By Herman Lind. Whether or not Oregon is selected to represent the west on New Year's day now remains to be determined by the board of control of the Pasadena Tournament of Roses. The determination of this matter depends on whether or not they are going to choose the best of the coast to play the annual classic.

That the Oregon team is champion of the coast conference is now indisputable as a result of the victory of Washington over California on Thanksgiving. The lemon-yellow has a victory of 24-13 chalked against the northern institution and as the two teams are tied in the percentage column this fact alone is enough to determine the standing of the two elevens.

Oregon Awaits Decision. "Oregon's season is over, until word is definitely heard announcing who will play at Pasadena on New Year's day," Coach "Shy" Huntington announced yesterday. "The varsity returned from Portland as undisputed coast champions after the Thanksgiving day contests, and regardless of whether or not we are selected to play in the south, this cannot be disputed."

FINAL DATE IS SET FOR FILING ESSAYS

COMMITTEE LIMITS COMPETITORS FROM 2000 TO 5000 WORDS

February 1, 1920, has been set as the final date for the filing of the essays to be submitted in competition for the annual Philo Sherman Bennett prize. A $20 award is made yearly for the best essay discussing the principles of free government. The prize is to be awarded by a board appointed by a committee of the faculty.

The committee suggests that the competitors limit their attention to some specific problem bearing directly upon the general principles of free government. They suggest the following subjects: "Public Openings in a Free Government," "The Right of Minorities in a Free Government," "Liberty of Speech in a Free Government," and "Direct Legislation in a Free Government."

The writers may seek advice upon the subject from the departments in the University the work of which is related to the subject treated in the essay. Credit for the essay as a part of departmental requirements may be applied for. No paper, it is pointed out, should contain the name of the author. The essays are restricted to from 2000 to 5000 words.

MRS. IDA CALLAHAN OF O. A. C. TO VISIT

Speaker Will Be on Campus for Last Meeting of Women's League

Women's League will hold its last meeting of the fall term on December 10 in Villard hall. At this time the women of the University will have the opportunity of hearing Mrs. Ida B. Callahan of Corvallis, president of the Oregon State Federation of Women's Clubs. Mrs. Callahan will speak to the girls on the different phases of work carried on by the federation, for this year particularly. Accompanying Mrs. Callahan on her visit to Eugene and the University will be the president and secretary of the O. A. C. league. These young women will tell something about their organization, which has but recently been formed and will expect to see in the Oregon league a practical working out of modern club work. Louise Davis, president of the Women's league, is urging that every girl keep in mind the date for the meeting and be at hand to give their guests a rousing welcome.

MUSIC ASSOCIATION MEETS

University Faculty Members Attend Portland Gathering

The Oregon State Music Teachers' association held a meeting in Portland at the Hotel Multnomah during the Thanksgiving holiday. Friday and Saturday were given over to the subject of present day music in the public schools. Dr. J. J. Landsbury, dean of the university school of music, spoke upon the subject "Public School Music from a University Standpoint."

A luncheon was held Friday noon and a concert at 8 o'clock Friday evening. Among those who offered selections were Mrs. Jane S. Thacher and Rex Underwood, of Eugene.

A banquet Saturday evening brought the convention to a close.

MEN'S GLEE CLUB TOUR SET

Eastern Oregon to Hear University Men Christmas Vacation

An eight-day tour through eastern Oregon, beginning immediately after the Christmas vacation, is being planned by the Men's Glee club. They also plan a spring trip and one small one, probably to Junction City, before the tour begins.

The program is being planned by Professor Lukken, head of the vocal department of the school of music, and director of the club, and is to be divided into three sections. The first part will consist of glee club numbers and a few solos. The second part will be made up entirely of negro minstrel selections such as camp meeting songs. The third part will contain musical stunts. The club will give the same program in Eugene immediately following their return from the eastern Oregon tour.

CLASS TO ISSUE MAGAZINE

Next "Old Oregon" in Charge of Editing Squad—Bob Case is Editor

The next number of "Old Oregon," the alumni magazine, will be in charge of the editing class, senior class in editing under Eric W. Allen, dean of the school of journalism. The class will have entire charge of the publication from the gathering and writing of material to circulation. Robert Case, of Portland, has been chosen editor by the class and Percy Boatman, of Spokane, Wash., business manager. The others on the staff are John DeWitt Gilbert, Astoria; Neil Morfitt, Malheur; Earle Richardson, McMinnville; and Louise Davis, Elva Bagley and Dorothy Duniway, all of Portland. This issue will be out the first of January.

