MEDICAL STUDENTS FLOCK TO UNIVERSITY HOMCOMING WEEK

Failure to Obtain Vacation Kills Plan for Special Train and Stunts

Portland, Nov. 24—(Special)—Growing "Oregon Spirit" at the medical school is indicated in the way the medical students flocked back to their alma mater during Homecoming. Over 25 per cent of the medical school students attended the Homecoming program.

It had been planned during the earlier part of the Homecoming campaign to have the medical students go down in a body and have them put on a special stunt as representative of themselves. In accordance with these plans, a petition was circulated and signed by the entire student body, that the faculty allow Friday and Saturday as holidays so that no classes would be missed. The petition was warranted by the fact that a paper had previously been passed around asking all those who contemplated going to Homecoming sign it. As approximately forty names were thus obtained, a petition for a holiday was deemed advisable.

The petition, consequently, was circulated and presented to the faculty. They turned it down, but through their spokesman, cryptically remarked at the same time that "25 per cent cuts were allowed."

Nevertheless, the fear of cutting classes and thus getting behind in their work was sufficient of a deterrent to keep many from going who otherwise would have gone.

But the seeds of a more uniform medical school representation at "Oregon" affairs have been sown, and judging from this year, very satisfactory results can be expected next year.

Physiology Journal Club Started.
The department of physiology, through its head Dr. G. E. Burget, has started a physiology journal club—an organization in the nature of a seminar which meets once a month.

The purpose of the club is to read and discuss the latest physiological articles as they appear in current publications. In this way the most recent developments in physiological science can be followed and added to the general knowledge of those partaking of minimum of effort and time.

Those in the club are Dr. G. E. Burget, head of the department of physiology, Dr. H. B. Torrey, head of the work at Reed College, Mr. Richard Montgomery, and Miss Mildred McBride, who are doing research work under Dr. Burget, and Messrs. Homer Rush, Jack Montgomery and Ira Manville who are assisting in the department.

Dr. Wm. F. Allen, head of the department of Neurology, has tentative plans on foot for a similar organization for the benefit of his advanced students. It is to be earnestly hoped that his plans materialize.

Journal Club Program.
Following is the program for the first two sessions of the Physiology Journal club:

Wednesday, Nov. 12, at 4:30 p. m., in room 108—"Studies of the adaptation of Man to Higher Altitudes," by Sundstrom. Leader, Miss McBride.

December 12—"Studies on the Nervous Control of the Kidney in Relation to Diuresis and Urinary Secretion," by Marshall and Kolls. Leader, Mr. Montgomery.

Miss Gertrude Talbot, Reed resident at Hendricks hall, was a visitor at the medical school recently.

Coming, a big performance of the wonderful old comedy, "Martin Chuzzlewit," at the Eugene theatre, December 12.

HUNTINGTON TO USE FIRST TEAM AGAINST M. A. A. C.

Old Stars Join Clubmen.
The club team, from all reports, is stronger than it has been at any time this year. They are out to win from the varsity and will put forth every effort to do so. Jack Layton, formerly of Montana, Gene Murphy of Notre Dame, Barry and Dorman, university of Washington, and Bill Holden, ex-Oregon tackle, are some of the stars that are in the clubmen's lineup. The team is much stronger and in better condition than it was at the beginning of the season on Kincaid field and should give the varsity a hard game.

About 25 men will make the trip accompanied by Coaches Huntington and Spellman and Trainer Bill Hayward.

OREGON'S HOPE OF PLAYING IN PASADENA BRIGHTENS

If California wins, it means that the decision will be made between Oregon and the southern eleven. The Bears have lost but one contest, that to W. S. C., in which they were clearly outplayed. The O. A. C. eleven came near tying the Californians earlier in the season but finally lost 21-14. Then California defeated Stanford 14-10.

Oregon Wins All But One
Oregon, on the other hand, has lost but one contest, that to W. S. C. Although the varsity was defeated, all the sport critics of the northwest admitted that the Cougars were outplayed. Oregon scored more than twice as much yardage as the north-easterners, but lost on the only break of the game, a fumble on their own 20-yard line.

Washington defeated the Cougars after losing to the varsity. In the Oregon-Washington contest, the Washingtonians admitted that the better team won. Oregon gained a great deal more yardage than the "Big Stickers" and earned her touchdowns by real football.

Any way that the whole matter is figured, Oregon has the edge. The only drawback is that no southern team has been met during the season. This was through no fault of the varsity, however, as a contest was scheduled early in the year with Stanford to be played on November 22. The Cardinals broke their contract in order to meet the "Golden Bear" on that date and left Oregon without a game in the south. Effort was also made to arrange a clash with the California aggregation, but Coach Andy Smith could not see it that way.

Thanksgiving Game Factor
Whatever decision is made by the Pasadena Board, Oregon will feel that she is entitled to consideration due to her record. The Thanksgiving day clash between California and Washington will be a great factor. Should the two teams tie, Oregon should have an undisputed claim, whereas if either team wins it will be a matter for later decision.

YOUR EYES and the Movies

Do you enjoy the movies as much as your friends do?

Can you see the actor's eyes and read the letters on the screen?

Long, continued, tense gazing, especially at badly worn films, is a great strain on the eyes.

If your eyes bother you, have them properly examined. A good pair of glasses, if needed, may double your pleasure, and also make your work easier.
