

BIDS RECEIVED FOR PLUMBING AND WIRING OF WOMEN'S BUILDING

Foundation Nearly Completed; Work On First Story to Be Started Soon

$15,000 YET TO BE RAISED

Many Donations to Fund Received Since Holidays—Concrete Laid in Swimming Pool

Bids for the plumbing and wiring of the woman's building were received Thursday and contracts will be awarded soon, according to Karl Onthank, secretary to President Campbell. Work on the building is now progressing unhampered by lack of materials and both masons and carpenters are busy. The reinforced concrete for the swimming pool has already been laid and the forms are now being torn away. Many of the window casings are completed and are receiving their first coat of paint. Workmen are busy shaping the large timbers to be used in the framework of the first story of the main building. Mr. Onthank says that $10,000 in pledges are outstanding and an additional $15,000 remains to be raised. All pledges are being met as they come due, however, and work is going on constantly toward securing the funds still needed. The Elks band is giving a benefit concert and dance in the Armory Friday, March 12, in the interest of the fund. Many donations have been received since the close of the students' holiday campaign. Among the largest of these are a $2,000 gift from the T. B. Wilcox family of Portland; $2,000 from Max Houser of Portland; $500 from W. L. Thompson of Portland, father of Edward Thompson, a University student; $500 from Kappa Kappa Gamma; more than $500 from the Musical club of Portland; nearly $110 from the Friday morning lecture series of the Junior League of Portland; over $500 from Conningsby Dawson's lecture in Portland. Mrs. A. H. Schreff, who is going to Portland soon to paint several miniatures, will turn the proceeds over to the Women's building fund.

300 PERCENT MORE GIRLS ILL THAN MEN

WEEK-END ACTIVITIES HELD AS CAUSE FOR WOMEN'S SUSCEPTIBILITY

A rather peculiar thing about the slight flu epidemic recently prevalent on the campus is that there were nearly three cases among women to one among the men. Dr. E. H. Sawyer, University physician, said today. Of the 50 cases that have been in the infirmary so far, 36 were women, he explained. This majority, he said, might be due to the women's inability to stand the week-end activities, and he believes it still not only wise but necessary to limit these activities for a while. The cases among University students have been, for the most part, light, the doctor declared, but the illness leaves its victims very weak and, even though they are practically well, they are unable to regain their strength for some time. The number of new cases is dropping off very favorably now, he said, with only two or three in the last few days. Most of those in the infirmary now are the ones who are slow in convalescing, as several have been. Dr. Sawyer believes the improved condition is not due to the change in the weather, but more to the fact that the disease has rather run its course. Other cities, both in the east and the west, are now preparing charts, using curves to show the comparison of this year's epidemic to that of last year, said. This he believes is an indication that the epidemic is generally believed to be near its end.

LETTERS TO BE AWARDED TO 16 MEN AT SPECIAL STUDENT BODY MEETING

Football sweaters will be awarded to 16 letter men at the special student body meeting called for Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The sweaters will probably be awarded by Bill Hayward, according to Stan Anderson, student body president. There will be several amendments to the student body constitution to be voted upon at this time. The next regular meeting will not come until May, so the special session of the associated students was called.

PAINTING OF "O" CAUSES COMMENT

Deed Considered Work of Outsiders and Agges Not Held for Depredation

Who painted the "O"? Eugene awoke Sunday morning with the Oregon "O" on Skinner's Butte brilliantly painted in orange and black, the colors of the Aggies. A party of freshmen under the guidance of some upperclassmen wielded the lemon-yellow paint brushes with the result that the damage was repaired by noon. But who painted it orange and black? The presence of a number of O. A. C. men in Eugene Saturday night is not believed to be connected with the affair because of the pact made with the Aggies last term which prohibits the painting of the "O" and the stealing of O. A. C.'s iron woman. Things of this nature which have happened on the campus before have been found to be the work of outsiders. When the iron woman was taken from Corvallis last term the blame was first laid upon the University but investigation proved that its students were not responsible for the breaking of the pact. In all probability persons not connected with either the University or Agricultural college were responsible for the painting. It is unfortunate that the traditions regarding the "O" should be violated by those who have no connection with the University and who have developed such a marked ability to "monkey with the bandwagon."

ALMACK VISITS SCHOOLS

Millage Bill Little Known Says Extension Director

J. C. Almack, acting director of the extension division, returned Monday from a trip to Boardman, Oregon, where he attended a three days' community institute. The occasion was the dedication of a new high school building. Mr. Almack also visited the Hood River high school and spoke before the Overlook club at Portland while gone. At Boardman and en route Mr. Almack took occasion to talk to a number of individuals concerning the millage tax for the University and other educational institutions. Many people expressed themselves as favoring the bill, he said, but a number of business men expressed the opinion that the general public has not yet heard enough of the bill to be either for or against it.

J. S. EVANS HAS DAUGHTER

Baby Girl Arrives at Home of Former Professor, Now in New York

Those who remember John Stark Evans, former instructor of piano and organ at the school of music, will be interested to know that word has been received of the arrival of a daughter to him and his wife at their home in New York where Mr. Evans is studying music. Mr. Evans was manager of the glee club as well as instructor of pipe organ. He left the University to join the army, and while at Camp Lewis met Mrs. Evans in a hostess house. After his discharge from the army he returned to the University faculty. He was here but a few weeks when he returned to Camp Lewis to get his bride. Mr. Evans has been spending this year in New York furthering his study in music.

