GOOD JOBS IN PLENTY FOR UNIVERSITY MEN SAYS Y. LABOR HEAD

Wages Paid For Work Upon Campus Buildings Sends Figures Upward.

POSITIONS OFFERED COVER WIDE RANGE

Washing, Dishwashing, Giving Boxing Lessons to Boy of 7 in List.

There is enough work on hand to keep job seekers busy, says James H. Rice, student director of the Y. M. C. employment bureau. So far this year the Y. M. has placed 26 men on permanent work for their board, eight on steady work for their lodging, and has directed the part-time workers 486 hours of work, according to Rice.

The construction work on the campus hereby from 10 to 30 students have earned the sum of $5 for eight hours or on Saturdays has been completed, according to the student director. That work has raised the scale of wages in Eugene since the town people wanted to pay only 50 cents an hour for student labor at first, but in competition had to pay at least 60 cents an hour, he says.

Unusual Jobs Secured.

The records show that different men wash dishes, spade gardens, wash windows, help clean houses, wait on tables, pick floors, pick apples, shovel coal, mop floors, mow lawns, shingle houses, cement, drive busses, repair shoes, and act as salesmen in order to replenish their purses. Seemingly one of the unique jobs any student has is that of boxing instructor to a seven-year-old boy. This lad is being sent to public school and his mother wants him to be proficient in the art of self-defense. Consequently, she hired a student to come over to her home two times a week and teach the youth to spar.

Another unique job open is for a man to use a maid. A certain age and experience is required. So far, however, no man has availed himself of this opportunity.

Appeals to Students.

Students would like to appeal to all students to cooperate with the Y. M. C. A. employment bureau by phoning in all jobs they know are available," continues Rice. "There are many students living in town who could report a lot of work, particularly those of putting in the fall, if they would take the trouble to get up the Y. M. These jobs can be secured in at any time, day or night, for there is always someone in the building who would appreciate this help very much."

Miss Victoria Avakian's Appetite Sharpened by Oregon's Climate

INTRODUCING MISS VICTORIA AVAKIAN, formerly of Harpoot, Armenia, Minor, Turkey, Instructor in Arts and Normal Arts Department.

Miss Avakian is bubbly over with the joy of living in Oregon—a tiny, happy person with heaps of black hair and such sparkling brown eyes—this is Miss Avakian. This is the first time I've been in Oregon, but I love it already. I think I got made for a warm climate," she said. "This climate here is splendid for work and study. They are fortunate, the students, but they do not know how fortunate. Had they been, as I was in Tempe, Arizona, where one melts down and stifles with the heat, they would know."

Miss Avakian came to the United States with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. K. Avakian, from Turkey when she was a very small child, two or three years of age. "I can't remember just how old I was, but I do know we came almost ever since we have lived in

WOMEN HAVE GOOD TIME AT "STAG" MIX

Freshmen Charmed by Dancing Party at Which Gentle Sex Rules Supreme.

"Isn't this the most fun,"—"Oh, I'm having the best time"—"Just think a dance without men, but I like it." Such were the remarks of the freshmen at the Sponsor-Sponsee dance last Saturday which show just how great a success the dance was, and what a glorious good time everyone had.

The dance was the annual get-together of the women of the University. The freshmen girls were escorted to the affair by upper-class girls, and according to Frances McGill, who was in charge of the dance, several hundred girls gathered for the occasion.

The afternoon was spent in dancing, eating ice cream cones, and giving hilarity and joy free rein. It was one of the peppiest affairs of the season, and delightfully informal.

The chaperons for the afternoon were Dean Elizabeth Fox, Miss Gertrude Talbot, Miss Tirza Dinsdale, Miss Mabel Cummings, and Mrs. T. A. Larremore.

VACANCIES FILLED IN ALUMNI COUNCIL

Mail Election Held; to Meet During Homecoming

When the alumni council of the University meets for the first time this year, during Homecoming week, five new members, recently elected, will take over members, recently elected, will take over members are Ruth Merrick Cauffield, '12, Oregon City; Mrs. Edith Kerns Chambers, '05, Eugene; Ben R. Chandler, '13, Marshfield; Homer Jamison, '12, Baker; Robert Kuykendall, '13, Portland.

