

FACULTY SALARIES RAISED BY REGENTS ABOUT 10 PER CENT

New Members and Those Who Got Increase Last Spring Not Included

OREGON SCALE HELD LOW

Other Institutions Pay More—Care of Larger Enrollment to be Considered

A raise in the salaries of the staff of the University was granted this morning by the board of regents. The raise, which averages ten per cent, varies in some cases, but in the main affects those members of the faculty who did not receive any increase at the meeting of the board last spring. New members of the faculty coming to the University and beginning work this fall will, with the exception of a few cases, be unaffected by the new increase.

The raise, according to the statement of the special committee composed of Judge J. W. Hamilton and Regents Henry McKinney and Vernon H. Vawter which investigated the conditions, is made in recognition of the greatly increased cost of living and in conformity with the general upward tendency of salaries in all educational institutions. This in many cases has greatly exceeded the ten per cent increase which the board found possible to allow at this time without incurring a deficit. It was shown that the general scale of salaries at the University of Oregon is lower than that of other institutions of similar standing throughout the country.

Building Maintenance Considered

The question of buildings and maintenance to care for the greatly increased enrollment at the University was discussed and referred to a special committee consisting of Regents W. K. Newell, L. L. Mullt and Charles H. Fisher for report at the regular meeting of the board in January.

The president in his report to the board showing increase in enrollment of approximately 60 per cent, and Superintendent J. A. Churchill in discussing probable increase for next year made the statement that the number of high school graduates next spring is apt to double the number who graduated in the spring of 1919, and that a further very considerable increase in enrollment may be expected a year from this fall. The present total enrollment on the campus is approximately 1600, and (Continued on page 3)

SENIORS OVERRULED BY OREGANA STAFF

Activity Writeups to Appear in Year Book According to Old Custom

Because old traditions can't be forgotten, Helen Manning, editor of the Oregana, feels it the privilege of the staff to decide the makeup of the senior section of the Oregana. A motion was passed at the last senior class meeting to eliminate senior writeups in the Oregana this year. Following the meeting it was discovered that many members of the class were opposed to this motion but were reluctant to say so during the meeting for fear it would be thought that they wished to have their own prowess exploited.

The staff has decided to run the writeups. In the case of men who have been in the service the period and type of service will be cited as an activity.

Each senior should compile his writeup as soon as possible and hand it in to the staff at the journalism annex. All copy must be in by December 1.

Juniors Ride to Jinks in Old Coach; and Campus Cleaner

"Jumping Jupiter, the Junior Jazz Jinks," shouted a wee freshman, as he scurried out of the way of an onrushing coach.

"Holy Smoke, that bars me," muttered another, as he saw the Fiji cage careening down the street.

Ten minutes later, and the party was on. Dean Straub was among those absent, and all bars were let down. They had to be. It was a wild party. Theda Barers, Brats, Sis Hopkins, Lady Marys; in fact, everyone except September Mourners was there. The men's costumes were of a mixed variety. Everyone was guessing as to what species Sam Lehman represented, while Pixley and Hoerber were beyond description.

Then, too, they were some real enough cowboys, who packed shoot-in' irons and let them off on the slightest provocation. But it only added to the general fun and excitement. The music was the realization of syncopation; the floor was wonderful, and the jinks was a grand success.

Leith Abbott and Sam Lehman added a new conveyance to the list of Oregon traditions, when they borrowed the campus refuse collector. A stepladder accompanied the cage.

An old coach, originally used by George Washington, intended for four and occupied by eight or ten, was drafted by the Phi Deltis. Five or six obliging freshmen served in place of the mules.

BANKING COURSE IS ADDED

Prof. C. C. Edwards Has Class of 75 in School of Commerce

A new course in elementary banking under the direction of Prof. Edmonds has been added to the commerce department, according to Dean Walter Morton, head of the department. The object of the class is to teach the students all about funds and their uses, said Mr. Morton, and also to relieve the physics department, which is crowded to overflowing.

There are already about 75 enrolled in the class and there will probably be more at the next meeting on Tuesday morning, Mr. Morton says.

NEW MEMBERS APPOINTED

Vacancies on Athletic Council Filled by Bartlett and Williams

Kenneth Bartlett and "Bas" Williams have been appointed members of the athletic council of the associated students by Stan Anderson, president of the student body.

The new members take the place of Dow Wilson and Henry Foster, members elected last spring who did not return to school this term. Dwight Parr is the third member of the council.

Wilson and Foster may return to school for the beginning of the second term. Foster is now managing his father's ranch at John Day, Oregon, and Wilson is at home in Rufus, Oregon.

Washington Enrollment Large

The total registration at the University of Washington this year is 4904 which is an increase of 2514 over that of 1917. This year there are approximately 1,868 first year men and 782 first year women enrolled in the University making a total of 2,651 freshmen alone.

CHALLENGE

We, members of the sophomore class, challenge the members of the freshman class to a game of football to be played at the first open date.

