

UNDERCLASS BASEBALL GAME WON BY SOPHS BY SCORE OF 7 TO 3

Freshmen Make Initial Tally; Lose Chances After First Two Innings

After the first two innings the freshmen did not have a chance in the annual underclass baseball game played Wednesday on Cemetery ridge which ended in a 7 to 3 score. During the first two stanzas the lead alternated between the two teams, and it looked like a close contest, but "Tiny" Shields lost his kick, and the boys took to his offerings like hot-cakes. Little Dick Shim worked for the sophomores like an alarm clock at 6 a. m.

The Frosh scored the initial tally, and in the first of the second Latham slammed out a three-bagger, bringing two runs, but he was out on third. "Pink" Manerud made the tying run on an infield error.

"Vic" Bradeson, the umpire, didn't exactly have a picnic handling the game, but he succeeded in managing the affair fairly and impartially. Both teams switched their men about in a kaleidoscopic manner. Rolla Gray was allowed to pitch one inning for the Frosh, holding the second-year men to no score. "Duckie" Holmes attempted to stem the tide of runs in the fourth, but it was useless.

The line-up was:
 Sophomore— Freshmen—
 V. Jacobberger..... C .....F. Shields
 Shim..... P ..... "Tiny" Shields
 Black..... 1B ..... Holmes
 "Skeet" Manerud 2B "Pink" Manerud
 Howard..... SS .....Svarverud
 Collins..... 3B .....Alexander
 Beller..... CF .....Zimmerman
 Latham..... RF .....Wyatt
 Liebe..... LF .....Base
 Score: Sophomore, 7; Freshmen, 3.

BASEBALL PROSPECTS FOR NEXT YEAR LOOK BRIGHT

sen, subs this season, and Rollo Gray,

Duckie Holmes and Ford of the freshman team. Gray especially gave promise from his work during this season. Of the veteran pitchers Art Berg had the best record for the season and has made a name for himself throughout the conference. Jacobson and Jacobberger were both dependable men and can be relied on for still better work next season.

Outfield Fast Last Season

Captain-elect Bill Reinhart will have little difficulty in finding outfielders to work with him, especially if Bill Steers is back. This year's combination with Reinhart in left, Steers center and Knudsen in right combined fast, accurate fielding with heavy hitting ability. The three averaged well above the .300 mark for the season. Should any vacancies occur here they can turn to his freshman squad again. McEntee and Alexander both appeared to be real ball players and were able to hit. He can also use one of his pitchers to advantage here, especially on trips. Johnny Gamble will again be on hand to try for a regular outfield berth.

With at least a fair break in luck regon should again furnish real competition in the conference next year. Hitting ability and good pitchers are the main needs of the team and these both seem to be present among the many prospects for the varsity.

MEN'S OREGON CLUB HAS FIRST MEETING

COMMITTEE NAMED TO DRAW UP CONSTITUTION; NEXT MEETING THURSDAY

The re-organization of the Men's Oregon Club was only partially completed at the first meeting held Thursday evening in the Y hut. About 50 members turned out for the meeting and discussions were held as to the policy of the organization, and a committee was named to draw up a constitution for the body.

The committee elected to draw up a constitution to be presented to the members at the next meeting, consists of Roy Veatch, chairman; Barney Garrett and Phil Brogan. The next meeting has been called for next Thursday at 5 o'clock at the Y hut. The constitution will be approved at that time, and permanent officers for next year will be elected.

Laura Moates Wins Edison Marshall's Short Story Prize

J. L. Almack's Story, 'Rogsoon' Takes Second Money; Irene Stewart Gets Mention

Laura Moates of Ilwaco, Washington, received first award, Mr. James L. Almack of the Extension Division second, and Irene Stewart honorable mention in the annual short story contest, conducted by Edison E. Marshall, former student at the University, now short-story writer and novelist of national fame.

Miss Moates, applicant for honors in literature, received the $15.00 prize for her story, "Footsteps," written about a blind girl. Mr. Almack, who is also applying for honors in rhetoric, received $10.00 for his story, entitled "Rogsoon". Miss Stewart received honorable mention on her story, entitled "Hassan Efendi".

Judges of the stories were Mrs. Eric W. Allen, Professor H. C. Howe, and J. Frederick Thorne, former instructor at the University, now engaged in literary work in Seattle.

The money for the prizes is donated by Mr. Marshall to enstall interest in short story writing. Formerly, the prize was $10.00 for first award and $5.00 for second prize, but this year Mr. Marshall raised the donation to $15.00 and $10.00.

Mr. Marshall has just published a novel entitled "The Strength of the Pines", which is selling rapidly. Mr. Marshall finds the long novel easier to do, he says and it pays him better.

Miss Moates, winner this year, received honorable mention in last year's contest, which was won by Miss Gwladys Bowen of Portland, Giles French of Grass Valley won second prize.

Bottle Catches $5.80.

The milk bottle which tood on the counter at the Varsity to catch pennies for the women's building, was opened this week and found to contain $5.80, almost all in pennies.
