

PEACE TREATY VOTE TO BE CAST TUESDAY ON OREGON CAMPUS

Movement Started by Eastern Universities Becomes Nationwide

STUDENT OPINION WANTED

Six Propositions Concerning Treaty To be Placed on Ballot—Faculty to Vote Separately

A referendum vote of students and faculty on the Peace treaty will be taken on the University campus Tuesday between the hours of 8:30 and 4:30. A similar vote has been taken or is yet to be taken at all the leading universities and colleges in the United States and is for the purpose of determining student opinion on this important issue. The movement started with Columbia, Princeton, Harvard and Yale, which sent out sample ballots to the other educational institutions of the country.

Oregon's vote will be counted here and the results will be turned in to the national committee. Ballot boxes will be placed in about four different places on the campus. The campus committee in charge of arrangements is Guy Armantrout, Adelaide Lake and Lee Hulbert.

Each Student to Vote
At each poll will be a supply of the ballots and each student is requested to stop some time during the day, check his ballot and drop it in the box.

There will be a separate polling place for the faculty. This, the committee decided, will be just outside the library and will be marked by a poster. Students are asked not to drop their ballots into this box as the faculty vote and that of the students is to be kept separate.

On the ballot will be six distinct propositions concerning what should be done with the peace treaty. The voter is to check the one which he considers the correct step to be taken by the United States.

A large participation is desired, because Oregon wants to compare favorably with the other universities and colleges of the country.

List of Propositions
Following are the six propositions. Choose one:

1. I favor the ratification of the League and Treaty without amendments or reservations.
2. I am opposed to the ratification of the League and Treaty in any form.
3. I am in favor of the ratification of the Treaty and League, but only with the specific reservations as voted by the majority of the Senate.
4. I favor any compromise on the reservations which will make possible immediate ratification of the Treaty and League.
5. I favor the government proceeding to make peace with Germany at once, leaving the question of a league of nations to be settled afterwards.
6. I favor a compromise on the reservations of such a character as will avoid the danger of defeating ratification while still making clear that America can only be involved in war by a declaration of Congress, that domestic questions and the Monroe doctrine are entirely outside of the jurisdiction of the League, that the plural vote of any member are all disqualified in the event of a dispute wherein we are disqualified from voting, and that on deciding to withdraw we are to be the judge of whether our obligations have been met.

The voter is asked to sign his name on his ballot.

OREGON GRIDSTERS ARE FETED BY EUGENE MEN

went wild. Cheering, yelling, howling, they greeted the two men who played the most important part in moulding the eleven which brought unending credit to their institution. It was not until after several moments of frenzied cheering that Yell Leaders Crandall, Knudson and Keeney could quiet the exuberant greeting.

"Boys, this is the best spirit I have seen in 16 years," Bill Hayward told the boys. "I haven't gone yet. I have two weeks in which to make my decision. Tonight's demonstration has done a big bit."

Oregon's veteran trainer paid a brilliant tribute to Coach Shy Huntington. Pointing to him, he said, "There's a better man than Bezdek ever could—" The rest of his remarks were drowned by a colossal wave of applause.

Coach Shy Huntington spoke to the assemblage with a voice shaken with emotion. "This is the proudest moment of my life," he said. "I don't think Bill will leave," he continued a minute later. "It would be the greatest shock Oregon has ever had."

Creston Maddock then read resolutions on behalf of the student body expressing gratitude to both Hayward and Huntington for their part in making this football season the "most victorious in the history of Oregon athletics," and further to assure them that Oregon stood to a man to support in every way the University athletic staff.

Ben W. Olcott, the governor of Oregon, was present at the banquet. He carved an immense chocolate, "Harvard melon" in the shape of a cake adorned with miniature football players labeled after the Harvard players. The members of Oregon's eleven were each presented with a slice of the cake bearing the player he opposed in the big classic. "You boys have done a wonderful thing for the state, and it will be remembered for years," Governor Olcott said. "If I am ever fortunate enough to be a grandfather and have grandchildren clamber about my knee and ask me what happened during my administration I will tell them that the Oregon boys humbled the wonderful Harvard team during my period of office."

Speaking of Bill Hayward, Governor Olcott said he had heard rumors that he was thinking of leaving Oregon. "He has been a wonderful asset to the University," he said, "and if Bill Hayward has the nerve to leave Oregon I'm going out and take his name off that new athletic field."

During the banquet many telegrams from every part of the United States lauding the Oregon team for its wonderful game were read. Telegrams were received from A. Lawrence Lowell, president of Harvard university; the Portland Alumni association; Willamette university; University of Washington; Washington State college; Stanford university; University of California; Multnomah Athletic club; the Portland Oregonian; George L. Baker, mayor of Portland; J. C. Lowe, mayor of Corvallis; State Chamber of Commerce; Portland Chamber of Commerce, and Sam Dolan, well-known athletic official at O. A. C. The latter ended by saying, "Do not let Bill Hayward leave the state of Oregon. He is a great part of our state and is the greatest athletic asset we have. He must not leave us."

Enthusiasm, spirit, and interest did not lag for a single instant from the time the entertainment started at 6:45 until after 11 o'clock when it broke up. Hon. R. A. Booth acted as toastmaster. Other speakers were E. C. Simmons, president of the Eugene chamber of commerce; President P. L. Campbell, Mariou McClain, Bill Hayward, Shy Huntington and the individual members of the team.

