

MORE CANDIDATES OUT FOR STUDENT OFFICES; SIX NAMES ARE ADDED

Ernest Crockett to Run Against Harry A. Smith For Editor of the Emerald

LYLE BRYSON UNOPPOSED

Leith Abbott and George Hopkins are in arena for senior man of Student Council.

A spirit of "watchful waiting" seems to characterize the would-be candidates for student body offices at this time, for only six more have come into the open with several positions going begging at present. Donald Newbury still remains the only man in the field for president of the associated students, but experienced war horses predict that at least three candidates will be in the running by the time of nominations Wednesday, May 5.

The announcements of chief interests today are those of a new candidate for office of the editor of the Emerald, and a definite candidate for secretary of the student body.

Ernest Crockett is the new man in the race for Emerald editor to oppose Harry A. Smith, whose candidacy was announced last week. Crockett is a junior, and a major in the school of journalism. He served with the Canadians for two years in France and was decorated by the British government with a military medal for bravery. He is a member of Sigma Upsilon, national writers' fraternity. He has had newspaper experience for two years in Eastern Oregon.

Secretary Unopposed.

Lyle Bryson is definitely in the running for secretary of the student body, and so far is unopposed. She is vice president of the junior class, a member of Theta Sigma Phi, national women's journalism fraternity, and Tre Nu. She has been on the Emerald staff for three years, and is at present news editor. She is also a member of the Oregana staff.

Another aspirant has also appeared for editor of the Oregana, Ariel Dunn, a sophomore. She is a member of the Emerald staff and came to Oregon this year from the University of Washington, where she started her major work in journalism. This makes four students in the race for this one office, the others being "Curly" Lawrence, Wanna McKinney, and Velma Rupert.

Wanda Brown in Race.

A third woman is now in the race for senior woman on the student council, Wanda Brown, who is running against Lois Macy and Florence Riddle. Miss Brown is a member of Tre Nu and was one of the first members of the women's band organized last year.

Two men have entered the list for senior men on the council, Leith Abbott, and George Hopkins. Three are to be chosen for this office. Abbott is editor of the Emerald, a member of student council, the Oregana staff, Friars, Sigma Delta Chi, Sigma Upsilon, Order of the O, and a letterman on the varsity track team. Hopkins is president of the men's glee club, and president of the new musical club just organized, the Oregon Music Council.

Some Offices Still Vacant.

No new aspirants have appeared for vice-president of the student body to oppose Jack Benefiel; for business manager of the Oregana against Warren Kays; or for business manager of the Emerald against Raymond Vester. Two women are running for junior woman on the council, Helen Nelson and Eleanor Spall. One is to be chosen.

No men have been mentioned as yet for members of the athletic council, for executive council or for sophomore man on the council. Carl Knudsen has been mentioned for yell leader, but since he is out of town on the baseball trip, no definite announcement can be made at this time.

Ned Twining is the only candidate in the field so far for junior man on the council. Two are to be elected.

Open Air And Race Compete With Books; "Spring Has Come"

They're here! Sunbeams, spring sweaters, and somnolence have at least made their 1920 debut. It may take more than one swallow to make a summer, but evidently the one recent romantic affair was enough to induce a made-to-order spring to put in its appearance.

From the race comes the sound of splashing paddles and cooing voices as the "Old Town" athletes make their way up the sun-flecked stream. Down on the float echoes the tattoo of chattering teeth, even though their possessors stoutly maintain that, "R-r-r-e-a-l-l-y, it isn't s-o-o b-a-d," and occasionally jump ankle deep into the water in an attempt to prove their point.

In spite of the fact that everyone complains of having the spring fever there are no signs of feverish effort to study on the part of anyone. Each class has its quota of nodding heads and window dreamers. But for the fact that the grades are now published it is doubtful if there would be any studying done at all. For every canoe that goes up the race two unprepared lessons drift down.

As for the sweaters, well, we thought that the spectrum had been exhausted last year but no such thing. A bed of variegated poppies has nothing on the library steps in this age of feminine finery.

Sleepy? Everybody is. Ye scribe gapes and yawns over his typewriter inspirations? Only the chronic poets have ambition enough to get them. "Want to go up the race?" "You bet!" It's the universal password.

ALPHA DELTA PI TO BE INSTALLED ON CAMPUS MAY 21

Alpha Delta Local Sorority To Become Chapter of National

24 WILL BE INITIATED

Mrs. Irene P. Smith, Grand President, to Officiate; Dance to Be Part of Festivities.

Members of Alpha Delta, a women's local on the campus, have been granted their petition for a chapter of Alpha Delta Pi, women's national sorority, according to word just received here. Mrs. Irene P. Smith, national president, who resides at Berkeley, will install the chapter, and representatives of the chapter at the University of Washington are expected to be present. May 21 has been tentatively set as a date for the installation.

A small group of girls living in Hendricks Hall began the organization during March last year, making the formal announcement of their intentions at a banquet May 7. Mrs. E. L. Packard, a graduate of Berkeley, has since the organization, been the girls chief adviser. She also organized the Alpha Delta Pi chapter at the University of Washington.

