

FROSH SQUAD WORKS HARD IN SCRIMMAGE

Ex-High Stars Show Up Well
On First Squad.

TO MEET VARSITY SOON

Portland Furnishes Many Men
Eugene Next.

The freshman team lined up for its first scrimmage Wednesday night. The first workout was necessarily rough but the men should be in shape to scrimmage the varsity by the first part of next week.

Hal Chapman, a Marshfield product, is working at quarter. Chapman is a brother of Nish Chapman, Oregon's varsity basketball man. He is a shifty player and looks good for future varsity material. The halves are Burton and DePaul. Both of these boys will go good with a little experience. Johnson is working at full. At the ends are Johnny Bryson, a Eugene man, and Harlan Gram, from Jefferson high in Portland. Ray McKeown and Kel King are working at tackle. King is a Portland boy, having played with Washington high in that city.

Squad Well Balanced.

The guard positions are being held down by Byler and Carter. Bill Johnson is at center. Johnson played in Portland's interscholastic league before the war. He is big and looks good. All of the freshmen are big men and they seem a well balanced aggregation. With a little experience they should work well together. They have the advantage of a good coaching staff. "Baz" Williams is teaching the line men the fine points of the game, while "Ken" Bartlett is working with the backfield.

Most From Portland.

Portland furnishes the greater part of the material for the freshman football team this year. Washington high gives four men, Ed Edlund, quarter on the second team, Bill Johnson, center on the first team, Kellar King, tackle on the first team, and Charlie Parsons, a backfield man. Parsons just entered college and is not in good shape yet. He is a brother of Johnny Parsons, one of the best football players Oregon ever had. Jess Digman and Harlan Gram are two Jefferson men. Gram plays an end and Digman works at tackle. From Columbia are Boyer and Johnson. Lincoln furnishes Vic Risley and "Whitey" Oliver. Eugene is probably second in the number of men out. There are seven Eugene boys trying for places on the frosh team.

Competition is keen for places on the team and only by means of hard work can the first team men hold their jobs.

Y. WOULD HELP LINK COUNTY AND COLLEGE

Entertainment Part of Plan to Destroy Barrier.

Isolation of the University of Oregon from Eugene and the surrounding communities, which has in the past led people who have not come in intimate contact with Oregon students to look upon them as highbrows, will be broken this year, according to Hal B. Donnelly, new secretary of the campus Y. M. C. A.

Although plans for the destruction of the imaginary barrier which exists between students and citizens of Lane county have not yet been definitely formulated, stated Mr. Donnelly, it has been suggested that miniature glee clubs and entertainers visit the nearby lumbering towns. "There will be nothing to 'put across' other than the entertainment," said Mr. Donnelly, "and we are going to make the citizens of this community realize that University students are neither highbrows nor boobs." Connected with the religious work of the Y gospel teams will also be sent out.

The influence of the local Y on University life is expected to be greater this year than ever before, since Mr. Donnelly devotes his entire time to the campus Y. M. C. A. work. Mr. Donnelly holds a master's degree from Princeton, and previous to coming here was Northwest Student Secretary.

Mr. Donnelly served in France during the war, not as a Y. M. C. A. secretary, but as a buck private in the 101st Field Artillery, a unit composed of John Hopkins men. As a casual, he traveled from one front to another and saw some real action. After the armistice he attended the University of Paris for four months. Having lived formerly in Salt Lake City and in New Mexico, Mr. Donnelly asserts that he is very much at home any place as long as he is in the West.

POSITIONS AS TEAM MANAGERS ARE OPEN

Men With Executive Ability Wanted By McClain To Handle Varsity Squads.

Men not actually engaged in athletics at the present time have a fine opportunity to enter into student activities in the positions of team managers, according to a statement made yesterday by Graduate Manager Marion McClain, who said that there is at present a dearth of men with executive ability to handle the various University teams.

At present no one has been selected for the position of assistant manager for the fall football team. No managers have been selected for the baseball, basketball and track teams.

"What we are looking for," declared Manager McClain, "is men with some executive ability who will get out and work. Ability is the one thing that will count in the selection of the men."

out will be taken up with dummy scrimmage and passing.

Coaches Huntington and Spellman are far from satisfied with the work of the lemon-yellow squad, both the defensive and offensive work being below what it should be this late in the season. Little or no work in defensive has been given the varsity this season and the ragged signal workout in offensive work is far from perfect. Multnomah has been practicing faithfully for the past month and a half and has the drop on Coach Huntington's proteges in this department of the game.

Game Called at 2 p. m.

Manager McClain announces that tomorrow's game will be called promptly at 2 o'clock and will be played on Kincaid field. "Sam" Dolan, of Notre Dame, who is well known to Oregon as a football official, will handle the referee's whistle while "Bill" Smith, another former Notre Dame star, will act in the capacity of umpire. A hear linesman has not been selected as yet.

Varsity scrimmage and workouts have been taking up the better part of two and a half hours every afternoon this week and the team has been constantly on its toes under the direction of Coach Huntington, Spellman and "Bill" Hayward. "Brick" Leslie, big center on last year's varsity received a bad cut over the eye in Wednesday's scrimmage which will not keep him out of the game however. Injuries have so far been few this year.
