Freshman Vandal Is Punished

MAN WHO DAUBED CAMPUS WITH GREEN PAINT MUST SETTLE

Clinton Howard Made to Pay Damages By Advisory Board

PROBATION GIVEN FOR COLLEGE YEAR

Council Recommends Move; Make Example for Future

Clinton Howard, the freshman who has been before the student council for the past two nights on trial for daubing green paint on the administration building lamps, lamp posts and the Senior bench had his punishment meted out yesterday afternoon. He will be required to pay the entire costs of cleaning off the paint and for any damage done and he will also be on probation for the remainder of the college year, remaining in school only on good behavior and not being permitted to participate in any student activities.

This verdict was given by the student advisory committee upon recommendation by the student council which was in session with the boy Wednesday and Thursday evenings. It is the wish of the council that Howard be set up as an example against any other such manifestation of over zealous Freshman class spirit, and after this occurrence any painting of University property will be considered as meriting the expulsion of the offender.

Howard was not the only one who bought the paint and did the work. He was caught by tracing down the check which he signed in payment for the paint. Howard said his cohorts would not confess because they didn't see where they could do him any good, and all efforts of the council to secure their names were of no avail.

The act, in itself is a state offense and

Want to Know About Balloons? Ask J. Hugh Pruett, He Knows

INTRODUCING J. HUGH PRUETT, instructor in the physics department at the University of Oregon.

Two interesting things have happened in Mr. Pruett's life, he admits. The first, he got married, the second, in 1917, he went to war. Of the former he tells nothing, but of the latter much.

"During the war," says J. Hugh Pruett, "I was a weather man, that is, I was placed in the weather bureau department of the army." The first few months of his service with this department was spent at the weather bureau office in Seattle. Here he made weather observations, weather maps, and weather predictions.

After four months of work here he was sent east to Bedloe's island, in New York harbor, where the famous bronze Statue of Liberty by Bartholdi is located. Professor Pruett spent two months on this island waiting to go across. At night he slept under the shadow of the statue.

COUNCIL TAKES ACTION TO PUNISH OFFENDERS.

Whereas, During the past week individual members of the Freshman class have done permanent damage to the University and State property by the application of green paint to University buildings, and

Whereas, The practice of painting University property, campus sidewalks, benches, or anything of like nature has this year overreached all bounds of propriety; and

Whereas, Such a practice is contrary to all the traditions of the University and unworthy of real Oregon spirit;

We, The Student Council of the Associated Students of the University of Oregon, do hereby go on record:

1. As opposing any and all such practices of desecrating the University campus.
2. As condemning such actions as savoring of rowdiness and showing utter failure to grasp the spirit which exists at the University.
3. And as favoring the apprehension and suitable punishment of all persons engaged in such work.

(Signed) Student Council,
 Nell Warwick,
 Don Davis,
 John Houston.

FIVES TO START SOON

Coach Bohler Asks for Election of Basketball Managers.

Coach George M. Bohler of the campus "doughnut league" has asked that all the men's houses who intend to put out basketball teams this year, elect their team managers at their next regular house meeting in order that they may be ready to attend the team managers' meeting, early next week. The league will be organized and a tentative schedule announced. Play is expected to start a week from Monday and will continue until after Thanksgiving, or until the opening of the Varsity season.

Coach Bohler stated that two games will be played each day, but if this does not allow room for all the men who wish to play, a B division of the doughnut league will be formed.

Plans have not yet been announced for the interclass games, but Coach Bohler states that, as formerly, the interclass season will correspond with the Varsity season and that the league will probably be formed during the winter term.

Two Women's Fraternities Punished By Pan-Hellenic For Rushing-Rule Violation

Pi Beta Phi and Delta Gamma Found Guilty of Infractions, and Pledging Privilege Suspended; Leniency Shown

The Pan-Hellenic council yesterday evening indorsed the action taken by the Pan-Hellenic alumnae board in imposing penalties on the local chapters of Pi Beta Phi and Delta Gamma for the infringement of rushing rules.