SHY WHIPPING SQUAD INTO SHAPE TO FIGHT WASHINGTON ELEVEN

Varsity Eleven to Play Five Consecutive Games Beginning Saturday

"Rest," was the command given by Coach Huntington to his squad this morning after a comparatively easy week on the gridiron. Since the Idaho contest, the main factor on the afternoon practice program has been signal work and the development of new plays.

Several of the main Varsity men have been out of the lineup this week due to injuries and sickness. "Bas" Williams received a wrenched knee in the game against the Vandals at Moscow and has been taking it easy since that time. "Vince" Jacobberger has been ill but has recovered and will be seen in the backfield again on Monday. Ed Strowbridge, who was kept out of the game last Saturday because of a severe case of poison oak, is another who is ready to resume his duties with the Varsity.

Light Scrimmage Held

A light scrimmage was indulged in yesterday afternoon. It was the first of the week, and not so strenuous as the average clash between the first and second teams. Several of the regulars were out of the lineup and some of those able to get into the fracas were unable to show their best form because of slight injuries.

On Monday the real practice for the University of Washington game is due to begin. Beginning next Saturday, the Varsity is on the program for a game every week until the conclusion of the season. Four of the five contests are to be played on foreign territory, which makes it especially hard on them.

It is doubtful at this time who will be picked from the 18 training table men to start the Washington clash. Captain Brandenburg is still on the "weak" list, but his shoulder has shown a marked improvement over last week. Trainer "Bill" Hayward has his "rubber" crew at work in the steam room every evening and some of the kinks are being taken out of sore muscles and sprained joints by the application of steam and liniment.

Coach Watching Aggies

Coach Huntington and Trainer Hayward left for Corvallis this morning accompanied by the first squad for the purpose of watching the Aggie-Stanford fracas this afternoon. The main purpose in view is to get a line on the collegians for future use. The following men made the trip to Corvallis: Captain Brandenburg, "Spike" and "Brick" Leslie, Art Berg, "Bas" Williams, Hollis Huntington, "Skeet" Manerud, "Bill" Steers, Francis and Vincent Jacobberger, Mart Howard, "Nish" Chapman, Ed Strowbridge, Stan Anderson, Al Harding.

Assistant Coach Spellman and Ken Bartlett are in Seattle today looking over Coach "Jump" Hunt's eleven, which is to form the opposition next week at Seattle.

MEMORIAL DRIVE PUSHED

Students in Public Speaking Will Help Roosevelt Campaign

According to Professor R. W. Prescott, instructor in public speaking, Eugene and all surrounding territory is to be thoroughly combed for the Roosevelt memorial fund, the drive for which is to begin next week.

The University sent Ralph Hoerber and Remy Cox out to the city high school this morning to address the assembly in behalf of the drive.

Tonight Carlton Spencer, registrar, will impress on the populace of Creswell the importance and the honor of participating in this work

SENTIMENT GROWS FOR ORGANIZATION OF ROOSEVELT CLUB

Society Would Promote Ideals of Great American; Funds Come in for Memorial

With the Roosevelt memorial fund drive nearing completion, sentiment on the campus seems to be gradually shaping itself toward the formation of a more lasting memorial, so far as the university is concerned, in the form of a Roosevelt club or society. The idea gained added impetus on Thursday with President Campbell's announcement in assembly of the recent action of New York university in forming a Roosevelt club, with the ultimate purpose of combining with similar clubs to form a Roosevelt league or association.

In an interview last night Herman Lind, chairman of the committee conducting the memorial fund drive on the campus, said the idea of a Roosevelt club formed along lines similar to those adopted by New York university met with his approval. Dean Allen in an informal discussion of the uplandakrr, yethel discussion of the plan remarked that such a movement appealed to him as a very fitting manner for Roosevelt admirers among college men and women to commemorate the former president.

Student Council May Act

"The student council did not take up the discussion of the formation of a Roosevelt club at the meeting on Wednesday night," said Stanford Anderson yesterday, but he added that there was a possibility of it coming up later.

"Its objects," sets forth the telegram received by President Campbell from the Roosevelt Memorial association, announcing the formation of a Roosevelt club in New York university, "are to be primarily the nonpartisan discussion of the economic, social and spiritual topics of American life. Of this organization, Roosevelt's life shall be the inspiration." The telegram puts the association on record as "looking forward to the founding of similar clubs which may in the end be united in a league of true Americanism." The memorial association pledges itself in the forming of such clubs or societies.

Drive Meets Success

"I cannot say at this time," said Herman Lind last night, "just how much money has been raised so far in the campaign." He reported, however that the drive was meeting with an appreciable display of interest on the part of the students and that very probably a majority have already given to the cause.

"The donations from individual students have not been large," he said. "The object of the campaign has not been to raise a large sum, but rather to give each one a chance to help as he feels inclined." The drive closes Monday, he added, and hoped that everybody who wished to contribute would have his money in by that time. The funds raised go direct to the Roosevelt memorial headquarters.

ATTENTION, JUNIORS
Members of the senior class accept the challenge of the junior class to a game of football to be played at the earliest day agreeable to both classes.