Two Athletes Chosen.

Mrs. Edith Kern Chambers was vice president of the alumni association and has always been active in University affairs. Ben Chandler and Homer Jamison were both prominent in athletics while in college, the former in baseball and the latter in baseball and basketball. Ruth Merrick Cauffield is a member of Chi Omega sorority and Robert Kuykendall of Beta Theta Pi fraternity.

The election of new members to the council was occasioned by the resignation of Vernon H. Vawter, '13; Mrs. Frances Oberteuffer Moller, '10; Carl McClain, '06; Dr. James H. Gilbert, '03; and Nellie Hemenway, '13.

Ballots Sent Out in August.

All the voting was done by mail, the ballots being sent out to alumni to August with the request that they be in by October 1. The other candidates were: G. Homer Billings, '06, Ashland; William N. Burgard, '16, Portland; Merle Chessman, '09, Astoria; Mrs. Ray Woodruff Jenkins, '11, Eugene; Dr. Clarence

ANNUAL PLEDGE DAY TO BE OBSERVED AT THURSDAY ASSEMBLY

Gov. Olcott to Read Students' Acknowledgement of Their Debt to State.

NEW REGENT TO SPEAK

Dr. W. S. Gilbert of Astoria Coming; Mme. McGrew and Glee Clubs to Sing.

Annual pledge day service, at which time the students acknowledge their obligation to the people of the state of Oregon for the opportunity of securing training in university lines will be held at the regular assembly of the Associated Students Thursday morning, October 21. The pledge is so worded that all students may express their appreciation of training, ideals, and vision for life work, and voice a purpose to make a bountiful return to Oregon by laboring in the future for the highest good and a greater commonwealth.

Governor Ben W. Olcott, who read the pledge last year, will, after a brief address, read it again to the students now on the campus.

Reverend W. S. Gilbert, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Astoria, will deliver the address of the morning. Reverend Dr. Gilbert is the new member of the board of regents, having been appointed to succeed W. K. Newell, now superintendent of buildings and grounds at the University. He has spoken on the campus a number of times, his last address being on the occasion of the Armistice Day celebration last year. He was at one time pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Eugene, he gave up his pastorate to serve as army chaplain during the Spanish-American war. During the late war Reverend Dr. Gilbert was chaplain of the First American Army corps, which service earned for him the rank of major.

Music for the assembly will be provided by the music department. Mme. Rose McGrew will sing several solos, and the men's and women's glee clubs will lead in the singing of America at the opening of the assembly.

Pledge day was inaugurated ten years ago at which time the governor of the state and the board of regents were asked to be present and address the assembled students. Every year the day has been the occasion of visits from one or more of the regents to the campus.

STATE HIGH SCHOOLS START STORY CONTEST

Old Legends of Indians and Pioneers To Be Revived; Prizes Offered for Most Contributed.

High school students of the state will find it necessary to turn out with notebook and pad and dig up stories of Indian and pioneer Oregon, if they wish their school to win the J. C. Almack cup this year, according to the report of Mrs. Goodall of the department of education. The subject as it has been announced is, "Know Oregon First," and will pertain mostly to stories of the early history of Oregon.

Salem high school, the winner of last year, is out again strong to defend its honors, but the indications are that it will have a hard fight. The University high school is particularly anxious to win the cup and bring more glory to their sponsor, the University. The judges will be selected by the Oregon Council of Education and the prize essay will be announced next April.

Aside from the contest the Council plans to stage a better English week from November 1 to November 5. The campaign last year was not successful, and the Council asks the earnest support of the University students to help put this year's campaign over.

Hugo Bezdek's football machine of Penn State defeated the University of North Carolina 41 to 0 in Saturday's game.

SENT BY ALLEN EATON

American Federation Compiles Wide Range of Works; View Is Free.

