

"REAL THINGS" TO BE FIRST PLAY PRESENTED BY DRAMATIC STUDENTS

Problem Drama by Mrs. Parson Will be Given Later in Portland

"Real Things," a four-act drama of modern American life, will be the first play to be presented by the dramatic interpretation classes of the University this year. The play was written by Mrs. Mabel Holmes Parsons and was submitted by her to the Winthrop Ames contest in 1914. The work has been entirely revised and rebuilt by Mrs. Parsons for the campus production in November.

The first two scenes are laid in the west as a result of the special scenery which is now under construction by the students of the school of architecture will have an atmosphere of reality. The first and second acts will present a decided contrast as the scene changes to New York city. In all, "Real Things" promises to prove a real treat for the followers of dramatic art. Soon after the performance at Guild hall it will be taken to Portland.

Great interest is also being evinced in the appearance early in December of "The Little Dog Laughed," written by Professor Fergus Reddie of the dramatic department. The fantasy carries one to the home of "Mother Goose" and with its delightful humor pleases from the beginning to end. The approval this play met with two years ago made its reappearance inevitable so Mr. Reddie has decided to present it both at Guild hall and at the Heilig theatre in Portland.

Both plays will be under the personal direction of Mr. Reddie. The Employment Department Has More Positions Than Applicants.

There is enough temporary employment for all men desiring to work, according to Rev. A. M. Spangler, in charge of the employment department of the University Y. M. C. A. One hundred and fifty men have been placed in permanent positions, with 20 applications for employment still to be taken care of.