Bill Hayward told of the Oregon fight which had been such a big part in Oregon's athletic victories since the founding of the institution. When the veteran of 16 years at Oregon arose to speak the entire assemblage rose to their feet and the air rung with applause. Bill tried to tell what Oregon fight was but he couldn't express himself as he wanted to. "Oregon fight—I can't tell you—it's just there," he said. "Every man has it. Where he gets it I don't know—it's just there."

A few minutes later Shy Huntington said in his talk that Bill was modest in speaking about Oregon fight. "Oregon fight is Bill Hayward," he said.

DEAN FOX TO TALK THROUGHOUT STATE

NATION-WIDE EDUCATIONAL AND FINANCIAL PROGRAM TO BE PROMOTED

Dean Elizabeth Fox will make a tour of the state, starting January 17, in behalf of an educational and financial program which the Y. W. C. A. is now forwarding. This program is nation-wide in scope, Dean Fox having been asked to make a tour of the states of Oklahoma, Texas and Arizona, declining, however, because she could not spare the time from her work at the University. Miss Fox goes to Portland first, where she will attend a Daughters of the American Revolution meeting, and from there will start on her trip. The itinerary will probably include Forest Grove, Roseburg, Medford, Ashland and Grants Pass.

During the war the work of the Y. W. C. A. increased greatly in the number of people it served, and, according to Dean Fox, it is very desirous of continuing the work.

Many new clubs were organized among the women and new interest was awakened in the rural communities. Women working in factories, many of them being taken out of their homes for the first time, and brought together in such large numbers, found a social and educational center in the Y. W. C. A. It is felt that once having reached such a large number of women an opportunity exists to enlarge the scope of the Y. W. C. A. permanently. The raising of money to carry on the work will be a feature of the program, which is to be carried on throughout all the states.

O. A. C. WINS STATE CHAMPIONSHIP IN TRIANGULAR DEBATE

Oregon Loses To Both Corvallis and Reed College Teams In Close Arguments

The debating laurels in the state triangular contest went to the Oregon Agricultural college when Reed college and the University of Oregon were defeated last evening. Oregon's affirmative team, composed of Kenneth Armstrong and Elmer Pendell, met O. A. C.'s negative in Villard hall before an audience of 500 people and upheld their side of the question "Resolved that the principles of the Chinese exclusion act should be applied to all immigration into the United States for a period of not less than five years."

The judges decision went to the negative. Paul Emmett and T. Landis upheld the negative here for O. A. C. Professor Crockett acted as chairman, H. W. Davis, secretary of the Eugene Y. M. C. A., substituted as one of the judges for President R. C. Pennington of Pacific College at Newberg, who was unable to arrive on time owing to an accident which prevented him from catching the train. C. L. Travin, pastor of the Methodist church at McMinnville, and G. E. Baker, of Portland, were the other two judges in Villard hall.

Remy Cox and Ernest Crockett upheld the Oregon negative at Reed college against Herbert Swett and Lewis Jones, Reed's affirmative. The judges returned the Reed team the winners by a 2-1 vote. Carlton Savage and Ernest Nail were alternates for Oregon at O. A. C. O. A. C. were the winners on both sides of the question.

Owing to the delay in obtaining a substitute judge, the debate did not start until 9:50, ending at 11:30.

The audience at Villard was entertained during the long wait by a program of solos and piano selections. Those who took part in the program are Kate Chatburn, Genevieve Clancy, Dean Elizabeth Fox, Frank Jue and Randolph Howard.

Music Course Changed

The music course, formerly labeled "Sight Singing" by Anna Landsbury Beck, has been changed to cover the Science of Music Notation and Choral Training, and will be given one hour credit. No fee will be charged and the course is open to all students.

25 ASPIRANTS OUT FOR POSITIONS ON FRESHMAN QUINTET

Keen Competition Is Expected; Schedule of Games Not Yet Completed

Fresh basketball practice began at the gym Monday with about 25 candidates turning out for work under the direction of Bill Hayward. Both "Shy" and Hayward will have charge of coaching the frosh basket-ers this season and it is expected that a fast quintet will be developed from the husky squad of aspirants.

The frosh schedule has not been completed as yet but it will include, in all probability, games with the O. A. C. Rooks team, the Chemawa Indian team and a number of the fast high school quintets in this section of the state. No attempt at a selection of the team has been made by the coaches as yet although it is expected that by the latter part of next week a pretty good line on the strength of the team this season can be secured.

A wealth of good material was out in uniform during the doughnut league schedule and no doubt a number of these men will show up to good advantage in the tryouts for the frosh quintet. Among the most likely looking material is: Clerin, Gassaway and "Hunk" Latham, for the center position; Holmes, Gavin Palmer Andre and Shields all worked well in the forward position, while Burchdorf, Brown, Couch, Vonder Ahe, McEntee and Martin all loomed up as good men in the guard position. There is a plentiful supply of other material in addition to these named and the competition for places on the team promises to be keen.

CADETS GET COMMISSIONS

William Thornton, of Eugene, Bryon C. Garret, of Hillsboro, and William P. Allyn, of Portland, have been commissioned as second lieutenants in the R. O. T. C. The appointments were made Monday by Captain Raymond C. Baird, commandant. Thornton serves with Company B, Garret with Company A, and Allyn with Company C.

THE OWL CLUB announces the pledging of John Dierdorff of Hillsboro.

YOUR EYES and the Movies

Do you enjoy the movies as much as your friends do?
Can you see the actor's eyes and read the letters on the screen?

Long, continued, tense gazing, especially at badly worn films, is a great strain on the eyes.