The penalty imposed on Pi Beta Phi forbids rushing or pledging of students until after matriculation in the spring term. The Delta Gammas are forbidden to rush or pledge students during the first term of this year and their pledging day will be one week later than that of the other houses at the beginning of the second term. Rushing is defined by the Pan-Hellenic Alumnae Board as the entertaining of any girl by a student or alumna member, either in or out of town.

The two houses on whom penalties were inflicted were not the only ones who used improper methods of rushing, according to the report of the alumnae board. There were a great many infringements, large and small, but the two penalized were the only ones against whom definite enough evidence was secured to justify punishment. The board thinks the penalties light, considering the nature of the offences. The Pi Beta Phi penalty was made a little heavier because they not only broke the rule but openly defied it. Much evidence was brought up in the board meeting, and the questions of the offences were contested.

The Pan-Hellenic alumnae board is an advisory organization which acts with the Pan-Hellenic Council in the enactment of rules for the governing of the sororities on the campus.

SENIORS TO NURSE HAIRY ADORNMENTS

Moustache Race on; Must Finish By Homecoming.

The annual senior men's handicap was officially opened yesterday. Entries from all parts of the state are listed and, although the prize is as yet unannounced, competition is nevertheless at the boiling point.

The affair is the senior men's moustache contest. These honored members of the stronger sex are the only ones allowed to cultivate the "Misplaced eyebrows," and already several dirty looking upper-lips are much in evidence.

Local druggists and tonsorial artists report an overwhelming demand for hair restorers, developers and so forth. With demand exceeding supply, the price has taken a material jump (which is quite according to Hoyle, says Mr. Taussig) but the worthy seniors are not to be outdone by such a minor consideration.

As one prominent senior puts it, "Why worry about expenses, we've got lots of them."

The date for the termination of the great race has not been definitely decided upon, but the senior co-eds seem to favor sometime before the Homecoming festivities. These fairer representatives of '21 claim that they do not want their otherwise respectable class to be judged by the men's appearances when the old grads return to visit the campus.

JAZZ JINKS POSTPONED

Junior Step Not To Come Off October 23; Dated for Next Term.

The Junior Jazz Jinks is postponed, and what's more it isn't going to come off this term. The committee promise a jazzier jinks than this one could possibly have been to take place sometime during the next semester, however.

The dance was scheduled for next Friday, October 23rd, but owing to a large number of sorority and fraternity dances for the same evening it was decided to postpone the Junior affair.

FROSH AND VARSITY MIX THINGS TODAY

Scrimmage Game Needed To Develop First Team.

The Oregon varsity will tangle with the freshmen this morning. Oregon had no varsity game scheduled this week and so will play a regular game with the frosh. The game will be played on the new practice field.

The game really should be a good one. The freshmen have a good aggregation of players, and should make the varsity work hard. The only thing in which the freshmen are lacking is experience.

Coach Ken Bartlett announced that his line-up for the game would be Dugman and Bryson, ends Reed and King, tackles; Byler and Johnson, guards; W. Johnson, center; Parsons and De Paul, halves; Burton, full; and Chapman, quarter. This bunch should give the varsity a run for their money when the game is played today. "Chuck" Parsons looks like an awful good bet in the backfield. He is a brother of John Parsons, a former Oregon player. He is fast and for yardage any time. Chapman at quarter keeps the team working all the time and is a good heady player. The line men are all big men and should keep the varsity line working hard.

Coach "Shy" Huntington refuses to announce who he will start as yet but says he will use his first team men. He says the men need the practice and he is going to use as many as possible during the game.

The game will be open and the students will get to see the team in action.

"Nish" Chapman is out in a suit now. He has been working at one of the halves this week. Brandenburg's ankle is better also and he may be in shape to play at the time of the Idaho game.

Huntington announced that the old Kincaid field will probably be given up for the soccer men. A practice field is being made for the freshmen near that of the varsity and all football men will practice at these places.

