dition. It is not known whether Eddie will be able to perform in usual form in the coming games or not. Herm Lind is also listed among those answering sick call. It is doubtful whether he will be able to play against O. A. C. Nish Chapman is said to be unfit, but it may be that Nish will be in shape by the end of the week.

O. A. C. ranks high in the conference and if they win both of the games with Oregon they will have the championship almost within their grasp. The Oregon team, with the exception of Herm Lind, journeyed to Corvallis last night to watch the O. A. C.-Washington contest.

EDITOR LAUDS WORK OF MISS WHITELEY

"Story of Opal" to Appear in Atlantic Monthly Held Greatest in Years

That Opal Whiteley's article, soon to appear in the Atlantic Monthly, is a story of "deep interest and extraordinary character, is the statement of the editor of the periodical. Miss Whiteley is a former student of the University and a great student of nature. Her contribution is a diary started when she was but seven years old and continued up to the present time. It is called "The Story of Opal".

The editor writes "Of the genuineness of the narrative we can offer complete assurance; of its extraordinary character, we can only say, that in a quarter century of experience we have never met its like. Of all created things the Atlantic is perhaps most fearful of the infant prodigy. The Story of Opal however is a written record, kept for many years without assistance, by a child and still maintained by that child, now become a woman, in which The Atlantic is deeply and insistantly interested."

Miss Whiteley lived in a lumber camp near Cottage Grove during her youth and it was there that she acquired her love of nature and became such an adept student of the subject. From her materials gathered there she wrote a book called "The Fairyland Around Us". She attended the University for over a year and is now in Cambridge, Massachusetts, writing articles for publication.

VERSE AND WORSE

By W. F. Plus Be Be.

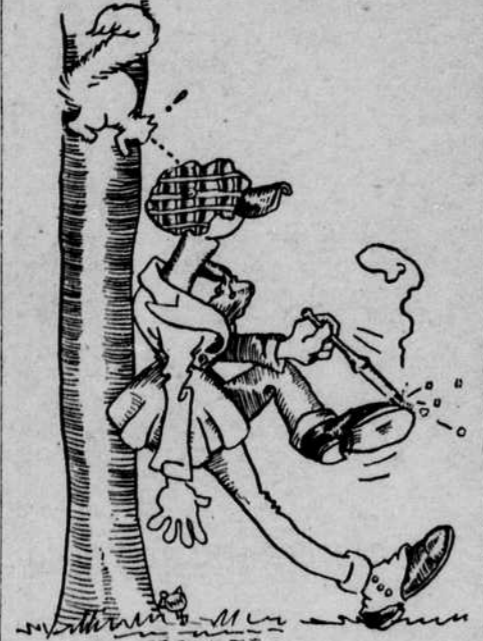

Rain drops, dew drops, you are here,
Upon the roof you patter,
But we should worry, while we pig.
And round the fireplace—chatter.
I like to see you dewdrop.
She murmured dewdrop in.
To chatter on the davenport
And exercise my chin.
So in I dropped—a bashful boy,
This maiden fair to court.
With shiny nose and powdered shoes,
I sure enjoy the sport.

Oh where is my wandering boy to-night;
He is staying out quite late.
He is gone to the library, mother dear
He's looking up a date.

He's doing his outside reading.
Its dark but he's brave alone.
He's out with the class of the college,
It's really no use to phone.

He's up in the grave yard mother;
I'm sure that he's all right.
He is looking towards his future,
But he'll be home tonight.

One MacKenzie goes to the ocean.
The other two go to the Theta house.

Bashful Bertram says: The song Slow and Easy is the motto of the Eugene streets car system.

DR. SHELDON TO SPEAK ON AMERICANIZATION

Foreign Language and Newspapers if Not Suppressed Will Die Naturally is Belief

Dr. H. D. Sheldon, dean of the school of education, will speak on the subject of Americanization before the Neighborhood Club at La Grande, on February 19th.

"There is an increased interest shown throughout the state in this subject," said Dr. Sheldon. "People are beginning to realize that there should be night schools for foreigners with classes in English, the proper instruction in civics, and instruction concerning American institutions and the principles involved in the Declaration of Independence."

"This is a subject that requires wise handling," Dr. Sheldon said further, "if an attempt is made to suppress the speaking of foreign languages and the printing of newspapers in foreign languages, it immediately appeals to the foreigner as being a patriotic act to read and speak his native tongue. If these foreign newspapers are left alone they will die of themselves, for they necessarily reach a limited number of people, their resources are limited, and they consequently cannot give the real news service American papers give. Foreigners should be permitted to speak their own language if they wish, but they should also be required to learn to read and speak the English language."

FOREIGN SERVICE TOPIC

Dr. Smith and Prof. Sweetser Will Lecture Tuesday

Two lectures, one on "Some of the Medical Needs of the Orient," and another "A Lantern Slide Visit to Some of the Backward Peoples of the World," will be given for Oregon students on Tuesday evening, February 17. These lectures are two of a series of lectures on practical phases of service in foreign countries offered under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. and student volunteer band. They are open to all students.

The first lecture on the medical needs of the Orient will be given by Professor A. R. Sweetser, head of the botany department, in the biology lecture room in Deady hall, Tuesday evening at seven o'clock. The lecture will be illustrated.

Dr. Warren D. Smith, head of the geology department, will give the second lecture in the geology lecture room in the basement of Johnson hall, Tuesday at 5 o'clock. This lecture will, as its title suggests, also be illustrated. The lectures are open both to men and women.
