

OREGANA COMMITTEES TO STAGE HARD FIGHT FOR CAMPAIGN PRIZES

First Student to Turn In Fifty Subscriptions Will Win $5.00 Prize

WEDNESDAY TO OPEN FIRE

Efforts Made to Put Drive Over in Record Time — 1200 Names Necessary

Are you out for the prize in the Oregana campaign? If so see Elston Ireland at once for tags, receipt book and instructions, and be ready for an early start on next Wednesday, February 10.

"It's the one that turns in the first 50 subscriptions who wins," said George Beggs, Oregana manager and generalissimo of the drive, today while explaining his plans. Five dollars cash and an Oregana goes to the solicitor turning in the first 50 subscriptions; an Oregana to the second one to turn in 50 subscriptions; and an Oregana to the first house to go 100 per cent in the drive.

Far from feeling discouraged for money close on the heels of so many collection plate passings, Ireland declares that this one will be put over in record time. In the first place, he says, everyone recognizes the true value of the Oregana as a permanent possession, and knows that it is money well spent. Other campaigns have started money to circulating, and more than that have demonstrated the most successful methods, and have indicated the live wire solicitors in the University.

Two Days to Complete Drive "We are out for 1200 subscriptions," said Ireland. "The Oregana needs them, and we are going to do our utmost to have it over in two days. If possible we will close our campaign Thursday evening." He indicated that the prize winner would have to be out early if they expect to win.

"They'll have to keep mighty busy and will have no time to waste," he said. "Let everyone have his $1.50 Wednesday morning and not spoil anybody's chances for the prize." The price this year is $4.50, but the remaining $3.00 is not due until the book is delivered.

Ireland says that he does not feel in asking for Oregana subscriptions from students that he is asking for more than the support which is due the publication, from each individual. The Oregana is a student body publication, issued solely for the benefit of the students. Each student must own a copy to get his full share of it, and he should look upon the subscription committee as working for him and taking a burden off his shoulders.

Limited Number to be Printed He pointed out too that the only way to be sure of a copy of the year book is to order in advance. Only a limited number is printed, and that number is not greatly in excess of those ordered in advance.

Ireland intends to conduct the campaign largely on the plan recently used for the Emerald. He feels that a great deal depends upon the individual members of the committees and has sought to find just the right one to take charge of each house. It is hoped to have every organization go 100 per cent as soon as possible. Two general committees are included, one to handle the campus, and the other to take charge of the town.

Tags will be used, and a tag is taken as the only valid excuse in evading a solicitor. Those in charge of the drive wish to make it clear that any student is free to enter the subscription contest whether he has been named on a committee or not. The naming of committees has only been to place responsibility and insure enough workers.

Newspaper Plant Installed The University of Missouri is installing a complete newspaper plant for the department of journalism at a cost of $80,000.

FROSH ARCHITECTS TO PUT ON STUNTS

STAG FROLIC PLANNED BY FIRST YEAR MEMBERS OF ART CLUB

Veiled in mystery, is the stunt which the freshmen members of the Architecture club will put on at the entertainment in the Art studio next Wednesday night. The entertainment, known to the architects as the Freshmen Frolic, is a stag affair and will start at 8 o'clock in Professor A. Schroff's Art studio.

"About fifteen freshmen will appear in the stunt," stated Dean E. F. Lawrence, head of the school of architecture, "and they have been working on it for some time so it promises to be quite a stunt." All the members of the architecture club are invited.

"We don't know what will happen to the one girl in the class, Marian Nicolai," said Dean Lawrence, "as this is to be a stag affair."

Before the program, the problems constructed by the student architects, will be judged by Maurice Whitehouse and A. E. Doyle, of Portland. No prizes will be awarded at this judging, it was announced and only four or five of the best problems are to be in the contest.

ABSENCE RULE REMAINS

Faculty Refuses to Pass Recommended Changes in Cut System

After a spirited discussion in the faculty meeting Thursday evening, it was voted to keep the present cut system, which has been under controversy for some time. This system was taken up recently by the Student Council and has also been investigated by a faculty committee. A committee was also appointed to take into consideration the advisability of a course in personal hygiene for men in the University. Those appointed to serve on this committee are, Dr. John F. Bovard, Professor R. C. Clark, Dr. B. W. DeBusk, Professor W. E. Milne, and Dr. E. H. Sawyer.

LIBRARY GETS NEW BOOKS

Sets of Law Works, Italian Papers and War Novels Received

One hundred fifty-five volumes comprising an entire set of law books covering a period from 1866 to 1918, another 15 volume set of books also dealing with law, and entitled "Digest of English Case Law," and a collection of Italian pamphlets sent out by the Italian under-secretary for home affairs, have been added to the University library.

