

REMOVAL OF BAN WAITS FOR ACTION OF HEALTH COMMITTEE

More Cases In Infirmary, But Regulations Not Needed Says Authority

TOWN OPENS TOMORROW

Plans Under Way for Student Body Meeting Thursday and O. A. C. Basketball Game

Although the health committee at the University has not yet had a meeting since town authorities decided to call off the ban, it will meet as soon as possible, and in all probability will remove the ban on campus activities, said Dr. Sawyer, this morning. If it is decided to cooperate with the town the ban will be off at least by Thursday.

Although there have been more fever cases since Saturday, the situation does not seem to warrant continuation of the strict health regulations now in effect, he stated. The committee will meet Wednesday to decide upon the possibility of removing all health regulations, but in all probability things will not open up at the University until Thursday in spite of the fact that Eugene authorities have opened up the town for Wednesday.

Plans are under way for a general student body meeting at the regular assembly hours Thursday morning, which will be held unless the flu ban is left on by decision of the University committee. Other activities, such as dances and the O. A. C. Oregon basketball game, will be on schedule in case the action is favorable.

FROSH FIVE DEFEATS WILLAMETTE 50-10

Youngsters Lose to Salem High Friday, Score 30-22—Andre and Latham Star

Although losing their first game of the two played in Salem Friday and Saturday nights, the frosh quintet came back strong and defeated the Willamette freshman quintet by the decisive score of 50 to 10 on Saturday evening. The Salem high school five took the frosh into camp on Friday evening, however, by a score of 30 to 22 in a fast game. The score was reported here as 30 to 12, but this was a mistake.

Andre and Latham proved the big point-getters in the game with the Missionary "babes", Andre scoring 24 of the points while Latham chalked up 16 for the frosh quintet. Coach Billy Reinhart is working the frosh squad overtime this week in an effort to get them into shape for the two games with the Aggie "rooks" which will be played here Friday and Saturday evenings as preliminaries to the Varsity games with O. A. C.

FORMER STUDENTS WED

Vivian Hobson and Paul Hendricks Make Home in Salem

Miss Vivian Hobson, a freshman at the University last year, and Paul Hendricks, son of R. J. Hendricks, editor of the Salem Statesman, were married last Saturday in Salem, according to word received on the campus.

Miss Hobson is a member of Gamma Phi Beta and a member of Kwama. She has been living at her home in Salem since leaving school last year.

Mr. Hendricks also attended the University, and was overseas during the war, returning a few months ago. He is a senior in the Willamette law school.

They will make their home in Salem.

Final Moot Court Thursday

The last moot court of the college year will be held in the law school Thursday evening at 7:30. There will be no more courts this term and none at all during the spring term, according to Dean E. W. Hope of the law school.

WOMEN TO TRY OUT FOR DEBATING SOON

Washington and O. A. C. Will Oppose Representatives From Here— Credit Given for Work

All girls in the University who are in any way interested in debate are urged to attend the Forensic council meeting next Wednesday afternoon at 4:15 in Professor Prescott's room in Johnson-hall. Wednesday will be last day for volunteers to enter try-outs. Any girl in the University who wants to try out for a place on the varsity debating team is eligible.

This is the first year the University women have gone out for debating on a large scale, and the co-operation of all the girls interested in debate is wanted, said Ethel Wakefield, who has charge of the organizing of the teams.

Credit will be given for work done. The University of Washington and the Oregon Agricultural college have agreed to meet the University of Oregon. The varsity negative team Oregon. The varsity negative team and the affirmative team will go to Corvallis. These debates are scheduled for the second week in May.

H. ELLSWORTH IN BUSINESS

Former Student Starts Multigraphing Company in Eugene

The Ellsworth Multigraphing Company was established the first of this week in Eugene by Harris Ellsworth, who has been employed for the last six weeks in the business department of the Oregon City Enterprise. Ellsworth was a junior in the University last fall term and was at that time business manager for the 1920 Oregon. He is a member of Kappa Sigma and Sigma Delta Chi fraternities, a member of the men's glee club and business manager of the Emerald last year; left school shortly before the Christmas holidays to enter the newspaper profession.

In the new establishment, which is located over the Hauser Bros. sporting goods store on Willamette street, Ellsworth expects to make contracts for printing, multigraphing, advertising, and mailing jobs and circular letter work will be his specialty, he declares.

STUDENT LABOR WANTED

Demand for Workers Increasing Says Mr. Spangler, Y Secretary

The demand for student labor has begun to pick up once more, according to Rev. A. M. Spangler, in charge of the work at the "Y" hut. Work for students has been on the decrease during the winter months, but has begun to increase during the last few weeks. "There are calls for men to work in the sorority houses now," said Mr. Spangler. "One man has recently been placed in the mailing department of the Register at $100 per month, and another in Springfield, partment of the Register at $100 per month."

All men desiring employment are urged to call upon Rev. Mr. Spangler at the "Y" hut.

MISS UPLEGER IS PRAISED

Former University Librarian, Now in Philippines, Does Big Work

Miss Margaret Upleger, former librarian of the University, is doing excellent work in the Philippines, according to Miss Cornelia Marvin, state librarian at Salem.