Deans in Quandary; When is 11 O'clock Tonight; They Ask

Both Dean Fox and Dean Straub are worried. Moreover, they are puzzled. And they are in a quandary. For the first time in his long career in the University, the dean of men is not sure of his position. How does that come about?

It is about tonight's dates. What time do they end? Ordinarily of course, they end at 11 o'clock. But the question now is, when is 11 o'clock.

Tonight is the night that the clocks of the nation go backwards one hour. In other wards, when 11 o'clock comes around it will really be only 10 o'clock, most of the clocks will already have been turned back, and the students will have another hour of liberty.

But the question is still further complicated. When is 11 o'clock? Is 11 o'clock 10 o'clock or midnight? And if so, why? And whichever is 11 o'clock, when do dates end?

No wonder that both deans are worried. They are said to have called into conference Professor E. H. McAllister, authority on astronomy, hence, on time; Professor DeCout, mathematician, and Dean Morton, exponent extraordinary of good times. But nothing has come out of it. And the deans are still puzzled, and the students rejoice.

But, not only is there the possible extension of dates for tonight—there is also the added hour of slumber, longed for by the multitude. If there were only classes tomorrow the whole college could be one hour late for their first class.

And those dining rooms which formerly closed doors at 8 o'clock, would have to remain open for another hour. Verily, the legislators at Washington have created great things.

Whenever you do it, don't forget to turn your watches and clocks back one hour tonight. For it is so decreed.

SOPH'S JAZZ INFORMAL

Second Year Men to Challenge Frosh for Football Game

The sophomore dance to be held December 5 will be informal. Such was the final decision of the class at a meeting last evening in Villard hall. It was the original intention to make it a formal affair, but Dean Straub was opposed to this and the boys of the class strenuously objected because of their inability to procure dress suits. This is the only social affair which the sophomores will be allowed to have this quarter.

It was decided that the second-year men would challenge the Frosh to a football game. They will also challenge the winner of the junior-senior contest. Sydney Hayslip was elected manager and the team will be chosen soon.

Twenty-five dollars was voted to be given toward the fund for the rally before the O.A.C.-Oregon game. A picture of the sophomore class will be taken for the Oregana next Thursday at the assembly hour in front of Villard, it was announced.

MASONIC CLUB FORMED

Prof. F. S. Dunn, Temporary Chairman, Newton Baker, Secretary.

A meeting was held in the office of Dean Straub Thursday evening for the purpose of organizing a Masonic club on the campus. Prof. F. S. Dunn was elected temporary chairman, and Newton Bader, secretary. A committee was appointed to draw up a constitution and by-laws for the new organization.

The next meeting will be held in Dean Straub's office next Tuesday evening so that all arrangements may be made at once for the formation of a permanent organization. The attendance of all Masons at the next meeting is urged.

ARMISTICE DAY TO BE HOLIDAY ON CAMPUS IS FACULTY DECREE

University Will Join in City Celebration November 11, Says Committee

STUDENTS WILL PARADE

Mass Meeting and Dance Planned—Picnic to be Frowned on as Wrong in Spirit

A holiday November 11 to celebrate the signing of the armistice was granted yesterday afternoon at a special meeting of the faculty of the University. The matter was discussed at the student council meeting on Wednesday night and it was decided there to petition the faculty for a holiday in order that the students might join with the people of the city of Eugene in their celebration of the day. Elmo Madden and John Houston, members of the student committee, and E. C. Simmons and Carl Washburne, explained plans as they now stand for celebration that day.

Arrangements for the celebration are in the hands of the American Legion, which has the co-operation of the chamber of commerce in the matter. All Eugene stores and banks are to close on that day and the plan is to make the day as near like November 11 last year as possible. The purpose is to give the boys who were overseas or in army camps the opportunity to celebrate the day. "The celebration will resemble the Fourth of July only it will be bigger," say those in charge.

Legion to Head Parade

A parade headed by the American Legion will start at 11 o'clock. University men who are members of the Legion will march with this group and other men who are eligible are asked to join before November 11. Other organizations will march in the parade. The women of the Auxiliary of the American Legion will be represented as well as the Auxiliary of the 66th artillery. University students will also have a place in the parade.

Following the parade will be a large mass meeting in the armory which all University students will attend. The American Legion is ar- (Continued on page 8.)

LLOYD TEGART TO COACH FOOTBALL

Member of Great 1916 Team Handles Washington High Team in Portland

Lloyd Tegart, formerly end of the Oregon football team, has been selected as coach of the Washington High school team of Portland. Tegart takes the place vacated by the resignation of Professor Leon Strong. Strong had not been getting the results from the Washington team that Principal H. H. Herdman thought should come from the Washington squad.

Tegart starred at tackle for the Washington High for four years from 1911 to 1914. He played four years under Hugo Bezdek, being shifted to an end. He was a member of the famous team of 1916 and after leaving college he entered the Marine Corps, playing on the Mare Island team of 1917, which was captained by his former teammate Johnny Beckett. Tegart, after receiving his discharge from the service, returned to the University and completed his college course, graduating with the class of 1919.

Oregon followers that knew "Teg" during the days that he wore the Lemon-Yellow will watch closely the result of his work at the Portland High school.
