NOT ALL DANCING.

Often have we heard it said, "The University of Oregon is passing through a crises." So often, that the term means nothing to us. However, the fact remains. Anyone who attended the meeting of the social affairs committee, Tuesday afternoon will appreciate somewhat its true significance.

And yet we do not believe conditions are as bad as they are frequently painted. Has the student body reached the stage where its only conception of social life is dancing? Is it possible for us to do nothing clever and original? Are we here with only one aim and one ambition—that of dancing as much and as often as possible? Is it true that there is no place in Oregon's social life for the person who does not dance? Is it no longer possible for us to entertain without a cleared floor and an orchestra? Such have been the criticisms of our friends and the accusations of our enemies.

It now remains for us to show the world that Oregon is not socially lopsided. On Friday evening there is to be staged the annual Y. W. Y. M. Mix which this year takes the form of a country kids' carnival. This is an opportunity. Let's make this real mix with clever stunts and original costumes. It's up to us. Let's show them.

THE FORUM

TEAS.

(University Daily Kansan.)

Who ever is responsible for the invention of teas and having clung to them all these years should be exciled.

When no other entertainment can be thought of teas are usually given and the freshmen on the hill are asked to attend, usually in such a way as to make it impossible for them to refuse, so they must attend and be bored to tears.

What good does it do them? It certainly isn't an asset to their education. Teas break into their afternoons, take away their appetites for dinner. The tea is usually luke warm and makes them sick, the cakes, toast or candy is messy, conversation is general because they do not know any one, it is also interrupted by the arrival of new guests, then to end the happy afternoon they must bid their adieu and tell her they have had a nice time which is not so.

And yet teas continue to be given.

DEBATERS SELECTED FOR FINAL TRYOUTS

Twelve men were selected last night to compete in the final tryouts for the Oregon varsity debate team. Final tryouts will be held in Guild hall, Friday evening at 7:30. Three separate debates will be held in the tryouts. The entries for the first debate are: Affirmative, John Canales and Carl Myer; negative, George Shirley and Gene Whitten; second series: Gibson Bowles and Abe Rosenberg, affirmative; R. Kuhn and Remy Cox, negative; third series: Boyd Iseninger and Don Davis, affirmative. Ralph Hoerber and Kenneth Armstrong, negative. The question is: "Resolved, That the aid given to the American shipping as provided for in Sec. 28 of the Jones Bill (Merchant Marine Act of 1920) is to the best interests of the United States."

FROSH WILL BUY WOOD FOR HOMECOMING FIRE

Ten Cords of Slab, Bales of Excelsior and 100 Gallons of Kerosene to Be Obtained.

The material for the annual frosh bon fire during homecoming week-end will be obtained in a different manner than formerly. The frosh class is planning to buy ten cords of slab wood, a hundred gallons of kerosene, and several bales of excelsior for the big combustion.

The committee in charge of the arrangements is composed of Walter Holman, Jimmy Meek, Charles Thompson, Jason McCune and Tiger Lyons. They report a great scarcity of slab wood in the Eugene mills, especially of dry slab. However with the kerosene ten cords of green wood will make a bigger and hotter blaze than the usual nondescript heap of boxes and barrels.

The new plan of purchasing the material instead of foraging for them was proposed by Dean Straub. It will do away with the chance of trouble with the townspeople over misappropriated property. The frosh girls will also be spared the trouble of staying up at night to give the nocturnal foragers coffee and sandwiches.

94 ARE RATED SPECIALS

Full Fifteen High School Units Are Required for Entrance.

According to data given out by the registrar's office Friday there are 50 men and 44 women at the University who are rated as "Special Students." Contrary to the usual belief, these persons have sufficient credits to be "regular" students — but because of their desire to take special work without winning a degree they are listed as "Special."

In connection with credits required the registrar mentioned the fact that anyone wishing to enter Oregon must have the full 15 high school units, not counting physical training. "Several persons with 14½ and 14¾ units were turned away this fall in order to maintain the present high credit requirement," said registrar Spencer.

Varsity to Have Game With Idaho

probability take their turns at the guard positions are Carl Vonder Ahe, a beefy and fast linesman who played with the frosh team last year, and "Scotty" Strachen, another member of the second string last season who made a strong bid for a first team berth.

