

MEN BEAT WOMEN IN GRADES DURING LAST TERM, REPORTS SHOW

40 Make All I's And II's; 86 Do Not Fall Below III's For Semester

SCHOLASTIC AVERAGE HIGH

Indications Are That Men Will Have Higher Average Than Attained During Fall

Five men in the University made all honor, or class I grades during the winter term, according to grade records compiled at the registrar's office, while 35 others had no grades below class II. In addition 46 men made class III grades or better in all subjects. Comparison with the women's grades announced Saturday shows a larger number of men having high grades in both classifications. No women had all class I, or honor grades, while 27 were in the group with no grades below class II, and 43 in the group with no grades below class III.

Highest records made among the men were: Philip Janney, senior, Santa Barbara, California, 15 hours honors; Ray H. Kinney, senior, Oakland, California, 14 hours honors; L. H. Cossman, junior, Creswell, 16 hours I; J. E. Nail, senior, Klamath Falls, 11 hours honors; and Hollis E. Johnston, senior, Eugene, 9 hours I. C. C. Clark, third year law, Clarksville, Texas, had a record of 14 hours I and 2 hours IV. Two brothers from Lynden, Washington, apparently had a family struggle for high grades. John Lecocq, a freshman, made a record of 13 hours I and 4 hours II, while his brother Marion, a junior, made 4 hours I and 12 hours II.

The following men made no grades below class II: John Alexander, freshman, Portland, 3 hours I, 12 hours II; Evon Anderson, senior, Sand Point, Idaho, 8 hours I, 11 hours II; Kenneth Bartlett, senior, Estacada, 3 hours I, 9 hours II; H. H. Benjamin, junior, Forest Grove, 5 hours honors, 3 hours OI, 10 hours II; W. B. Blackaby, junior, Ontario, 4 hours I, 12 hours II; Edgar D. Blood, special, Portland, 3 hours I, 12 hours II; D. V. Blue, sophomore, Ashland, 14 hours I, 4 hours II; Wilbur Bolton, freshman, Antelope, 9 hours I, 8 hours II; Robert V. Bradshaw, junior, Eugene, 7 hours I, 8 hours II; Sylvester H. Burleigh, first year law, Enterprise, 9 hours I, 5 hours II; Ian Campbell, junior, Eugene, 9 hours I, 10 hours II; Allan G. Carson, sophomore, Salem, 3 hours I, 14 hours II; P. E. Christensen, junior, Eugene, 17 hours II; George E. Cusick, junior, Albany, 13 hours II; Jake Eukalis, freshman, Portland, 18 hours II; H. G. Foulkes, senior, Portland, 6 hours I, 10 hours II; Arthur Hicks, sophomore, Canyon City, 15 hours I, 4 hours II; W. P. Hoppes, junior, Salem, 8 hours I, 9 hours II; Wilbur Hulin, junior, Eugene, 9 hours honors, 4 hours I, 3 hours II; Theodore A. Jones, freshman, Portland, 14 hours I, 3 hours II; John Lecocq, freshman, Lynden, Washington, 13 hours I, 4 hours II; Marion Lecocq, junior, Lynden, Washington, 4 hours I, 12 hours II; R. S. McArthur, freshman, Baker, 9 hours

TEACHERS' SALARIES RISE

More Positions Open for Athletic Coaches Than Bureau Can Fill

"Many are called but few are chosen" is not the case with us, declared Professor C. A. Gregory, director of the appointment bureau of the University, "but many would be chosen if they would call." A large number of applications have come in for both men and women who can coach athletics and take charge of physical education, and the bureau has comparatively few teachers to recommend, says Professor Gregory.

Salary schedules are being revised throughout the state, and the upward trend is steadily increasing he says. Umatilla county has provided for a minimum salary of $1200 for all schools, including those in rural districts, and other counties are considering similar action.

Clowns, Studes And Human Machine Entertain At Hall

Turkish harem girls, clowns, and kaisers sported amiably together at the big carnival, for the town girls in the University, to which Hendricks hall girls were hostesses Saturday night. Every town girl was bidden to appear at the hall, and at 8 o'clock the fun began.

Freshman girls in the hall gave tableau interpretations of the old poem, "That Old Sweetheart of Mine." Beginning with the bashful, barefooted child in the pink sunbonnet, to the beautiful bride, the many sweethearts of the hero were pictured by the first-year girls.

