

FOUR JOURNALISTS PLEGDED MEMBERS SIGMA DELTA CHI

Honor Organization on Campus Flaunts New Neckwear Creation

At a meeting Monday noon, members of Sigma Delta Chi, national honorary journalism fraternity, elected four new members, Stanley Eisman, Warren Kays, Earle Richardson, and Raymond Lawrence. They will afford the campus an enjoyable forenoon some time next week, when they will attend classes in full dress as an initiation stunt. The Emerald of April 22 will be put out by the neophytes, who will do all of the work from writing the stories to gathering the ads.

Members of the fraternity broke forth with a new creation along lines of neckwear on the Oregon campus, when they appeared Monday with flowing Windsor ties. The change from the conventional was a result of the Monday luncheon habit of the journalists who now feed from the same table at the Anchorage once a week.

It was formerly the habit of members of Sigma Delta Chi to require of their neophytes to put out an edition of the paper. During the war, when a majority of those elected were taken in one at a time, this practice was done away with. In reviewing the tradition this year the members of the fraternity are planning upon having a real Sigma Delta Chi edition upon this date.

Numbered among the alumni of Sigma Delta Chi who are prominent in journalism throughout the state are Harold Hamstreet, of the Oregonian; Harold ("Scoop") Say, marine editor of the Portland Telegram; Earl Murphy, special writer on the Portland Telegram; Douglas Mullarky, of the Redmond Spokesman; James Sheehy, of the Portland Journal; Floyd Westerfield, advertising manager of the Guard; and Harry Crain, of the Capitol Journal of Salem.

The active members of the Oregon chapter are Alexander G. Brown, Harris Ellsworth, Paul Farrington, Robert Case, Harry Smith, Leith Abbott and Percy Boatman. Alumni members of the fraternity who are on the campus are Dean Eric W. Allen and George Turnbull, of the school of journalism, Carlton Spencer, registrar, and Karl Onthank, secretary to President Campbell.

CANADIAN TEAM WINS FIRST CONTEST WITH VARSITY

ter calibre than any of the Oregon teams for the past several seasons and they will make a strong bid for conference honors. Coach Huntington did not use his entire squad in the Saturday game but expects to get them all into action against the leaguers this week and will get a line on his prospective first string line-up which he expects to select by the fore part of next week. Defensive work will probably be the chief form of workout for the next week, for there can be little doubt as to the comparative batting ability with that of the other teams of the conference from the showing made Saturday.

Williams Likes Varsity

"Nick" Williams, manager of the Moose Jaw aggregation likes the way Oregon's nine showed up in the game against his team Saturday and said, "I like the way the men stand up and take a cut at the ball, it means a good hitting club." "Shy" Huntington is well pleased with the showing made in the first game and is going to keep the team working overtime with better weather conditions to get them into shape for the opening game against Washington in Seattle on April 23.

Three Get Mound Tryout

Jacobson, Knudsen and Berg were all given a chance on the mound in the Saturday game and all showed up to a good advantage although none of them put any "stuff" on the ball. The games this week are all for the purpose of getting into shape and the team is not letting itself out as they will in the conference contests. For catchers, "Shy" used "Spike" Leslie and Vince Jacobberger. Captain Lind played the whole game through on first and Liebe and Bellar held down second during the contest.

"Skeet" Manerude worked well at short stop and was kept there during the game, while Houston and Collins took care of third base. In the outer garden, both Gamble and Wilson took a whirl at the left field position, while "Bill" Steers and "Bill" Reinhart held down center and left field respectively, during the entire game. This left a number of good men on the bench who will get a chance against the Canadians before the remainder of the week.

Games to Be Played Daily

The Canadians play a first class game and with the aid of a little more fielding practice on the part of both squads, some excellent exhibition games are in store for the fans for the remainder of the week. A game will be played each afternoon if the weather permits at four o'clock.

The score of Saturday's game:

	R.	H.	E.
Moose Jaw	12	14	3
Oregon	9	13	4

Batteries: Moose Jaw, Liebke, Klough, and Armspiker; Oregon, Jacobsen, Berg, Knudsen and Leslie, V. Jacobberger.

PEN POINTS

FROM NEW YORK'S GREATEST MUSIC CRITIC

Review and criticism in "Music Trades" issue November 29, 1919, reads in part: "Waterman's Piano Forms is a mine of information. Everything the Movie or Vaudeville pianist or organist SHOULD know is covered in detail. The knack of converting popular tunes of the day in "real" rag, acquired easily. The syncopated Forms, Figures, Patterns, Models, Effects and Combinations cover the ground completely. It is absolutely indispensable to the professional pianist."

OTTO FESSLER, 501 Fifth Ave.

FROM CHICAGO'S FOREMOST CLASSICAL TEACHER, PIANIST & COMPOSER

"The System is certainly ingenious, original, and I sincerely believe, workable. The statements in your Foreword and Literature are correct and your claims justified. The modern popular Forms are immensely clever, presented in a logical and practical manner. I believe that a pupil can learn to play in the fashion indicated. The Course is the best of its kind. I wish you full measure of success with it."

JOHN S. MECK, 5020 N. Ashland Ave.

Pen Points From Musicians

"Put me down as a Waterman Teacher. I am using your patterns now and attracting considerable comment. I have taught several other courses, but they cannot begin to compare with yours. It will make a tremendous hit." DONALD MACGINNIS, Buena Vista, Colo.

"Am more than pleased with the manner in which you present your material. The simplicity and conciseness of your Course is irresistible." E. GROLL, 266 E. 161st St. New York City.

"Very thorough and comprehensive."—H. D. PRICE, Stockton, Calif.

"Am very much pleased with the two books."—EARL L. SPARKS, Norwich, Conn.

The best and simplest books of Self-Instruction. I am somewhat authorized to make this statement, as I have played for years and taught a New York Method for a considerable period." E. R. BRENNER, 165 Winthrop Ave., New Haven, Conn.

"Hold the Wheeling territory for me."—ALAN C. JONES, 411 Penn St., Wheeling, W. V.

"You must have given considerable thought in getting up such a System. There is far more material in your books than I have seen in any other Method of Ragtime."

CHAS. KLAPPAUF, 5244 S. Campbell Ave., Chicago, Ill.

"Books received and am pleased with same. Will send an order shortly."

OSCAR GROSSE, 731 Elton Ave., Bronx, N. Y.

"Have started the lessons and am VERY MUCH interested. You are all right. I like the cordial, friendly style of your letters, and wish you every success in your work."

F. S. EGGLESTON, 339 Normal Ave., Buffalo, N. Y.

"Books are very instructive and well arranged. Contain all the tricks of the trade."

IRVING METZGER, 114 Rosewood St., Syracuse, N. Y.

"I was an un-musical Beginner. Had to learn Treble and Bass Notes. Your Course boils down a musical education in 12 lessons. In the 9th lesson I played at a Social Gathering for dancing. Am now pianist in the city's best Jazz Orchestra. I credit my success wholly to Waterman's Piano Forms."
