

THEO KARLE, SINGER, IS REAL WESTERNER

Concert Tenor Did Most of Studying in Seattle.

SERVED AT CAMP LEWIS

Says American Music Is Not Entirely Jazz.

Present-day concert artists are really pioneers in the concert field, especially in the west, in the opinion of Theo Karle, famous American tenor, who appeared in a concert at Willard hall, October 29. "American audiences must be educated to what is really good in music before they will appreciate it," he said, "and this makes the work of the musician most interesting because he has an opportunity to mold public opinion in regard to musical ideals."

Mr. Karle thinks that people want things they can understand, and it must be the work of the true artist to present the best music in a way that will appeal. "If an artist loves a song," he continued, and puts all of himself into this song when he sings it, his audience will love it also." He explained that the older countries have the idea that the music of America is nothing but jazz, which is sometimes true but not always.

Is Real Human Being.
Theo Karle the artist is famous, but Theo Karle the man is something more than that: he is a real human being. He has lived a large part of his life in Seattle, and has done most of his studying there, so that he is a real westerner. There is none of the affectation, which is so often observed in famous people, in Theo Karle. He does not talk about himself unless asked to do so, and even then a most matter of fact manner which is entirely free from any attempt at making an impression.

Leonore Karle, his charming wife who was a Seattle girl, always accompanies him on his tours. "Wherever we are, that is our home," said Mr. Karle, "when we strike a good hotel, in some city where I am to appear, it is just as if we had lived there always." Otherwise Theo Karle would have no home life, for his concert season never gives him more than a couple of weeks vacation during the whole year.

Service in War.
His war experience is something of which Theo Karle speaks very casually, if at all. He had charge of the recreation hall and library at Camp Lewis during the last part of the war, and he declares that he had a fine time doing nothing. However, the truth of the matter is that the noted tenor was of the greatest service. Due to the fact that he could not participate in active service he might have received his discharge on the day that he was drafted. Instead of that he took the work at Camp Lewis in order that some man who could fight might go. He stayed until the armistice was signed although this meant thousands of dollars loss for him, as it put a stop to all his concert work for that year.

Has Distant Engagements.
Last year Theo Karle sang at about 75 concerts and at the end of this concert year he will have filled about 90 engagements. He goes from here to California where he will sing fifteen dates. His work will then be in the middle west, New York and New England. In April he is going to England for the London season, and in the latter part of June he will sing in some of the provinces. Then he will come back to the West. In speaking of his plans for next year he said, "What I will do then, no one knows."

PACKARD CONDUCTS CAMP AT GOLD RAY

Geologists Do Research Work, Study Formations and Gather Specimens.

During the summer session a camp was established at Gold Ray for research work by the department of geology.

Seven advanced students of the department, under the direction of Professor Packard, made the survey, which consisted in making base maps and putting in geological formations, as well as gathering specimens of rocks and minerals. One student came from Oberlin College, Ohio, to the camp, for the experience of the work of research value.

It is planned to conduct a similar camp next summer on adjoining territory, for major students in geology. Instruction will be given in elementary surveying and geologic methods, and a large attendance of advanced students is expected, as the camp is only established for three weeks directly after spring vacation.

The first field trip of the season for elementary pupils was held yesterday, the class making a trip to Springfield, where the rocks along the river, and the stone quarry and ground behind the Booth-Kelly Lumber Company were studied.

BUREAU PRINTS TESTS

University To Have Charge of State Mental Exams.

The University Bureau of Educational Research is to be the distributing centre for all printed educational and psychological tests in Oregon. A circular of prices and information is now on the University press, and will be out in about ten days.

Dr. B. W. De Busk has charge of the psychological tests; Dr. C. A. Gregory, the elementary school achievement tests; and Professor Earl W. Douglass, the high school achievement tests.

O. A. C. HAS SPONSOR CLUB.
A sponsor club is the latest thing on the Aggie campus. The plan as recommended by the war department is to have a colonel, a lieutenant colonel, four majors, 15 captains, and more than 30 lieutenants voted in as honorary members of the R. O. T. C.

Shy's Men Within 2 Yards of Score Against Stanford

Hill, who also received injuries, was replaced by "Nish" Chapman.

"Spike" Leslie broke through the Cardinals' line and recovered the ball after "Brick" Leslie had blocked an attempted drop kick by Templeton, and ran 35 yards with it. "Spike" also smeared a punt for the Cardinals by breaking through their first line defense throughout the game, the Leslie brothers playing up to their usual standards, and Brown and Howard playing a good game in the end positions.

CALIFORNIA BEATS O. A. C.

The fast California eleven defeated O. A. C. last Saturday afternoon by a score of 17 to 7, and from all appearances the Bears are going to put up a hard fight for the Coast championship this season. Their crucial game of the season will be played next Saturday at Berkeley when they meet Washington State College. It is generally conceded that the Bears will defeat Stanford, and if they win over the Cougars, they have removed practically the last obstacle between them and Pasadena on New Year's Day.

The Cougars must be reckoned with however, their defeat of the strong Montana eleven by a score of 31 to 0, after Montana had recently taken the University of Washington team into camp by an 18 to 14 score, proves this.
