

VARSITY SQUAD LEAVES TO PLAY IDAHO ELEVEN

16 Husky Players Board 7:25 Train This Morning

HUNTINGTON OPTIMISTIC; THINKS OREGON MAY WIN

Strowbridge Left Behind Because of Sickness—Steers and Williams To Play

With the knowledge that Oregon was behind them as evinced by a small but loyal group of hastily dressed students who rent the air with "Oskies" on the platform of the O.-E. depot the varsity football team left this morning at 7:25 for Moscow, Idaho, for the first conference game of the season with the University of Idaho Saturday. Sixteen players made up the delegation, with coaches Huntington and Spellman, Trainer Bill Hayward, and Manager Bill Hollenbeck. The players who left were Martin Howard, Stan Anderson, Ken Bartlett, E. Leslie, Keith Leslie, Bas Williams, Art Berg, Al Harding, Carl Mautz, H. Huntington, Vincent Jacobberger, Francis Jacobberger, Clifford Manerude, Nish Chapman, Bill Steers and Everett Brandenburg.

Coach Huntington did not have a lineup to offer. He will probably not select his first team until the morning of the contest. He is not overly optimistic concerning Oregon's chances in the coming contest but feels that he has a good team and one which is in very good training considering the short time the players have been together. Little is known of the Idaho team but for the fact that it has a number of old men back in the ranks. Saturday's contest will be the first game of this season for the Moscow men.

Ed Strowbridge, backfield man who played good ball against Multnomah last Saturday was forced to remain behind on this trip as he is suffering from a severe case of poison oak. It is probable that Bill Steers will be used in the lineup at quarter for the first time this year, next Saturday.

Coach Huntington did not feel that Bill should be used in the Multnomah game as he had not been out for practice long enough to get in trim. Bas Williams will also probably be used at either guard or tackle.

When the Varsity football team left the depot on the train bound for Moscow this morning it almost left behind it something which has been on almost every trip the team has made for the past two years, and from the present looks of things will be for several years to come. That "thing" was a "Jacobberger." Two of them went along on this trip, Vinc and Francis. Vinc barely caught the train as it pulled out of the depot, by hard running, while Francis, encumbered with a "Charley horse," could only hobble slowly and watch it disappear. A few blocks from the depot however, "the younger Jake" succeeded in stopping the train to allow "Jake the elder" to catch it.

College Campus Soon Shall See Crime Carnival

Murders, thievery, lynchings, shootings, robbery, in fact the whole curriculum of crime, and then some, will be pulled off during the spring term at the University of Oregon.

The scene of this premeditated wickedness may be any old place that comes handy. The perpetrators are respecters of neither persons or buildings. A co-ed will be in precisely the same degree of danger as a man.

This era of strife and bloodshed is being planned and fathered by Prof. Sam B. Warner of the department of law.

The purpose is to furnish first hand material for the wouldbe barristers.

It is the belief of Prof. Warner that each student will gladly respond at any time he may be called upon to be murdered.

In trying these desperate cases the professor proposes to use as juries, men and women picked indiscriminately from the student body. A ticket to the movies will serve as compensation for this assistance.

"This will be the first time that mock trials have ever been attempted for the benefit of the law school," said Mr. Warner

PHI THETA KAPPA TO INSTALL HERE

Commerce Women Get Charter of National Honorary Fraternity Organized in 1916

Phi Theta Kappa, a national honorary fraternity for women majoring in commerce, will install a chapter on the Oregon campus, probably some time next week, according to Nell Warwick, one of the charter members of the local organization. The charter has already arrived. The society was founded in the school of commerce at the University of Denver in 1916, which department is recognized as excellent throughout the middle west, according to Dean D. Walter Morton, of the Oregon school of commerce.

The charter members are Lucille Stanton, Frankie Adams, Lenore Blaessing, RONALDA CAMERON, Dorothy Donlon, Edna Howd, Esther Fell, Margaret Fell, Evelyn Grebe, Mary Hergard, Nell Warwick, Rachel Parker, Anne D. Shea, Barbara Sheppard, Thelma Stanton and Mildred Aumiller.

ALUMNI TO BE URGED FOR FESTIVITIES

Miss Fenton Leaves for Portland to Promote Homecoming

Miss Charlie Fenton, alumni secretary, leaves Friday for Portland to speak before the Portland alumni, who will gather at the Benson hotel Saturday noon for luncheon to make plans for attending Oregon's great homecoming. Miss Fenton, who has been devoting most of her time lately to making plans for getting as many as possible of the University's old students back for the event, will outline the plans for homecoming and try to get the Portland chapter to come here in a body November 15.

She will then go to Salem and help organize a local alumni chapter there, returning Tuesday to the campus again.