Stars In Recent Psychological Tests Given Journalism Scoops Announced

Many Students Tie For Positions; Underclassmen Show Up Strong; Lack of Time to Be Remedied In Future Exams

In the psychological test for journalistic aptitude devised by Professor Max Freyd of the University of Washington, the sophomore class earned the credit for doing the steadiest and most satisfactory work. Some of the best answers were made by the following students. It is admitted by Professor Freyd that the time ought to have been extended. In the following grades, as they stand, a disproportionate credit is therefore given for speed. Seniors are identified by the figure 1, juniors by 2, sophomores by 3 and freshmen by 4. The classes vary in size. Seven seniors took the examination and 47 freshmen. Names are given in order of achievement. INTEREST LACKING IN COMPANY MEET

CONTEST WILL BE POSTPONED UNLESS MORE ENTRIES ARE MADE

"Not enough interest is being shown for the inter-company track meet," reports Bill Hayward in discussing what is characterized as one of the greatest intramural athletic events that has been promoted on the Oregon campus for some time. Unless more interest is shown there will not be a meet next Saturday and the contest will have to be postponed until next term. The company try-outs were not satisfactory last Saturday as there were no entries in some of the events which should have been hotly contested. Owing to the fact that so few have shown up for practice or signified their intentions of entry it has been impossible for the track managers of the various companies to complete a team roster. Bill has offered a large loving-cup for the winners of the meet. The contest is to be a medley relay meet, the first man running 100 yards, and being followed by a 220 man who will be followed by another 100 yard man. Following the second century runner will be another 220 man who in turn will be followed by a 440 runner. The distance each man will run increases up to the last man who will do the mile. An abundance of track material is to be found in the companies of the R. O. T. C., especially among the members of the freshman class. The meet next Saturday should serve to bring forth a number of good men and give Hayward a chance to see some of the men in action who have not been turning out for track. The men in charge of track in the various companies are: Company A, Elston Ireland; Company B, Russell Myers; Company C, Glen Walkley; Company D, Richard Sunderleaf.

BIG PROGRAM PLANNED FOR JUNIOR WEEK-END

PROM IDEA PROPOSED—FOUR BALL GAMES AND FROSH MEET SCHEDULED

The dance committee for Junior week-end has recommended a formal prom for this year. The junior class will decide upon the committee's recommendation at its meeting to be held soon, said Eddie Durno, general chairman of the entertainment for this year. On Thursday night the week-end program will open with a costume parade at 7:30, followed by the Canoe fete at 9:30. The fraternities will each entertain their individual guests with a stunt program or similar affair after the canoe fete instead of the usual house dances, Durno said. The committee feels that better opportunity will be afforded the houses to become acquainted with their guests in this way. Four baseball games and one track meet will be held during the week-end. Both the Varsity and freshman nines will clash with O. A. C. and a freshman track meet will be staged, probably with O. A. C. Rooks, according to present plans.

INSTALLATION MARCH 13

Five of Local Club to be Initiated in Portland—Others Will Be Put Through Later Here

The international legal fraternity of Phi Delta Phi, which had a charter at the University of Oregon law school in Portland between 1891 and 1915, has transferred the Chase chapter there to the University school in Eugene, and the formal transfer will take place probably within the next two weeks, according to word just received from the national conference. Phi Delta Phi, which was founded at the University of Michigan in 1869, is international, having about 50 active chapters in United States and chapters in the United States and Canada. Membership is confined exclusively to law students. On March 13, five members of the University Law club on the campus will go to Portland, where they will be initiated into the Chase chapter there. These men are Maynard Harris, Ben Ivy, Bordon Wood, Lyle McCroskey and Thomas I. Chapman. They will be accompanied by Carlton E. Spencer, registrar, who is a member of the Portland chapter. After being initiated they will then be authorized to return to the campus and initiate the other members of the Law club. They will also bring with them the fraternity charter, a set of law books, and other chapter room equipment, which has been the property of the Portland fraternity. 16 Men in Local Club Members of the campus Law club are Lyle McCroskey, president; Gordon Wells, vice-president; Thomas I. INTERCHURCH WORLD MOVEMENT IS TOPIC

Next Assembly to Have Interesting Feature—Miss Burner and "Doc" Mason to Speak

Speakers representing the Inter-church World Movement will address the students at the next to the last assembly of the winter term next Thursday morning at 11 o'clock, according to Karl Onthank, executive secretary. Of the several speakers who are to be on the campus this week "Doc" Horace C. Mason and Miss Oolooah Burner will talk at the assembly, said Miss Urith Dailey, campus Y. W. C. A. secretary. "Doc" Mason, pastor of the University Congregational church at Seattle, is a very interesting speaker and the students should make a special effort to hear him and get acquainted with him, according to Roy Veatch, who has heard him speak. Miss Burner, who has a special message for the University women, was at the head of the Y. W. C. A. nurses of the John Hopkins unit during the war and has overseas a little over a year. She has been connected with Y. W. work for some time, and has a personality which will make her talks to the girls of very great interest.