Clever clowns, as trees, the poor little rabbit, and the cruel hunter frolicked and adventured by the side of a babbling brook, safely ensconced in a drinking glass, all at the command of the sophomores.

The trials of the students in finding out who was registered was shown by the juniors. The seniors gave a fitting climax to the clever stunts by showing an almost human "machine," and its "trainer." The "machine" talked, smiled and kicked its feet. The only tax on its powers which seemed to be too much for it was its attempt to sing. Or possibly the theme was too touching to the "mechanical" heart of the "machine." At any rate it ran down, so said the "trainer."

ELLSWORTH TO TALK ON PUBLICATION WORK

FORTY YEARS IN MAGAZINE FIELD THEME OF ADDRESS FOR ASSEMBLY

"Forty Years of Publishing" will be the address given by W. W. Ellsworth, prominent eastern publisher, who will address the Thursday morning assembly this week. Mr. Ellsworth was scheduled to speak on the life of Theodore Roosevelt, but word has just been received from him, by Karl Onthank, executive secretary, announcing the change in theme.

Mr. Ellsworth has had a great deal of publishing experience, said Mr. Onthank, having been associated with the Scribner's publishing house, and the Century company for 40 years. During this time he has had an intimate acquaintance with nearly every author and writer of the time. His experiences with prominent authors and also with less prominent ones will furnish very interesting material for his address, according to Mr. Onthank.

Mr. Ellsworth has had a great deal of evening and will be entertained at dinner by Prof. and Mrs. T. A. Larremore of the law school. At nine o'clock Thursday morning a meeting has been planned for him in the journalism annex where he can meet and talk with students in authorship, rhetoric, journalism and the English department.

A Thursday noon luncheon has also been arranged in his honor, at which the members of Ye Tabard Inn chapter of Sigma Upsilon will be hosts.

Y. W. Cabinets to Meet. The members of the old and new cabinets of the Y. W. C. A. will hold a supper at the Bungalow tonight and talk over plans for the coming year. The entire new cabinet has not yet been appointed but Marjory Holaday, new president of the organization, after her return from Cleveland, O., where she is attending the national convention of the Y. W. C. A., will announce the newly appointed girls.

Minnesota Students Earn Way. Out of 6030 students at the University of Minnesota 3000 are self-supporting.

POLITICAL ASPIRANTS SLOW TO TOSS HATS INTO RING FOR STUDENT OFFICES

Bib Carl And Nish Chapman Mentioned For President; Benefiel Out For Vice-President; Candidate For Emerald Editor Unopposed

By The Deady Bug

So far as can be discovered, not a man on this campus has any intention of aspiring to the office of president of the associated students next year, at least according to his own statement. And yet this is an excellent year to run for any office, because it is so manifestly "being done" and therefore the best form in the world.

The rather lengthy ballot with many hotly contested fights which marked the pre-war election days is returning this year, according to every indication, and when candidates feel the urge forcefully enough, plenty of them probably will see that their names are put on the ballot Wednesday, May 5.

Prospective candidates when approached on the matter of running for office are surprised and shocked that they could have been thought of for the office, in quite the time-honored way. They won't say that they will run, but equally emphatically they won't say they won't run.

Carl and Chapman Mentioned. Two junior men who have been thought of all year as candidates for president of the student body are Wilbur Carl and Thomas I. (Nish) Chapman. (Please observe the strictly alphabetical order that will be maintained in mentioning candidates.) It they do decide to enter the race, they are not deciding today, but are waiting, we presume, as are most of the rest, to "get the lay of the land."

Mention is made vaguely of a dark horse who intends to slip in and surprise everyone, but he too remains among the unknown at present. A number of men, when questioned, have said they would not run for president, but they may change their minds.

Jack Benefiel, a junior, is the only candidate so far announced for vice-president of the student body. He was in the aviation service for two years during the war and this year has been manager of football. He was recently elected to Friars and is an honor student.

Secretary to be Close Race. One of the closest races will probably be for secretary of the student body. No woman seems to wish to claim this place at present. Lyle Bryson and Nell Warwick have been mentioned for the office but have not said definitely that they will run. Harry A. Smith, a junior, who is managing editor of the Emerald this year, has been mentioned for editor of the Emerald. He is a member of Sigma Delta Chi, national honorary men's journalism fraternity, and of Sigma Upsilon, national writers' society.

