BE ONE OF THE THUNDERING THOUSAND.

In an issue of the Emerald last week, the varsity yell leader deplored the lack of spirit shown by Oregon men and women at the last yell practice. A mere handful of men responded to the call of the yell leader, only a score of women, and but a half a band.

Tomorrow afternoon at 4:30 on Kincaid field the final yell practice before the Idaho game will be held. The R. O. F. C. band, which has been accepted by the student council as the official student band of the University, will make its first appearance. The squad of freshmen football aspirants will stage a practice scrimmage for the benefit of the rooters.

Tomorrow afternoon Oregon should complete the organization of a "Thundering Thousand," composed of every loyal Oregon student. Such an organization, with a full knowledge of every Oregon song and every Oregon yell, working together under the direction of the varsity yell staff, should and will go a long way towards winning more intercollegiate laurels for the University of Oregon.

One of the saddest things imaginable to an old Oregon man is an Oregon student who does not know every Oregon yell and every Oregon song. The varsity yell staff has arranged weekly yell practices this year, meaning to acquaint every Oregon student with each song and yell, and to so organize Oregon rooters that each yell given at a game will be given with the snap and precision that perfect familiarity assures. With the support of every student, the Thundering Thousand can win as much fame for the University of Oregon as the varsity teams themselves. Be at Kincaid field tomorrow at 4:30! Be one of the Thundering Thousand.

Petty depredation of property of citizens of Eugene and Springfield has again been laid at the door of Oregon students. It is inconceivable that any loyal Oregon student would lower himself to petty thievery, and yet proof has come to the University that students have been guilty of such depredations. This is very regrettable, and unless such actions cease, either the University authorities or the students themselves must take action to punish the offenders.

THE FORUM

PI BETA PHI EXPLAINS.

To the Emerald:—Oregon Alpha Chapter of Pi Beta Phi wishes to explain the article in Saturday's Emerald relative to her being penalized, by telling the nature of the offense so that the readers will know the truth.

The local Panhellenic Alumnae Board which governs Panhellenic rushing during the rush week made a special request of all fraternities that no fraternity go to Hendricks hall after one o'clock on Saturday, when open rushing begins. Pi Beta Phi, not understanding that a request of the local Alumnae Board made during rush week is as binding as a rule of the Rushing Compact, disregarded this request, went to Hendricks hall, and pledged a girl.

Pi Beta Phi acknowledges that she was wrong, and is willing to accept the penalty assigned to her, but is unwilling to bear the stigma of unfair rushing and open defiance of a Panhellenic law.

Alumnae Delegate.

FRIENDLY CAFETERIA FEEDS 275 EVERY DAY

Electrical Kitchen Apparatus Saves Much Time for Chef and Six Assistants.

Two hundred seventy-five persons eat at Friendly hall every day, according to Nell Warwick, bookkeeper at the cafeteria. Of these, 175 eat at the cafeteria, and on days when they come in a steady stream, says Miss Warwick, it is possible to serve the entire number within half an hour. The other hundred are the boys who live at Friendly, and are served in the main dining room.

The amount of food consumed may be imagined from the fact that 21 pounds of butter is used in one day; 80 loaves of bread are used for a single meal, 125 pounds of potatoes, and from 90 to 130 pounds of meat, depending on the manner of cooking.

The Friendly hall kitchen appliances are run by electricity. This includes electric mixing-bowls for making mayonnaise, mashing potatoes, and so forth, and an electric chopping bowl which chops a gallon of food in half a minute. There is also an electric dish-washer.

The personnel of the kitchen staff includes a chef, two cooks, the operator of the electric dish-washer, and three kitchen assistants.

Board at the hall costs six dollars a week.