There are only three other chapters Alpha Delta Pi on the coast—at Berkeley, University of Washington, and Washington State College, most of the chapters being in eastern and southern colleges.

While living in Hendricks Hall, the girls conferred with Dean Ehrman, and Dean Straub, who, realizing the need of another sorority on the campus, encouraged the girls to organize. Since the time of the informal organization, the girls have been active in all student body affairs and have shown a keen interest in the spirit of Oregon. They ranked second in scholarship for the winter term this year. Their place of residence will be changed from a house on Sixth street to the R. S. Bryson house across from the Patterson school.

Those who will be initiated are: Beatrice Crewdson, Elizabeth Tillson, Elaine Cooper, Mary Parkinson, Beulah Clark, Moretta Howard, Lelora Mourton, of Portland; Alma Ditto, St. Helens; Lelah Stone, Oswego; Naomi Robbins, Molalla; Loeta Rogers, Independence; Josephine Croxall, Bandon; Gladys Mathis, Corvallis; Florence Fasel, Boise, Idaho; Nena Sorenson, Arcadia, Nebraska; Marguerite Straughan, Pendleton; Iris Bryant, Island City; Marie Holden, Tillamook; Mrs. Bessie Porter Milne; Joy Judkins, Marie Ridings, Reta Ridings, and Velma Rupert, Eugene; Genevieve Chase, Coquille. Mrs. R. C. Clark and Mrs. O. R. Gullion are patronesses.

ASSAULT AND BATTERY IS CHARGE IN TRIAL

Moot Court Will Judge Woes of One Whose Classroom Nap is Rudely Disturbed.

Assault and battery is the charge in the case of Ben C. Ivey vs. C. C. Clark, in the University court which will be held in Education assembly room Thursday evening at seven o'clock. Attorneys for the plaintiff are Alys Sutton and Lyle McCroskey. Attorneys for the defendants are Fred Packwood and James Pjouts. The judge has not been selected.

The defendant was sitting peacefully (and attentively) in the class in Agency on Thursday morning of last week, when the defendant rushed in and accused the former of having his text book on Agency. The charge was vigorously denied by Mr. Ivey, so vigorously in fact that he was struck by Mr. Clark.

In the ensuing fight the plaintiff was badly bruised (so he says), and is now suing for assault and battery.

VARSAITY BEATS COUGARS INTERFRATERNITY MEET SATURDAY

KINCAID FIELD TO BE STAGE FOR ATHLETES IN CINDER CONTESTS

Organizations To Compete In First Real Oregon Track Meet of Season

VARSAITY MEN RESTRICTED

Permanent Silver Trophy Cup Will Be Presented to Winner by Bill Hayward.

Cinders will fly on Kincaid field Saturday afternoon in the first real track meet that Oregon has been able to stage this year. The occasion is the annual inter-fraternity track meet and there will be athletes of all descriptions taking a hand in the festivities. Even those who hie themselves over the mill race paths during the balmy afternoons, will take a place in this lineup, and competition will be keen.

"Bill" Hayward, who has charge of all the arrangements, has selected a beautiful silver trophy cup to be presented to the winner of the meet this year and this cup will be the permanent property of the team which makes the greater number of points in the meet.

"Art" Tucks Limited But there will be some restrictions and among them will be "Art" Tuck, the husky freshman, who will be limited to three events. Other restrictions will be on letter men of the Varsity team, these men will enter and run in their own events but their points will count for naught, "Bill" says it will be good training for them, and that is about all they will get out of it. The men who are trying for Varsity positions this season, may enter any events they wish, although each aspirant will be limited to three track events, that any one athlete may enter.

Fresh track candidates are eligible for any and all events, and providing the entries stack up too big, the preliminary heats will be run off Friday afternoon. The meet proper will be staged at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon, providing the good weather continues, and from the present outlook there will be some record smashing.

"Bill" is anxious to have all the entries listed and handed in by Wednesday afternoon in order that arrangements can be made for the preliminary heats if this is found necessary. Points will be made up with 5 for first place, 4 for seconds, (Continued on page 3)

DR. CARLISLE TELLS OF STATE SURVEY

Dealing With Anti-Social Forces Should Not be Left Only to Experts, He Says.

Dr. Chester L. Carlisle, of the U. S. public health service, who is director of the state survey of mental defect, delinquency, and dependency now being conducted by the University of Oregon extension division at the request of the state legislature, gave an address Saturday afternoon at the Y. W. C. A. bungalow before the members of the Association of Collegiate Alumni.

He gave an outline of the history of the treatment and care of mental defectives and the growth of modern development of mental hygiene and social welfare. The importance of recognizing mental defects, as the cause of conduct inadequate to meet the social needs or moral conventions, was emphasized.

"The obvious fact of anti-social conduct need not be left to the opinion of experts, but should be part of the common education of every intelligent citizen," said Dr. Carlisle.

A Sticking Question; Who Gave the Annex Royal a Chew of Gum?

The Journalism annex has the latest thing in typewriters. The Sunday editions have thrilling accounts of the blond typewriter who chews gums, and the brunette typewriter who vamps the boss. But over in the Journalism annex is a real, honest to goodness, Royal typewriter that chews gum.

