THAT GOOD OLD SPIRIT

As a result of several days of serious thinking, many people have come to the conclusion that there is more of the good old bubbling-over kind of Oregon Spirit on the campus this year than for many years past. The kind of spirit that makes everyone want to work and fight for Oregon is here, right on the campus, right in the hearts of everyone of us. There isn't a man or woman in school who wouldn't fight to the last inch for Oregon.

This coming week-end will give us our best opportunity to show that we really have the real old spirit. Oregon's varsity eleven, broken in spirit because of an unexpected defeat, will play a team which, judging by comparative scores, is much superior. Oregon has a chance to beat that team knowing that the good old fighting spirit is behind them.

Some of us have been given little chance to show our loyalty to Oregon. Some of us have been compelled to make sacrifices in order that we could. Others of us have, perhaps, been a little lax in boosting the old spirit as we should. Some of us may have been a little at fault. But most of us are not. We know it, and it is up to us to prove it.

One of the best ways to give the good old spirit a boost is to turn the old fire-place talk-fest into the right channels. You know the harm of insidious "knocking." Be a booster! Boost the good old spirit by boosting Oregon. Let's have more of the good old spirit this year than the old school ever knew before! And let's make that the spirit of Homecoming!

Do you realize just how far away Homecoming is? Friday the majority of the old grads are expected home. Have you done all you can to make Homecoming an assured success? Have you done all you can to urge every old-timer to come back for the big week-end? Do you realize that the success of Homecoming rests with you? If you haven't done your full share, get busy!

WORKINGMEN'S CLUB LINES UP MANY JOBS

System of Allotting Work Bringing Results.

The recently organized Workingmen's Club is making great progress toward obtaining work for the self-supporting students, in the opinions of John Gamble, president, and Jimmy Price, business agent of the organization.

"Twenty jobs have been obtained by the club in the past twenty-four hours," said Gamble yesterday. "In view of the great amount of work coming in it has become necessary to adopt a system of giving out the jobs that will be fair to every one," he continued.

The plan as submitted by Gamble, is as follows: Every job will be assigned a number as it comes to the office. At the regular meetings the list will be read off. Each man will have a chance at job number one. When number one has been disposed of the remainder of the men will have a chance at job number two, etc., until they are all given out. The man that gets job number one will be placed at the bottom of the list. That is to say, if there were 30 jobs on hand and they were all given out, the man who took the first job would be number 31 for the next one. This system leaves an automatic record of the number of jobs given out and provides a systematic method of distributing the work. It will be necessary, however, to vary this method on emergency work.

"This system, on the other hand, calls up another difficulty," said Gamble. "We must be informed as to the number of jobs that can be handled. There is no need of taking 200 jobs if only 50 men wish to work. I suggest that every man who wants work drop in at the 'Y' and register his name," he said.

Jimmy Price, business agent of the club, maintains that there will be no difficulty in obtaining work. "What we must do is educate the crowd; popularize the idea of having college students do the work," says Price.

IMOGENE LETCHER TO PLAY FOR GLEE CLUB

Professor Coon Pleased With New Material; Says It Is Better Than Last Year.

Imogene Letcher has been chosen accompanist for the Girls' Glee Club, according to Professor Leland Coon of the school of music. About half-a-dozen other persons tried out for this position.

The Glee Club is shaping very well, said Professor Coon, better, in fact, this year than last, perhaps owing to the fact that there is more material to draw from.

"I am very well pleased with the work of the Glee Club. They are all working like tigers," he declared.

It is not yet known definitely whether the Glee Club will make a trip during Christmas vacation, said Professor Coon, but it will certainly tour at Easter vacation.

Several new songs have just been received from the east, and the girls expect to begin work on them at once.

MU PHIS TO INSTALL.

Mu Phi Epsilon held installation for three new officers to take the place of those who failed to return this term, on Sunday. Dorothy Dixon is the present recording secretary; Margaret Phelps, warden, and Alice Gohike, chaplain.

OREGON TO BE REPRESENTED.

The University of Oregon school of architecture is to have an item in each number of Pencil Points, a journal for the drafting room, issued monthly by the Architectural Review Company, of Stamford, Connecticut, according to Lyle Bartholomew, president of the Architecture Club. Arni P. Butler, of the school, will act as correspondent for the journal.

STUDIO TO BE IMPROVED

Work Room Will Have 20 Feet More of Space and North Side of Glass.

The work of enlarging the studio in the school of arts is expected to begin in about a month, as soon as the Women's building is completed and the gymnasium equipment is moved out of the old gym, according to Arthur Runquist of the art school. The north end of the building will be set out twenty feet, and will be mainly of glass. This will greatly relieve the crowded conditions of the class in life held in the studio and will give plenty of light for more difficult work.

The partitions between the lecture room and the room formerly used by Professor Schreff as his studio will be taken away and desks and tables are to be placed around the outside walls. These will be used by the classes in design and color theory.

Scowling and the attendant "Crows' Feet" are usually caused by imperfect sight — the result of striving to see clearly in spite of defects.

By relieving the necessity for constantly straining in an effort to see clearly, properly fitted glasses will instantly smooth out most furrowed brows. The improvement in appearance is secondary in importance only to the comfort derived from good vision.
