POLITICAL PROBLEMS AND THE STUDENT

With the national election drawing near, political activity on the campus and elsewhere is at its height. There seems to be an inclination here to take the political clubs and the whole situation lightly. Perhaps this arises from the fact that there is a general sentiment the nation over to regard the matter as trivial.

Yet this should not be. A republic is based on the principle that the people are capable of governing themselves. One fundamental purpose of education is the training for citizenship. It is well that in the course of his training the student should practice good citizenship whenever the opportunity is offered. It is one of the requirements of good citizenship to exercise serious judgment on such matters, for the college, more than anyone else, should be able to vote intelligently.

The conclusion is obvious. In the present election there are vital questions to be considered, questions that have important bearing on the welfare of the nation. Every student of voting age should consider thoroughly these problems before he goes to the polls on November 2, in order that his vote shall contribute towards the betterment of the nation.

If time is money, as the old adage says, then the University students are forced to waste hundreds of dollars daily by waiting for books in the library. At the end of the class hours and in the evenings the throng is so large in front of the circulation counter that the collegians have to wait from ten to thirty minutes before being served. During these periods of waiting the students get neither mental nor physical exercise, but have their patience sorely taxed. The men and women attending the University expect that this deplorable situation will be remedied. A larger circulation counter, and more library help during the rush hours, would go far toward relieving the congestions. What are the University authorities going to do about it?

The Emerald insists that all communications from students or members of the faculty for publication in the Emerald be signed by the writer. Each day's mail brings excellent discussions upon topics affecting the welfare of the University which cannot be printed, because by so doing, the Emerald would have no means of defending itself should anyone take exceptions to the spirit of the communication. The Emerald is the official publication of the A. S. U. O., and every student has the right to make use of it as he pleases; columns are always open to properly signed articles. The name of the writer will not be printed unless the writer so desires. You are invited to make use of the column which the Emerald opens for your use.

Remember, tomorrow is the Emerald's presidential ballot day. Everybody is expected to turn out and vote for their candidate. An indifferent citizen is a dead citizen. Prove yourself to be a live one.

IDAHO IS DEFEATED IN FIRST BATTLE

was returned 10 yards by Irving. Idaho failed to make yardage and was forced to punt. Irving kicked 45 yards to Hill, who returned 28. Oregon fumbled in the second play. Idaho recovered. Idaho completed her first forward pass at this juncture of the game. Patch, who had just been substituted for Evans at end, receiving the pass from Irving for a 10-yard gain.

"Spread" Brings Gain.
The third quarter ended with the ball in Idaho's possession on Oregon's 45-yard line. Irving and Breshears completed another pass for 7-yard gain. Irving then skirted Oregon's right end for six yards. On the next play the old familiar "Idaho spread" was brought into play and Irving netted 20 yards. A pass from Irving to Whitcomb netted no gain. Irving then smashed through Oregon's defense for five yards, putting the ball on the one-yard line. "Heek" Breshears, Gem State fullback, smashed through Oregon for a touchdown. Irving kicked goal.

Idaho kicked off to Oregon. King receiving the ball on the 20-yard line, returning 10. "Bill" Steers was injured and "Pete" Mead substituted at half. Jacobberger going to quarter. Mead smashed through to the Idaho second line defense time after time, making a total of 20 yards in three smashes. Oregon then attempted two passes. Jacobberger dropped back to drop kick. The ball missed the posts by three feet and Idaho received a 5-yard penalty for roughing the kicker. Mead smashed the Idaho defense for six yards in two tries and Hill rolled off an additional five yards.

Oregon failed to make yardage on the 15-yard line and Idaho received the ball, attempting a forward pass on the first play which Mead intercepted. Mead and "Jake" each netted two yards through the line. The referee's whistle stopped the game with the ball on Idaho's 10-yard line.

JOURNALISTS PLAN HUMOROUS MAGAZINE

First Issue to Appear Before Christmas Holidays.

Oregon is going to have a humorous publication, corresponding to the Washington Sun and the California Pelican, according to the plans of the members of the school of journalism, who are promoting the project. A committee investigating the matter will report to the student council at the meeting tomorrow night, so they may consider making such a publication a student activity. Whether the A. S. U. O. will adopt the paper or not it is planned to have the first issue appear before the Christmas holidays.

Although the movement was inaugurated among members of Sigma Upsilon writers' fraternity, it is the plan of the promoters, even if it does not become a student activity of the A. S. U. O., that it shall be strictly open to everyone interested.

In the past Oregon has had no such publication, since the plans for the "Lemon Punch" last year did not materialize. Oregon is the only large school on the coast that does not have a humorous magazine. Although some of the schools run monthlies of this type, under the present situation it is expected that the campus publication will appear quarterly at first.

A meeting of all those interested is called for 4:15 in the shack tomorrow afternoon. It is particularly desirable that the paper get in touch with cartoonists and artists for the staff.
