

MEMBERSHIP LIST OF Y REACHES 400

Committee Makes Estimate
At Thursday Meeting

CAMPAIGN ENDS TODAY

Fee Money Will Be Used in Student Activities.

Estimates based on the reports of the Y. M. C. A. membership committee, which met last evening, place the total membership of the Y. M. C. A. for the coming season at approximately 400. By tonight the committee plans to have reached every man on the campus in its campaign for members.

None of the money taken in from memberships is to go for any purposes other than strictly student activities, according to Hal Donnelly, secretary of the Y. M. C. A. All the money will remain on the campus; the salaries and upkeep money for the "hut" being provided separately by the advisory board.

In the outline for work there has been created district departments. The social program provides for entertainment for all men of the campus among whom it is hoped to promote a general acquaintanceship and democratic feeling. There will be boxing bouts, movies, and mixes it is announced, the latter coming twice a month, for small groups, so that a more intimate spirit will prevail.

The Y. M. C. A. plans to meet the need of students and faculty members in the form of religious education, according to Donnelly, since the University, a state institution, cannot undertake such work. At present there is one bible class, led by the Reverend Father O'Hara, and several other such classes are expected to be organized by the Christmas season. Leading speakers of different denominations will talk at different times on vital questions, such as science and religion, religion and business, and other topics.

In addition there is a church co-operating committee, composed of one representative from each denomination, which plans to keep the relation of the student and the church up to date.

The service department reaches the man on the campus, providing the use of the "hut" for meetings and the employment bureau, and co-operating with student activities in a general way. It also plans to reach out into the community, to interest college men in social work among the boys in their locality. Later deputations may be sent into the various outlying districts in extension work along religious and entertainment lines.

TWENTY-THREE CHOSEN FOR GIRLS' GLEE CLUB

Choral Work and Singing at Assembly to Be Part of Work On New Year's Program.

Twenty-three women have been selected to make up the membership of the women's glee club this year as the result of a series of preliminary and final tryouts held during the past two weeks. But of this number 7 were members of last year's club.

The club will do a great deal of choral work on the campus, according to Laura Rand, business manager, who announces that the girls will give a number of assembly programs in addition to singing at Sunday afternoon vespers. Two trips are contemplated, one at Christmas time and another during the spring vacation.

Particularly good material has been brought out in the first and second soprano sections this year, according to Miss Rand.

The girls added to the club this year are: First soprano, Esther Edson, Frederika Schilke, Gladys Keeney; second soprano, Doris Hoefler, Nell Gaylord, Naomi Wilson, Leah Zink, Marion Linn, Constance Miller; first alto, Belle Chatburn, Eloise McPherson; second alto, Irene Rugh, Betty Kessi, Katherine Baker, Alberta Carson, Vasthi Hoskins.

Last year's girls who are back this year are Genevieve Clancy, Alice Gohlke, Florence Garrett, Marvel Skeels, Bernice Altstock, Margart Phelps, and Laura Rand.

of wealth. They are even coming to the colleges of the country with the thought of helping others, uppermost in their minds, and requesting that their courses of study be such that they may, when they leave the school, be a help to the world.

The University orchestra, which appeared for the first time this year at the assembly, made a decided hit with the students by a rendition of three popular fox-trots. Rex Underwood, of the school of music, directed the organization.

Reverend Father Edwin O'Hara, of St. Mary's Catholic church, of this city,