When pounced on early Monday morning, instead of being in good fighting trim, or rather in good working trim, it was found to be entangled in the muckageous and popular substance which is the joy of the young and the ban of their elders.

As gum chewing is not allowed in the literary atmosphere of the Journalists, the old Royal was, shortly divested of its "wad," and set to "chewing the rag," instead.

RABBI WISE SPEAKER FOR NEXT ASSEMBLY

SUBJECT OF TALK NOT KNOWN, TO BE ALONG LINES OF EDUCATION

Jonah B. Wise, rabbi of the Beth Israel Temple on Portland, is to speak at the assembly next Thursday morning, according to Karl Onthank, executive secretary at the University. The subject on which Rabbi Wise will speak is not definitely known as yet, but it will be along some educational line, said Mr. Onthank.

Rabbi Wise has been a visitor to the Oregon campus, previously to this visit, on several occasions. Two years ago he was present at the Pledge Day ceremonies, making a speech at that time.

Jonah B. Wise is a brother of Stephen S. Wise, noted New York rabbi, who is scheduled to visit the campus during the summer session this year.

As a lecturer, Rabbi Wise is well known. He has been identified with local and national civic, charitable, and social work. He has also been a special contributor to religious journals.

Rabbi Wise received his education both in this country and in Europe. He has been on the board of higher curricula of Oregon for several years and has always regarded the University as of particular interest to him.

SENIOR BREAKFAST IS SET

Underclass Women to Escort Older Girls; Saturday Decided upon.

The Senior Breakfast given by the Y. W. C. A. in honor of the senior girls will take place Saturday morning at 10 o'clock at the home of Mrs. P. L. Campbell. The seniors will be escorted to the affair by junior and sophomore women who will be assigned by lottery. The underclass women will be responsible for their senior guests so when the bulletin announcing the names of the guests and their escorts is put up on the board near the library it is expected by the committee that the girls will ask their seniors as soon as possible.

This affair is always among the most pleasant traditions of the University and is being looked forward to eagerly by all the girls. The committee in charge of the breakfast are Beatrice Weatherby, chairman; Helen Madden, Margaret Beatty, Genevieve Chase, Blanche Anderson, Helen Gardner, Margaret Jackson, Gayle Acton, Mildred Smith, Florence Johnson, and Maybelle Miller.

OREGON TAKES FIRST GAME FROM PULLMAN TEAM BY 9-4 COUNT

Berg Twirls Nine Frames Of Big League Ball; Four Hits Allowed

W. S. C. USES TWO IN BOX

Lewis and Graham Both Batted Hard; Lind Leads Sluggers With Homer and Three Bagger.

(By Jacob Jacobson)

WASHINGTON, STATE COLLEGE, Pullman, Wash., April 26—(Special to the Emerald)—The University of Oregon baseball team won over W. S. C. here this afternoon by the one sided count of 9 to 4. J. Arthur ("Ice") Berg, Oregon's premier left hander, twirled an extra fine game for the lemon-yellow, allowing the Washington stagers but four hits in the nine frames. He fanned nine and issued free transportation but twice.

Herm Lind, Oregon's captain and guardian of the initial sack, busted one over the center fielder's head in the first inning and gets the leather medal, having scored the first homer for the varsity this season. Hanley, Washington state's third sacker, connected with the sphere and lifted one over Rhinehart, playing the left bower, and romped home. No one was on, and but a single tally was rung up.

Oregon's Game from Start.

Oregon won the toss, and elected to try the mettle of the Cougars. The first inning started with a whoop when "Skeet" binged a safe one, came to rest on the initial sack. Reinhart followed with a single, sending "Skeet" to second. Steers and Lind found the horsehide, scoring "Skeet" and Reinhart.

This inning was a forecast of the entire contest, and Oregon maintained the lead throughout the game.

Two star hurlers were called from the reserves by the Cougars in a futile attempt to stem Oregon's hitting streak, but with no avail. The boys had with them their batting eyes, and pounded the offerings of Lewis and Graham at will.

A change in batteries will be effected in the second contest, Francis Jacobberger going into the box, with Spike Leslie at the receiving end.

Used to scooping the ball out of the mud, Oregon was at a disadvantage, for a heavy wind at times drove clouds of dust over the diamond, making fielding at times very difficult. The field on the whole was fast, and some good ball was exhibited to the fans.

Summary of the Game:

Oregon	9	8	5
W. S. C.	4	4	2

Time of game, two hours. 3 base hits: Lind, Steers. 2 base hits: Rhinehart, Sters, Fox. Home runs: Lin dand Hanley. Struck out by Berg 9, by Lewis 3, and Graham 1. First on balls off Berg 2, off Lewis 1, and Graham 1.

SHY TO TEACH COACHING

Huntington Will Have Charge of Athletics in Summer School.

A course in coaching high school athletics will be offered in summer school by Charles A. ("Shy") Huntington. Mr. Huntington will also have charge of the sports and athletic activities of the men students in summer school.
