

PRESIDENT CAMPBELL URGES STUDENTS TO SUPPORT FESTIVAL

School of Music To Produce Biggest Program Of Kind In State

The professors in the music department of the University should be heartily supported in the coming music festival, is the opinion of President P. L. Campbell, who says that this festival will be a triumph for the state of Oregon, as well as for the University, if it is a success. The president's message to the students and University friends is as follows: By this means I wish to bring to the attention of the students of the University, the faculty, the townspeople and all the friends of the University the importance of giving to the musical festival, to be held during the week of June sixth, everything possible in the way of whole-hearted support. The festival is not only the first thing of its kind to be given by the University, but the first, probably, to be attempted in the state, and its success will be not only a triumph for the University but one for Oregon as well.

A festival of this magnitude is a big and ambitious undertaking. It represents a vast amount of work on the part of those members of the faculty of the school of music who have undertaken its production and, if for no other reason, we should show them our appreciation by a 100 per cent attendance at the various performances that make up the festival program. If it is a success this year, it is more than likely that the festival will become an annual affair, such as the famous festivals at Michigan, Lehigh, and other colleges. There is no reason why the University should not successfully sponsor so worthy an undertaking; it means simply the enthusiastic cooperation of everyone.

There is another reason for supporting the festival entirely aside from our natural interest in it as a University undertaking. This reason lies in the intrinsic worth of beautiful music wherever and whenever produced. Music is, perhaps, the purest of all the arts—the most inspiring, the most uplifting. Good music is rare. Certainly for our own pleasure and our own good we should never lose an opportunity to hear it.

And may I ask, further, for a continuation of this interest on the part of the University throughout the week, the latter part of which will be occupied by the national convention of the Mu Phi Epsilon sorority. The selection of the University of Oregon for this convention (the first one ever held west of the Rocky mountains) was no small honor. It will bring to the University 75 or more prominent women from all over the United States, who will form their first impressions of the University, and through it of the state and the coast. Let us all remember that these women are our guests and extend to them the courtesy and the cordial hospitality that will make their visit memorable.

Paddles Go to Juniors

During the worst part of the rain shower, early this morning, Dorothy Reed and Phoebe Gage, representing the sophomore class, paddled their way to a victory of eight boat lengths in the canoe race with Vivian Chandler and Nancy Fields, representing the juniors. Their time was 12 3/4 minutes, as compared with the record of 12 made by Gretchen Colton and Helen Case, two years ago, is considered remarkable, as the girls found it very difficult to make much head way, the rain wetting their paddles so that they could not get a good grip on them.

Dorothy Reed and Phoebe Gage won the prize of the canoe paddles last year, so Vivian Chandler and Nancy Fields received the award, according to a ruling that the same contestants cannot win the trophy twice.

The elimination contest was held yesterday, the contestants being Mildred Apperson and Mary Evans, Alice Evans and Lois Barnett, and Dorothy Reed and Phoebe Gage. Dorothy Reed and Phoebe Gage won over Mildred Apperson and Mary Evans by about 25 seconds.

But one junior team entered, the freshman team withdrew, and the seniors failed to enter.

Attention, Frosh!

The sophomore class challenges the freshmen class to a game of baseball, to be played Wednesday at 4 o'clock. Members of freshmen nine eligible if played out of position; likewise sophomore members of the varsity team.

PROF. G. S. MONK HONORED

FELLOWSHIP IN PHYSICS WON
AT U. OF CHICAGO

Dr. Caswell to Resume Work After Nine Months Advanced Study
At Princeton

Professor G. S. Monk, of the physics department of the University, has been awarded a teaching assistantship in the physics department at the University of Chicago, for the year 1920-21. Prof. Monk has been taking the place of Prof. A. E. Caswell who is on a nine months leave of absence from the University, studying at Princeton. Dr. Caswell was awarded a $2000 research fellowship for this work at Princeton, by the National Research Council. Dr. Caswell will undoubtedly return to the University in the fall, said Dr. W. P. Boynton, head of the physics department here.

Professor Monk, and his wife, who is a member of the teaching staff of the Oregon Agricultural College physics department, will probably leave for Cleveland for a visit, as soon as the present school year is over, before going on to Chicago where he will begin his new work. This position will permit Prof. Monk to do considerable research work, said Dr. Boynton, and will at the same time permit him to study for his Ph. D. degree.

Dr. Caswell has been investigating and making experiments in the electrical and thermal properties of metals, at the eastern school, and will undoubtedly have several interesting results to announce at the end of his work there.

A 50 per cent increase in general physics laboratory equipment is expected for next year, said Dr. Boynton, to provide for the present increased enrollment, and the large numbers expected next year. At present the enrollment in this department is approximately 135, of whom 10 are doing advanced and research work. Two years ago this department only numbered 55 or 60, he continued. At that time three laboratory sections were sufficient, now five are held and only lack of room and equipment prevents this number from being larger. The average for the present classes is much larger than before.

"The advanced classes are greatly in need of further equipment," said Dr. Boynton, "and if funds for the purpose are available, we hope to enlarge on the present research and experiment apparatus."
