

EXPANSION OF GIRLS' ATHLETICS PLANNED

Meeting of Association to Be Held on Tuesday

Field Day to Be Staged Late in the Spring.

With equipment in the new women's building which will rank with the best in the country, the Women's Athletic Association is planning to carry out a bigger athletic program than ever before, according to Ollie Stoltenberg, president of the association. The new swimming pool, new hockey field, outdoor and indoor gymnasium floors, and up to date athletic apparatus will give the girls every opportunity for doing some real work in the coming year.

"What we want," said Miss Stoltenberg, "is to know that the girls of the University, are going to be behind us in all our activities and we want them all to feel welcome to the association."

Meet in Guild Hall.

The next meeting of the association will be held Tuesday afternoon, November 9, at 4 in Guild hall. New members will attend the meeting, where the purposes and plans of the organization will be discussed. Miss Stoltenberg urges every girl who is at all interested in any kind of athletics to join the association. A committee of girls is at work this week in every campus organization for women taking in new members upon the payment of the yearly fee of 50 cents.

Business which will come up at the meeting Tuesday includes election of officers to fill vacancies, reports of heads of sports and the presentation of the new constitution for discussion. Three advisors are to be elected and the head of sports for archery. Marjorie Wells was elected head of archery last spring but did not return this term. Each head of sport will present her plans for the coming year and will outline the requirements for participation in each sport—hockey, swimming, basketball, baseball, canoeing, archery, tennis and walking.

A new constitution is being drafted using new ideas obtained at the conference held in Seattle last spring which was attended by Ollie Stoltenberg, Margaret Russell, Jeannette Moss, president of the association last year, and Miss Winslow, instructor in dancing and swimming. In addition, Miss Stoltenberg has written to various colleges in the East asking for copies of their Athletic Association constitutions. Thus, the constitution adopted by the association this fall will be up-to-date as possible, says Miss Stoltenberg.

The association has charge of all women's athletic activities on the campus. This year they are planning interclass meets in hockey, basketball, baseball and swimming. A swimming meet with the Oregon Agricultural College girls will be an event of the spring. Late in May the annual Field day will take place with canoe races, archery contests, championship baseball and other athletic events. Prize winners of Field day events are awarded trophies by the association, but in order to receive the trophy a girl must be a member of the organization. In the past, several girls who have won the events have been unable to receive the trophies because they were not members.

Hikes to Be Held.

The sport of walking will be given more attention this year. Miss Nancy Fields, head of the sport, will announce her plans at the meeting Tuesday. A number of hikes throughout the year have been arranged for the members of the organization.

According to Miss Stoltenberg, the association is going to do its best to live up to the new surroundings provided for it. In addition to new equipment, a special office in the women's building is being prepared for the exclusive use of the association. From time to time, the walls of the office will be decorated with the athletic heroines of the University.

The officers of the association this year are: President, Ollie Stoltenberg; vice president, Margaret Russell; secretary, Ruth Tuck; treasurer, Lois Barnett; advisors, to be elected. Heads of sports are: Hockey, Carolyn Cannon; basketball, Charlotte Howells; baseball, Dorothy McKee; archery, to be elected; swimming, Frances Moore; walking, Nancy Fields; canoeing, Nebe Gage and tennis, Marion Weiss.

Y. SECRETARY ON TRIP.

Hal Donnelly, the Y. M. C. A. secretary, is now in Pendleton attending the Older Boys Conference, which is being held in that city. He will return to Eugene Monday. He is planning to make a tour of all the colleges in Oregon and Idaho. About two weeks ago he was at O. A. C. and this week he visited Reed College in Portland.

SHORT SPORTS

By FLOYD MAXWELL

The University of Southern California will challenge the University of California football eleven for a post-season game to be played December 4, if the Bears win over Washington State today.

The University of Washington and University of Oklahoma tennis teams are playing a series of matches at Oklahoma this week-end.

Varsity basketball practice began at California, on November 3, with three letter men out. "Cort" Majors, guard for two years on the varsity quintet, will not play this season.

Coach "Stub" Allison of the University of Washington eleven is gloomy over the Sundodgers' chances against Stanford this afternoon.

The outcome of the Yale-Princeton game in the East today is being watched with interest. One of these teams may represent the East at Pasadena in the big inter-sectional game.

Washington State sent 20 football players to Berkeley for the game there today. They left Pullman Monday in order to reach Berkeley in time to practice on the California gridiron, before the game.

The Cougars are in first-class physical condition for their contest this afternoon. If they lose there will be no libis to offer from this angle. The turf field of California is the same kind of a field that Washington State has at Pullman.

Oregon's soccer team is working out nightly on old Kincaid field. It is understood that there are no games scheduled for the team, although efforts are being made.

Cross-country runners are working out every night under the direction of "Hank" Foster, getting into shape for the O. A. C.-Oregon cross-country race which will be a part of the Aggie Homecoming program at Corvallis on November 20.

Water polo is being taken up actively by O. A. C. and some good games between the Aggie and Oregon teams may be seen this winter.

"Hello "

"But, Bob, I can't—

"Yes, but listen, Bob, I already have a date. Why didn't you call me up sooner?

"Just like you men; think we girls can cut a date to please you. You'd be sore if someone cut one with you. I'm going to the show next Wednesday, with Harry.

"What? You say it's a 35-piece orchestra?

"It's really going to play for the dance?

"But what will I tell Harry?

"All right, Bob, call me up in half an hour and I'll let you know."
