OREGON SCHOLARSHIP

ANNOUNCEMENT of scholarships granted to members of Oregon's graduating class tends to emphasize anew the high standards achieved by Oregon students despite the handicap of limited facilities due to shortage of money. Men and women of Oregon are keeping up the record of high scholarship set years ago and carrying it forward.

But there is a limit beyond which Oregon cannot safely go in economizing on education. That limit has been reached. The finest type of students will not come to an institution which is gradually losing its strong faculty members. The danger Oregon is facing is that such teachers can not be replaced unless the institution can offer salaries which will compete with those paid in other state. Certainly first rate inspiration to scholarly achievement can not be radiated by second or third class men. The time is near when such will be all that are available for Oregon. Unless—

Here comes the bright side of the picture: If the millage bill passes, it means the dawn of a day of adequate classrooms, adequate library facilities and the assurance of the retention of the inspiring type of instructors. The passage of the millage bill will be one long step toward the acquisition of a chapter of Phi Beta Kappa. Oregon will be, in an educational way, decidedly on the map. Oregon will continue to develop scholars in her own institutions. She will develop and retain her own leaders. Is this worth anything to Oregon?

J. S. EVANS TO RETURN AFTER LONG ABSENCE

Instructor has Been Studying in New York for Past Year Under Masters.

John Stark Evans, who left the University school of music last year to continue his study of music in New York, will be back to take up his duties as organ instructor in the school of music at the beginning of the summer session.

Professor Evans during his leave of absence from the University has studied composition under Rubin Goldmark and piano under Rudolph Ganz. He will remain through the summer and the fall term.

Prof. John Landsbury, dean of the school of music, announced that his department will offer an exceptionally fine summer course.

Registration in the school of music, he said, had increased 36 percent since last year.

CAUGHT ON THE CAMPUS

Architecture Club to Dance.
The architecture club will give a matinee dance at the Anchorage Tea House, May 1, between 3 and 5 p. m., according to Horace Foulkes, president of the club.

Y. W. C. A. Cabinet Guests
Members of the retiring Y. W. C. A. cabinet were entertained at dinner on Thursday evening by Mrs. O. R. Gullon, treasurer of the Advisory Board, at her home on Hill-yard street.

Dr. E. S. Bates, professor of rhetoric and American literature, has not met his classes this week, owing to trouble from a severe infection in his arm. He is in a hospital in Portland.

Dean Lawrence Going East.
Dean E. F. Lawrence of the school of architecture will leave Portland Wednesday for Washington, D. C., where he will attend meetings of the American Institute of Architects and the Intercollegiate Schools of Architecture. Dean Lawrence is one of the directors of the former society.

Hendricks Hall Entertains.
Hendricks Hall is entertaining as dinner guests this evening all members of the faculty, and a few of the students. Dean Elizabeth Fox was hostess at the hall during the absence this evening of Miss Gertrude Talbot, head resident.

Students who were invited in addition to the faculty guests were: Vera Houston, Inez Lacey, Roberta Sanborn, Marion Nicholai, Florence Skinner, Mary Truax, and Eva Benefiel.

GIRLS TO TALK OVER THEIR EUROPEAN TRIP

Dean Fox and Miss Burgess to Be Heard on Itineraries and Other Phases of Journey.

A meeting of the University women who are planning to make the trip to Europe in the summer of 1921 will be held on Tuesday night at 7:30 at the home of Dean Elizabeth Fox for the purpose of organization. All the women whose names were announced during the first term in connection with the tour and any others interested in joining the group are urged to reserve Tuesday night for the meeting.

Miss Fox and Miss Julia Burgess, who are to be conductors of the tour, will discuss itineraries which might be chosen for the trip and will use illustrations from old photograph albums which they kept during previous trips in Europe. The equipment which the party should provide for themselves will be considered, and suggestions will be made concerning various articles convenient to take on such a journey.

Courses of study for next year will be talked over to give the girls some idea of studies that would be helpful in preparing for the trip. Suggestions will also be made for books for summer reading which some of the girls will have time for. The plan is to make the meeting on Tuesday night the first of a series of two or three.

JUNIOR CLASS TO HOLD MEETING WEDNESDAY

Plans for Staging of Annual Week-end to be Perfected, Says Nish Chapman.

A very important meeting of the Junior class will be held next Wednesday afternoon at four o'clock, in the Y. M. C. A. hut, according to Nish Chapman, president of the class.

The Junior Week-end committees will report on the progress of the preparations for that event and other relative matters will be taken up in the meeting. On account of the proximity of the fete it is essential that plans for it be perfected at this meeting, said Chapman.

The previous meetings of the class have not been well attended and the members have shown very little class spirit, he said. The immediate co-operation of every junior is needed if the annual week-end is to be staged successfully, and every member of the class must be present at Wednesday's meeting if this co-operation is to be secured.

GREAT ACTRESS MAY BE ENTERTAINED BY SCHOOL OF DRAMA

Celebrated Margaret Anglin, at Eugene, Tuesday, May Dine With Students

Entertainment Tuesday afternoon and a dinner Tuesday evening may be given in honor of Margaret Anglin, celebrated actress, by University students of the drama, it was learned from University officials this afternoon. No word has as yet been received from Miss Anglin who will appear at the Eugene theatre Tuesday evening in "The Woman of Bronze."

"We have not ascertained whether Miss Anglin will arrive sufficiently early for an entertainment, but it is hoped that University students of the drama will be given an opportunity of meeting her," Miss Charlotte Banfield, instructor in public speaking, told an Emerald reporter this afternoon.

Miss Anglin is said to have in "The Woman of Bronze" one of the most powerful vehicles to which she has ever applied her extraordinary talents. Scores of mail orders for seats are being received daily, the management of the Eugene theatre announced this morning.

WATERMAN PIANO SCHOOL

Five Rooms Each Equipped With New Pianos.

Roy J. White, manager of the Waterman Piano School, has opened a music studio in Eugene at 917 Willamette street, that ranks second to none in the State of Oregon. Sound-proof practicing rooms are available for those who wish to do their practicing at the school. Each piano is a sound proof room.

Nearly 70 students are now enrolled, of which twenty are from the University. Besides the short method of ragtime which this school teaches, a very thorough course of harmony is taught.

Ruth Lane Starts Long Tour.

Ruth Lane of Eugene and a junior in the University of Oregon, left Friday for Kingman, Arizona, where she will begin her work of Junior supervisor and general cashier with the Grand Cannon circuit of the El-lison-White Chautauqua system. In the four months that she will be on the circuit, Miss Lane will tour Arizona, California, Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Nevada, Montana, and Wyoming.