In a letter to M. H. Douglas, University librarian, Miss Marvin told of Miss Upleger's work in the Islands, stating that it has been very creditable. She has just started a men's business library. In addition, the letter stated, she is engaged in the bureau of science and other schools.

"NEW EDUCATION" IS TOPIC

J. C. Almack to Speak at Dedication of Boardman School Building

J. C. Almack, acting director of the extension division, expects to speak at the dedication of a new public school building at Boardman next Thursday. "The New Education" will be the subject of the address.

Boardman is a new town on the Columbia river in Morrow county. Mr. Almack also expects to visit Hood River and The Dalles while on this trip.

OREGON-O. A. C. TILTS THIS WEEK WILL END SEASON FOR VARSITY

Durno and Chapman Back In Lineup; Dope Points to Victory

STANFORD CINCHES TITLE

"Shy" Puts Men Through Scrimmage Workouts and Basket Shooting Preparing for Contest

Coach Huntington started his proteges on a stiff week of practice last night in preparation for the coming clash with the Aggies which will be staged on Friday and Saturday nights in the gym. Scrimmage workouts topped off with a great deal of basket shooting and pacing around the court for a good sweat is the way the Varsity started off the week last night and according to "Shy" the team is going to be in tip top condition by the end of the week for the last big battles of the basketball season.

The Aggies are as equally determined to win in an effort to wipe the slate clean of the defeats which the lemon-yellow five handed out to them on the Corvallis courts some three weeks ago, and are working hard every night. They suffered two defeats at the hands of the Stanford five last week and they, too, will finish the season with the two games to be played here this week.

Both Durno and Chapman are back into the harness again and with these two stars working as they did against the Aggies in Corvallis, dope points to defeat for the visitors. Latham, Lind and Jacobberger are all beginning to feel like themselves again, and Bellar, McCready and Skeet Manerud were out in suits again last night, so once more the lemon-yellow squad is putting in its appearance intact.

The two defeats handed Oregon and O. A. C. by the Stanford aggregation in their trip north last week, together with California losing the Saturday night game to the Washington five by a 29 to 28 score, cinches the Pacific Coast conference title for the Cardinal five, and a game between the California and Stanford quintets to be played at Palo Alto this week will end the season for the southern teams.

Living Expenses Reduced

Students at the University of Wisconsin have solved the high cost of living as far as room rent is concerned, according to the "Press Bulletin." The average room rent per man is only $3.05 per week. Some 1,465 men pay less than $3 per week, 704 pay $3, and 1,140 pay more than that sum.

U. S. HEALTH OFFICER HERE TO BEGIN STATE SOCIAL INVESTIGATION

Extension Division Brings Dr. C. L. Carlisle to Direct Delinquency Probe

LARGE COOPERATION ASKED

Plans Formed to List all Mental De- fectives to Assist Corrective Legislation

Dr. Chester L. Carlisle, of the U.S. public health service, Washington, D. C., arrived in Eugene Saturday and is to begin work at once as director of the survey covering the cause and extent of dependency, delinquency and mental defect in the state of Oregon, which the extension division of the University is taking. This investigation is being made at the request and under the authority of a joint resolution of the state legislature, passed at its last session. It was also requested that suggested legislation be submitted on the basis of the data obtained.

Dr. Carlisle since 1901 has been connected with the New York state hospital service and for several years was in charge of one of the Metropolitan receiving services. Later he was appointed superintendent of the division of mental defect and delinquency of the New York state board of charities and as such had supervision over 23 institutions caring for mental defectives and delinquents.

He was in the neuro-psychiatric division of the army and later was commission in the U. S. public health service. Dr. Carlisle was also director of the bureau of analysis and investigation for the New York state board of charities and as such conducted a survey of Oneida county, New York, which was very similar to the one he has been asked to conduct in Oregon.

In speaking of the investigation to be undertaken in Oregon, Dr. Carlisle said: "We plan to send all the various state, county and municipal officers throughout the state a request for information along the lines indicated by the survey. Blank forms will be furnished upon which to record this data in order that statistical figures may be compiled. We expect to get all possible preliminary information in this manner, then divide the state into districts, and make an intensive study of representative sections. From this data accurate deductions may be drawn."

"It is only through the active cooperation of all state, county, municipal and private charitable and relief organizations, school teachers, parole agents and other public-spirited citizens, who may be called upon to furnish information as to any defect-

STUDENTS GET SHOCK UNPAID FEES DISTURB

"Mislaid Receipts" Fails to Save Two Dozen From Suspension—May Be Reinstated Soon

More than two dozen students have been suspended from college because of failure to pay laboratory fees, according to Carlton Spencer, registrar. The notice came as a distinct shock to many students who were confident their fees had been paid and that they had "mislaid the receipt somewhere." But Monday was the last day of grace granted by the registrar, and after that date all students who had not filed the little receipt were surprised to be informed they were no longer registered in the University.

A mad rush to the office to pay fees was the result, and the registrar was pestered with calls to "make sure it was not a mistake."

