San Francisco and later to naval officers' training school, where he was commissioned as ensign. Knudson was formerly yell leader at Lincoln high school in Portland and also served as yell leader of the class of '20, his freshman year. Claire Keeney, second assistant, was yell leader at the Eugene high school for two years before coming to Oregon.

VARSITY GRIDSTERS WIN FROM MULTNOMAH CLUB FOOTBALL TEAM WITH SCORE OF 23 TO 0

FROSH WHITEWASH EUGENE HI ELEVEN WITH 35 TO 0 SCORE

First Year Men Show Advantage of Weight and Experience in Contest

The University of Oregon freshmen handed the Eugene high school a 35 to 0 lacing this morning when the two teams met for the first football game of the season on Kincaid field. The work of the Eugene team was of the highest order and their line showed up especially well. Burton, playing fullback for the high schoolers, was the star of the contest.

The freshmen had the advantage in weight and experience and had little trouble in crowding over a touchdown soon after the whistle blew. After having called on Frankie Hill to do most of the ground gaining, King carried the ball over for the first counter. Holmes failed to kick goal.

In the second quarter the freshmen scored again when Hill got away with a 35-yard run around right end. The high school backs made some good gains through the frosh line in the second quarter and put up a great game and they look better than the team of last season, which won the state championship.

Fratz, freshman coach, sent in fresh men in the second half. Hill grabbed off another big run around end, making 28 yards round the left flank, which he followed shortly with another around the same end for 22 yards. King, Holmes, Hill and Able alternated and put the ball over for another touchdown. For the third time the freshmen failed to kick goal.

"Jacobberger the Third" went in in the final period for Hill, Shields was shifted to fullback and several other changes were made. The freshmen used Shields to advantage in their march down the field. Holmes put over a place kick from the 15-yard line. The high school came back strong. Holmes punted 45 yards and Luckey returned the ball 25 yards. A pass to "Johnny" Bryson gave the Eugene 12 yards more. Another pass to Moore netted an additional 25 yards. Budton fluked a place kick after the high schoolers had carried the ball 75 yards. In the final few minutes of play Van Boskirk intercepted a forward pass and raced 50 yards for a touchdown. Holmes kicked goal. Final score: Freshmen, 35; Eugene, 0.

The lineup:
Freshmen Eugene H.S.
McEntee I.E.R. Bryson
Brown L.G.R. Read

Don Belding Visits

Don Belding, a graduate of last year and letterman track, is visiting friends on the campus for this week end. He is now located at Klamath Falls.

FIRST GAME OF SEASON SHOWS OREGON TEAM STRONGEST IN YEARS

Visitors Advance in Third Quarter to Lemon Yellow 1 Yard Line

MANY "SUBS" SENT IN

"Skeet" Manerud Drop Kicks From 20 Yard Line—Jacobberger Brothers Shine

The Oregon football team made the first game of the season a win this afternoon when they completely whitewashed the Multnomah Athletic club eleven of Portland with a 23 to 0 score. The lemon yellow athletes took the upperhand early in the game and scored a touchdown in the first ten minutes of play. The score at the end of the first half was 20 to 0. No scoring was done in the third quarter. In the fourth quarter "Skeet" Manerud, replacing Francis Jacobberger at quarter added three points more to Oregon's score by drop kicking a goal from the 20 yard line. Shy Huntington used many substitutes in the third quarter for the purpose of trying them out. The Multnomah men played their hardest in the final quarter and the game ended with the ball on Oregon's one yard line after the Portland men had made a steady advance down the field during the last period of play.

The lineup:
Multnomah Oregon
Teggert R.E.L. Howard
Rebel, Jones R.T.L. Leslie
Dressler, Kerns R.G.L. Harding
Layton C. Leslie
Donson L.G.R. Berg
Loutitt L.T.R. Bartlett
Donaldson L.E.R. Anderson
Murphy Q. F. Jacobberger
Les. Crowe, R.
Jones R.H.L. V. Jacobberger
Cook L.H.R. Strowbridge
Horton F. Huntington

First Quarter

Oregon opened up on Multnomah this afternoon when F. Jacobberger kicked off to Horton at 3:10. Oregon held the club down on the 30 yard line and Horton punted 10 yards. Strowbridge tore through the line for a ten yard gain right off the bat. Oregon fumbled and Donaldson recovered the ball. Multnomah was penalized 15 yards for holdings. Multnomah punter and it was Oregon's ball on the 35 yard line. The two Jacobbergers made slight gains and Oregon fumbled but recovered the ball.

By a careful rotation of the backs using line plunges with an occasional run the Varsity kept pushing down the field and Strowbridge went over for the first touchdown of the day after less than ten minutes of play. F. Jacobberger kicked goal. Score: Oregon, 7; Multnomah, 0.

Loutitt kicked off for 35 yards and F. Jacobberger returned the ball about 15 yards. The Varsity kept hitting the line for gains, Strowbridge making the largest gains through guard and tackle and V. Jacobberger taking the opposition's measure on the ends. Oregon fumbled and the club recovered. Horton and Murphy made gains through the line. Both teams have resorted to old-fashioned line plunging.

Peppy Pee-Raders Perform Costumes Fanciful and Unique

(By Paul Farrington)

Aided by the vocal and physical gymnastics of "Slim" Crandall, yell king, and Carl Knudson and Claire Keeney, assistants, many hundred men students of the University, scantily clothed in creations that might do credit to the creative genius of Lucile, last night pajama-paraded to the business section of Eugene, where one of the largest and noisiest demonstrations ever known in the city took place. And there were a few students—a very few—on the sidelines, who had apparently come to scoff—and remained to root.

It was perhaps the longest line of rooters ever seen in the city, and as it turned from Eleventh avenue to Willamette street, serpentine behind the University band, it was greeted by thousands of spectators—college women and townspeople—who had lined the walks with a view to glimpsing the costumes extraordinary. Vampires, simple country girls, hula-dancers, Highlanders, Lillian Russells and Sis Hopkins were among those who sallied forth last evening, and if anybody stayed at home it was likely because he had a broken leg or a neck or something. Those in charge are convinced that last night's rally is the best ever.

Starting from the University library at 8 o'clock the men marched to Alder street by way of Thirteenth, thence to Eleventh avenue and down to Willamette. At Eighth avenue a ring was formed, King Crandall was hoisted above the heads of the mob and several yells were offered.

Unwinding in perfect order, the rompers, who might have been mistaken for persons enjoying the children's hour prior to the visit of the sandman, passed in review before the lemonade sippers in the Rainbow. No stop was made until, with all aisles of the Rex theatre jammed, Crandall, who failed to be rendered speechless under the spotlight, ordered a few choice vocal gems for the benefit of the theatre patrons.
