

NEARLY 500 WOMEN REGISTER FOR SPORTS; FACILITIES CROWDED

Girls Crowded Out of Tennis, Swimming and Archery; 40 Out for Baseball

With the greatly increased number of women registered in the department of physical education this year, accommodations for outdoor spring sports are taxed to the limit. Between 450 and 500 women are registered for one of the seven sports offered by that department.

So many women have signed up for swimming that it will be impossible to accommodate any more in that sport other than those who are taking it for the credit and those who are out for the meet with O. A. C., according to Miss Catharine Winslow. The pool in the men's gymnasium, which is used by the women for three hours on Monday, Tuesday and Thursday, is used each of these days by about 110 women, or an average of about 19 each of the six one-half hour periods, into which the time is divided.

Many Crowded Out of Tennis
Out of 200 applications for places in tennis classes, Miss Emma Waterman was able to allow only 135 in this sport. Five sections have been arranged for which will make it necessary to keep all seven courts in use at the same time. To allow those who are not taking tennis use of the courts there will be no classes after 10 o'clock on Tuesday and on Thursday and none after 4 on Monday, Wednesday and Friday.

Miss Waterman said yesterday that the department would like to have a large number of upperclassmen out to practice so that there would be plenty of material to select from for the tournament Junior week-end. On rainy days, the morning tennis classes will have folk dancing and the afternoon classes volley ball.

Ninety girls made application for archery but this number was sifted down until only about 50 remain, the largest possible number which can be accommodated, according to Miss Harriet W. Thomson.

Each House to Have Team
"By the end of next week each house on the campus should have a team out for doughnut league baseball practice," said Miss Waterman yesterday. Forty girls are signed for baseball.

Because of the fact that the University owns but two canoes the course in canoeing was at first limited to beginners and only a few of these. Contrary to her previous intentions, Miss Thomson will take out one canoe of advanced canoeers, in addition to the two canoes of beginners.

Two new classes, volley ball and elementary dancing, will be given this term to accommodate the overflow from the other sports. Volley ball will be played on the tennis courts and on rainy days in the open air gymnasium. The class includes 30 women and will hold a few more.

The elementary dancing class was organized by Miss Winslow for the purpose of putting on a campus dance program and pageant near the end of the term. Almost any number can be in the class, according to Miss Winslow.

MOTHERS TO HAVE TWO DAYS IN THEIR HONOR

sermons will be preached. In the afternoon a special vesper service will be observed and will be over in time to allow the mothers to catch the 5 o'clock trains out of Eugene.

Special invitations from the University are being prepared now and will be distributed next week to the houses. Students who have mothers are expected to enclose one of these cards in their first letter home and include with it their own written invitation to their mothers to be present. Additional cards will be left at the office of the Dean of Women and may be secured there.

The committee in charge of Mothers' Day is Jack Dundore, Alys Sutton, Lyle Bartholomew and Adelaide Lake. Further plans for the week-end will be announced later.

FEMINE FROLICKERS ENJOY MERRY NIGHT OF STUNTS

in a huge football, one by one emerging to impersonate the spirit of Villard hall, the Deady bug and the various buildings on the campus. Another popular skit was the picture frame stunt by the Phi Phis in which Thelma Stanton starred as the country lass showing the red plush family album.

Get your partners for the grand march shouted Vivian Chandler, chief mucky muck of the evening. Entire negro families including baby cart and all, clowns, Turkish harem girls, hula hula girls, hoodlums—creatures from all over the cosmos, played and danced to their hearts' content, but it took Marion Bowen, the Wrigley chewing gum girl, to draw the $5 prize for the best costume. Second prize was given to Lois Barnett, who wore a colorful Chinese rig.

All in all it was the best frolic yet—so said everyone, and incidentally $155 was taken in for the women's building, according to Nancy Fields, keeper of the wampum, although a few bills have to be paid out the sum yet.

POOR SHOWING MADE IN FROSH BASEBALL

WEARERS OF GREEN FAIL TO TURN OUT WELL—TEAM TO BE PICKED SOON

The frosh baseball squad reported for practice last Wednesday afternoon, and although there is lots of good material in school, so far only 15 out of 75 signed up have showed up for practice, according to Dick Nelson, coach. Nelson is a former player with the Portland Pacific Coast league, who held down a berth on one of the Western Canada league teams last season. This was a poor showing for the class of 1924 says Nelson, and as he is going to pick the team soon those not out for practice will be out of luck.

Games are being scheduled with the Chemawa Indians, Salem high school and the O. A. C. Rocks.

WILBUR CARL WINS MEDAL FOR ORATORY

Alumni Trophy is Won by Varsity Debater On Millage Bill Subject

Wilbur Carl won the annual University of Oregon alumni medal for oratory in a contest held in Villard hall just before spring vacation. His subject was "Why Returned Service Men Should Support the Millage Tax Act for Higher Education," and he outlined his arguments as he would to a gathering of American Legion men.

Mr. Carl is a member of the Phi Delta Theta debating team which won the men's championship of the campus and also a member of the championship varsity debating team.

Then there was that barber shop quartet with its soothing harmony and "Pewee" Edwards with his soulful ballads. "Shrimp" Philips brought back memories of the Pantagos with his patter and song. And the happy part of it is that they all got away alive.

Any eats? You bet! Hot dogs aplenty for all and for drinks there was—coffee and cider, of course.