DEAN FOX ENTERTAINS

Women Interested in Forming Social Organization Meet at Tea

Dean Elizabeth Fox entertained 10 of the matriculated women students of the University with a tea at her home Sunday afternoon. The women are all interested in forming some kind of an organization for social purposes, and to encourage other older women to come to the University of Oregon. Plans were discussed but the organization was not formed.

Guests were Miss Lexie Strachan, Mrs. Benschneider, Mrs. Elynn Kelley, Mrs. Pearl Watts, Mrs. Delia Keeney, Miss Thora Smith, Miss McCloud, Miss Elna Ordahl, Miss Mabel Potts and Miss Alice Capps. Miss Capps paired tea.

Elaborate Receptions Planned For Neophytes Sigma Delta Chi Initiates to Get Welcome

Four Beau Brummels in all the resplendent glory of full dress suits will on next Thursday morning at 11, entertain and instruct the student body, from the library steps, on pertinent and important matters. The young men who are to so entertain are the four neophytes of Sigma Delta Chi.

The neophytes will attend classes all day Thursday not only clad in formal attire, but carrying canes and wearing "plug" hats. The neophytes have been training and grooming for some time for the great day.

Thursday's night's Emerald will be the Sigma Delta Chi edition, and the editing and reporting will be done by the neophytes. Earle Richardson, Stanley Eisman, Warren Kays and Raymond Lawrence are the participants in Thursday's solemn rites.

Two Up for Oregon. For editor of the Oregon, two candidates have definitely announced their intention of running, Velma Rupert and Raymond Lawrence. Both are sophomores and majors in the school of journalism. Both have worked on the Oregon staffs this year and last and also on the Emerald staff.

Warren Kays will run for business manager of the Oregon. He has been business manager of the Emerald since January and before that time was advertising manager. He is a member of the business staff of the Oregon.

No men have been mentioned as yet for senior men on the student council. Three are to be elected. One woman for senior woman on the council has definitely announced her candidacy, Lois Macy, president of Pan Hellenic this year, and a member of Eutaxian and Kwama. Two senior women are to be chosen.

Only one man has definitely decided to run for junior man on the council, Ned Twining. He is a member of To-Ko-Lo and was manager of freshman football. Two men are to be chosen for this office.

Only one junior woman is elected for the council, so this office will probably be hotly contested. Eleanor Spall is the only woman definitely announced so far for this office. She has been on the Emerald staff for the past two years, is a member of the Oregon staff, the Y. W. cabinet, Kwama and Tre Nu.

One sophomore man is to be chosen for the council and a junior man for the executive council, as well as yell leader and three members of the athletic council.

OREGON COURSE ADOPTED

Navy Department Buys Correspondence Work in Mathematics

The navy department has just purchased a number of sets of the University of Oregon correspondence-study lessons in Plane Trigonometry and Elementary Algebra. These study courses were planned by C. T. Kronenberg while a graduate student in the University who is now instructing in the Portland extension class. They are to be used by the enlisted men in the navy department under the direction of the bureau of education of the navy. L. R. Alderman, formerly city superintendent of schools in Portland and also state superintendent of schools, is head of the Bureau of Education with headquarters at Washington, D. C.

Trading Planted Pin Is Latest Indoor Sport For Women

Planting a fraternity pin in preference to a diamond ring has its advantages and disadvantages. One apostle of the class of 1923 has almost become reconciled to the ring method. Having but a short time ago planted his fraternity pin he was sadly surprised and shaken yesterday evening to learn from a brother that the woman of his choice had been seen wearing a rival fraternity pin. Being unable to reach her by telephone because of the lateness of the hour he contented himself by brooding over the affair most of the evening.

The next morning as soon as time would permit he sought out the betraying one only to learn that it was a false rumor which boiled down, was that another engaged friend and herself had for the novelty of it traded pins for a short time.

Which all goes to show that hats and umbrellas are not the only things that women like to borrow from one another.