HIGH SCHOOL DEBATE SCHEDULE ARRANGED; FINALS HERE IN MAY

200 Institutions Eligible; 12 Winners to be Brought Junior Week-End

Finals for the Oregon High School Debating league will be held on the University campus junior week-end, May 12, 13 and 14, according to R. W. Prescott, professor of public speaking, who is secretary of the league. Some question connected with the league of nations issue will be chosen for the last debate.

Two hundred high schools of the state are eligible for entrance into this league. The state has been divided into 12 districts and each of these, Professor Prescott announces, will have a separate question for the preliminary tryouts to be contested in January, February and March. The 12 district winners will meet for the semi-finals and finals at the University in Eugene as a factor of junior week-end. Up to last year only the finals were debated in Eugene. In 1918 the four teams remaining in the semi-finals were brought here and the plan proved so successful that it was decided to bring all 12 district winners here in future years.

The trophy for the winner is the cup put up by the Laorean Literary society of the University and E. E. DeCou, professor of mathematics, who was the first president of the league. The cup goes into the permanent possession of any team winning the championship three times. Salem high school has now won two legs and needs but one more victory to take the trophy. Eugene high school was the winner last year, for the first time, taking a close contest from Bend, the runner-up. George W. Hug, superintendent of schools at McMinnville, is president of the league.

UNIVERSITY HEALTH IS GOOD

Infirmary Has Few Patients—Only Fever and Throat Cases

The University seems to be a healthy place in the opinion of Dr. E. H. Sawyer, physician at the infirmary. At present there is only one bed patient and at no time this year have more than two or three been confined at the infirmary. According to Dr. Sawyer this is a fine record when the number of students in the University is considered. So far the cases have been either fever or throat. At present a great number are coming for treatment for colds, but none of these are serious.

Here's Another Chance to Hop Y. M. - Y. W. Mix to be Lively

"Is there a dance Friday night?" Surest thing in the world, and if you are interested, just note what is going to happen.

An annual mix is staged by the Y. W. C. A. together with the Y. M. Now it might be possible to label this coming affair a mix but it will be far different from any of those staged in the past.

This party will take the form of a student body dance, and better than that, it will be featured by special music and "good eats," and, still better, not a penny will be charged. What more can be desired?

Dean Elizabeth Fox suggested that such a party be given as she thought the students would respond more heartily to dancing than anything else. The committee was formed Monday, the members being Vivian Chandler, Adah McMurphey, Elmo

Y. M. DRIVE EXTENDED TO FRIDAY EVENING QUOTA NOT REACHED

350 Sign Up by Wednesday; Red and Blues Combine to Rush Campaign

The membership drive for the campus Y. M. C. A. has been extended until Friday evening. This decision was reached last night by the committee in charge of the campaign. Roy Veatch, speaking on behalf of the committee, said that the drive had taken well on the campus but unavoidable obstacles had delayed the progress of the campaign. In the three days allotted for the drive the canvassers have been unable to reach all the boys, as many of them are scattered about Eugene.

The drive up to Wednesday evening had netted about 350 members, or half the quota set at the beginning. Although this has not satisfied the leaders in the movement, they are nevertheless gratified with the spirit which they have met on all sides. They feel that the "Y" needs more members in order to carry out the program already outlined for the year, and it is with this in view that every effort is to be made to reach the quota of 700 members by Friday night.

The closing days of the campaign are to be covered in a slightly different manner from the first. The "reds" and "blues" have combined into one team and will cover all territory as effectively as possible in the short time remaining. Announcements in assembly this morning will help in giving further publicity to the drive.

The Y triangle, Roy Veatch explained, stands for the development of spirit, mind and body alike. But these are kept separate in the activities of the organization and no attempt will be made to impose one upon the other, he said.

The University Y is purely a campus organization and has always had the best men on the campus behind it. The work of the organization for this year according to its leaders, is not to meet criticism with alibis, but to carry on a work in behalf of Old Oregon that is above criticism. With this end to work for they are now bending every effort to enlist the support of the majority of the men on the campus.

Dean Morton in Portland

Professor D. Walter Morton, dean of the school of commerce, left yesterday for Portland, where he will attend to business connected with the extension department of the University. He expects to return Friday.

Tug-of-Warriors Train on Puffed Rice and Biscuit

Shredded wheat biscuits and puffed rice has been the diet and "Butch" Weigel and Nish Chapman have been the coaches. Saturday morning will be the big battle and the mill race will be the scene. For this the Delta and Beta freshmen have been in training since the first week of college and according to all reports their tug of war will make last Saturday's mix look tame.