With the pamphlets from Italy came a letter which reads in part: "The material in these books is meant to be a tangible proof that Italy has gotten rid of the German influence and is working with alacrity and independence even in the domain of classical literature."

Thirty-eight new novels dealing with the world war have recently been put on the shelves of the library.

DON DAVIS PRESIDENT OF LAUREAN SOCIETY

Officers Elected—Ten Men Sign as Charter Members—Others Invited to Join

Don Davis was unanimously chosen president of the Laurean society at a meeting held Thursday afternoon in Professor Prescott's room. Albert Runquist was elected vice-president; Dorian, Patterson, secretary-treasurer, and Professor Peter C. Crockatt, critic. Ten men signed the constitution as charter members at this meeting and the time limit for becoming charter members was set as February 15. Decision was made to hold meetings every two weeks, the first one on February 19. The purpose of the Laurean society is to organize all men students who are interested in public speaking and debate and to train them for University work.

FIRST RIFLE DRILL HELD

Blank Cartridges Used in Exercises—Practice to Begin Soon

The first rifle drill with blank cartridges was held at drill period Wednesday morning. Company B disturbed the neighborhood back of the barracks with a series of salvos directed at imaginary targets. All of the companies will be given firing exercises with blanks before being allowed to go on the rifle range. Rifle practice will probably start in another month.

Four Made Corporals

Four non-commissioned officers were appointed Wednesday by Captain R. C. Baird, commandant. All of the appointments, which were made in Company D, were to the rank of corporal. They were Orvin T. Gant, Marvin Eby, James Sears, and Stanley S. Stickle.

Impromptu Vodvil Tickles Us Some Order of "O" Tortures Neophytes

Many humorous and ridiculous stunts were pulled off at the initiation of the Order of the "O" which was held between halves of the Oregon-W. S. C. basket ball game. Immediately after the firing of the pistol ending the first half of the game "Mart" Howard ran to the center of the floor and led the spectators in a yell. Needless to say he was the only person yelling. He was followed by various other stunts. Leith Abbott, as manager of the famous pole vaulter, "Si" Starr, created much laughter. He introduced Starr who appeared in a track suit and Starr then did some "fancy" pole vaulting such as it was claimed by his manager was much in vogue at O. A. C.

"Spike" Leslie and Merle Blake dressed as an old man and a woman pushed a cart upon the floor in which Bill Reinhart dressed as a baby sat spraying his feet with a disinfectant.

HENDRICKS HALL LEADS IN WOMEN'S DEBATE LOSES ONLY ONE VOTE

Sigma Delta Phi and Tri Deltas Tie For Second Honors With 11 Points

ALPHA DELTA NEXT WITH 9

Winners in Finals to Clash With Phi Delta Theta for Campus Championship

Hendricks hall maintained their lead in the second round of the women's intramural debates Thursday night by winning unanimous decisions over the teams from Delta Gamma and Oregon Club, which raised them to 15 points. Delta Delta Delta and Sigma Delta Phi are tied for second place with 11 points, fourth place going to Alpha Delta with nine points. Teams from these four societies will meet in the semi-finals next Tuesday night.

The two high teams in the semi-finals will meet in the final round Thursday. The winning team in the finals will meet the Phi Delta Theta winner of the men's debates for the University championship, and for the possession of the cup presented by Tau Kappa Alpha, the men's honorary debating fraternity.

Five unanimous decisions were given by the judges Thursday night. The affirmative of the question, "Resolved, that the principles of the Canadian Industrial Investigation act of 1907, should be applied to all disputes arising between the railroads and their employees," received but one unanimous vote. This was cast for the team from Hendricks hall. The negative teams from Hendricks Hall, Alpha Delta, Sigma Delta Phi and Oregon Club also won unanimous decisions.

Former Winners on Team

Three of the women on the winning teams this year, Elaine Cooper, Alpha Delta, and Ethel Wakefield and Wanda Daggett, Hendricks hall, were on the winning team last year. The Hendricks hall teams are being coached by Walter Myers, winner of the Failing prize two years ago for the best oration at the graduation exercises. This is the second year Myers has coached Hendricks hall, his team winning last year.

Results of Thursday night's debates were as follows:

Kappa Kappa Gamma, affirmative, 0, vs. Oregon Club, negative, 3; Hendricks hall, affirmative, 3, vs. Delta Gamma, negative, 0; Thacher Annex, affirmative, 0, vs. Alpha Delta, negative, 3; Alpha Delta, affirmative, 3.