Leslie and Shields Strong.

"Spike" Leslie, who was dubbed by sport critics last year as "Oregon's varsity eleven. He held down a tackle position to the conference again this season. "Spike" smears them when they come through his side of the line and his playing in the University of Washington and Harvard games last year, both on defensive and offensive work, proved him to be one of the big factors in the Oregon line. "Spike" suffered a broken foot in the Washington game last season which kept him from finishing the season. In "Tiny" Shields who is slated for the right tackle position in the game, the conference teams will meet a new man. "Tiny" played a star game for the frosh last year at tackle and he is going better this year. In spite of his weight and bulk, "Tiny" gets over the ground with 'some speed."

Strength Shown on Ends.

"Mart" Howard, played his first year with the varsity last season and made a name for himself by his fast, sure tackling. "Mart" showed he was up to his old time tricks by his fancy catch, in the Multnomah game, of Jacobberger's pass which won the game from the club eleven. "Mart" will handle the right end position against the Gem Staters. "Rud" Brown is slated to handle the other end of the line. Brown did not play in the Multnomah game for very long and Saturday will be the first chance the fans will have to see Brown in action with the varsity eleven. He holds down a tackle position on the frosh team last year, and his speed and fight caused Coach Huntington to give him a chance to fill "Star" Anderson's shoes at end. Brown has a hard job ahead of him but he is expected to perform well.

Halves Not Yet Picked.

Whether the halfback positions be filled by Hill, Steers, Chapman, Mead or Jacobberger in Saturday's game these places will be well taken care of. Steers will in all probability play as much of the game as his condition this early in his training will allow. "Bill" has a sure toe when it comes to placing the oval squarely between the posts for a drop kick and this may prove one of the methods of scoring that Coach Huntington's team will resort to Saturday. Frank Hill, who will probably start in the other halfback position, is a last year's frosh star and is one of the fastest backfield men that Coach Huntington has. He tore off yardage through the Multnomah line time after time, and his best work is in running back punts. He made several 15 yard returns in the Multnomah game. Chapman and Jacobberger both made their letter last season and they will no doubt alternate in the backfield Saturday. They are both fast and are good ground gatherers. Jacobberger played a superb game against the Multnomah team here the first of the season and his pass to Howard scored the only touchdown made during the game. Mead is a last year's member of the frosh backfield and has so far shown up as varsity material this season. He will probably get a whirl at half in the game.

King Strong in Pinches.

George King who plays the full back position, can be relied upon to pull through in the pinches. "Let George do it," will probably be carried out when a few yards are necessary Saturday. King works all the time and his speed has proven a valuable asset to his line plunging ability. Although not very heavy he makes it up in fight.

"Bill" Reinhart will pilot the team from his quarterback position in Saturday's contest. "Bill" has already been chosen by a number of critics who have seen him in action this season as an excellent field general. He piloted the team in the Multnomah game as well as against the frosh eleven last Saturday. This is his first year on the varsity squad, although he made his first appearance with the frosh team of 1916.

Oregon has been especially fortunate in the matter of injuries thus far this season, and will go into the Idaho game with the team intact. There are no bear scars of injuries from the training camp and Oregon will be in tip top shape Saturday, according to all indications.

THEO KARLE TO GIVE CONCERT OCTOBER 29

School of Music to be Responsible for Entertainment of America's Great Tenor.

Theo Karle, America's great tenor, will give a concert in Villard hall, Friday, October 29th under the auspices of the school of music.

John Stark Evans played Karle's accompaniments while they were in the army, so was closely associated with him. Mr. Evans declares that he cannot be recommended too highly and accords him the highest praise. Karle is conceded to be one of America's greatest tenors.

Mr. Evans had hoped to secure the Women's gymnasium for this concert but it was not near enough completion. This is the first series of entertainments to be given by the school of music providing the attendance at the opening concert warrants it.

The price of admission will be $1.00. According to Mr. Evans many other musical treats, including the Portland Symphony Orchestra, will be brought to the campus if the students give their support and all attend this first musical.

PRESIDENT ATTENDS MEET.

President Campbell returned Wednesday from Salem where he attended a meeting of the state library board, of which he is a member. Friday he will meet with the other members of the Oregon Bureau of Mines and Geology Commission.