The mere matter of weight, individually and collectively, will not be the deciding factor, as both sides claim that proper rooting will be at least one-half the fight. Clever slogans, such as "Pull again, boys" and "Hasten, brethren" have been originated by the opposing teams and will be used at certain climax by the yell leaders. Not until the eventful morning will the names of the yell leaders be announced although talkative members of the teams have hinted broadly that Richard Martin will use the Beta megaphone and Mort Brown the Delta cornucopia.

According to the coaches both teams are in splendid condition and if the puffed rice holds out until Saturday morning the outcome seems beyond prediction. Reports yesterday from the Beta cook showed only two remaining shredded wheat biscuits. This difficulty, however, is balanced by the fact that three Delta freshmen have broken arches.

CASWELL'S CLASSES TAUGHT BY CHICAGO!AN

Princeton Research Scholarship Takes Physicist—Geo. S. Monk Will Substitute

Professor Geo. S. Monk, a graduate of the University of Chicago, is now assisting in the physics department in the absence of Dr. A. E. Caswell, who is attending Princeton University, having been awarded a fellowship by the National Research Council.

Professor Monk was formerly research assistant at both Yerkes and Mount Wilson observatories.

Dr. Caswell, who has published several articles on physics, was chosen to attend Princeton in order that he might continue his research work on "The Behavior of Electrons in Metals." Those chosen by the research council are men who have distinguished themselves in research work. From all present information, Doctor Caswell is the only Pacific coast man to receive this scholarship.

His family accompanied him on his trip east, leaving Eugene on September 5. In a letter to Dr. W. P. Boynton he said the course would last for a period of 46 weeks, beginning Sept. 22. Dr. Caswell expects to be back on the campus next summer.

MUSIC SCHOOL CROWDED

Four Practice Rooms and Studio Added to Accommodate Students

With a registration vastly larger than that of any previous year, the school of music is finding it difficult, says Dr. John J. Landsbury, dean, to handle the student enrollment, even with the remodeling of the building, which has furnished four more practice rooms and a studio to accommodate the five new pianos purchased this fall.

Even with this added number of instruments all of the practice hours are completely filled, and it is necessary for some of the students to practice in the down town churches. The remodeling of the assembly room into practice rooms leaves no place in the building where assemblies may be held. As it is, it is impossible to conduct the work that should be done in the building, in the present accommodations.

FACULTY MEMBERS IN SCHOOL OF MUSIC ENTERTAIN ASSEMBLY

Albert Lukken, Rex Underwood Heard; President Talks of Pledge Day

ROOSEVELT FUND OUTLINED

Campbell Explains Importance of Getting Started Right—Examination System Reviewed

Musical selections by new members of the faculty were the feature of the assembly program held today in Villard hall at 11 o'clock. Albert Lukken of Chicago, graduate of the University of Wyoming, now head of the voice department at the University, sang the prologue from Paggiacci by Leoncavallo. For encore he sang a little southern character song, "Me an' My Little Banjo." Rex Underwood, instructor of violin in the school of music, played two selections—"Pierrot Serenade" from Rindigger and "Tamborin Chenols" by Fritz Kreisler.

Dr. Joseph Schafer explained the organization and the purpose of the Roosevelt Memorial fund. A joint committee meeting of faculty and students will be held today to arrange plan for canvassing the campus. The plan of the organization is to establish a Roosevelt monument in the city of Washington and perhaps smaller memorials elsewhere.

President Makes Announcements

Several announcements were made by President Campbell. Next assembly will be known as Pledge day for the students of the University. The governor is expected or at least one of his representatives. Announcement was also made that Dean Fox is to speak tomorrow in Guild hall on her travels in France. An admission of ten cents will be charged to help toward the completion of the Women's building.

President Campbell gave the students a short talk on the importance of getting started right in their college work for the year. In speaking of the crowded condition of class rooms and quiet places to study, the president asked the cooperation of the student body to help better the correction. Arrangements are being made for study hours in the evenings in many of the buildings on the campus. The classes in economics have already made these arrangements.

Friendly Hall Remodeling

An addition to the Friendly hall dining room is now under construction with the hope of making room for 200 more students at meals. Students knowing of places with the townspeople where board and room might be obtained were urged to turn in the names either to Dean Straub or Dean Fox.

President Campbell also explained the system of examination that is now in vogue at the University. Any student falling below the nine-hour minimum would be put on probation during the following term, under direct supervision of the probation committee. Should the student fall below the minimum in hours during the second term it will necessitate a little vacation on his or her part, stated President Campbell, until such a time as the probation committee would see fit to reinstate the student.

Rev. A. M. Spangler, secretary of the campus Y. M. C. A., asked that every man and woman on the campus join either the Y.M.C.A. or the Y.W. C. A.