"Bart" Spellman has not been at Oregon during the past week. He is in Moscow getting a line on the Idaho players.

TESTS BEGIN MONDAY

Miss Hair and Prof. Gregory to Make Penitentiary Survey.

Miss Mozelle Hair of the extension division, and Professor C. A. Gregory of the school of education, are to make a survey of the inmates of the state penitentiary, Monday, October 18.

Two or three mental tests together with perhaps three school achievement tests will be given, according to Professor Gregory. The warden has agreed to place the prisoners at their disposal on Monday.

The tests to be made by Miss Hair and Mr. Gregory are part of a survey of delinquents of the state of Oregon being made by Dr. Chester L. Carlisle, of the United States Public Health Service. All of the state institutions for delinquents are being investigated.

SENIOR BUST TONIGHT; NO DATES PERMITTED

French Heels and White Collars Alike Taboo; Come in Costume or Old Clothes.

The Senior hard times "bust" will be held tonight at 8:00 sharp in the Women's gymnasium, according to an announcement given out by the committee today. The party will be a no-date affair, and no white collar or French heels will be tolerated. Joe Ingram, who has charge of the music, promises a four-piece orchestra, imported from select sources.

Ollie Stoltenberg, chef d'oeuvre of the affair promises the most soul satisfying concoctions in the way of eats. A statement by Rollin Woodruff, chairman of the committee arranging the dance follows:

"Every senior must be at the senior party tonight. In order to have every member of the class of 1921 present, it is necessary that senior dates for Saturday night be broken. This is a reasonable excuse for men and women with previous dates to offer; and the plea of a previous date will not be accepted by the senior class. The party will be strictly an old clothes party, and no one will be admitted unless in old clothes or costume. Seniors must put away their dignity for one night. The party starts promptly at 8 tonight, at the women's gymnasium."

COACH HUNTINGTON OVERJOYED BY EVENT

Steers To Be Out On Field For Game This Morning.

"Bill Steers is back!" Oregon's famous quarter, hero of many famous gridiron struggles with the best teams of the coast and east, captain of the Oregon varsity eleven this year, who decided this summer not to return to school this fall, arrived in Eugene early this morning, ready to report for football practice when Coach Huntington sounds his call.

Bill Steers is back! "Guess that'll put a different light on Oregon's chances," said Shy. And who'll disagree!

Perhaps no football player who ever wore the lemon-yellow colors has ever won as much national fame as Bill Steers, star of many famous gridiron classics, the biggest point-winner in each season he played on the varsity; who has fulfilled the prophecy made by an old star of the gridiron game, "He will be one of the best football players in the country."

The return of Steers was unexpected by all the students and the members of the team. He has been working in The Dalles, and did not intend to return to college. Steers says himself that it would have been to his own advantage to stay where he was, but that he felt that he owed it to the school to return.

Bill Steers is probably one of the best known football men who have attended Oregon during recent years. He has always been one of the mainstays of the teams on which he has played, and it was his stellar work last year that contributed greatly to the success of the Oregon varsity.

Steers played his first football at Oregon in 1916 with the freshman team of that year. In 1917 he was a member of the varsity. He played with the Mare Island marine team in 1918 and last year was a member of the Oregon team. He was elected captain of the team for the 1920 season at the close of the season. No captain was elected this year when Steers announced that he would not return, as all hoped that he would change his mind. He will take up his work as captain at once.

Steers has always been noted for his kicking and punting. It was his drop kick that made Oregon's first score in the Oregon-Harvard game last New Year's day at Pasadena. The punting of Steers during the parts of the game in which he played was far better than any that Harvard could produce.

"Shy" Huntington, coach of the Oregon varsity says, "I think that Steers will be better than ever this year. The team will be greatly strengthened by the return of Steers in all its departments. He is not only a good kicker but is also a line plunger and brokenfield runner whom few can surpass."

W. S. C. Beats Idaho.
 The Washington State College eleven defeated the Idaho varsity yesterday afternoon by the score of 14 to 7. The game was played at Moscow.