The best art collection of its type which the University has ever had is now on exhibition in the art building from 9 until 5 daily, according to Elizabeth Hadley, president of the Art Club. This collection was sent to the University through the efforts of Allen Eaton, field secretary of the American Federation of Art, and former instructor in the art department here. It includes prints from the best works of both old and new masters, totaling about five hundred pictures.

The American Federation of Art had two purposes in compiling this collection, as the catalogue explains in the forward, namely: to give American people an opportunity to recognize true art, and to encourage print makers of America to make good reproductions at moderate prices.

Parrish Works Included

Among the most attractive features of the exhibition is a very representative group of Maxfield Parrish pictures, including "The Dicky Bird" with its golden sunshine and fairy air castle, the rich blues and purples of "Circe's Palace" and others.

J. Guerin, who has attracted so much attention recently, through his architectural works, is well represented by his pictures of Washington, D. C. The most prominent of this group is probably the Capitol building, a beautiful and accurate reproduction of that magnificent example of American architecture.

A print of the "Mona Lisa" French picture of international fame, occupies a prominent place among the other masterpieces. So clear is this print that the minutest cracks of paint in the original are plainly visible.

American Life Portrayed.

Every phase of American life is pictured from Indian life by Couste to the modern children of Jessie Wilcox Smith; from the freedom of Remington's western pictures to scenes on the Atlantic and in our capital city.

An added attraction is that any one wishing to do so may order one or more of these prints through the Art or Architecture Clubs, who have arranged with the printers to secure more copies.

Two hours spent in studying this collection, Prof. A. H. Schreff says, is worth a year's lecture course in art, and members of the Art and Architecture clubs enthusiastically support him in this statement.

The exhibit is free to all students and townspeople from nine until five, and during that time some one will be in charge to explain the pictures and to take orders. Everyone is cordially invited to attend. The collection will be here only the one week.

Y. W. CHAIRMEN APPOINTED.

Florence Furuset has been appointed chairman of the industrial and employment committee of the Y. W. C. A., by Marjorie Holaday, president. She is to take the place of Ollie Stoltenberg, who resigned last week. A new committee called, church co-operation committee has been formed says Miss Holaday, with Jean McKenzie appointed chairman. The purpose of the new committee is to link the students closer to the Eugene churches.

THREE ARE PLEDGED.

Delta Theta Pi, law fraternity, announces three new pledges, Mearl Snyder, Vercyle Jones and John Hillary, all of McMinnville. The fraternity, which now has twenty-three members, is now eating in its own chapter house.

MUSTACHE POLICY IS WATCHFUL WAITING

Lyle Bryson May Bring Suit Against Non-Licensed Barbers of Mix Day.

The great senior handicap, now running on its fifth day, has developed several unique designs in mustache cultivation.

Many of the senior men have assumed a nonchalant "you may see what you can see" attitude, and are apparently sitting pretty with fond hopes in the success of a strong watchful waiting policy.

The minute man barber shop, which worked so successfully on Kincaid field the day of the mix, was most instrumental in putting several noteworthy seniors on a level with the other multitude of hopefuls—perhaps they were eliminated entirely, who knows? The victims were Jay Jacobson, Peewee Edwards, Si Simola, Claire Holdredge, Barney Garrett and Dean Moore.

Another rumor is also running rampant to the effect that Lyle Bryson, the official tonsorial artist of the class, is contemplating legal action against the minute men barbers who operated the tongs at the mix, or the grounds that they held no official licenses which would permit them thus to infringe on her practice.

PROGRESSIVE DANCE TO BE GIVEN OCT. 30

Women's League to Aid Fund For Women's Building.

A "progressive" dance will be given by the women's houses, October 30, as part of the Women's League plans for raising of the last five thousand dollars for the Women's building. Plans for the dance and other money-making projects were discussed at a meeting of the league in Villard hall Thursday evening. The dances will probably be sold for five cents apiece, and other money-getting devices will be decided upon later.