All fees are expected to be paid by Wednesday, after which students may return to classes without petitioning for reinstatement. During the time of suspension absences will receive the usual cut which must be excused by petition.

GIRL SWIMMERS TO MEET

Junior and Freshman Tryouts to be Held Wednesday in Men's Tank

Tomorrow evening in the swimming tank in the men's gymnasium the junior and freshman women will try out for the women's interclass swimming meet which will be held Wednesday evening, March 10, according to Loeta Rogers, manager of swimming.

Among those trying out are: Juniors—Naomi Robbins, Loeta Rogers, Ollie Stoltenberg, Maud Largent and Ruth Wolf; freshmen—Vallere Coffey, Lucile Branstetter, Lorna Cofledge, Ellen Gantenbein, Jean Hyde, Edith Kubli, Marion Lawrence, Frances McGill, Genevieve Matson, Marian Nicolai, Ellen McVeigh, Aurita Payson, Rita Ridings, Frances Moore, Mildred Mumby and Emily Veazie.

METRIC SYSTEM ADVISED

Dr. W. D. Smith Speaks in Portland for Reformed Measurements

Dr. Warren D. Smith, instructor in the geology department of the University, while in Portland Saturday, spoke before a committee of the Chamber of Commerce which is investigating the changing from the English to the metric system of measurements. Dr. Smith argued in favor of this change.

"This movement is being widely agitated," he said, "and speakers from the National Grocers' association, the Association of American Manufacturers, and the American Association for the Advancement of Science spoke favoring it. Prof. E. E. DeCou and Prof. E. H. McAllister were invited to attend but were unable to do so.

CONTEST DATE EXTENDED

March 15 Last Day for Aspirants for Edison Marshall Prize

The date for handing in stories for the Edison Marshall short story contest has been extended to March 15 in the hope that more manuscripts will be presented for the prizes. This year the first prize has been raised to $15 and the second to $10.

W. F. G. Thacher, professor of rhetoric, asks that the stories be given to him as soon as possible. The judges have not been selected, but two will be out-of-town critics, and one a local man or woman.

RUSSIAN TO STUDY HERE

Man From Esthonia, New Republic, Writes for Catalogue

Charles Wohrmann, of Tallinn (Reval), Esthonia, has written to the University of Oregon asking for catalogues, announcing in the same letter his intention to enter the University in the fall of 1920. The letter was dated Jan. 17, 1920.

Esthonia is one of the numerous small republics which have been formed from Russia along the Baltic.

Woman Heads Nebraska Seniors

The University of Nebraska has a woman for president of the senior class.

DOMINION DEBATERS LOSE TO OREGON BY 2 TO 1 DECISION

Carl and Black Out-Talk and Out-Argue Men From North In Spirited Contest

IDAHO ALSO IS DEFEATED

Varsity Negative Team Given an Unanimous Decision at Mos- cow on Friday

University debaters scored a double victory last night in the international debate league when the Oregon affirmatives, handicapped by what is conceded to be by far the most difficult side of the question, out-argued and out-delivered the British Columbia negative in Villard hall and received a two to one decision, while the Oregon negative, arguing at Moscow, defeated the University of Idaho three to nothing. Wilbur M. Carl and George Black, Jr., both juniors from Portland, spoke for the affirmative here and Remy Cox, a sophomore from Portland, and Ernest Crockatt, a junior from Spokane, argued the negative side at Moscow.

A smattering of a crowd in Villard hall heard the Oregon team take the notably difficult affirmative side of the question, "Resolved, That the application of the principles of the closed shop would best serve the cause of industrial peace," and by forceful delivery and well handled rebuttals defeated the University of British Columbia men who handled their side in a masterful manner.

Collective Bargaining Involved

Wilbur Carl, opening for the Oregon team, declared that the affirmative based its case on the fact that "the closed shop and collective bargaining go hand in hand—and that collective bargaining transfers strife from industries to peace tables."

These differences, Carl pointed out, that cannot be settled around the conference table and revert back into the industries under the closed shop are less prolonged, and that the struggle for and against unionism and closed shop which results in 33 per cent of all strikes and lockouts would be completely eliminated if closed shops were applied.

George Black, for Oregon, contended that the concealed, underhanded strike-on-the-job type of warfare would be eliminated by the closed shop and that agreements under this system are much more likely to be realized.

Closed Shop Held Unjust

British Columbia based its argument on the fact that the closed shop is unjust to non-union men; that it is impractical to apply the closed shop; and that if labor is satisfied by this method, the employer is antagonized.

Gerald McClay and Charles X. Travers argued for the visitors.

The judges were Frank Hilton, Portland attorney; J. C. Nelson, principal of the Salem high school, and H. H. Herdman, principal of the Washington high school, Portland.

On Friday night the University of Oregon affirmative team will meet the University of Washington negative debaters in Villard hall and with the ban lifted a large crowd is expected. The Oregon negative team will meet the Stanford affirmative on the same evening at Palo Alto. The question will be the same.

Mrs. James Simmons Visits