PROGRAM FOR JUNIOR WEEK-END OUTLINED

PUSH-BALL CONTEST BETWEEN FROSH AND SOPHS TO BE NEW FEATURE

Junior week-end plans are being speedily put in shape and the complete program for the week-end will soon be ready for publication. The newest feature planned, and one which is entirely new, is the push ball contest which is to be staged on Saturday afternoon between the Sophs and Frosh on Kincaid field.

A swimming meet in which University swimmers will meet outside competition, probably Multnomah club people, will be held Friday at one o'clock. At 3 the same afternoon canoe races, tilts and other stunts will be staged. O. A. C. may enter contestants in this event. At 3:15 on Friday the Frosh will rid themselves of their green "lids" and will watch them burn. At 3:30 the O. A. C. Oregon baseball game will be played.

Friday night is the senior play and also the preliminaries of the inter-high school debates which are to be held in Eugene during the week-end. Debaters from the principal high schools in the state will take part, and the champion debate teams will try for state honors Saturday night.

Saturday morning tennis contests will be held. The campus will be open to visitors and all the buildings will be open for inspection. The millage bill will be advertised by posters in the buildings and about the campus.

Saturday afternoon Frosh and Sophomores will contend for honors on the track and Saturday evening the festivities will end with the Junior Prom.

Extensive advertising is being done for the affair.

HARRY KUCK WANTS PAPER

Former Student Body Officer Hopes to Buy Small Daily

Harry L. Kuck, former student of the University, a graduate of the class of 1916, at one time vice-president of the University student body is now looking for a small daily newspaper to buy, according to a letter received from him by Dean Eric W. Allen.

Kuck has been working on newspapers on the Pacific Coast since his graduation at one time holding a position on the Oakland California Tribune, which he left to accept a position on a northwestern paper.

BASEBALL TEAM TO TOUR NORTH

Games Arranged With Four College Nines; 12 To Go

MANY VETERANS WIN POSITIONS ON VARSITY

Coach Satisfied With Men's Condition, Though Practice Has Been Short

Coach Huntington and 12 players will depart Thursday afternoon for Seattle where they will open the conference baseball season against the University of Washington nine on Friday afternoon. This will be the first game of an eight day trip which the lemon-yellow team is taking through the northern country, playing the University of Washington, Washington State College, University of Idaho and Whitman College.

"Washington will put up the hardest game, I believe," Coach Huntington said this morning, "although all the northern teams appear stronger than they were last season." "Shy" feels fairly optimistic about the trip in spite of the inclement weather which has prevented practice for the lemon-yellow squad for the past two weeks. The raft has been general all along the coast, however, and none of the teams have been much better off in the matter of getting practice than the Oregon nine.

Four Pitchers Going

Four pitchers will be taken along on the trip, Jacobson, Berg, Knudsen and F. Jacobberger making up the quartette. In the receiving position "Spike" Leslie will do the work. Spike has developed rapidly since the first workout and has proven himself a good man with the stick. Vince Jacobberger, who has also been working out in the receiving position in a satisfactory manner, will be taken on the trip and may work in the infield. Vince is a fast infielder but was used in the receiving position in his freshman year on account of the dearth of catchers. Shy has also worked him there on the Varsity squad this season but is planning on using him in the infield from now on.

Lind Back on First

Captain Lind will hold down his old position on first. Herm has a ten-foot reach when it comes to stopping them out around the initial bag. For the second base position there are a number of likely candidates and Coach Huntington has not definitely decided upon a man for the place. From all indications the choice will be from Liebe, Collins, Black and Houston. Skeet Manerud, who has been playing a fast game at shortstop, will hold down that position on the trip north, while Jay Fox will hold down third.

CONDON CLUB IS HONORED

Geological and Mining Society Admits Local Organization to Membership

The Geological and Mining Society of American Universities has unanimously accepted the Condon Club of the University of Oregon into its membership, according to word received yesterday by Hubert G. Schenck president of the club. This national organization with headquarters at Stanford University is practically the only one of its kind in the United States and the University organization is honored in having been admitted into an organization of such high standing.

Installation of the new chapter of the society will take place in the near future and eight members including Lewis Bond, past president of the club and now assistant in the University of California, will be initiated at that time.

The officers and members of the club are Hubert G. Schenck, president; Clarie Holdridge, vice-president; Rachel Husband, secretary and treasurer; Frank B. Kelsey, Merrill D. Ely, Victor P. Husband, Mary J. Packwood and Lewis A. Bond.
