NAMING THE NEW FIELD

Our new athletic field is to be formally inaugurated and christened Saturday, November 15, the inaugural services being held shortly before the commencing of the Oregon-O.A.C. game—the first contest to be played on our new athletic grounds.

It is necessary that our splendid new field have a fitting name. A committee of student council members has been appointed to work with a committee of faculty members to select a name but they need the suggestions and opinions of the members of the student body at large in making the selection.

Shall the field be named after some individual who has worked unceasingly in behalf of the University for the past many years, or shall it be given a title representing something else which holds a meaning or sentiment for our students?

Get together with the committee and talk the matter over. The student council committee consists of Lyle McCroskey, Ed Durno and Ella Rawlings. The faculty committee is headed by Prof. W. F. G. Thacher.

VERSE AND WORSE

By W. F. Plus Be Be.

That There Dance

In a flannel shirt that was glazed with dirt,
Each stude was feeling gay.
Short men and tall, boots, shoes and all,
Shimmied the time away.

White collars there, were very rare,
Yet one or two walked in—
But if one profits by the past,
They won't be worn again.

Yes, maidens fair were everywhere,
In hiking boots and sweaters;
If football men got out alive
They sure deserved their letters.

The struggle ceased at 10 o'clock,
Too short, of course, but then,
'Tis soon that we beat Pullman—
And celebrate again.

Once Upon a Midnight Dreary

Up Eleventh street a maiden ran
Such speed was quite alarming;
Behind the miss a man sped up
To catch the maiden charming.

Ten blocks they made in nothing flat
The Springfield car they passed,
The motorman was much alarmed
To see his car outclassed.

I crouched to grab the villain,
His puffing frame to climb—
I start to leap—the maiden shrieks,
"O, good!—we're in on time."

Bashful Bertram says: They do not study Sherman Clay in geology.

The member of the band who plays the drum will have to beat his way to Portland.

A fellow is not a criminal if he goes to court, unless he is courting another fellow's girl.

Answer to last week's query: Djer-Kiss is pronounced Pebeco.

A freshman sat on the senior bench and a bunch of sophomores were hot but the soph president was Boylen.

Elmo Madden had a circular letter advertising tooth paste and a frosh thought it was a diploma from Colgate College.

"Iias" Smith is make-up editor of the Emerald, but this has nothing to do with the dramatic section.

Some students do their outside reading at the bulletin board in front of the library.

Just because you feel Bolshevistic there is no need of rushin' around.

A frosh desires to get into the band on the grounds that a shoe-horn is an instrument.

If the Gamma Phi basement leaks much more they will have a little ferry in their home.

Pour-quoi?

Oh what is so rare as a day in June,
The poet lightly whispers,
A girl who goes to Springfield,
And does not tell her sisters.

Historic Eggs and Cabbages too Much for A. K. P's.

The scheduled Alpha Kappa Psi initiation speeches did not come off this morning. The neophytes, although prepared in dress, manner and forensics, were unavoidably detained inside of Deady hall, and were unable to face the large crowd of students, vegetables and historic eggs which awaited them.

Bill Steers, Bas Williams and Spike Leslie were the anticipated speakers. The trio composed lengthy and weighty speeches on various commercial subjects of the day, dressed in their best clothes, marched about the campus beating a drum to collect the crowd, and then beat a hasty retreat into the shelter of Deady hall.

Someone with an accurage aim laid a barrage of rotten eggs and ancient cabbages on the backs of the neophytes. The speeches were never given.

PLANS FOR SENIOR SHINDIG PROGRESS

SNAPPY AFFAIR TO BE HELD NOVEMBER 21—COMMITTEES ARE APPOINTED

Seniors' Cynical Shindig — Men's Gym—November 21. Senior dignity will be blasted. Stunts, fun and food will abound. Woe to the man or woman who dresses up. No dates; every senior come; attend the Shindig functions for seniors only.

Such is the gist of the report of the senior dance committee, headed by Mike Harris, given yesterday afternoon at the class meeting in Villard hall. Harris will have general charge of and chief responsibility for the affair, but he has appointed hard-working classmates to assist him, as follows:

Reception committee—Gladys Harkke (chairman), Ethel McGilchrist, Lee Hulbert, Curt Peterson.

Music committee—Norman Phillips (chairman), Chet Adams.

Stunts committee—Ike Ross (chairman), Lyle McCroskey, Alys Sutton, Jeannette Moss.

Food committee — Harold Brock (chairman), Lindsay McArthur, Marjorie Kay, Clementina Cameron.

Publicity committee—Adelaide Lake (chairman), Jack Dundore, Joy Judkins.

The various committees are already at work. Ike Ross promises to produce stunts superior to those of the April frolic. The food outfit recommends that seniors do not eat supper on the evening of the 21st, for real food, no refreshments, will be forced upon the Cynics. Posters, in box-car letters, will appear in the near future.

The class also went on record as favoring a confectionery desk at the Y. M. C. A. hut, where candy and chewing tobacco might be readily obtained by students on the campus. A treasurer's report disclosed a balance of $240.42.

FACULTY TO HAVE PARTY

Get-Acquainted Entertainment to be in Y Hut Friday Evening

Speeches from new members of the faculty and musical numbers from the recently added professors in the school of music is the entertainment planned for the faculty party Friday evening in the Y. M. C. A. hut. The purpose of this affair is twofold; primarily of course, to get acquainted with one another, since there are 25 additions to Oregon's teaching staff this year. Then, too, the board of regents just voted to put a few more shekles in the moneybag each month to help the pedagogues payroll along, so they find this alone would be excuse enough to celebrate.

Those responsible for the success of the affair are Professor W. F. G. Thacher, Mrs. Anna Landsbury Beck, Mrs. E. E. DeCou, Mrs. Larremore and Professor Robert W. Prescott. "The party will be quite informal in its nature," stated Professor Thacher, "and it is to be hoped that none of the faculty will miss this opportunity to get acquainted."

The championship of the State of Washington will be decided the same day that the Oregon title will be determined. The University of Washington meets the W. S. C. eleven in Spokane on November 15.