Vivian Chandler, president of the league told the new girls about homecoming week-end and announced the committee which is to take charge of the campus luncheon. This year the women expect to have to provide for about three thousand people. The committee is as follows: Ruth Flegal, chairman, Frederika Schilke, Wanda Daggett, Emma Garbade, Eleanor Coleman and Florence Furuset.

Dean Fox talked to the girls about the part the women play in campus life and urged them to uphold the former high standards of the University in both campus and social activities.

Special election was held for the office of Women's league reporter. Inez King was unanimously elected to fill the vacancy. Miss Mildred Weeks was elected at the regular election in the spring, but failed to return to school this term.

Nancy Fields made a short speech about Oregon Club of Women's league, a club consisting of girls living outside of organized groups. The club was organized last year, but was not kept up during the entire year. It is expected that it will be revived, and will again become a strong organization. A meeting of all girls living outside of organized groups is called for 5:00 in Villard hall next Monday evening.

CRAFTSMEN WILL ELECT

First Meeting of Year Announced For This Evening.

For the purpose of electing officers to fill vacancies made by the failure of a number of men to return to the campus this year, Craftsmen, composed of Masons on the campus, will hold the first meeting of the year this evening at 7:30 in Dean Straub's room. Any new men eligible to membership are asked to come.

Craftsmen was organized on the University campus last year, the membership including about 50 men. A visit will be paid shortly to the Eugene lodge and the meeting tonight will offer a chance of getting organized before that time.

OLD TIME PEP TO HELP HOMECOMING, SAYS COMMITTEE

Jazz Rally, Bonfire and Fireworks to Feature Friday Night of Week-end.

ALUMNI TO RECEIVE FIRST CONSIDERATION

Registration Booths and Free Transportation Will Be Provided.

A real old-fashioned Homecoming with lots of the old time pep is what the committees plan for the alumni, former students, and friends of the University when they come back for a day on November 13 to witness the big game with the University of Washington.

The various committees are making more elaborate plans and are spending more money than ever before to make this Homecoming the biggest and best in the history of Homecomings at Oregon. Special efforts are being made to make the former students and graduates and friends of the University feel that they are coming home to college for a day.

Football Staff Working Hard.

The football coaching staff is burning midnight oil to figure out a combination which will trim the University of Washington in the biggest game of the season. For many years the varsity has always come through with the old Oregon fight and won the Homecoming game in spite of obstacles.

The festivities start Friday evening when a big pep rally will be staged through the down town streets. Each house on the campus will have its own noise making machine and the house which produces the most noise will receive a fitting prize. From the minute the college gang turns the corner at Eleventh and Willamette the town is going to be one red flare. A special committee has been appointed to see that plenty of fire works are on hand for the event.

Bonfire to Feature.

After the down town jazz rally the serpentine will lead back to the campus where the big freshman bonfire will illuminate Kincaid field for another big show. Here stunts will be staged and old graduates will tell how it was done in the good old days. Each of the men's houses on the campus is hard at work on an original stunt which will depict some angle of former games with Washington or some old Oregon tradition. President Campbell will introduce the members of the football team who will play against the Sun Dodgers the following day.

"We are going to see that every former Oregon man and woman is made at home here during the week-end" is the word from the welcoming committee. As many cars as possible will be drafted into service for the two days and will be marked "Official Alumni Cars," and any alumnus friend, or former student will be at liberty to hail these cars anywhere down town or on the campus for transportation. Guides will meet all trains and everything will be done to help the Oregon graduate feel that he is home for the big day in the year.

Alumni to Register.

There will be a registration booth at Fifth and Willamette street where every alumnus is asked to register. The dance tickets will be given out at this time to eliminate any confusion in handing them out later. The plan also calls for two booths on the campus, one in Johnson hall and another in the men's gymnasium.

A special appeal is being made through the Chamber of Commerce to the citizens of Eugene for as many rooms as will be needed to take care of the crowd. A special committee has this work in hand and every effort is being made to keep out any petty profiteering.

As a climax to Homecoming week-end will be the dance to be held in the Armory down town which will not be formal.