Lieut. Cook Goes to Vancouver.

Lieut. Earl L. Cook, who has been a member of the R. O. T. C. staff here since last March, left today for Vancouver. Lieutenant Cook has been transferred to regular army duties. He was accompanied by his wife and family.

FRANK BRANCH RILEY TO SHOW PICTURES AT NEXT ASSEMBLY

Portland Man to Give Famous Lecture "The Lure of the Pacific Northwest"

Frank Branch Riley, an attorney of Portland, will give his famous lecture "The Lure of the Pacific Northwest," at assembly on Thursday, December 4.

Mr. Riley brings with him, according to Karl Onthank, secretary to President Campbell, one of the finest collection of pictures of the Northwest ever made and combines with them a lecture which has been gleaned from intimate acquaintance with the scenes which he shows. He is a delightful speaker and knows the Northwest like a book. At present he is just returning from an eastern trip in which he has given his lecture before large audiences.

Organizations which have once heard Mr. Riley have repeatedly sought to have the lecture given again. He appeared last year at the university of Oregon and his lecture was voted the most interesting assembly number, Mr. Onthank said.

On Thursday evening Mr. Riley will speak again and show his pictures at some downtown hall, probably the Eugene Chamber of Commerce. An admission fee of fifty cents is to be charged at that time, the proceeds of which are to go to the women's building.

The last assembly of the year on Thursday, December 11, will be a regular student body meeting. In addition to routine business, the Greater Oregon committee will set forth plans for work in interesting high school students in the university. Further plans to raise money for the women's building are also to be brought up at that time.

DR. J. J. LANDSBURY SPEAKS

Other Members of Music Faculty on State Association Program

Dr. J. J. Landsbury, dean of the University of Oregon school of music, spoke on the subject of public school music from a University standpoint, at a meeting of the Oregon State Music Teachers' association held in Portland during the Thanksgiving holidays. The association met at the Multnomah hotel, Friday and Saturday. Present day music in the schools was the subject under discussion.

Mrs. Jane Thacher and Rex Underwood, both of the University school of music, gave selections at the concert which was held Friday night of the convention.

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON AFFLICTED WITH MANY ARCHITECTURAL WARTS

Annexitis Has Attacked Nearly Buildings On the Campus; Friendly Hall Has Long List of Indignities to Offer

Too many students—no place to put them! All right—build another annex.

This is the way the University of Oregon is caring for its steadily increasing attendance during the past few years. Since the first attack of annexitis on the campus in 1902 the practice of adding to the existing buildings, rather than constructing new ones, has been in vogue. Of late, the need of more room has been so great that small additions have sprung up on the campus like the proverbial mushroom.

At first, substantial additions were built to the buildings, but the practice has now become so general that numerous wooden shanties, brown, red, white, or as in the case of the women's outdoor gym, as nature left them, cause the visitor to gaze with the mental query of "How do they get that way?"

EMERALD TO HAVE LITERARY SECTION ONCE EACH WEEK

"The Lemon Punch", With Bob Case Editor, to be Medium for Student Writing

Saturday will mark the initial appearance of a new publication on the campus in the form of a literary supplement to the regular edition of the Emerald. The "Lemon Punch" is the name selected for the new publication. Bob Case has been appointed editor.

The new literary magazine is the result of a strong agitation among literary and journalistic circles for a publication devoted solely to the literary talent on the campus. It is intended that the new publication will serve as a beginning for a new magazine which will rank with the literary publications of other colleges.

The project is heartily endorsed by various members of the faculty. "The new magazine will undoubtedly supply a want on the campus," said Professor George Turnbill, of the school of journalism department. "We have no adequate medium for the expression of the students' literary talent. There is no good reason why the publication cannot succeed. There is plenty of material on the campus."

Prof. W. F. G. Thacher, who has been in favor of a campus magazine for a long time, said: "I like the idea; I like the name; I like the editor. A good idea with a good name and a good man to push it ought to go, and go strong. Time has been when the success of a punch depended upon the amount of 'stick' there was to it. I predict that the success of the Punch will depend upon the amount of stick-to-it there is. The Lemon Punch is going to require a lot of support from the students. But then, that is what you can always count on from Oregon students: loyal support for any worthy enterprise. Some day the Lemon Punch will stand alone. Meanwhile, all thanks to the Emerald for fostering it."