OREGON LOSES FAST GAME TO COUGARS BY CLOSE 29-27 COUNT

Washington State Five Comes From Behind in Second Half and Wins

DURNO SCORES HIGHEST

Lemon-Yellow Excelled in Teamwork and Passing—Long Trip Has Little Effect on Visitors

Oregon lost one of the closest, and most exciting games ever played on the home floor, to the Washington State college basketball team Thursday evening, by of 29-27 score. The game was full of thrills, as it was either team's game until the last whistle. Although the cougars had just returned from a long southern trip their team was in good condition. Oregon was excelled by the visitors in teamwork. Even so the lemon-yellow outfit worked together better than at any time on the home floor. The passing of the Washington team was one of the essentials of their victory.

Latham won the jump over King, and the ball immediately went into the visitor's territory. After a number of fruitless attempts by Oregon, Durno tallied the first score of the game by one of his long shots. Durno scored another on a pass from Lind.

W. S. C. took the ball directly down the floor by good passing, and Rocky shot their first basket. Latham dropped one in from the side of the floor. Most of the time the ball was under Oregon's basket. Durno shot two baskets one after another.

For the remainder of the first half Oregon had a distinct advantage in the score. Not once did W. S. C. seem to have a superior machine.

ARCHITECTS WILL JUDGE

Student Designs to be Criticized by Portland Men

M. H. Whitehouse and A. E. Doyle prominent Portland architects, will be on the campus next Wednesday, if the present plans of the architecture department mature, according to Louis C. Rosenberg, instructor in architectural design.

"The architects are coming to judge the designs of students. It is the policy of the department to have outsiders judge the merits of our students' work," said Mr. Rosenberg. "This eliminates any tendency that an instructor may have toward partiality to individual students, and keeps the student in touch with men active in the profession."

The architects will be asked to criticize designs of cathedrals, monumental flag pole bases, doorways and bank and office buildings. Each of these problems required from three to four weeks' work stated Professor Rosenberg.

59 of Faculty Resign

Fifty-nine members of the Ohio State university faculty have resigned in the last year. Low salaries are given as the cause.

Gridsters to Meet for First Time

The University of Washington will meet Montana on the gridiron next October 16, for the first time in the history of the institutions.

HARD LUCK AND RAGGED PASSING GIVES OREGON SMALL END OF SCORE

Home Quintet Draws First Blood But Is Nosed Out in Second Half

SPIRITED CLASH ENDS 19-22

Team Shows Effect of Gruelling Battle With W. S. C. Thursday

Hard luck, coupled with the accurate shooting of Jamieson, the rangy center on the Washington five, spelled defeat for the lemon-yellow quintet in a ragged and loosely played game last night in Hayward gymnasium. Neither team played much basket ball and not until the middle of the last period did the team work or floor work measure up to that of the game Thursday evening with W. S. C. Oregon took the lead from the jump and maintained it throughout the first half and well into the last period when Washington, by a series of lucky shots by Jamieson, pulled into the lead and managed to keep it until the final shot of the timer's gun.

Oregon drew first blood when Manerud hooped a free throw a few moments after the game started, this was followed by a burst of speed by the varsity, Chapman, Manerud and Latham carrying the ball down the floor where Latham shot a pretty basket. Jamieson scored soon after this for the northerners, while Manerud and Chapman carried the ball down the floor again for a pretty basket by Chapman. Nicholson scored a basket for the Washington five on a pretty throw from the side lines, and two free throws scored by Cook completed the Washington tallies during the first period. Chapman and Manerud each scored a basket from the field during the remainder of the initial period and Manerud converted another free throw, the half ending with Oregon on the long end of a 10 to 6 score.

Huntington Shifts Line-up

The Northerners led off with a pretty basket by Talbot in the second half, Lind retaliated by hooping a nice long one after which followed a period of ragged playing on the part of both teams. At this period of the game, Coach Huntington shifted his line-up substituting Bellar for Jacobberger, switching Lind to center.

NEW POSTOFFICE OPENED

Campus Organizations Will Get Mail at Johnson Hall

A new postoffice is now established in the corridor of the administration building, for mail addressed to the different organizations. A separate box with the name of the organization plainly written on it, will hold all correspondence. Every house will be represented, except Friendly and Hendricks halls, which receive their mail direct. It has been suggested that one person be appointed to get any mail which might be left.

This is beside the postoffice for miscellaneous mail addressed to individual students. This has been moved inside, also. Around the first of the week, circulars regarding the campaign for the education appropriation bill will be sent each house on the campus. Students are asked to send the circulars home or to friends who may be interested.