Dean Allen, of the school of journalism, is an enthusiastic supporter of the projected magazine. The only way to find out whether a publication of this kind would be successful, said Dean Allen, is to try it. "If everybody helps and contributions are numerous," he said, "it will succeed."

Material Wide in Range. The magazine will be devoted to (Continued on page 8) 2

RETURN SOCCER GAME TO BE PLAYED DEC. 6

O. A. C. and Oregon Teams Will Clash in Corvallis—Locals to Start Practice

Manager Dwight Parry announced today that a return game of soccer with O. A. C. to be played next Saturday, December 6, at Corvallis. Arrangements have been pending for some time, but owing to football activities and the recent Thanksgiving vacation no definite date for the game was made until yesterday.

Practice will be resumed immediately, and Manager Parr requests that all members of the team be out at once, if for no other than to run off some of the avoirdupois recently acquired due to an excess of turkey.

O. A. C. will be out for blood in reparation for the defeat handed them in the first game during Homecoming week, and a regular exhibition of the Scottish pastime should be witnessed.

TO SELL RED CROSS SEALS

Stamps Will Be Offered Students at Thursday Assembly

Everyone should bring his pennies to the Thursday assembly, at Villard hall. There will be a sale of Red Cross seals, and as there will be no drive of any kind, and this is absolutely the only time when the stamps can be secured, it is urgent that everyone buy. So, Miss Elizabeth Fox, who with Mrs. P. L. Campbell is in charge of the seals, asks each student to come to the assembly and bring some money with him. The stamps are a penny each, and Miss Fox suggests that if each person on the campus buys at least five, a considerable amount will be made.

The sale is to be conducted after the assembly hour. A table will be placed at each entrance to the building, and several will be appointed by Miss Fox to have charge.

J. S. EVANS GETS OFFER

Head of Oregon Department Asked to Be Soprano's Accompanist

Miss Greta Mason, one of the very prominent New York sopranos, who does concert work exclusively, has asked John Stark Evans, head of the organ department of the school of music of the university of Oregon, now on a year's leave of absence studying in New York, to become her permanent accompanist. Mr. Evans has not accepted this offer and expects to continue the work which he is doing under Rudolph Ganz and his study of composition under Goldmark.

MEN GET RIFLE PRACTICE

Freshmen's Instructions on Gallery Range Begins

Sub-calibre rifle practice for freshmen was started at the gallery range at the R. O. T. C. barracks this morning. The instruction is under the supervision of the non-commissioned officers of the training staff. Practice will continue until each cadet has fired the required number of rounds. No cadet will be allowed to fire more than ten shots on any one day. The hours of fire are from eight to twelve o'clock in the morning and from one to three in the afternoon.

Sergeant Martin, who has charge of the instruction, expresses himself as well pleased with the scores that have been made on the range so far.

R. O. T. C. GETS TWO DESKS

Army Regulation Equipment Folds in Steel Box

Two field desks were received last week by the R. O. T. C. The desks, which are army regulation style, contain two card index files writing top and space for stationery and office supplies.

The entire equipment folds up into a box about the size of the ordinary suit case. The desks are for the use of the company clerk.

PRACTICE HOUSE IS PLANNED FOR GIRLS

HOUSEHOLD ARTS DEPARTMENT AT WORK ON HOPE CHEST FOR NEW HOME

Some day, as soon as financial circumstances permit, the girls of the department of household arts will have a practice house in which to get some actual experience rather than mere theory and not much practice, which the course necessarily consists of at the present time. The girls are planning for their house now and all of the classes in the department are busily engaged in making a hope chest for the house when it is secured. Dollies, towels, napkins and linens are being made by the students, and Mrs. P. L. Campbell has donated some embroidered towels and other linen pieces to the chest. The home decoration class is making rugs and table linen as their donation.

Next term classes have not been definitely planned for the department as yet, according to Miss Lilian Tingle, head of the department of household arts, and definite announcements cannot be made now, but the food economics class which is now studying foods for children will be continued no doubt, and the adolescent period will be studied.

In the course on housewifery the renovation of furniture is being taken up and actual practice of making over old furniture has been done by the girls.

In the sewing department garments of all sorts are being made, but most of the girls are working on blouses and underwear.
